

HOMELAND SECURITY (HLS)

HLS-101 Introduction to Homeland Security

Credits: 3

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): None

Introduction to the fundamental components of homeland security. The course examines historic events that shaped homeland security policy and practice, as well as providing students with an understanding of the interdisciplinary, interagency, interjurisdictional, and all-hazards nature of homeland security. Homeland security hazards include adversarial/human caused threats (terrorism, crime), natural threats (hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, storms), and technological/accidental threats (industrial/transportation). Homeland security policies and practices endeavor to prevent, mitigate, respond to, and help the Nation recover from all hazards.

HLS-199 Independent Study in Homeland Security

Credits: 3

Term Offered: Summer Term

Course Type(s): None

Independent study on a Homeland Security topic not substantially treated in a regular course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to register for this course.

HLS-235 GIS Applications in Homeland Security

Credits: 3

Prerequisite(s): GIS-224

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): None

Introduces students to the basic theories in Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Provides students with a hands-on practical approach to analyze homeland security related data. Students will develop a skill set to map homeland security data and perform spatial analytical tasks. Also listed as GIS-235.

HLS-245 Strategic Security Management

Credits: 3

Prerequisite(s): HLS-101

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): None

Analysis of the post-September 11, 2001 strategic security environment. The course focuses on threat and vulnerability assessments, and the use of data to drive security strategy. Students will assess and evaluate current and evolving business practices to protect private sector and government architecture and critical infrastructure assets. The course explores current and evolving security technology, techniques, procedures, and risk-based resource allocation of personnel and security-technologies.

HLS-285 Domestic and International Terrorism

Credits: 3

Term Offered: All Terms
