Applicability of Catalog

The information outlined in this Catalog does not constitute a contract between Monmouth University and any student. The information in this Catalog also does not constitute an unconditional promise of any kind. Monmouth University reserves the right, in its sole judgment, to make changes to any policy, procedure, academic program, curricular information, class schedules, class delivery method, class content or available courses, tuition and/or fees, and any other published information including, but not limited to, a change in faculty assigned to teach a class without prior notice. If Monmouth University makes changes, it may provide for alternatives when reasonably practical under the circumstances.
MISSION STATEMENT OF MONMOUTH UNIVERSITY

Monmouth University is an independent, comprehensive institution of higher education committed to excellence and integrity in teaching, scholarship, and service. Through its offerings in liberal arts, science, and professional programs, Monmouth University educates and prepares students to realize their potential as leaders and to become engaged citizens in a diverse and increasingly interdependent world.
RESPONSIBILITY AND POLICIES OF THE UNIVERSITY

Responsibility of the University
The programs and/or requirements set forth in this catalog are subject to change without notice. Any modification in the programs and/or requirements shall be made at the discretion of the administrative officers of Monmouth University whenever such action is deemed necessary.

Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Nondiscrimination Statement
Monmouth University supports equal opportunity in every phase of our operation including recruitment, admission, educational programs, and employment practices of recruitment, hiring, promotion, reclassification, transfer, compensation, benefits, termination, layoff, and return from layoff, social and recreational programs and any other aspects of education or employment. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, ancestry, national origin, nationality, sex (including pregnancy and sexual harassment), affectional or sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, atypical hereditary cellular or blood trait, genetic information, marital status, domestic partnership or civil union status, age, liability for military service, protected veteran status, or status as an individual with a mental or physical disability, including AIDS and HIV-related illnesses or any other protected category under applicable local, state, or federal law. The University also complies with all major federal and state laws and executive orders requiring equal employment opportunity and/or affirmative action.

Monmouth University affirms the right of its faculty, staff, and students to work and learn in an environment free from discrimination and harassment, including sexual harassment, and has developed procedures to be used to resolve discrimination or sexual harassment complaints. A copy of the University-wide policy on discrimination and harassment, including sexual harassment, which describes the procedures for resolving such complaints, may be obtained from the Director of the Office of Equity and Diversity located at: 400 Cedar Avenue, Great Hall, Room 304, West Long Branch, NJ 07764, Phone: (732) 571-7577, Fax: (732) 263-5140.

Additionally, inquiries may be made externally to: Office of Civil Rights (OCR), U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-1100. Customer Service Hotline Phone: (800) 421-3481, Fax (202) 453-6012, TDD: (877) 521-2172, by E-mail (OCR@ed.gov) or on their Web site (http://www.ed.gov/ocr/).

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act
The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) establishes the right of all students to limited access to certain records and information; to review, seek correction of, and add explanations to records; and to receive a hearing on allegations of violations. The University may not require a waiver of these rights in its admission, academic, or service requirements.

Information such as grades, financial records, and financial aid records may be released to parent(s) of Monmouth University students who are dependents of their parents as defined by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). To establish parents’ eligibility to receive such a disclosure, the University must first obtain a copy of the parents’ most recent tax return (at least the first page where dependents are listed, the financial portions may be redacted). If you have any questions regarding proof of such dependency, you may contact Monmouth University’s Office of the General Counsel at (732) 571-3598. The student may also elect to grant access to academic information such as grades, financial records, and financial aid records to their parent(s) by completing a “FERPA Waiver Release” form from their e-FORMS account which is accessible from the Monmouth University student portal, myMU. Students may also elect to grant their parent(s) or another person proxy access to their grade reports (view only) using the Grades Self-Service (https://wlbssweb-01.monmouth.edu/Student/PersonProxy/) feature, which is also accessible from the student portal, myMU.

A copy of Student Records Policies and Procedures for Monmouth University, developed in support of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, may be obtained from the Office of the General Counsel's Web page (https://www.monmouth.edu/general-counsel/ferpa/).

Directory Information
The following information may be released by the University without the student’s permission unless the student states that they do not want their directory information released. The student must submit this request using the FERPA - Do Not Disclose e-FORM. The “Do Not Disclose” will remain in place indefinitely unless the student submits a written request to have it removed.

Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973
The Director of Equity and Diversity, as the University’s Americans with Disabilities Act Coordinator and Compliance Officer, has responsibility for issues related to Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act.
Responsibility and Policies of the University

The Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 provide that no otherwise qualified individual with a disability (student/employee/applicant) shall, by reason of the disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefit of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. An otherwise qualified individual with respect to post secondary education is one who meets the essential academic requirements and, with respect to employment, is one who with reasonable accommodation can perform the essential functions of the job in question. Monmouth University has complied with these principles and intends to continue its compliance. Anyone having a complaint or observation about a possible discriminatory act or practice should contact the Office of Equity and Diversity at (732) 571-7577.

Human Relations Philosophy and Policy Statement

Monmouth University affirms the inestimable worth and dignity of every individual, regardless of their condition of life. We affirm, further, the right of each person to develop to their full potential and to be judged on the basis of personal accomplishments. Finally, we believe that the achievement of full humanity is enhanced by the experience of the human family.

We are committed to achieving and sustaining a pluralistic environment recognized for its racial, cultural, and ethnic diversity, and which is characterized by genuine mutuality, acceptance, affirmation of the strengths and contributions of differing individuals and groups, and a willingness to resolve disputes in a spirit of good will.

Monmouth University, through this philosophy and policy statement, seeks to create a pluralistic community in which people:

• are accepted and judged as individuals, independent of ancestry, social and economic background, sexual orientation, age, gender, gender identity, physical characteristics, personal beliefs or any protected classes;
• may freely engage in constructive academic dialogue and debate in classrooms and public halls, and pursue their social and private lives uninhibited by discrimination, disruption, or harassment in any form and;
• value, respect, and draw their intellectual strength from the rich diversity of other peoples of different races, cultures, religions, nationalities, and beliefs.

This affirmation and commitment will guide us in the challenging times ahead as we strive to achieve excellence in service, teaching, and scholarship.

THE UNIVERSITY

Monmouth University, as described in its Mission Statement, is an independent, comprehensive institution of higher education, emphasizing excellence and integrity in teaching, and scholarship at the undergraduate, graduate, and doctorate levels. Monmouth is dedicated to service in the public interest and, in particular, to the enhancement of the quality of life. The University is committed to providing a learning environment that enables men and women to pursue their educational goals, to reach their full potential as leaders, to determine the direction of their lives, and to contribute actively in order to become engaged citizens in their community and society in an increasingly interdependent world.

Seven schools within the University—the Wayne D. McMurray School of Humanities and Social Sciences; the School of Science; the Leon Hess Business School; the School of Education; the Marjorie K. Unterberg School of Nursing and Health Studies; the Honors School; and the School of Social Work—provide a wide variety of academic programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. There are bachelor’s degree programs in the arts and sciences and in the professional areas of business, computer science, criminal justice, education, nursing, social work, and software engineering. Co-curricular activities have been designed to complement the academic programs. Master’s level programs include addiction studies, anthropology, business administration (M.B.A.), clinical mental health counseling, computer science, communication, creative writing (M.F.A.), criminal justice, education (M.Ed., M.S.Ed., and M.A.T.), English, history, information systems, nursing, physician assistant, social work, software engineering, and speech-language pathology. The School of Nursing and Health Studies offers doctorate level programs: Doctor of Nursing Practice (D.N.P) and the Occupational Therapy Doctorate (2021). The School of Education offers a Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership and a Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership - Higher Education Track.

The undergraduate curriculum is built upon an innovative, interdisciplinary general education program and careful academic advising and career counseling. One of the University’s main goals is to prepare Monmouth undergraduates for active participation as leaders in the twenty-first century. Accordingly, the University provides a learning environment that enables all students to develop their capacities for leadership in a multicultural world. Students are provided opportunities to develop information technology and collaborative problem-solving skills and to develop a sense of social responsibility as members of local, national, and global communities. Small classes and course clustering allow for individual attention, cooperative learning, and interactive student-faculty exchange.

The University is located in a quiet, residential area of an attractive community near the Atlantic Ocean, about an hour and thirty minutes from the metropolitan attractions of New York City and Philadelphia. Monmouth enjoys the advantage of proximity, within its home county, to many high-technology firms, financial institutions, healthcare institutions, and a thriving business-industrial sector. These provide employment possibilities for Monmouth University graduates, as well as opportunities for undergraduates to gain practical experience through internships. The surrounding communities also offer opportunities for service activities in local schools and public agencies.

Campus Facilities

The University’s 170-acre campus, considered to be one of the most beautiful in New Jersey, includes among its seventy-five buildings a harmonious blending of historic and traditional architectural styles.

The centerpiece building—and the University’s identifying landmark—is the Great Hall at Shadow Lawn, the administrative center. Completed in 1931, the 130-room mansion—originally known as Shadow Lawn—began as the private residence of Hubert T. Parson, a former president of F.W. Woolworth Company. The mansion has been described in newspapers throughout the world, is featured in many books on architecture and art, and has been used as a backdrop for innumerable print ads and television commercials. In 1981, it served as the setting for the film version of Annie. In 1978, along with the University’s Guggenheim Memorial Library, another architectural treasure that was the summer home of Murray and Leonie Guggenheim, it was entered in the National Register of Historic Places. In 1985, The Great Hall at Shadow Lawn was designated a National Historic Landmark by the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Monmouth University Graduate Center is located at 185 State Highway 36, West Long Branch, NJ. This center is approximately two miles from the main campus and currently houses Athletic Training, the Department of Professional Counseling, the Physician Assistant Program, the Speech-Language Pathology Graduate Program, and the Center for Speech and Language Disorders. The Center provides rehabilitation services to the neighboring community on a free-service basis with a one-time per semester registration fee. Please call 732-923-4547 or e-mail (MUSpeechCenter@monmouth.edu) the center with further questions.

The OceanFirst Bank Center is a 153,200-square-foot facility that seats approximately 4,000 people. The building, which is located in the center of the campus, includes a multipurpose arena; a 200-meter, six-lane indoor track; the University store; Leon Hess Champions’ Hall, locker rooms for nineteen athletic teams; box office; fitness center; and the University’s Blue/White Club.

The Lauren K. Woods Theatre, a former carriage house that retains many of its original architectural features, is just one of the many gracious older buildings that lend distinctive balance to the modern additions to the campus. Prominent among these newer buildings is the Rebecca Stafford Student Center that houses an open computer lab, dining room and food court, student offices, lounges, and a large combination banquet/performance hall. In a first-floor suite is the Disability Services and Tutoring Center. On the lower level is the Center for Student Success that includes Career Services, First-Year Advising (which provides advising support to freshmen students), the Writing Center, and a graduate student lounge. Other buildings include: the Magill Commons, a student dining hall and conference center; the Thomas A. Edison Science Building (with nearby greenhouse); Howard Hall, housing the Pollak Theatre and many academic computing labs, as well as a twenty-four-hour open lab; Bey Hall, the Leon Hess Business School building, which contains case study classrooms, seminar rooms, and a computer laboratory; McAllan Hall, which houses the School of Education, the Marjorie K. Unterberg School of Nursing and Health Studies, and the School of Social Work; the new state-of-the-art Jules Plangere Center, which houses the department of Communication, World Languages and Cultures, and a Faculty Resource Center; Pozzick Hall, provides several classrooms including a 150-person lecture hall, a lab and conference rooms, and Joan and Robert Rechnitz Hall, which houses the department of Art and Design and the Rechnitz Gallery. William T. Boylan Gymnasium; eleven traditional and suite-style, on-campus residence halls: Beechwood, Cedar, Elmwood, Hesse, Laurel, Mullaney, Oakwood, Pinewood, Redwood, Spruce, and Willow Hall; and three apartment-style facilities: the Great Lawn Apartments, the Garden Apartments, and Maplewood Hall. Additional off-campus housing is the University Bluffs, a six-apartment-building complex located on 2.7 acres on the ocean in Long Branch.

History

Monmouth University was founded in 1933 with federal assistance as Monmouth Junior College, largely to provide opportunity for higher education to area high school graduates who could not afford to go away to college during the Depression. It was a two-year institution, holding classes only in the evening. For a time it appeared uncertain whether the College would have adequate funds to continue. With support from students and the community, however, the fledgling College survived the economic crisis and quickly assumed its present private status. In 1956, it was renamed Monmouth College and accredited by the state to offer four-year programs leading to the baccalaureate degree. Less than a decade later, it was authorized to offer master’s degree programs. In March 1995, the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education designated Monmouth a teaching university pursuant to N.J.A.C. 9:1-3.1 et seq.

Today, Monmouth offers more than ninety-five undergraduate and graduate degree programs and concentrations. Monmouth University also offers doctorate-level programs:

School of Nursing and Health Studies:
- Doctor of Nursing Practice (D.N.P.)
- Occupational Therapy Doctorate (OTD) (for 2021)

School of Education:
- Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership
- Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership - Higher Education Track

Within Monmouth’s student body, thirty-two states and forty-eight foreign countries are represented. More than 1,700 undergraduates are resident students.

Accreditation

The University is licensed by the New Jersey Commission on Higher Education and accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE) (https://www.msche.org/). In addition,

- the Leon Hess Business School is accredited by the AACSB International (https://www.aacsb.edu/) – the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business;
- the Bachelor of Science in Software Engineering (BSSE) program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of (ABET) (http://abet.org);
- the Bachelor of Science in Computer Science program is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of (ABET) (http://abet.org);
- the Bachelor of Science in Chemistry with a Concentration in Advanced Chemistry is certified by the American Chemical Society (ACS) (https://www.acs.org/content/acs/en/education/policies/acs-approval-program.html);
- the baccalaureate degree program in nursing, master’s degree program in nursing, Doctor of Nursing Practice program and post-graduate APRN certificate programs at Monmouth University are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) (https://www.aacn.nursing.org/CCNE/);
- the undergraduate Bachelor of Social Work and graduate Master of Social Work programs are accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) (https://www.cswe.org/);
- in the School of Education, the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science programs in Education, the Masters of Arts in Teaching (MAT) program in Education, the Master of Science in Education (MSEd) programs in Literacy, Principal/Supervisor, and Special Education, and the Learning Disabilities Teacher Consultant Post-Master’s Endorsement are accredited by the Council for the Accreditation for Educator Preparation (CAEP) (http://caepnet.org/);
- the MSEd in School Counseling and the MSEd in Student Affairs and College Counseling programs are accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) (https://www.cacREP.org/); the MSEd degree program in Speech-Language Pathology is accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology (CAA) (https://caa.asha.org/) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association;
- the Department of Professional Counseling’s Master of Arts in Addiction Studies program is accredited by the National Addiction Studies Accreditation Commission (NASAC) (https://nasacaccreditation.org/), and the Master of Science in Clinical Mental Health Counseling program is accredited by CACREP (https://www.cacREP.org/);
- The Master of Science Physician Assistant (MSPA) Program (https://www.monmouth.edu/graduate/ms-physician-assistant/) is accredited by the Accreditation Review Commission on Education for the Physician Assistant (ARC-PA) (http://www.arc-pa.org/)
  - The Accreditation Review Commission on Education for the Physician Assistant, Inc. (ARC-PA) has granted Accreditation-Continued status to the Monmouth University Physician Assistant Program sponsored by Monmouth University. Accreditation-Continued is an accreditation status granted when a currently accredited program is in compliance with the ARC-PA Standards.
  - Accreditation remains in effect until the program closes or withdraws from the accreditation process or until accreditation is withdrawn for failure to comply with the Standards. The approximate date for the next validation review of the program by the ARC-PA will be March 2029. The review date is contingent upon continued compliance with the Accreditation Standards and ARC-PA policy.
- The program’s accreditation history can be viewed on the ARC-PA website at http://www.arc-pa.org/accreditation-history-monmouth-university/ (http://www.arc-pa.org/accreditation-history-monmouth-university);
- The entry-level occupational therapy doctoral degree program has applied for accreditation and has been granted Candidacy Status by the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education (ACOTE) of the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA), located at 6116 Executive Boulevard, Suite 200, North Bethesda, MD 20852-4929. ACOTE’s telephone number c/o AOTA is (301) 652-AOTA and its web address is www.acoteonline.org (http://www.acoteonline.org). The program must have a preaccreditation review, complete an on-site evaluation, and be granted Accreditation Status before its graduates will be eligible to sit for the national certification examination for the occupational therapist administered by the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT). After successful completion of this exam, the individual will be an Occupational Therapist, Registered (OTR). In addition, all states require licensure in order to practice; however, state licenses are usually based on the results of the NBCOT Certification Examination. Note that a felony conviction may affect a graduate’s ability to sit for the NBCOT certification examination or attain state licensure.

The Faculty

The faculty at Monmouth University work together to provide challenging classroom environments that encourage student involvement and ensure that Monmouth graduates leave the University ready to exercise socially responsible leadership in their professional and personal communities. The faculty take teaching and student learning seriously. To enhance their effectiveness, most have participated in faculty workshops on active learning techniques.

The Monmouth faculty are respected scholars, artists, scientists, and professionals. Students are drawn into the ongoing scholarly and creative work of the faculty through classroom demonstration, research assistantships, and attendance at professional meetings. Faculty also serve as advisors to students, some as designated freshman advisors who work closely with new students during their first year.

In departments having graduate programs, certain faculty are appointed to the graduate faculty. The graduate faculty provide the core of instruction in the graduate programs at Monmouth University. Recognized for their scholarly achievements by peers in their fields, the members of the graduate faculty provide a challenging classroom environment. They bring insight from research and professional experience into the classroom. Graduate students are drawn into the ongoing, creative work of the faculty through classroom demonstration, as research assistants, and through attendance at professional meetings. The graduate faculty also serve as advisors and mentors to students; in many cases, contact is maintained after graduation.

Working directly with senior faculty who are engaged in research is a key element in graduate-level study. In recent interviews, a group of student leaders on campus unanimously agreed that the opportunity to work closely with faculty is the greatest single benefit of Monmouth’s small class size and engaged faculty. Students are able to achieve a comfortable rapport with the professors.

Interviewed recently about their views of the University, a group of student leaders on campus unanimously agreed the greatest single appeal of the institution was the opportunity it afforded them to work closely with faculty, to achieve a comfortable rapport in which they not only got to know their teachers, but also were known by them. “We are never made to feel we are simply numbers,” one of the student leaders stated.

A member of the anthropology faculty, who regularly involves students in his research activities, explains: “It gives them opportunity to meet important people in the field whom they otherwise would only read about, and to engage in some of the personal excitement of anthropology.” A biology professor, who provides opportunity for students in his major field to participate in his environmental projects, also encourages them to write papers on their work and to present them at scientific meetings. “For some,” he reports, “this experience has been a determining factor in gaining acceptance to graduate school or in getting jobs in their major field. Being able to include published research in their résumés gives them a decided edge.” A psychology professor whose undergraduate students have presented papers at prestigious, professional psychology conferences is enthusiastic about their experiences. “They have truly earned the recognition they received and are excited about pursuing advanced degrees.”

Monmouth faculty are committed to helping students achieve their fullest potential. That they succeed is attested in the words of a graduate who is now a successful physicist. “Any student who has anything on the ball, and who wants to learn and get the finest education possible in his or her major field, can get it at Monmouth. The teachers are tops; they care about you as an individual, work right along with you, and share the joy of your own successes. I was a science major. When they saw that I was serious about my work, my professors gave me special encouragement, allowed me flexible lab privileges, and even worked with me on research. I knew it was a great experience then. Five years into my career field, I am even more appreciative of the solid kind of preparation provided me at Monmouth. Just show the faculty you care, and you’ll have them on your team all the way.”

Distinguished Teaching Award

Each year at Commencement, the University cites one member of the faculty for distinguished teaching. Honorees are chosen by a committee of faculty, administrators, and students. Recipients since 1975, when the award was established, are:

Academic Honesty

Monmouth University encourages its students to grow intellectually as well as to become responsible citizens in our complex society. To develop their skills and talents, students are asked to conduct research, perform experiments, write papers, work individually, and cooperate in group activities. Academic dishonesty subverts the University’s mission and undermines the student’s intellectual growth. Dishonesty in such academic practices as assignments, examinations, or other academic work cannot be condoned. A student who submits work that is not original violates the purpose of Monmouth University and may forfeit his/her right and opportunity to continue at the University.

The University has an obligation as an educational institution to be certain that each student’s work is his/her own. Note that Monmouth University faculty members have access to Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based plagiarism-detection resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. This database includes current and archived Internet resources, periodicals, journals and other publications, and past student papers from Monmouth and other educational institutions. All student assignments may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com/) for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers may be included as source documents in the Turnitin reference database (solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers). Faculty are expected to inform students in advance about which assignments will be checked for originality using Turnitin. Use of the Turnitin service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin site (http://www.turnitin.com/).
UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSION

First-Time, First-Year Applicants

Admission to Monmouth is based upon many factors. Recognizing that each student is different, Monmouth makes every attempt to ensure that its selection process is as fair to each student as possible. The admission process is need-blind, i.e., a family’s ability to pay for college is not considered.

Admission to the University is at the discretion of the Admission Committee under the guidance and supervision of the Director of Undergraduate Admission. The applicant pool for fall admission changes each year; admission guidelines are established based upon the applicant pool and strategic objectives of the University. Factors considered in the application review process include the high school transcript with focus on cumulative grade point average and rigor of course work, standardized test scores (when required), letter(s) of recommendation, essay, activities/work experience, community service, and leadership roles. (The Committee reserves the right to make admission exceptions on the basis of the student’s overall application and potential for success at Monmouth University.)

Admission Requirements

A candidate for admission is required to:

1. be a graduate of an accredited secondary school or the equivalent;
2. have completed sixteen (16) Carnegie units to include the following: four units of English, three units of mathematics, two units of social studies, two units of science, and five additional units of academic electives chosen from the following areas: English, social science, science, humanities, foreign languages, and mathematics; and
3. satisfy the University’s requirements for grade point average and/or standardized test scores (SAT or ACT*). *For the class entering in 2022, first-year applicants can choose either the Traditional or Test Optional Application Review to best demonstrate their ability to succeed at Monmouth. Please visit monmouth.edu/testoptional (https://www.monmouth.edu/admission/undergraduate/how-to-apply/) to learn more.

The application deadlines for first-time, full-time students are as follows:

- The application deadline for early decision is November 15. Early decision is a binding admission program geared toward students who meet the overall criteria for admission and have a strong desire to enroll at Monmouth. Early decision candidates will be notified of an admission decision by December 15. Applicants who are offered admission through the early decision program are asked to withdraw all other applications to other colleges and universities and accept the offer of admission. Applicants may be offered admission, denied admission, or returned to the regular applicant pool for further consideration.
- The application deadline for early action is December 1. Early action is a non-binding program geared toward students who meet the overall criteria for admission and have a strong desire to enroll at Monmouth. Early action candidates will be notified of an admission decision by January 15. Applicants may be offered admission, denied admission, or returned to the regular applicant pool for further consideration.
- The application deadline for regular decision is March 1. This is the final application deadline for first-time, full-time students. Students who wish to apply for regular admission may file their credentials at any time after the start term of their senior year. Applications received after the March 1 deadline will be considered on a space-available basis. Regular decision candidates who complete an application by March 1 will be notified of an admission decision by April 1.

The application deadline for Nursing (BSN freshman applicants only) is December 1; this program may have special requirements. BSN candidates who complete an application by December 1 will be notified of an admission decision by January 15. Refer to the current Monmouth University Application for Undergraduate Admission for information.

The application deadline for the 3+2 B.S. in Health Studies & Minor in Communication Sciences and Disorders/M.S.Ed. in Speech-Language Pathology program is December 1 and may have special requirements. Candidates for this program who complete an application by December 1 will be notified of an admission decision by January 15. Refer to the current Monmouth University Application for Undergraduate Admission for information.

The application deadline for the 3+3 B.S. in Health Studies/Doctor of Occupational Therapy (OTD) program is December 1 and may have special requirements. Candidates for this program who complete an application by December 1 will be notified of an admission decision by January 15. Refer to the current Monmouth University Application for Undergraduate Admission for information.

The application deadline for the 3+3 B.S./B.A. with M.S. in Physician Assistant is December 1 and may have special requirements. Candidates for this program who complete an application by December 1 will be notified of an admission decision by February 15. An interview is required for this application; qualified candidates will be offered the opportunity to interview based on their academic credentials. Refer to the current Monmouth University Application for Undergraduate Admission for information.

Enrollment deposits are required of all undergraduate students who are accepting offers of admission to the University. Seats in the fall, first-year class are often filled by the May 1 National Candidates’ reply date. Therefore, full-time, first-year students should submit the enrollment deposit by May 1.

First-year students may also apply for spring semester admission; the deadline for spring semester applications is December 1. First-year, full-time students who are entering in the spring semester should also submit the enrollment deposit as soon as possible in order to confirm intention to enroll.

Part-Time and Transfer Students

The priority application deadline for the fall semester is July 15. The priority application deadline for the spring semester is December 1. Applications are accepted on a space-available basis after these priority deadlines.

Adult Students (24 Years of Age or Older)

The application deadline for the fall semester is July 15. The application deadline for the spring semester is December 1.

An enrollment deposit is not required for part-time students; however, students must return an enrollment confirmation form to indicate intent to enroll.
Admission Procedures

1. Undergraduate applicants apply through the Common Application (https://www.commonapp.org) or through the Monmouth University application (monmouth.edu/apply). Applications should be completed in full and submitted to Monmouth University. A nonrefundable application fee of $50 is requested with the application.

2. The secondary school of the applicant should forward an official transcript to the Office of Admission Processing.

3. Official SAT or ACT* score reports should be submitted for those applying through the Traditional Application plan. Test results may be either included on the official transcript provided by the applicant’s secondary school or may be forwarded to Monmouth directly by the testing service. Monmouth University’s code number for the SAT is 002416. The ACT code is 2571.

*For the classes entering in 2022 and 2023, first-year applicants can choose either the Traditional or Test Optional Application Review to best demonstrate their ability to succeed at Monmouth. Please visit monmouth.edu/testoptional (https://www.monmouth.edu/admission/undergraduate/how-to-apply/) to learn more and decide on the best path for you.

4. At least one letter of recommendation from a high school teacher or counselor is requested for all freshman applicants.

5. An essay should be submitted by all freshman applicants. Please note: certain direct-entry programs require a program-specific essay. Please refer to the application for more information.

6. Applicants who have satisfactorily completed the General Educational Development (GED) or equivalent test in lieu of high school graduation should request that an official score report be sent directly to the Monmouth University Office of Admission Processing. The scores can be obtained by contacting the New Jersey Department of Education.

7. All matriculating undergraduate students must complete the required medical forms prior to registration. Instructions on how to submit medical forms will be forwarded to students after the enrollment deposit is received by the University. All required immunizations must meet current University policies.

Credit Accumulation

Advanced Standing

Monmouth University grants college credit (Advanced Standing) for secondary school courses that have been validated by the Advanced Placement Examination Board. In most cases, credit is awarded for Monmouth University course equivalents of the subject matter covered by the examination when the AP examination scores are 3, 4, or 5. See the Advanced Placement Exams chart (p. 20) for specific Monmouth equivalencies.

Monmouth University accepts International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma Program Credit based on Higher Level examination achievement. Scores of a 5, 6, or 7 must be earned in order to receive credit for the IB. International Baccalaureate courses are graded on a scale of 1 (minimum) to 7 (maximum). Official IB transcripts should be forwarded to the Office of Undergraduate Admission for official evaluation. Monmouth does not grant IB credits for subjects taken at the Standard Level.

Students will be given credit in specific subject areas on a course-by-course basis; credit policies will be determined by the academic department to which the credit will be transferred. Please refer to the International Baccalaureate chart (p. 21) for specific Monmouth equivalencies.

Monmouth University will grant three (3) credits as a Political Science elective for students who enroll at Monmouth University and who have successfully completed The American Legion Jersey Boys State Program (ALJBS).

Credits in Escrow

Monmouth University provides a taste of college life as well as a head start in college for secondary school students who have completed at least their junior year. Credits earned are held in escrow and may be applied toward a degree at Monmouth after the student is matriculated as a regular student, or they may be transferred. By taking advantage of this opportunity and with careful planning of course sequences, it may be possible for a student to complete requirements for a baccalaureate degree in three calendar years.

Monmouth University also grants credit for college courses taken at another accredited institution while the student was still attending high school. In order to evaluate credit, official transcripts must be submitted from that institution for evaluation.

Homeschooled Students

A candidate for admission who has been homeschooled is asked to follow these guidelines in the application process. Please note that all homeschooled students are required to meet their home state requirements and submit appropriate supporting documentation demonstrating that they have done so, should they be asked to do so by Monmouth University. Applicants should:

2. Submit the nonrefundable application fee.
3. Submit one of the following credentials:
   a. Transcript from a homeschool program, private school, or primary teacher. Please note that if any part of your high school education was completed in a conventional public or private high school, Monmouth University requires the transcript of that academic work be sent directly from the registrar of that school. Additionally, if you have completed any college-level course work while in high school or to satisfy graduation requirements, submit all official transcripts. If course work is still in progress, submit a course schedule.
   b. Portfolio of academic work completed to include syllabi, list of textbooks used, academic curriculum outline, and any other documentation of academic work completed. The portfolio must include grade evaluations by the primary teacher. Also required with the portfolio is Monmouth University’s Curriculum Chart for Homeschooled Students. All students who apply to Monmouth University must demonstrate that they have completed the following Carnegie Units: four units of English, three units of mathematics, two units of social studies, two units of science, and five additional units of academic electives chosen from the following areas: English, social studies, science, humanities, foreign languages, and mathematics.
4. Submit at least one letter of recommendation.
5. Submit official standardized test scores—either SAT or ACT. Score reports must be sent directly from the testing agency. Monmouth's SAT code is 002416. Monmouth's ACT code is 2571.

Transfer Applicants

Monmouth University welcomes applications from transfer students who are in good academic standing at other accredited colleges or universities. Students from non-accredited colleges may be admitted if they satisfy the admission requirements of Monmouth University. Students with a cumulative GPA of 2.25 or better will be considered for admission to the University. Students pursuing a major within the School of Education must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 according to New Jersey State Guidelines. Please refer to the School of Education section of this catalog for additional State guidelines. Admission is determined by successful completion of course work over time and is not automatic; there may be instances when a student with a 2.25 GPA or greater will not be offered admission. Students who have been dismissed for academic reasons will not be considered for acceptance by Monmouth University until at least one academic semester has elapsed following their dismissal. Students suspended for disciplinary reasons from another institution must serve the term imposed by that suspension before Monmouth University will consider their application for admission.

Students offered provisional admission must be nonmatriculated and part-time. Conditions imposed on such students are as follows:

- they may earn no more than eighteen credits in that status and may carry no more than nine (9) credits per semester;
- they must reapply for admission after earning twelve to eighteen credits at Monmouth in order to matriculate and continue taking courses at the University.

Admission as a matriculating student is contingent upon successful completion of course work. (See the Changing from Non-Matriculated to Matriculated Status (p. 62) section of the catalog for more details.)

The priority application deadline for the spring semester is December 1. The priority application deadline for the fall semester is July 15. If a student has attempted and received grades in twenty-four credits or more at or above the 100-level, the University will only look at the student’s collegiate course work in determining admission. If a student has fewer than twenty-four credits, an official high school transcript is requested; such applicants may also submit official SAT or ACT scores.

Transfer students must send official transcripts from all institutions attended previously, regardless of whether or not credit for such work is desired or expected. Final transcripts from previous institutions attended must be received by Monmouth University prior to beginning enrollment. Students who do not provide official transcripts will not be permitted to continue at Monmouth. Failure to declare attendance at any postsecondary institution where registration occurred may lead to disciplinary action and/or dismissal. When applying for transfer credit, students may be requested to submit official course descriptions.

Articulation Agreements

Monmouth University currently has program articulation agreements with Brookdale Community College, Ocean County College, Mercer County Community College, Raritan Valley Community College, and Union County College. Similar agreements may be in development with other two-year colleges. If you are interested in one of the existing agreements, please contact either the Office of Undergraduate Admission at 732-571-3456 or Transfer Services in the Center for Student Success (CSS) at 732-571-3588.

Credit Transfer

Transfer students who have been admitted to the University will receive an official transfer credit evaluation. Students who fail to declare attendance at any postsecondary institution where they had been registered automatically waive the right to have that work considered for transfer credit and are subject to disciplinary action and/or suspension. Grades earned at previous institutions are not reflected in the Monmouth University grade point average (GPA). (Education majors may transfer a maximum of six professional credits from a two-year school.) Due to the individual review process required for evaluating music and art course work, students in these disciplines may require an audition or a portfolio review to determine equivalency for certain course work. Students attending an accredited two-year institution in New Jersey may find transfer equivalencies through the New Jersey Transfer Initiative (http://www.njtransfer.org).

All candidates for bachelor’s degrees must complete the University’s general education requirements. Note that the course type(s) associated with a course are specific to course work taken at Monmouth University. Courses earned through transfer equivalency will not automatically earn the course type associated with the Monmouth University course equivalent. For instructions on how to have a transfer course reviewed to fulfill the General Education requirements of Technological Literacy (TL), Reasoned Oral Discourse (RD), Interdisciplinary Studies (ISP), Cultural Diversity (CD), Global Understanding (GU), or Experiential Education (EX), students should contact the Director of Transfer Student Services and Undeclared Students and may also refer to the general education transfer equivalencies (p. 23) for more details. Prospective students may contact the Office of Undergraduate Admission for further information.

For undergraduate students who attended accredited (by the Commission on Higher Education) two-year community or county colleges, the following applies:

1. Students transferring from a two-year institution may use up to sixty-nine transfer credits toward a baccalaureate degree at Monmouth University, providing these credits fulfill degree requirements. Students who attended both two-year and four-year institutions may apply a maximum of twenty-one additional credits at the 200-level or higher (as determined by the four-year institution where these courses were taken) toward baccalaureate degree requirements at Monmouth University, providing these credits fulfill degree requirements. Students who attended only a four-year institution may apply a maximum of ninety credits toward a baccalaureate degree at Monmouth University, providing these credits fulfill degree requirements.

2. Full-time students at accredited community or county colleges who have maintained continuous semester-to-semester attendance and who graduate in five or fewer semesters in AA, AS, or AAS (nursing only) degree programs will be considered for acceptance as transfer students at Monmouth University. Provided such students begin their enrollment at Monmouth in the first or second semester immediately following their graduation from the two-year institution, they may elect to follow the Monmouth University curriculum that was in effect at the time they entered the two-year college. Students must request matriculation in the prior catalog by writing to the Office of the Registrar within the first semester of attendance. Please be aware that accreditation or state mandate may make a program unavailable.

3. All other graduates of accredited community or county colleges who have earned AA, AS, or AAS (nursing only) degrees (full-time students taking more than five semesters to graduate or part-time students) will be considered for acceptance as transfer students at Monmouth University. Provided such students begin their enrollment at Monmouth in the first or second semester immediately following their graduation from the two-year institution, they may elect to follow the Monmouth University curriculum that was in effect four semesters prior to their enrollment at Monmouth.

For all other undergraduate students who attended accredited (by the Commission on Higher Education) institutions, courses are transferred as follows:

1. Only courses in which earned grades were “C” or higher will be accepted. Furthermore:
   a. No remedial courses will be accepted.
   b. A maximum of four (4) physical education credits may transfer for non-health physical education majors. Health/Physical Education and Health/Physical Education with an Endorsement in Education majors may transfer six (6) credits in physical education course work.
   c. No personal development or vocational (e.g., secretarial, automotive) courses, unrelated to degree programs at Monmouth University, will transfer. (The designation “vocational” will be determined by the course description/syllabus, not necessarily by the discipline designation assigned at the previous institution.)
   d. Courses that are more than five years old may be declined by the major department, but only in cases where the subject matter of these courses has undergone significant and substantial additions/revisions.
   e. Monmouth will accept transfer credit for classes indicated as “Pass” or “Satisfactory” provided that the sending institution’s policy states that the “Pass” or “Satisfactory” grade is equivalent to a grade of “C” or better. Credit for courses from institutions with a policy that also allows “C-” or “D” grades to be included will be evaluated on an individual basis. Students should be prepared to submit additional documentation.

2. Courses will transfer in at the Monmouth University equivalent.

3. Each transfer student must complete at least the last thirty credits at Monmouth University, of which fifteen credits must be in the major.
For business administration majors, at least fifty percent of their business requirements (business core and concentration[s]) must be completed at Monmouth University. For other graduation and residency requirements, please refer to the Academic Programs, Support Services, and Regulations (p. 42) section of this Catalog.

4. Students changing majors will have their transfer credits re-evaluated by the new major department.

5. Undergraduate students who attended a study abroad program through their former institutions may be eligible for Experiential Education credit at Monmouth. The student must have earned a minimum of six credits at the foreign institution, with grades of “C” or better. The study abroad courses must be noted on the academic transcript of the American institution and annotated as “study abroad.” See the Office of the Registrar for additional information.

For undergraduate students who attended non-foreign, nonaccredited programs:

Courses other than nursing courses will transfer automatically only if a formal document of course equivalencies exists that was previously adopted by the University. When a formal document does not exist, courses taken in these nonaccredited programs will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis by the appropriate departments to determine acceptability for transfer. In all instances, conditions one through four above apply.

For nursing majors, nursing courses will transfer as described within the Nursing and Health Studies section of this Catalog. Non-nursing majors who have graduated from a diploma nursing school may transfer nursing courses by taking as many as four ACT/PEP tests as specified by the School of Nursing and Health Studies at Monmouth University. Each successfully passed examination may transfer as eight credits (8) of lower-division nursing courses. These credits may apply to the requirements of the major program as applicable. Students should consult with their major department chair for details.

For undergraduate students who attended foreign institutions:

The Monmouth University Transcript Evaluator will evaluate credits submitted from foreign institutions. Transcripts that are not in English must be translated and evaluated by a reputable credential evaluation service, including members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES). Course descriptions in English must accompany transcripts. In all instances, conditions one through four above apply to foreign courses. Students may, upon request, be required to have previous academic work validated, at the students’ expense, through an outside credential evaluation service.

For undergraduate students who have served in the military:

Students who have completed basic training in any of the Armed Forces will automatically receive one (1) credit in physical education activities and one (1) credit of health by virtue of that experience and presentation of official discharge documentation. Other credits earned while in the military may be considered for transfer credit upon presentation of official military transcript documentation to the Office of Undergraduate Admission.

Police Academy Transfer Policy

Students who successfully complete a New Jersey Police Academy program prior to enrolling in Monmouth University will be awarded six (6) Monmouth University credits (CJ-101 Introduction to Criminal Justice (3 cr.), and CJ-225 Law Enforcement (3 cr.)). Once matriculated into Monmouth University, no police academy credits will be awarded to students who subsequently enter a New Jersey Police Academy.

Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) Training Credit

Students who successfully complete EMT training will be awarded five (5) total Monmouth University credits—three (3) credits of Biology free electives and two (2) credits for PE-201 First Aid/CPR/AED Certification (2 cr.). Students wishing to be awarded credit should present an active certification identification card to the Transcript Credit Evaluator.

American Council on Education (ACE)

Credit for course work that appears on an official American Council on Education (ACE) transcript with a recommendation for credit at the baccalaureate degree level will be awarded at the discretion of the University. The ACE recommendation does not guarantee that Monmouth University credit will be awarded.

Students with a documented disability may contact the Disability Services for Students office to discuss a possible course substitution.

Transfer students entering in 2021-22 and 2022-23 who transfer in courses consistent with Monmouth’s previous general education requirements may have fulfilled this requirement. Contact Transfer & Undeclared Services office for more information.
Credit by Examination

Credit by Examination is a process for granting academic credit for a life experience with an academic parallel. The term "life experience" connotes a learning experience equivalent to an academic course in an accredited institution on the college level. Credits obtained by examination are accorded the same status as transfer credit and consequently are not used in the computation of the grade point average. Credit by examination is counted as part of the maximum allowable transfer credits for an academic program. Undergraduate students earning credits by examination for languages cannot use these credits to satisfy the cultural diversity (CD), global understanding (GU) or world language (WL) general education requirement.

Interested students should apply to the appropriate academic departments. Details about these procedures are available in the Office of the Registrar.

Applied Music

Applied Music is private instruction in a particular instrument or voice. The student should discuss his/her desire to take applied music with a Monmouth University music faculty member and then register directly in the Music Department. The student may earn as many as six (6) credits in Applied Music and will be awarded the credit after successful completion of the lessons and the payment of the credit by examination fee. Credit for Applied Music will be treated in the same manner as credit by examination (see above).

Additional guidelines are available online on the Office of the Registrar forms Web page (http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/forms.asp).

Prior Learning/Portfolio Assessment Program

Students who have been working, managing a home, volunteering in the community, traveling, serving in the military, or studying independently may have acquired some college-level learning from these experiences.

It is possible to have this learning evaluated and receive credit. Credit is granted for learning rather than the experience itself, and is awarded when the learning is closely related to the subject matter of a Monmouth course. Students who wish to earn credit for learning from work and life experience will be asked to prepare a portfolio that describes and documents that learning. Additional information is available from the Office of the Registrar.

Former Students Applying for Readmission

Readmission to the University

Former Monmouth University students not on a Leave of Absence who have not attended the University for at least one semester must submit a request for readmission (https://apply.monmouth.edu/register/readmission/) and may need to submit an application fee. If the applicant has attended another institution in the interim, the applicant must have an official transcript forwarded to the Office of Admission Processing. Students will be re-evaluated based upon the full academic record and will be advised if further information is needed.
apply for readmission after a minimum of three years. Application must be made through the Office of Admission.

Application for Academic Amnesty
(See Academic Amnesty (p. 57).)

Visiting Students

Visiting students from other institutions should apply online through the Undergraduate Permission Enrollment Application (https://apply.monmouth.edu/register/PNMapplication/). Students must be in good academic and disciplinary standing at their home institution and must receive permission from them as part of the application process in order to enroll in a course at Monmouth. Admission as a visiting student does not constitute admission as a matriculated student. Eligible rising high school seniors may enroll in college-level course work at Monmouth University. Eligibility will be determined by the Office of Undergraduate Admission based on a review of the student’s academic credentials.

Adult Applicants

Monmouth University endeavors to support lifelong learning by providing services and programs—degree and nondegree, credit and noncredit—that enable nontraditional students to meet their varied educational needs and goals.

Program 65 affords opportunity for persons 65 years of age or older to enroll for study at Monmouth University at reduced tuition. Admission requirements include the designated nonrefundable application fee and proof of age. Enrollment is on a space-available basis. Those interested in learning more about Program 65 may contact either the Office of Undergraduate or Graduate Admission.

Applicants with Disabilities

Monmouth University welcomes applications from persons with disabilities, complying with the requirements of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act. Students who wish to utilize available accommodations and services provided by the University must submit current and adequate documentation related to their disability to the Department of Disability Services for Students.

All applicants, including students with disabilities, must meet all University admission requirements. You are not required to disclose a disability, nor should you submit documentation of your disability with your application materials. If information is provided, it is not used in admission decisions and will be forwarded to the Department of Disability Services for Students. You are welcome to contact that office at 732-571-3460 to speak with a staff member about how they may be able to assist you. Monmouth University can also be contacted by using the New Jersey Telecommunications TTY Relay Services Operator at 800-852-7899.

International Applicants

International applicants must meet three basic criteria before being accepted and issued an I-20 Form:

1. demonstration of academic ability,
2. English language proficiency, and
3. sufficient financial support.

Applicants for admission whose native language is not English must demonstrate English language proficiency. Such proficiency may be demonstrated by submitting an official score report from one of the following standardized tests and meeting the minimum score requirements. Students who have completed the equivalent of a baccalaureate or master's degree at an accredited institution in a native, English-speaking country may be exempt from these standardized testing requirements. For a current list of additional ways to meet the English language proficiency requirement please contact the Admission Office at 732-571-3456.

Monmouth University will also accept international students who meet Monmouth's regular standards for admission and who have successfully completed the ELS Language Services program at the master’s level of English proficiency, which is completion of Level 112, in lieu of the TOEFL or other English proficiency exam. Conditional acceptance may be issued by Monmouth University to those students who elect to prove English proficiency by enrolling in and completing ELS Level 112.

In order to obtain the nonimmigrant Certificate of Eligibility (Form I-20), all accepted international applicants are required to provide financial documentation, such as bank statements, attesting that sufficient funds are available to support the period of study for the degree at Monmouth. To obtain a copy of the Application for Form I-20 and instructions, visit our International Students Information page (http://www.monmouth.edu/admission/graduate/international.asp). This document is required and must be completed before the Form I-20 can be issued.

Undergraduate applicants who have attended a school outside of the United States must submit official evidence of secondary school completion and certified original copies of national examination results where applicable.

International undergraduate freshman applicants from English-speaking countries must take the SAT or ACT and meet regular standards for admission. To learn from which countries the SAT/ACT is required, please visit our TOEFL Requirements page (http://www.monmouth.edu/admission/international/toefl.asp).

International Transfer Applicants

Credentials submitted from foreign institutions will be evaluated by the Transcript Evaluator for credit transfer. Official college transcripts for all college-level work, regardless of whether the credit will be transferrable, must be sent directly from the institution at which the credit was completed. Official transcripts, mark sheets, diplomas, degrees, and/or certificates of all secondary and post-secondary academic records and examination results are required. If fewer than twenty-four transferable credits have been completed, high school/secondary school transcripts must also be provided. Transcripts that are not in English must be translated and evaluated by a reputable credential evaluation service, including members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), and then sent directly from the agency to Monmouth University. A course-by-course evaluation is required for all non-English transcripts. Course descriptions in English of all completed course work are also required if not included in the course-by-course evaluation. Transcripts are considered official when sent directly to Monmouth University from the college/university at which the courses were taken and certified by the institution’s Registrar’s Office, Ministry of Education, or when sent directly from the evaluation agency along with the translation and evaluation to the Office of Admission Processing. Photocopied documents or transcripts marked “issued to student” are not accepted as official.

The records should list all courses the student has taken and grades received in each subject. Course descriptions and/or syllabi and the number of weeks and hours spent in lectures and laboratory work for each course are required of transfer applicants if transfer credit is expected. Only credits from recognized accredited institutions will be considered for direct transfer into any degree program. All course work is subject to approval by the department chair of the specific program chosen; not all courses may transfer. A maximum of seventy-two credits will be allowed for undergraduates transferring from a four-year accredited institution; a maximum of ninety-six credits will be allowed for undergraduates transferring from a two-year accredited institution; a maximum of sixty credits will be allowed when transferring from a four-year accredited institution.

Course work done through national examination may be considered for credit by department evaluation, credit by examination, waiver, or portfolio if results meet specific department and/or University requirements and standards.

Students may, upon request, be required to have previous academic work validated, at the student’s expense, through an outside credential evaluation service.

Failure to declare and/or present all academic work, or presentation of academic records that are found to be altered or of a questionable nature, may result in non-acceptance of student or dismissal of student from the University. Generally, international students currently studying in the United States who wish to transfer to Monmouth University should follow the regular transfer admission process. The English proficiency/SAT requirement can be waived for international students who have completed at least twenty-four transferable credits of which at least three are in English at the 100 level or higher. See details referenced in the International Applicants section for English proficiency requirements. An international student transferring from an institution within the United States is asked to provide the following documentation:

- Common Application
- Nonrefundable application fee
- Official transcript(s)
- Official test scores (as applicable)
- Monmouth University's F-1 Transfer form (http://www.monmouth.edu/Student/grad/Transfer.pdf) if currently enrolled at a U.S. institution and Monmouth University’s Application for Form I-20 (http://www.monmouth.edu/uploadedFiles/Content/University/admission/international-students/FormI20.pdf).

In addition, upon acceptance, the transfer applicant should request the previous institution to transfer his or her Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) record.

International transfer applicants must also provide financial support documentation (see details referenced in the International Applicants section).

Military Applicants

Monmouth University has been designated as an institutional member of Service Members Opportunity Colleges (SOC), a group of over 400 colleges and universities providing voluntary postsecondary education to members of the military throughout the world. As an SOC member, Monmouth University recognizes the unique nature of the military lifestyle and has committed itself to easing the transfer of relevant course credit, providing flexible academic residency requirements, and crediting learning from appropriate military training and experiences.

SOC has been developed jointly by educational representatives of each of the Armed Services, the Office of the Secretary of Defense, and a consortium of thirteen leading, national higher education associations; it is sponsored by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) and the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC).

Veterans and War Orphans

Complete information regarding benefits and procedures for applying may be obtained from Veterans’ Services in the Office of Student Life or the Financial Aid Office. Monmouth University is approved by the New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans’ Affairs for veterans’ benefits.

Non-Disclosure

Failure to submit complete records of all previous academic experiences will result in a student being denied admission, or, in the case of nondisclosure or misrepresentation, the rescinding of admission previously granted.
TUITION AND FEES

It should be noted that more than 80 percent of Monmouth University students are eligible for financial aid. Depending upon family financial circumstances—regardless of income—actual costs could be considerably less than published student charges. Inquiries should be directed to the Financial Aid Office.

Explanation of Tuition, Fees and Deposits

Tuition Charges: Undergraduate students are billed according to their status as matriculated full-time or part-time students. Full-time undergraduate students will be billed, upon registering for a given semester, for tuition at the full-time rate; those who register for more than eighteen credits will have an additional charge for each credit over eighteen, billed at the part-time rate. Part-time students are billed at the per-credit rate. Undergraduate students wishing to change status must process a Request to Change Enrollmen Status form with the Office of the Bursar. In addition, part-time, non-matriculated students must receive approval of the Office of Undergraduate Admission before a change to full-time status can be processed.

Under this policy, undergraduate students whose status is full time will be billed at the full-time rate, regardless of the number of credits for which they are registered, until a Request to Change Enrollment Status form is processed. If a full-time student fails to register for a full-time load by the end of the registration period, the University will adjust the billing and change the student's status accordingly. An undergraduate student whose status is part-time will be billed at the part-time per-credit rate, unless registered for twelve or more credits (then the student will be billed at the full-time rate). Summer tuition will be billed at the per-credit rate regardless of status.

Financial Aid awards will be based on the student's status, and students should be aware that change in status may affect Financial Aid eligibility.

Graduate students are assessed tuition on a per-credit basis. Students should be aware that the number of enrolled credits may affect Financial Aid eligibility.

Comprehensive Fee: The Comprehensive Fee includes services provided by the Student Center, Student Activities, Health Center, Intercollegiate and Intramural Athletics, Placement, Counseling, and Registration.

Application Fee: This nonrefundable fee is for the cost of processing undergraduate and graduate applications.

Acceptance Deposit: This deposit must be paid by all new full-time undergraduate students (twelve or more credits) prior to registration. Acceptance deposits paid by transfer students are not refundable. Acceptance deposits paid by freshmen for the fall semester are refundable until May 1.

Orientation Fee: This fee is charged to new students to cover the expenses of the orientation program.

Late Payment Fee: A fee is charged to all students who have not properly made final financial arrangements with the Bursar by the payment due date.

Parking Fee: This fee is charged to all resident students who register a motor vehicle with the campus police. Failure to register vehicles will result in parking fines.

Returned Check Fee: A fee is charged for each uncollectible check issued to the University.

Residence Hall Room Reservation Deposit: Students who wish to reserve space in the residence halls are required to forward a $150 room reservation deposit and signed contract prior to registration. The $150 is applied as a credit toward room rent.

Residence Hall Contract Cancellation Fee: This fee is charged to students who have contracted to reserve space in the residence hall and fail to cancel that contract prior to June 1. This fee is in addition to forfeiture of the room reservation deposit.

Physical Education Fee: This fee is for the use of equipment required in the physical education program.

Laboratory and Studio Fee: This fee is charged in addition to the tuition for each laboratory or studio course. It covers costs of additional class hours and special materials.

Credit by Examination Fee: This fee is for the administrative and personnel costs for the Credit by Examination program.

Portfolio Assessment Fee: This fee is for the administrative and personnel costs for the Portfolio Assessment program.

Study Abroad Fee: This fee is charged to Monmouth University students who have been granted permission to enroll in a Study Abroad program sponsored by another college or university.

Student Teacher Early Field Experience Fee: This fee is charged to education majors to offset the expense of the early field experience.

Student Teaching Field Experience Fee: This fee is charged to education majors to offset the expense of student teaching.

Clinical Laboratory and Practicum Fee: This fee is charged to offset the additional costs associated with certain clinical laboratory and practicum courses.

Veterans' Benefits Policy

In accordance with Title 38 U.S. Code 3679 subsection (e), Monmouth University has adopted the following additional provisions for any students using U.S. Department of Veterans' Affairs (VA) Post 9/11® GI.Bill (Chapter 33) or Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (VR&E) (Chapter 31) benefits, while payment to the institution is pending from Veterans’ Affairs.

Monmouth University will not:

- Prevent the students enrollment;
- Assess a late penalty fee;
- Require VA students obtaining benefits to secure alternative or additional funding;
- Deny their access to any resources (access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities) available to other students who have satisfied their tuition and fee bills to the institution.

However, to qualify for this provision, such students may be required to:

- Provide Chapter 33 Certificate of Eligibility (or its equivalent) or for Chapter 31, Veterans’ Affairs Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (VR&E) contract with the school on VA Form 28-1905 by the first day of class. Note: Chapter 33 students can register at the VA Regional Office to use E-Benefits to get the equivalent of a Chapter 33 Certificate of Eligibility. Chapter 31 students cannot get a completed VA Form 28-1905 (or its equivalent) before the VA VR&E case manager issues it to the school.
- Provide written request to be certified;
- Provide additional information needed to properly certify the enrollment as described in other institutional policies.

Terms of Payment

Payment of fall semester charges are due in August, and spring semester charges are due in December. Specific dates are set annually and can be viewed on the Bursar Web page under “Payment Deadlines.” Billing
Refund Policy For Complete Withdrawals
Fall and Spring Semesters
Tuition and fees, including room and board fees, will be refunded upon complete withdrawal from all semester courses according to the policy stated below.

Students who withdraw completely from the University after the opening of classes will receive 100 percent refunds (less a $500 cancellation fee as detailed in the Housing Contract) through the end of the first week of the semester. Students who withdraw completely after the first week of the semester will receive pro-rata refunds (less a $500 cancellation fee as detailed in the Housing Contract) calculated on the basis of days enrolled through the sixtieth percent point in the semester. Example: For a semester consisting of seventy-five days, the sixtieth percent point would be the forty-fifth day. Note that weekends are not included toward days counted. Please refer to the Registration Information (http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/registration_information/default.asp) online for semester start and end dates. Withdrawals after the sixtieth percent point in the semester are not eligible for refunds.

All refunds will be based on the official date of withdrawal, which is the date the completed withdrawal eFORM or an e-mail message (e-mail must be from the student’s University e-mail account and sent to the Registrar’s Office (registrar@monmouth.edu)) is received by the Office of the Registrar (OR). The University encourages students to make notification of withdrawal in writing as outlined above; however, verbal communication in the form of a phone call to the OR will be accepted within the following guidelines:

- The call must be made during business hours (Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.).
- The call must be communicated by the student (not a parent or designate) directly to the OR personnel. Voice messages will not be accepted.
- The student must provide name, last four digits of his or her social security number, and his or her unique Monmouth student ID number.
- Telephone withdrawals will be confirmed by the OR.
- The student is responsible for ensuring that the withdrawal is communicated to the OR.
- International students cannot use e-mail or telephone contact with the OR. International students must coordinate registrations and withdrawals with the Office of International Student Services.

Refund Policy for Partial Withdrawals
Fall and Spring Semesters
All refunds will be based on the official date of withdrawal, which is the date the completed withdrawal eFORM is received by the Office of the Registrar (OR). E-mail or verbal communication will not be accepted for

Tuition Payment Plan
To accommodate parents and students who prefer to pay for educational expenses in monthly installments, payment plans are now available through Student Bill & Payment Center. Starting June 1st prior to each Fall semester, students can enroll in an estimated payment plan using an estimation of their Fall semester balance. Once Fall semester charges are posted on students’ accounts, the estimated payment plan will automatically revert to a real-time payment plan, which will capture students’ actual account balances and recalculate monthly installments accordingly.

Students will be required to pay an Enrollment Fee of $45.00 upon establishment of a monthly payment plan.

The Bursar’s Office provides answers to a list of frequently asked questions (FAQs) regarding the payment plan on its web page.

Refund Policy
Summer Sessions
Refunds, upon withdrawal from summer sessions, will be made according to the policy stated below:

- Students who withdraw from a four-week or six-week summer session within the first week of the session will receive 100 percent refunds. Withdrawals after the first week are not eligible for refunds.
- Students who withdraw from a nine-week or twelve-week summer session within the first week of the session will receive 100 percent refunds. Fifty-percent refunds will be given if courses are withdrawn in the second week. Withdrawals after the second week are not eligible for refunds.
communicating partial withdrawals to OR. Only the completed withdrawal eFORM will be accepted.

Full-time undergraduate students who are registered for twelve to eighteen credits in the semester are not entitled to any refund when withdrawing from one or more, but not all, courses after the first week of the semester. If the student drops below twelve credits prior to the end of the first week of the semester, the student’s status will be changed to part-time, and the student will be billed at the per-credit rate. Full-time undergraduate students should note that enrolling for fewer than twelve credits may affect eligibility for financial aid. Those students who are registered for credits in excess of eighteen will be entitled to refunds for tuition paid for credits in excess of eighteen according to the partial withdrawal refund schedule for part-time undergraduate students and graduate students, which follows below.

Part-time undergraduate students and all graduate students who withdraw from one or more courses during the semester while remaining registered for one or more courses are entitled to 100 percent refunds on the courses dropped if the courses are dropped during the first week of the semester or on the day following the first class meeting. Fifty-percent refunds will be given if the courses are withdrawn from during the second week. Withdrawals after the second week are not eligible for refunds.

Housing Contract: Refund Schedule
Students who change housing and/or board arrangements during the semester while continuing as students at Monmouth University are eligible only for such refunds (less a $500 cancellation fee as detailed in the Housing Contract) as established by the Office of Residential Life. Further information on this process is available from the Office of Residential Life at 732-571-3465.

Appeal Policy for Refunds
Appeals for exceptions to the Refund Policy should be made in writing to the Assistant to the Vice President for Student Financial Appeals within one year of the beginning of the semester in question. Information about this process is available from the Office of the Vice President of Finance at 732-571-3427. Further information or explanation of the Refund Policy (http://www.monmouth.edu/campus_life/bursar/refund.asp) is available online from the Office of the Bursar.

Students filing appeals for exceptions to the University Refund Policy are advised that there is a possibility that the amount of Financial Aid they may receive, or may have received, may be adversely affected. Students are advised that it is their responsibility to meet with a representative from the Financial Aid Office to see how filing an appeal will affect their financial aid package.
 FINANCIAL AID

Monmouth University believes that financing a student’s education should be a cooperative effort between the student and the institution. To that end, the staff of the Financial Aid Office is available to assist students in developing a comprehensive educational financial plan. Students are strongly encouraged to contact the Financial Aid Office to engage in this planning process. The Financial Aid Office is accessible by email (finaid@monmouth.edu) or by phone at 732-571-3463. On Monday through Friday from the hours of 10am to 4pm, students can also speak with a counselor in our Zoom room (https://monmouth.zoom.us/j/96690751230/?pwd=Y05IVmFmWWdrWTBHYmVyWmJsUHZVUT09#success); appointments are not necessary.

Application Process

Monmouth University uses the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as its primary application for all federal, state, and institutional financial aid programs; no supplementary applications are required. Students must apply online (https://www.fafsa.gov).

The FAFSA is completed each year using the student’s and parents’ federal income tax data and should also include Monmouth University’s Title IV School Code (002616). Where possible, students should utilize the Data Retrieval Tool (DRT) to import their tax information directly from the IRS’s database into the FAFSA; once income data has been imported no changes to that data should be made. Completed FAFSAs may be submitted to the U.S. Department of Education on or after October 1, 2020 for the 2021-22 academic year.

Monmouth University does not have a deadline for applying for financial aid. However, students are encouraged to file as soon after October 1 as possible, as funding for several types of financial aid is limited, and funds are awarded on a first-come, first-served basis. Further, New Jersey residents must file the FAFSA to be considered for state grant (TAG) eligibility and should be aware of the following FAFSA filing deadlines:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TAG Recipients</th>
<th>Deadline</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First time TAG recipients</td>
<td>September 15 of the current academic year</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prior TAG recipients</td>
<td>April 15 of the preceding academic year</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spring Term only</td>
<td>February 15 of the current academic year</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Financial data provided on the FAFSA will be forwarded electronically to the University and will be the basis for the creation of the student’s financial aid package. The financial aid package will be communicated to the student via the Financial Aid Award Letter. Award letters will be sent electronically; prior to enrollment, new students will receive the award letter at the email address they provided on the application for admission, while continuing students will receive their electronic award letter at their University e-mail address; students may also review their financial aid package via the financial aid Self-Service portion of the University’s website.

Generally, the initial offer of financial assistance delineated in the award letter is non-negotiable. The financial aid package may, however, be altered as a result of one or more of the following conditions:

- Changes in the student’s housing status
- Changes in the student’s enrollment (i.e., credit hours) status
- Lack of satisfactory academic progress
- Receipt of financial aid from an outside source
- Discrepancies noted as a result of the verification process

(Note that the U.S. Department of Education selects applications for verification. The verification process entails the comparison of actual financial data to that supplied on the FAFSA. Students selected for this process will be notified by the Financial Aid Office and will be asked to supply copies of federal tax return transcripts [if the Data Retrieval Tool was not utilized] and a completed verification worksheet; additional documents may also be requested. Instructions for submitting this documentation will be provided by the Financial Aid Office.)

Funding Sources

Funding Sources

The student's financial aid package may be comprised of a combination of grant, scholarship, loan, and work-study funding. Grants and scholarships are forms of assistance that do not have to be repaid, while loans must be repaid with interest; work-study earnings are disbursed to students in the form of a bi-weekly paycheck and do not credit to the student’s account. (Note that interest rates and repayment terms vary as a function of the type of loan a student has secured.) The following paragraphs identify and describe the types of funding available at Monmouth University.

Undergraduate Grants and Scholarships

Monmouth University Academic Scholarships and Grants

The primary form of assistance offered to full-time incoming freshmen and transfer students is provided through the incentive grant, academic grant, and academic excellence scholarship programs. Awards are made by the Office of Undergraduate Admission to students who qualify on the basis of their prior academic performance; awards are not based upon financial need. New freshmen are evaluated on the basis of their cumulative high school grade point average and a calculated academic grade point average; standardized test scores (e.g., SAT and ACT scores) will also be considered, if submitted. Awards to transfer students with 24 or more transferrable credit hours are made based upon the student’s cumulative college grade point average; for students with less than 24 transferrable credit hours the award is based upon the high school grade point average, calculated academic grade point average, and standardized test scores (when submitted). For both new freshmen and transfer students, award values will vary as a function of prior academic performance; awards will not be increased once the student has enrolled at the University.

Awards are renewable for the entirety of the student’s undergraduate career, provided the student maintains full-time enrollment status (at least twelve credit hours) each semester and satisfactory academic progress; education majors may receive a prorated award during their student teaching semester if they are only enrolled for nine credit hours. Students receiving the incentive grant are required to maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of at least 2.0; academic grant recipients must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5; and academic excellence scholarship recipients must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0. In the event that the student fails to maintain satisfactory academic progress, the award may be reduced or cancelled.

Incentive grants, academic grants, and academic excellence scholarships may only be applied toward tuition assessed by Monmouth University, and, therefore, cannot be applied toward housing costs. Academic awards are applicable to study abroad costs only when tuition is assessed by Monmouth University, to study at the Washington Center, and to Medical Laboratory Science and Clinical Laboratory Science majors who are taking coursework not offered at Monmouth University; for students in the Medical Laboratory Science and Clinical Lab Sciences programs, the award will be prorated during the semester(s) in which course work is not taken at Monmouth University. The award will be prorated by the amount of the non-Monmouth tuition as a percentage of Monmouth tuition. These awards will not be made in conjunction with other institutional benefits such as employee tuition remission or the tuition exchange program. Awards are available only during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and are not offered during the summer term.

Transfer Science Scholarships

Scholarships are offered to full-time transfer students in a major within the School of Science, who have completed an Associate's Degree at any New Jersey Community College and who have a transfer cumulative grade point average of at least 3.25. Candidates are identified by the Office of Undergraduate Admission; there is no separate application process for the scholarship. The award is valued at $3,500 per academic year and is renewable. To renew, students must maintain full-time status, have a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better, and remain a science major.

The award may only be applied toward tuition assessed by Monmouth University, and is applicable to costs associated with study abroad only when tuition is assessed by Monmouth University. The award is also available for Medical Laboratory Science or Clinical Laboratory Science majors and will be prorated during the semester(s) in which course work is not taken at Monmouth University; the award will be prorated by the amount of the non-Monmouth tuition as a percentage of Monmouth tuition. For education majors the award will be prorated in the student teaching semester if the student is registered for fewer than 12 credits. Awards will not be awarded in conjunction with other institutional benefits such as employee tuition remission or the tuition exchange program. The grant in combination with all other grants, scholarships, and need-based loans will not exceed direct cost (e.g., tuition, fees, and room/board for resident students and tuition and fees for commuting students). Awards are available only during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and are not offered during the summer term.

Science Majors

Grants are offered to first-time, full-time students who are pursuing a major within the School of Science. Candidates are identified by the Office of Undergraduate Admission; there is no separate application process. The award is $4,000 per academic year and is renewable. To renew students must maintain full-time status and a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better, and must remain enrolled a science major. For students entering in Fall 2021, the award is valued at $2,500 per year.

The award may only be applied toward tuition assessed by Monmouth University, and is applicable to costs associated with study abroad only when tuition is assessed by Monmouth University. The award is also available for Medical Laboratory Science or Clinical Laboratory Science majors and will be prorated during the semester(s) in which course work is not taken at Monmouth University; the award will be prorated by the amount of the non-Monmouth tuition as a percentage of Monmouth tuition. For education majors the award will be prorated in the student teaching semester if the student is registered for fewer than 12 credits. Awards will not be awarded in conjunction with other institutional benefits such as employee tuition remission or the tuition exchange program. The grant in combination with all other grants, scholarships, and need-based loans will not exceed direct cost (e.g., tuition, fees, and room/board for resident students and tuition and fees for commuting students). Awards are available only during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and are not offered during the summer term.

SOAR Grants

Grants are awarded at the discretion of the Director of Undergraduate Admission to incoming full-time undergraduate students and there is no separate application process; award values are also determined by the Director. The award is renewable provided that the student maintains full-time enrollment status and a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or better.

The award may only be applied toward tuition assessed by Monmouth University, and is applicable to costs associated with study abroad only when tuition is assessed by Monmouth University. The award is also available for Medical Laboratory Science or Clinical Laboratory Science majors and will be prorated during the semester(s) in which course work is not taken at Monmouth University; the award will be prorated by the amount of the non-Monmouth tuition as a percentage of Monmouth tuition. Awards are available only during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and are not offered during the summer term.

Athletics Scholarships

The Department of Athletics offers grants-in-aid, frequently called athletics scholarships, to student-athletes who meet the eligibility requirements set forth in the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) bylaws. These grants-in-aid are offered and renewed at the discretion of the head coach with the consent and approval of the Director of Athletics and the Director of Financial Aid and in accordance with guidelines prescribed by Monmouth University and the NCAA. Grants-in-aid are made for the academic year; funding for summer course work is awarded at the discretion of the Director of Athletics. Student athletes who receive an athletics scholarship must complete a Grant-In-Aid agreement, as prepared by the Department of Athletics.

University-Endowed and Sponsored Scholarships

The University offers a number of sponsored and endowed scholarships, which have been made possible through the generosity of friends of the University. All enrolled students automatically receive consideration for these awards, and there is no student-initiated application process. The Financial Aid Office will identify a preliminary pool of candidates for each scholarship, except where stipulated by the donor, and will select the candidate who most closely matches the donor-established criteria. Scholarship recipients will be notified via the Financial Aid Award Letter. Where possible and as permitted by donor stipulated criteria, the Financial Aid Office will make every effort to renew the awards in subsequent years.

Great Lawn Grant

The Great Lawn Grant is awarded to undergraduate students on the basis of unmet financial need (as defined by the U.S. Department of Education) and academic performance. All applicants for admission are given due consideration, and recipients are selected by the Director of Financial Aid; there is no separate application process for the grant.

The award may only be applied toward tuition assessed by Monmouth University, and is applicable to costs associated with study abroad only when tuition is assessed by Monmouth University. The award is also available for Medical Laboratory Science or Clinical Laboratory Science majors and will be prorated during the semester(s) in which course work is not taken at Monmouth University; the award will be prorated by the amount of the non-Monmouth tuition as a percentage of Monmouth tuition. Awards are available only during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and are not offered during the summer term. Awards are renewable provided the student maintains a cumulative grade point average at Monmouth University of at least 2.5 and continues to demonstrate unmet financial need.

Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship

Phi Theta Kappa is a national honor society for students at junior or community colleges. A limited number of scholarships at Monmouth University are available for students who are members of the society at the time they enroll at Monmouth. The Office of Undergraduate Admission will identify and select the recipients; there is no separate application process for the scholarship. Awards are valued at $2,500 per year.

The award may only be applied toward tuition assessed by Monmouth University, and is applicable to costs associated with study abroad only when tuition is assessed by Monmouth University. The award is also available for Medical Laboratory Science or Clinical Laboratory Science majors and will be prorated during the semester(s) in which course work is not taken at Monmouth University; the award will be prorated by the amount of the non-Monmouth tuition as a percentage of Monmouth tuition. For education majors the award will be prorated in the student teaching semester if the student is registered for fewer than 12 credits. Awards will not be awarded in conjunction with other institutional benefits such as employee tuition remission or the tuition exchange program. The grant in combination with all other grants, scholarships, and need-based loans will not exceed direct cost (e.g., tuition, fees, and room/board for resident students and tuition and fees for commuting students). Awards are renewable provided the student maintains a cumulative grade point average at Monmouth University of at least 3.0.

Yellow Ribbon

Monmouth University has voluntarily entered into a Yellow Ribbon Agreement with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). The agreement is completed on an annual basis and includes the maximum number of students to be funded, degree level of the recipients, and the maximum contribution by the University. The University’s contribution is matched by the VA. Students must be 100% eligible for Post-9/11 benefits to qualify for the Yellow Ribbon program. All interested students must complete the University’s online Yellow Ribbon Application (https://www.monmouth.edu/Yellow-Ribbon-Application.asp). Newly enrolling full-time undergraduate students must submit an enrollment deposit before being considered for the program, and part-time students must submit a part-time reply form to the Office of Undergraduate Admission. A Certificate of Eligibility and DD-214 are required from all students at least two weeks prior to the start of their first semester. The University provides funding for up to forty (40) students – both undergraduate and graduate. Awards are made on a first-come, first-served basis, and students are notified of their eligibility through the Financial Aid award letter. Students serving on active duty are not eligible for the Yellow Ribbon Program. Students in the Yellow Ribbon Program are not eligible for other institutional grants or scholarships. The Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) and work study are only awarded to students living on campus, provided that the student has remaining unmet need after the Yellow Ribbon Grant and other VA benefits are considered. Yellow Ribbon recipients may receive the Pell Grant in addition to the benefit. Students are not issued refunds until the University receives payment from the VA. For students attending a full academic year, Yellow Ribbon benefits are generally awarded in the spring semester after the Post-9/11 benefits have been exhausted. Awards are renewable, provided that the student remains enrolled as a full-time student, and meets the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for federal and state awards, and continues to meet VA-specified eligibility requirements.
Federal Pell Grant
The Federal Pell Grant ranges from $639 to $6,345 for the 2020-2021 academic year and is available to all undergraduate students, both full- and part-time, who have demonstrated extreme financial need, as defined by the U.S. Department of Education; extreme financial need is evaluated using the completed FAFSA. Pell Grants are available during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and may be available during the summer term, depending upon each student’s financial aid status during the academic year. Awards are renewable, provided that the student continues to demonstrate extreme financial need and meets the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for federal awards. Awards are applicable to costs associated with study abroad, study at the Washington Center, and for off-campus study associated with the Medical Technology and Clinical Laboratory Sciences programs.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
FSEOG is awarded to undergraduate students who demonstrate extreme financial need and is generally awarded to students who are Pell Grant recipients. On average, Monmouth University awards $650 to FSEOG recipients. Funding is limited, and priority is given to students who have filed their FAFSA in a timely fashion. FSEOG is available during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and may be available during the summer term on a limited basis. Awards are renewable, provided that the student continues to demonstrate extreme financial need and meets the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for federal awards. Awards are applicable to costs associated with study abroad when the tuition is assessed by Monmouth University, study at the Washington Center, and for off-campus study associated with the Medical Technology and Clinical Laboratory Sciences programs.

Federal TEACH Grant
The Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant that provides grants of up to $4,000 per year (including the summer term); students may receive a maximum of $16,000 in TEACH Grant funding for undergraduate studies. In exchange for receiving a TEACH Grant, the student must agree to serve as a full-time teacher in a high-need field (e.g., bilingual education and English language acquisition, foreign language, mathematics, reading specialist, science, special education, or other identified teacher shortage areas) in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves low-income students. As a recipient of a TEACH Grant, the student must teach for at least four academic years within eight calendar years of completing the program of study for which the TEACH Grant was awarded.

IMPORTANT: If the student fails to complete this service obligation, all TEACH Grants that the student received will be converted to a Direct Unsubsidized Loan, with interest having accrued since the date the TEACH grants were originally disbursed. The student must then repay this loan to the U.S. Department of Education. Note: TEACH Grant recipients will be given a six-month grace period prior to entering repayment if a TEACH Grant is converted to a Direct Unsubsidized Loan.

Eligibility Requirements
To receive a TEACH Grant, the student must meet the following criteria:

- Be enrolled as an undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, or graduate student in a postsecondary educational institution that has chosen to participate in the TEACH Grant Program;
- Be enrolled in course work that is necessary to begin a career in teaching or plan to complete such course work. Such course work may include subject area courses (e.g., math courses for a student who intends to be a math teacher);
- Meet certain academic achievement requirements (generally, scoring above the 75th percentile on a college admissions test or maintaining a cumulative GPA of at least 3.25); and
- Sign a TEACH Grant Agreement to Serve, and complete an Entrance Counseling session.

Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant
The Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant is for students whose parent or guardian died as a result of military service in Iraq or Afghanistan. The grant amount is equal to the maximum Federal Pell Grant for the award year and cannot exceed cost of attendance. For the 2020-21 award year, the maximum Federal Pell Grant is $6,345. Due to sequestration, awards first disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2021 must be reduced by 6.2 percent. This results in a maximum award of $5,951.61.

Students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and meet the specific eligibility requirements below in order to qualify for an Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant.

- You are not eligible for a Federal Pell Grant on the basis of your Expected Family Contribution (EFC) but
- Meet the remaining Federal Pell Grant eligibility (https://www.monmouth.edu/finaid/types/undergraduate/grants-and-scholarships/federal-pell-grant/) requirements
- Your parent or guardian was a member of the U.S. armed forces and died as a result of military service performed in Iraq or Afghanistan after the events of 9/11, and
- You were under 24 years old or enrolled in college at least part-time at the time of your parent’s or guardian’s death

New Jersey Tuition Aid Grant (TAG)
Students who are full-time undergraduates, have demonstrated financial need (as determined by the FAFSA), and have been New Jersey residents for at least twelve consecutive months prior to the beginning of the academic year may be eligible to receive the TAG grant. (Note that TAG grants may be available under certain conditions for students in their last semester who are part-time.) Final determinations of eligibility are made by the New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (NJHESAA); Monmouth University has no influence or control over a student’s determination of eligibility. For the 2020-21 academic year, grant amounts ranged from $2,074 to $12,938. Grants are renewable annually based upon continued financial need and Satisfactory Academic Progress, but will only be awarded for a maximum of nine semesters of full-time undergraduate enrollment. Students who have not previously received a TAG grant must apply by completing the FAFSA by September 15 for the fall and spring semesters and by February 15 for the spring only. Prior TAG recipients must complete the FAFSA by April 15. TAG grants are only available during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters). Awards are applicable to costs associated with study abroad or study at the Washington Center.

Students will be notified of their eligibility by NJHESAA and may also be asked to supply additional documentation to NJHESAA. Funding of this award is subject to change due to annual State budget appropriations.

Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) Grant
The undergraduate EOF program is designed to provide access to higher education for New Jersey residents who might otherwise not have the opportunity to obtain a college education. An applicant to the EOF program must have been a legal resident of New Jersey for at least twelve consecutive months prior to receipt of the grant, matriculate as a full-time student, have an economic background that reflects a history of poverty, and demonstrate the need for improvement of educational basic skills. Parents of dependent students must also meet the New Jersey residency requirement. Funding is, however, limited, and there is a competitive application process. Once accepted into the program, students receive additional academic, social, and financial support; both the state of New Jersey and the University provide grants to EOF students. Students who believe they might qualify are encouraged to contact the University's EOF Office at 732-571-3462. Prospective EOF students must complete the FAFSA before being considered for the program, while currently enrolled EOF students must complete it by April 15. EOF funding is available during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters), and is available on a limited basis during the summer term. In order to receive funding during the summer, students must complete a summer financial aid application. Requests for summer funding are reviewed by the Director of the EOF program in conjunction with the Assistant Director of Financial Aid, and are prioritized as follows:

1. students scheduled to graduate at the conclusion of the summer or fall term;
2. science majors and
3. students who have changed majors.

All other requests will be fulfilled as funding permits. Academic year awards are renewable, provided that the student continues to demonstrate extreme financial need, meets the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for state awards, and is in compliance with the institutional requirements of the EOF program. Awards are applicable to costs associated with study abroad, when tuition is assessed by Monmouth University or study at the New Jersey county college may transfer to a New Jersey four-year college/university to earn a bachelor’s degree. NJ STARS I awards may only be applied toward tuition, unless the student is also a Tuition Aid Grant (TAG) recipient, in which case it goes toward tuition and approved fees. All other State and Federal grants and scholarships will be applied to the charges first; the award will not exceed $1,250 per semester. NJ STARS II awards are dependent upon annual State budget appropriations. Awards are available only during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and are renewable, provided the student meets the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for state awards. Awards are applicable to costs associated with study abroad when the tuition is assessed by Monmouth University or study at the Washington Center.

In order to be eligible for this scholarship, students must:

- Be a NJ STARS I recipient or NJ STARS II eligible and unfunded (e.g., student would otherwise qualify for STARS I, but tuition and approved fees are fully covered by other state and/or federal aid).
- Have graduated from a NJ county college with an associate degree and a GPA of 3.25 or higher.

World Trade Center Scholarships

Students — either dependent children or surviving spouses — should contact the Financial Aid Office directly for assistance in accessing the educational benefits that are available to them.

Governor’s Urban Scholarship Program

The New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (NJHESAA) provides eligible students awards of $1,000 each year for up to four years as part of the Governor’s Urban Scholarship Program. These funds are only available during the fall and spring terms. To be eligible for this award, students must meet all the following criteria:

- Reside in one of the designated high-need communities in New Jersey: Asbury Park, East Orange, Jersey City, Millville, New Brunswick, Plainfield, Trenton, Camden, Irvington, Lakewood, Newark, Paterson, Roselle, or Vineland.
- Rank in the top 5% of their high school graduating class.
- Have a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 at the end of the junior year in high school.
- Be a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen with appropriate approval from the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS).
- Be a New Jersey resident for at least twelve consecutive months prior to receiving the award.
- File a FAFSA each year.
- Be Tuition Aid Grant (TAG)-eligible (if at any point in time the student is no longer eligible for TAG funding, the Urban Scholarship money will be cancelled.)
- Be matriculated full-time in an eligible academic program.
- Make satisfactory academic progress in order to continue to receive the award.

There is no separate application for the scholarship; eligible students will be notified by NJHESAA. Funding of this award is subject to change due to annual State appropriations.

New Jersey Student Tuition Assistance Reward Scholarship (STARS) II

The NJ STARS II Program is a continuation of the NJ STARS I Program. NJ STARS I recipients who complete an Associate’s Degree at any New Jersey county college may transfer to a New Jersey four-year college/university to earn a bachelor’s degree. NJ STARS II awards may only be applied toward tuition, unless the student is also a Tuition Aid Grant (TAG) recipient, in which case it goes toward tuition and approved fees. All other State and Federal grants and scholarships will be applied to the charges first; the award will not exceed $1,250 per semester. NJ STARS II awards are dependent upon annual State budget appropriations. Awards are available only during the regular academic year (i.e., the fall and spring semesters) and are renewable, provided the student meets the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for state awards. Awards are applicable to costs associated with study abroad when the tuition is assessed by Monmouth University or study at the Washington Center.

In order to be eligible for this scholarship, students must:

- Be a NJ STARS I recipient or NJ STARS II eligible and unfunded (e.g., student would otherwise qualify for STARS I, but tuition and approved fees are fully covered by other state and/or federal aid).
- Have graduated from a NJ county college with an associate degree and a GPA of 3.25 or higher.

New Jersey Survivor Tuition Benefits Program

The Survivor Tuition Benefits Program is for New Jersey residents who attend Monmouth University on, at least, a half-time basis who are spouses and/or dependents of emergency service personnel or law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty. Grants pay the actual cost of tuition up to the highest tuition charged at a New Jersey public institution of higher education. For the fall and spring terms, applications must have been submitted by October 1; for Spring only awards, the application must be submitted by March 1. Scholarship availability and finding levels are determined by NJHESAA.

Law Enforcement Officer Memorial Scholarship

The Law Enforcement Officer Memorial Scholarship (LEOMS) benefits dependent children of New Jersey law enforcement officers who were killed in the line of duty. The scholarship is awarded up to the cost of attendance less any other scholarships, grants, benefits, and other assistance awarded under the NJHESAA statute and may be renewed for up to four years. Students must be U.S. citizens or eligible non-citizens and enrolled on a full-time basis. The application deadline for the fall and spring semesters is October 1, and for the spring only the deadline is March 1. An application may be downloaded from the Higher Education Student Assistance Web site (http://www.hesaa.org/Pages/NJGrantsHome.aspx). The LEOMS is only available during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters).
Loans

Direct Subsidized Loan

This is a federally funded loan program that is available to any undergraduate student who has completed the FAFSA, demonstrated financial need, is a matriculated student enrolled for at least six credit hours in one term, is a United States citizen or eligible non-citizen, has maintained Satisfactory Academic progress, is not in default on a prior student loan and has demonstrated financial need; creditworthiness is not a requirement for the Direct Subsidized Loan. The amount an undergraduate student may borrow is dependent on class level and need:

- 0 - 29.5 credits completed - up to $3,500
- 30 - 59.5 credits completed - up to $4,500
- 60 or more credits completed - up to $5,500

The interest rate is fixed at 3.73% for loans disbursed on or after July 1, 2021 and before June 30, 2022; the interest rate is fixed for the life of the loan. Interest does not accrue while the student is enrolled for at least six credit hours. Borrowers are charged, by the federal government, an upfront origination fee. For loans disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2022 the fee is 1.057%.

Direct Unsubsidized Loan

The Direct Unsubsidized Loan is a federally funded, low-interest-rate loan with eligibility requirements, terms, and conditions similar to those of the Direct Subsidized Loan. The primary difference is that interest accrues on the loan immediately after it is dispersed and while the student is enrolled. Students with no financial need are permitted to borrow through the Direct Unsubsidized loan program and may borrow between $3,500 and $5,500, depending upon class level:

- 0 - 29.5 credits completed - up to $3,500
- 30 - 59.5 credits completed - up to $4,500
- 60 or more credits completed - up to $5,500

Additionally, all undergraduate students, regardless of financial need, are eligible for $2,000 in Direct Unsubsidized Loan funds each academic year, up to a maximum of $8,000.

Independent students (or dependent students whose parents are unable to borrow a Federal Direct PLUS Loan) may also borrow additional amounts under the Direct Unsubsidized Loan program, as follows:

- $4,000 per year for undergraduate students who have completed fewer than sixty credits
- $5,000 per year for undergraduate students who have completed sixty or more credits

Direct Unsubsidized Loans, in combination with other sources of financial aid, cannot exceed the student's budgeted cost of attendance. The interest rate is fixed at 3.73% for loans disbursed on or after July 1, 2021 and before July 1, 2022; the interest rate is fixed for the life of the loan. Interest does not accrue while the student is enrolled for at least six credit hours. Borrowers are charged, by the federal government, an upfront origination fee. For loans disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2022 the fee is 1.057%.

Students who have not previously borrowed a Direct Loan - either Subsidized or Unsubsidized - at Monmouth University must complete a promissory note; one promissory note will be used for both the Subsidized and Unsubsidized loan programs. The Financial Aid Office will notify new borrowers when a promissory note is available electronically for signature. Borrowers must complete the promissory note and an Entrance Counseling (an online tutorial regarding the student loan borrower's rights and responsibilities) session before the loan funds will be credited electronically to the student's account. The student will begin repayment of all Direct Loans six months after graduation or cessation of at least half-time enrollment. Direct Loans are available during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and may be available during the summer term, depending upon the student's borrowing during the academic year; to access loan funds during the summer term, students must complete the University's Summer Financial Aid Application and be registered for at least six credits during the course of the summer. In order to receive Direct Loan funding in subsequent academic years, the student must meet the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for federal awards. Direct Loans are applicable to costs associated with study abroad or study at the Washington Center.

Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

This is a federally funded loan program. Parents of eligible dependent undergraduate students (i.e., the student is enrolled as a matriculated student in at least six credits, is U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen, has completed the FAFSA, and is not in default on a prior student loan) may apply for this loan; the parent must also meet general eligibility criteria (i.e., the parent must be a U.S. citizen or eligible non-citizen and must not be in default on a prior student loan). The PLUS Loan is not based on financial need, but borrowers must demonstrate creditworthiness. Eligible borrowers may borrow the difference between the cost of attending Monmouth and any other financial aid the student receives.

The interest rate is fixed at 6.28% for loans disbursed on or after July 1, 2021 and before July 1, 2022; the interest rate is fixed for the life of the loan. Interest does not accrue while the student is enrolled for at least six credit hours. Borrowers are charged, by the federal government, an upfront origination fee. For loans disbursed on or after October 1, 2020 and before October 1, 2022 the fee is 4.228%. Interest begins to accrue on the loan once it is dispersed and, unless the parent borrower requests an in-school deferment, the first payment is due sixty days after the loan is fully dispersed. Repayment lasts between ten and twenty-five years based on the total amount borrowed and the repayment option chosen by the borrower.

The parent borrower must complete the application and promissory note online (https://studentloans.gov/myDirectLoan/index.action/). Shortly after the beginning of each term, the University's Financial Aid Office will electronically transmit the funds to the student's account. Direct PLUS Loans are available during the regular academic year (i.e., fall and spring semesters) and the summer term; to access loan funds during the summer term, students must complete the University’s Summer Financial Aid Application and must be registered for at least six credits during the summer. In order to receive Direct Loan funding in subsequent academic years, the student must meet the established standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress for federal awards. PLUS loans are applicable to costs associated with study abroad or study at the Washington Center.

Monmouth University Loan Fund
This loan program is funded by Monmouth University. Awards are made at the discretion of the Director of Financial Aid and are not renewable; the amount of the award is also at the discretion of the Director. Monmouth University Loan Funds may not be applied to costs associated with off-campus study (e.g., study abroad or study at the Washington Center). The terms and conditions of the loan are as follows:

• Interest on the loan is fixed at 7 percent for the life of the loan and begins to accrue nine (9) months after the student ceases at least half-time (i.e., six credits) enrollment. When the student ceases half-time enrollment, he or she enters repayment.
• While in repayment, the student is expected to make quarterly payments of principle and interest of at least $120, although a minimum annual payment of 10% of the principle is required.
• The maximum repayment term is ten (10) years and there is no penalty for prepayment.
• In order to accept the offer of a Monmouth University Loan, students must complete a promissory note and disclosure documents as prepared by the Financial Aid Office.

Alternative Loans
Alternative financing sources are available from private lenders and are a financing option for students who either do not meet the eligibility criteria for the Direct Loan programs, or who have exceeded the borrowing limits for those programs. Generally, students may apply for a loan of up to the cost of education, as determined by the Financial Aid Office, less any other aid. Alternative loans are not regulated by the federal government, and the terms and conditions of the loans may vary widely among lenders and, as such, students are encourage to carefully evaluate alternative loan options. Once you have chosen a lender, complete their recommended application process. The Financial Aid Office will then certify the loan, and once the semester begins, funds will be forwarded to the University and credited to the student’s account.

Although alternative loans are generally not regulated by the U.S. Department of Education, the University is required to publish a Code of Conduct (http://catalog.monmouth.edu/graduate-catalog/financial-aid/loans/Code_of_Conduct.pdf) regarding loans.

Employment
Federal Work Study for Undergraduate Students
This federally funded program provides part-time employment, both on- and off-campus, in a variety of settings to eligible students. Students are compensated at a competitive wage, dependent upon the skills required to perform the assigned tasks, and may work between five and twenty hours per week during the academic year. Students are paid by check bi-weekly; work study earnings are not credited to the student's account.

Eligibility and award amounts are based upon demonstrated financial need, in the context of the total amount of financial aid received by the student from all other sources. To be considered for the Federal Work Study program, the student must have filed the FAFSA and meet all eligibility requirements for federal funding. Funding is limited, and priority is given to students who have filed their financial aid application in a timely fashion. The average annual work study award made to students is $2,000 and inclusion of Federal Work Study in a student’s financial aid package is not a guarantee of employment.

On-Campus Employment
The University offers a limited number of part-time, on-campus jobs to students not eligible for Federal Work Study and commonly known as “student help”; to be considered for these positions, students must complete the FAFSA and demonstrate that they are ineligible for Federal Work Study. Students are compensated at a competitive wage, dependent upon the skills required to perform the assigned tasks. Generally, students in this non-need-based employment program are limited to a maximum number of twenty hours per week.

For more information on employment, please call the Student Employment Office at 732-263-5706.

Satisfactory Academic Progress
Federal regulations require institutions to establish minimum standards of satisfactory academic progress for students receiving federal funding (i.e., Pell Grant, SEOG grant, Direct Loans, TEACH Grant, and Work Study), the New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (NJHESAA) requires that recipients of NJ grants and scholarships (i.e., TAG, EOF, Urban Scholarship, NJCLASS loan) meet these requirements as well.

Satisfactory academic progress for federal and state funding at Monmouth University is measured along three dimensions: cumulative grade point average, pace, and maximum time frame. All course work is considered in the evaluation of a student’s academic progress, whether or not the student received financial aid at the time the work was completed.

To remain in good standing, a student must meet each of the three requirements:

• Cumulative Grade Point Average: Consistent with the general academic requirements of the University, students must meet the following grade point average requirements to retain their eligibility for financial aid:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Credits</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Freshmen</td>
<td>1.60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sophomores</td>
<td>2.00</td>

<tr>
<td>Juniors</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seniors</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Please refer to Academic Definitions of freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior class standing.

Note: Students must have earned a cumulative GPA of 2.00 or better by the end of their second academic year of enrollment, regardless of whether or not they have completed enough credits to attain junior class standing.

• Pace: All students must successfully complete at least 67 percent of the credit hours for which they enroll/attempt. Note that repeated appeal must be submitted with the appeal. Students who have been determined ineligible in a prior semester, but who have since improved their performance to the required level, are also encouraged to submit an appeal for the reinstatement of their aid; the student’s financial aid will not be automatically reinstated.

Return of Financial Aid When a Student Withdraws

The federal government mandates that students who withdraw from all classes may only keep the financial aid they have “earned” up to the time of withdrawal. Funds that have been disbursed in excess of the earned amount must be returned by the University and/or the student to the source of the aid (i.e., the federal government, the state government, or the University). A withdrawn student could owe aid funds to the University, the government, or both.

A student is considered to have officially withdrawn when he or she notifies the University of his or her intent to withdraw from all classes.
The date of the official notice will be used to calculate the amount of financial aid to be returned; in the absence of an official notice of withdrawal, the student’s last date of attendance at an academically related activity will be confirmed with the faculty; the last date of attendance at an academically related activity will also be confirmed for a student who has not officially withdrawn and who receives a combination of all “F” and/or “W” grades at the end of the semester. The earlier of the official date of withdrawal or the last date of attendance will be used for calculating the amount of financial aid to be returned to the source.
Please refer to the section entitled Course Withdrawals for withdrawal policies and procedures.

To determine the amount of aid the student has earned up to the time of withdrawal (either official or unofficial), the Financial Aid Office divides the number of calendar days the student has attended classes by the total number of calendar days in the semester (minus any scheduled breaks of five days or more). The resulting percentage is then multiplied by the total federal funds that were disbursed for the semester; institutional funds, state funds, and alternative loans will be prorated in the same manner. (Note that if the student remains enrolled and attends class beyond the 60% point of the semester in which aid is received, all aid is considered earned and not subject to a refund calculation.)

This calculation determines the amount of aid earned by the student that he or she may keep (for example, if the student attended 25% of the term, the student will have earned 25% of the aid disbursed). The unearned amount (total aid disbursed minus the earned amount) must be returned to the source by the University and/or the student. The Financial Aid Office will notify and provide instructions to students who are required to return funds.

Funds that are returned to the federal government are used to reimburse the individual federal programs from which the student received the aid.
Financial aid returned (by the University and/or the student or parent) must be allocated, in the following order, up to the net amount disbursed from each source:

1. Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan
2. Federal Direct Subsidized Loan
3. Federal Direct PLUS (Parent) Loan
4. Federal Pell Grant
5. Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
6. Other Federal Loan or Grant Assistance

It is also possible that the student may have "earned" the aid, but it was not yet disbursed to the student's account. Post-withdrawal disbursement occurs when the student receives less federal student aid than the amount earned (based on withdrawal date). The Financial Aid Office will determine if the student is entitled to a post-withdrawal disbursement and will then offer, in writing, a disbursement of the earned aid that was not received. All post-withdrawal disbursement offers will be made within thirty days of the date the University determined that the student withdrew. The student must accept the post-withdrawal disbursement in writing and within fourteen days from the date that the University sends the notification that the student is eligible to receive the post-withdrawal disbursement. If the student does not respond to the University’s notice, no post-withdrawal disbursement will be made and the aid will be cancelled. The student may accept or decline some or all of the post-withdrawal disbursement. Accepted post-withdrawal disbursements will be made from aid programs in the following order:

1. Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan
2. Federal Direct Subsidized Loan
3. Federal Direct PLUS (Parent) Loan
4. Federal Pell Grant
5. Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)
6. Other Federal Loan or Grant Assistance

Students whose circumstances require that they withdraw from all classes are strongly encouraged to contact the Financial Aid Office and their academic advisor before doing so. At that time, the consequences of withdrawing from all classes can be explained and clearly illustrated. Financial aid counselors can provide refund examples and further explain this policy to students and parents.

Students who withdraw from the University may also be entitled to a refund of a portion of their tuition, fees, and room/board charges, dependent upon the point in time at which the student withdraws. See Refund Policy for detailed information on the University's tuition, fee, and room/board refund policies.
ACADEMIC PROGRAMS, SUPPORT SERVICES AND REGULATIONS

Degree Requirements
Bachelor's Degrees
The fundamental purpose of Monmouth University is to foster a love of learning and enable our graduates to enjoy a better quality of life and contribute to the greater health and well-being of all communities, human and natural. A Monmouth University undergraduate education provides an understanding of the world in which we live, the skills and knowledge needed to pursue further education and a career, an awareness of civic responsibility including the opportunities for service and leadership in the public interest, and the ability to engage in a lifetime of learning. Specific learning goals are embodied within the six categories described below.

Monmouth University students will be prepared to embark on a journey of lifelong learning and will:

1. Be empowered with a mastery of practical and intellectual skills, including writing, reading, speaking, qualitative and quantitative reasoning, technology, information literacy, and critical thinking;
2. Be informed by knowledge of the natural and social sciences and basic forms of inquiry, including competence in basic research skills, scientific method, collaborative problem solving, and working in interdisciplinary groups;
3. Have self-understanding based upon reflection, judgment, self-examination, independence of mind, and creativity;
4. Have an understanding of the human experience based upon knowledge of history, culture, interdependence, equality, justice, diversity, commonality, and contemporary global affairs;
5. Be responsible for ethics in social interactions, community involvement, and civic action; and
6. Relate academic knowledge to broader life and career pursuits, and acquire a depth of knowledge in a major field.

All candidates for bachelor's degrees must complete the General Education Requirements (p. 43). (Transfer students should also refer to the General Education Transfer Equivalencies (p. 23).) These requirements, generally satisfied in the first two years, provide foundations designed to enhance all major courses of study.

In the senior year, all students take an interdisciplinary perspectives course that affords the opportunity to explore a focused problem, topic, or issue. The ability to bring a variety of intellectual tools to complex problems is encouraged, and course formats include discussion and group projects.

Degree Programs
Monmouth University offers a variety of courses and programs at the undergraduate level. The curriculum provides for general education in the liberal arts and intensive study in one or more major disciplines. Classes are offered year-round during the day and in the evening. Candidates for bachelor's degrees may select majors or concentrations from the following (for specific details, please see the appropriate school section):

Wayne D. McMurray School of Humanities and Social Sciences
Interim Dean: Richard F. Veit, PhD
Completion of the following programs leads to the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree:

- Anthropology
- Art
- Art with a Concentration in Photography
- Communication
- Criminal Justice
- English
- English with a Concentration in Creative Writing
- History
- History-Political Science Interdisciplinary
- Interdisciplinary Studies
- Music
- Music with a Concentration in Music Industry
- Music with a Concentration in Musical Theatre
- Political Science
- Political Science with a Concentration in International Relations
- Political Science with a Concentration in Legal Studies
- Psychology
- Sociology
- Sociology with a Concentration in Applied Research and Community Organizing
- Spanish
- Spanish and Communication

Completion of the following program leads to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree:

- Homeland Security

Completion of the following programs lead to the Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.) Degree:

- Fine Arts in Design and Animation with a Concentration in Animation
- Fine Arts in Design and Animation with a Concentration in Graphic and Interactive Design

School of Science
Dean: Steven Bachrach, Ph.D.
Completion of the following programs leads to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree:

- Biology
- Biology with a Concentration in Molecular Cell Physiology
- Chemistry
- Chemistry with a Concentration in Advanced Chemistry
- Chemistry with a Concentration in Biochemistry
- Clinical Laboratory Science with a Concentration in Medical Laboratory Science
- Computer Science
- Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy
- Mathematics
- Mathematics with a Concentration in Statistics
• Medical Laboratory Science
• Software Engineering

Completion of the following programs leads to the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree:

• Computer Science

Leon Hess School of Business
Dean: Raj Devasagayam, Ph.D.
Completion of the following program leads to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree:

• Business Administration with a Concentration in Accounting, Economics, Economics and Finance, Finance, Finance and Real Estate, International Business, Operations, Supply Chain, and Data Management, Small Business Management and Entrepreneurship, Leadership and Organizational Development, Marketing, Marketing and Management, or Real Estate

Dean: John E. Henning, Ph.D.
Completion of the following programs leads to the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Degree:

• Education (elementary, secondary, or K-12). Must be combined with a content major from Anthropology, Art, English, English with a Concentration in Creative Writing, History, History/Political Science, Music, Political Science, or Spanish
• Education (elementary) Interdisciplinary Studies for Elementary Educators
• Special Education Endorsement (elementary or secondary). Must be combined with a content major from Anthropology, English, English with a Concentration in Creative Writing, History, or Spanish and Education.

Completion of the following programs leads to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree:

• Education (elementary or secondary). Must be combined with a content major from Biology, Chemistry, Health/Physical Education, or Mathematics.

School of Nursing and Health Studies
Dean: Ann Marie Mauro, Ph.D.
Completion of the following program leads to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (B.S.N.) Degree:

• Nursing – (Pre-Licensure and R.N. to B.S.N.)

Completion of the following programs leads to the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) Degree:

• Health Studies
• Health Promotion

School of Social Work
Dean: Robin Mama, Ph.D.
Completion of the following program leads to the Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) Degree:

• Social Work

Please visit the University website for information regarding General Education Curriculum and Learning Goals. (http://www.monmouth.edu/academics/general_education/)

Additional requirements, including major requirements, are referenced in the sponsoring school under the appropriate discipline. The major must be chosen by the end of the sophomore year. All majors require the completion of a minimum total of 120 credits, with at least fifty-four credits from courses at the 200-level or higher. In addition to completing all required course work for the degree, the cumulative grade point average must be at least 2.00 and the grade point average in the major must be at least 2.10 for courses completed at Monmouth. All students must complete the last thirty (30) credits at Monmouth; this requirement is called the “residency requirement.” Residency requirements for transfer students are discussed further in the Admission section of this catalog under Transfer Applicants.

Double-Dipping Requirements in the General Education Curriculum:

Content Area Courses (Mathematics, Natural Sciences (NS), Literature (LIT), World Languages, Aesthetics and Creativity (AT), Historical Perspectives (HS.SV) and Social Science Survey (SS.SV) may carry one additional general education course designation. However, these courses may not be double-dipped with another content area course. World Language courses are prohibited from being double-dipped with courses that carry a Cultural Diversity (CD) or Global Understanding (GU) course code.

Interdisciplinary Courses (Technological Literacy (TL), Reasoned Oral Discourse (RD), Cultural Diversity (CD), Global Understanding (GU), and Experiential Education (EX) may be fulfilled with a stand-alone course that carries the course code, in a course that carries two Interdisciplinary Course Codes, or in a Content Area course that carries an Interdisciplinary Course code. No course can carry both a Cultural Diversity (CD) and a Global Understanding (GU) course code.

Writing Intensive Courses (WT) must be fulfilled in courses within a student’s major and therefore could be fulfilled either in a stand-alone course that carries the course code, in a course that carries a Content Area general education designation that also fulfills a requirement in a student’s major, or in a course that carries an Interdisciplinary general education designation and also fulfills a requirement in a student’s major.

No course will be permitted to carry more than two general education course designations. This restriction includes the Writing Intensive (WT) courses.

Rationale
The Purpose of the General Education Requirements at Monmouth University

The purpose of Monmouth University’s General Education curriculum is to multiply the intellectual vistas that the student has considered. The curriculum is designed to be a transformative learning experience that inspires intellectual curiosity, critical thinking, and personal growth.

In pursuit of this purpose, the Faculty of Monmouth University has developed a curriculum that draws upon multiple disciplines and perspectives to create an academic experience with a strong emphasis on the liberal arts.

Reading and Writing (EN-101 & EN-102)

The First Year Composition sequence prepares students in the conventions, style, and substance of general academic writing while also teaching basic research and documentation skills. Additionally, through exposure to a variety of texts and genres in these courses, students learn to be more discerning and critical readers. Students can apply these experiences and skills to all subsequent coursework.

Mathematics (MA)

Mathematics courses give students opportunities to better understand the quantitative nature of the world and develop logical methods to solve problems in a variety of disciplines. Students taking these courses will learn ways that mathematics can play a role in their academic experience as well as in their lives beyond the campus.

Natural Sciences (NS)

Natural Science courses provide students with understanding of and appreciation for the process and practice of science, while at the same time offering instruction in areas of particular scientific interest. This knowledge will inform their reactions to critical public, professional and personal issues.

Literature (LIT)

Through reading and writing analytically about major literary texts, students in Literature courses develop an understanding of the key characteristics in a literary genre. They also learn how these characteristics reflect ethical and cultural concerns across national and class differences.

Aesthetics and Creativity (AT)

Aesthetics and Creativity courses provide students with an understanding of and appreciation for the arts, offering instruction in the specific areas of art, dance, music, and theatre. Through exposure to live performances and exhibits, students learn to view and critique artistic endeavors in an informed and articulate manner.

Technological Literacy (TL)

Technological Literacy courses provide students with knowledge and experience that prepares them to ethically and effectively use current and future technology in their personal, civic, educational and professional lives.

Reasoned Oral Discourse (RD)

Students in Reasoned Oral Discourse courses learn to develop and deliver persuasive and effective oral presentations, and to critically evaluate the presentations of others.

Historical Perspective (HS.SV)

History is our collective memory as a society—indeed, history is the foundation of the society we live in today. It provides a rich body of examples for understanding the challenges of daily life, and is an excellent guide for public action. History survey courses help students understand the world in which they live through an examination of the broad patterns of the human past, as reflected in written documents, physical artifacts, and oral traditions.

Social Sciences (SS.SV)

Social Science survey courses explore why people think, feel and act the way they do, through the study of anthropology, economics, gender studies, geography (including geographic information systems or GIS), political science, psychology, or sociology. Students explore scientific avenues for understanding the human experience by studying the theoretical underpinnings, major concepts, and methodologies of the social sciences.

Interdisciplinary Perspectives on the Human Experience (ISP)

Interdisciplinary Perspectives courses enable students to synthesize knowledge from many subject areas to forge coherent and ethical responses to contemporary issues and problems. These courses are taken by students in their senior year and they serve as a capstone learning experience in students’ intellectual lives within the university.

Cultural Diversity (CD)

Cultural Diversity courses challenge students to recognize differences between people—based on race, ethnicity (ethnic identity), class (economics), gender, sexual orientation, disability, and religion—that affect the lives of individuals, communities, societies, nations, and world regions. Students learn how these differences influence hierarchies of power that exist in our world today. Understanding these differences is essential for students to become engaged citizens in this diverse world.

Global Understanding (GU)

Students in Global Understanding courses explore individual and collective responsibilities through analytical, practical, or creative responses to issues facing a global interconnected society. Students’ understanding of interconnectedness, difference, and diversity enables them to interact effectively in cultures other than their own.

World Language (WL)

World Language courses provide students with the skills to become marketable global citizens through the study of language within the cultural context in which the language occurs. The curriculum is designed to focus on communication, culture, connections, comparisons, and communities in order to equip students for success in a pluralistic American society and abroad.

Experiential Education (EX)

Experiential Education courses allow students to connect what they have learned in the classroom to external experiences, such as internships (paid or unpaid), research opportunities, service learning projects, or study abroad. Through these experiences students gain deeper understanding and develop field-related competencies. They are able to explore possible future careers and lifestyles while considering local and global options, discover and understand other cultures, reflect upon personal and professional development and relate their experience to life after Monmouth.

Writing-Intensive Courses Within the Major (WT)

The primary goal of Writing Intensive courses is to provide Monmouth students with opportunities to practice writing beyond the first-year composition sequence. As a skill that is necessary for both academic and life success, writing mastery requires constant practice, varying based on audience, context, and purpose.

Experiential Education Requirements

Experiential Education courses allow students to connect what they have learned in the classroom to external experiences, such as internships (paid or unpaid), research opportunities, service learning projects, or study abroad. Through these experiences students gain deeper understanding and develop field-related competencies. They are able to explore possible future careers and lifestyles while considering local and global options, discover and understand other cultures, reflect upon personal and professional development, and relate their experience to life after Monmouth.

Examples of ways a student could complete the ExEd requirement include the following:

- Internships (including practicums, fieldwork, and student teaching)
- Service Learning
- Research
- Study Abroad
- ExEd designated courses

Students who wish to learn more about Experiential Education and explore career and service learning opportunities, potential courses, and placement options in each academic discipline are encouraged to visit the program’s Web site. Experiential Education courses are listed in the Catalog, designated with course type “ExEd”. To learn more about ExEd requirement, students are encouraged to explore additional experiential learning opportunities that foster critical thinking and that emphasize the application of real-world knowledge and skills.

Nontraditional students who have returned to school after gaining experience in the work world should inquire about the Experiential Education Portfolio Policy. Work experience that can be documented (including military service) can serve as credit for the ExEd requirement.

To further explore internship and service learning opportunities, students should contact Career Services, located in the lower level of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center.

To learn more about Study Abroad, students should contact the Global Education Office, located in Room 29 of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center.

Experiential Education Portfolio Policy

The portfolio process was designed for the nontraditional student who has returned to school after experience in the work world that can be documented (including military service) and serve as credit for the experiential education requirement within his or her major. Students who wish to submit a portfolio package for consideration in fulfillment of the Experiential Education general education requirement must produce a body of official documentation, which is outlined below.

1. The departmental chairperson should initiate a memo to which all copies of the documentation from the student are attached. Chairs should indicate their agreement or reservations for approval and then forward the package to the chair of the Experiential Education Committee. The documentation must include:
   a. resume;
   b. a minimum 3-5-page academic piece, such as a short research paper or reflection journal on past learning activities, if the student did not carry out the internship/service learning activity...
for academic credit or under faculty supervision (from any post-secondary institution);

- academic transcript;
- company/organization letters that verify work experience for which the student is trying to get credit;
- brief statement that outlines the time frame, circumstances, and manner under which the experience occurred;
- Individual departments have the option to add additional requirements to this procedure.

2. After receiving and assessing such work, the chair will send the Dean’s Office the completed academic piece and the student’s portfolio; the Dean’s Office will then forward this information to the Experiential Education Committee for final approval. After all of the appropriate signatures have been obtained, the memo will then be forwarded to the Registrar for appropriate accreditation.

Students must demonstrate through a detailed dossier a substantial background of career or community service experience related to their chosen program of study. While each department will determine the guidelines for portfolio experience, it is recommended that students have engaged in a particular career or community service activity for at least four consecutive years.

All portfolio dossiers must be reviewed and receive initial approval by the department chairperson and school dean before they are forwarded to the chair of the Experiential Education Committee.

Students cannot exercise the portfolio option if the department of their chosen academic studies requires certain Experiential Education courses as part of their major.

Experiential Education Travel Class Policy

A travel class is defined as any trip taken with a faculty member to be exposed to learning opportunities out of the classroom.

Faculty may request that a travel class be considered as an experiential education class if the course meets the following guidelines:

1. Students will engage in a learning project, prearranged with a supervisor at the destination (not the faculty member) for a minimum of fifty (50) hours/one (1) credit.
2. Students will produce a daily log, reflective essay, and an external evaluation from their supervisor while at the destination.
3. The course will comply with all other Experiential Education requirements regarding percentage of assignments and number of hours, etc.
4. If faculty offers the class for some students as Experiential Education and some without Experiential Education credit, classes can be cross-listed as such on a case-by-case basis.

Dual Majors

Students wishing to simultaneously satisfy the requirements of two degree programs should observe the following guidelines:

- The “Change Program Major” e-FORM should be used to declare intent of satisfying the requirements of two degree programs.
- The official curriculum for each degree program is the curriculum in effect at the time of declaring that particular degree program.

- The student is responsible for coordinating the course requirements of the two curricula and should seek appropriate advising in both departments.
- The student will receive one diploma stating both major programs if each program is associated with the same degree; if the degrees are different, two diplomas will be issued. The fact of the dual majors should be declared before the time of the application for graduation.
- A student’s major must contain eighteen (18) or more credits distinct for each degree program and any additional programs (e.g., a minor)
- Students following dual programs must complete both programs to graduate.

Minors

Minor programs are designed to let students pursue a guided course of study in an area outside their major. Minors normally require at least one-half the number of credits of the major. Courses transferred into Monmouth University may apply toward the minor, but at least nine credits must be earned at Monmouth University. A 2.10 minimum grade point average is required in the minor.

Once a student declares a minor, his or her academic program will be modified to include the minor. The Registrar will record the minor on the student's transcript only after the student has completed the minor and has satisfied all requirements for the appropriate baccalaureate degree.

Students with a declared but incomplete minor at the time of completion of their major will not graduate unless written notice is received by the Office of the Registrar to delete the minor. The written notice must be received no later than ten (10) days prior to graduation.

Students cannot minor and major in the same discipline. A student’s minor must contain nine (9) or more credits distinct from the student’s major requirements and any additional programs (e.g., a second minor). This does not include interdisciplinary requirements of a student’s major, which may be applied to the student’s minor in another discipline. Credits required as part of a concentration are not considered distinct credits. Other restrictions might apply. To review Minor program requirements please navigate to the applicable departmental page in this catalog.

Second Baccalaureate Degree

Monmouth University graduates with a baccalaureate degree desiring to return to Monmouth University for an additional baccalaureate degree must satisfy, by taking additional courses, a minimum of thirty (30) additional credits of the curriculum requirements in effect at time of readmission and declaration of the major. Any student who has completed a degree program at Monmouth University will be considered to have met the residency requirement, but transfer credits taken subsequent to the first degree program may not be applied toward the second baccalaureate degree.

Students with baccalaureate degrees from other institutions who wish to enter Monmouth to receive a second baccalaureate degree will be accepted on a case-by-case basis and must satisfy the existing policy for transfer students. Please see the Admission section of this catalog for more details. Students may not pursue a second baccalaureate degree in the same major. Students requesting second baccalaureate degrees in a major where a graduate degree exists will likely be denied acceptance into the second baccalaureate degree upon School/department review.

If an application for a second baccalaureate is considered, only credits relevant to the second baccalaureate degree will be evaluated for designated course credit; all other credits will be designated as free.
electives. Students enrolling for a second baccalaureate must satisfy all Monmouth general education requirements. A minimum of thirty (30) curriculum credits must be completed to receive a baccalaureate degree. Additional credits may be necessary in order to satisfy curriculum requirements in the second baccalaureate.

The Honors School

Dean: Nancy Mezey, Ph.D.

The Honors School offers a program for high-achieving and highly motivated students to participate in a supportive living-learning community that provides enhanced curricular and co-curricular experiences. This program fosters enthusiasm for intellectual inquiry as a lifelong process and incorporates interdisciplinary approaches to education to encourage the intellectual and ethical growth necessary for a successful college and post-college life.

Honors students work closely with faculty mentors as they pursue scholarly research, writing, and dissemination. They complete twenty-six honors credits, twelve at the lower level in general education, nine at the upper level, often in their major, and five specific to completing their honors thesis/capstone. Students fulfill their twelve general education credits by taking sections designated for honors students. Limited in size to no more than twenty students, these honors classes promote faculty and student rapport and participation. Many courses such as in English, History, Anthropology, Psychology, Sociology, Art, and Music, are "clustered" together by a cohesive theme that encourages seeing the connections among different fields of study, thereby encouraging an integrative approach to learning. Students in the cluster take these courses together, further fostering friendship and collaborative learning. For students whose strengths lie in Math and Sciences, we also offer honors sections at the lower level.

At the upper level, students complete twelve (12) credits of honors courses in the major or other field of study, culminating with five credits distributed over three semesters to complete the Honors Thesis/Capstone. The capstone thesis or project is completed as a tutorial, with the close support and academic guidance of faculty mentors. The Honors School also offers students the opportunity to be considered for the prestigious Freed Award for the best completed Honors Thesis/Capstone, as well as the William P. Mitchell Award for the Dr. William P. Mitchell Excellence in Honors Award for outstanding service to the Honors School.

In addition to the academic curriculum, the Monmouth University Honors experience is enriched by numerous social, cultural, and academic co- and extracurricular activities, including participation in the Peer Mentor Program and the Honors School Association. Honors students can fully immerse in a living-learning community by opting to house in Beechwood Residence Hall. Regardless of where they live, all Honors students can take advantage of Beechwood's main floor study lounge and lower level social lounge. Honors students who commute can park in designated parking spots behind Beechwood. These combined features make Beechwood Residence Hall a unique living-learning experience for Honors students to foster academic, social, and professional relationships with their peers as they live, relax, study, attend classes, and grow together.

Honors students also enjoy enhanced opportunities after graduation. In addition to gainful employment, more than 50 percent of Honors School students go on to pursue graduate and professional degree programs. Graduation from the Honors school is noted on the student’s transcript and diploma. Best of all, Honors School students know that they have completed a program that encourages serious intellectual exploration in a supportive environment.

B.A. or B.S. in Interdisciplinary Studies

Please contact the Honors School to discuss the available options for these programs.

Study Abroad

Monmouth University encourages students to add an international dimension to their undergraduate education by studying abroad. Qualified students can participate in study abroad either through the Monmouth University semester and summer programs in London, Sydney, Cádiz, Strasbourg, Buenos Aires, Sorrento, and Florence; through short-term study abroad programs led by Monmouth University faculty; or through any program offered by an approved or accredited U.S. institution of higher education. Students who plan to study abroad in a program other than one sponsored by Monmouth University cannot enroll through another school or consortium when that program is offered through Monmouth University.

Study abroad at any one of Monmouth’s programs or through other approved programs will satisfy the experiential education component of the general education requirements provided that a minimum of six credits are successfully completed.

Students wishing to study abroad must meet the following qualifications:

1. At least sophomore status.
2. A minimum GPA of 2.75.
3. Not be on judicial probation.
4. Not be on academic probation.

Students must meet these criteria at the time of application and immediately prior to studying abroad. Failure to do so will result in the student’s removal from the study abroad program.

Monmouth University Study Abroad in London, Sydney, Cádiz, Strasbourg, Buenos Aires, Sorrento, or Florence

Tuition for the Monmouth study abroad programs is charged at the same rate as on-campus tuition. All merit awards and scholarships apply, except for athletic scholarships and tuition remission. Students attending the Monmouth programs will have all grades listed on their transcript and they will also be calculated into their grade point average (G.P.A.). Institutional credit will be granted for all earned grades.

Students considering this opportunity should consult the Global Education Office staff on the first floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center or by emailing the Global Education Office (GEO@monmouth.edu) with your questions. More information and application instructions can be found on the Monmouth Global Programs (https://monmouthsa.terradotta.com/) website.

Non-Monmouth Study Abroad Programs

Students who choose the option of studying abroad under the auspices of other accredited programs must meet the study abroad criteria specified above, complete the Monmouth University study abroad application on the Global Education Office’s section of the Portal, and follow the guidelines as provided on the “Study Abroad – non-Monmouth Program” form available from e-FORMS. The e-FORM will be electronically be enrolled as a full-time student, and be of good moral character.

To qualify for enrollment, a student must be physically qualified, capable of meeting the educational requirements of the program. Students enrolled in both the basic and advanced programs. Certificates are awarded on the dates when degrees are conferred (with the exception of the Information Technology Certificate, which can be awarded prior to graduation). Students must complete the stated requirements and have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.10 and a personal interview.

For further information, call 848-932-7706, write to: Air Force ROTC Det 485 Rutgers University 190 College Ave New Brunswick, NJ 08901-1199 or send an e-mail (rotc485@afrotc.rutgers.edu). Information is also available on the ROTC Web site (http://afrotc.rutgers.edu).

The Washington Center

Monmouth University is affiliated with the Washington Center that provides semester and summer internship programs in Washington, DC, for all majors. Internships in the capital that combine on-the-job experience with academic study are available in the White House, Congress, the courts, cabinet-level agencies, think tanks, professional and trade associations, print and electronic media, financial institutions, law firms, with lobbyists, high-tech industries, museums, theaters, advertising agencies, and market research firms. The Monmouth University liaison to the Washington Center is Dr. Joseph Patten, Political Science Department, Bey Hall.

An internship course number will be assigned for use by any department wishing to place interns. Specific application of credits to degree requirements will be approved by the department chair and school dean in advance of enrolling. Students register for fifteen credits: twelve for the internship and three for the academic course. Students who successfully complete the Washington Center Program automatically satisfy the experiential education requirement.

Accelerated Programs

In several programs a student may complete requirements for a baccalaureate degree within three calendar years. Students who are considering such an accelerated program should consult with advisors to plan their course sequences carefully.

Certificate Programs

Certificate programs offer students an opportunity to obtain a concentrated education in a specialized area. Students who successfully complete the stated requirements and have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.10 for the certificate courses will be awarded the appropriate certificate. Certificates are awarded on the dates when degrees are conferred (with the exception of the Information Technology Certificate, which can be awarded prior to graduation). Students must complete the “Application for Graduation”, form which is accessible through WebAdvisor via the myMU student portal, the semester prior to the completion of the certificate. Certificates will be awarded after graduation from Monmouth University for students also in baccalaureate programs. Curriculum charts for certificate programs are available on the Monmouth University Web site (https://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/documents/) or through the myMU student portal.

These Certificate Programs are not related in any way to Certification Endorsement Programs for teachers.

Air Force ROTC

Monmouth University and Rutgers University have an agreement permitting students at Monmouth University to cross-enroll in the Army Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC) program at Rutgers University. The Army ROTC program provides students the opportunity to study and train for careers as Commissioned Officers in the U.S. Army. Students who successfully complete the four-year ROTC program and their undergraduate degree program commission as second lieutenants in the Active Duty Army, the Army Reserve, or the NJ Army National Guard.

To qualify for enrollment, a student must be physically qualified, be enrolled as a full-time student, and be of good moral character. Enrollment in the Army ROTC involves no military commitment during the freshman and sophomore years. The advanced portion of the program is contractual and is scheduled during the junior and senior years. Obligations include enrollment in the Reserves, successful completion of field training between sophomore and junior year, and acceptance of a reserve commission, if tendered. Monmouth students must complete a “Permission to Take Courses” e-FORM prior to taking classes at Rutgers in order to have the ROTC credits apply toward degree requirements.

Students cross-enrolling for the ROTC courses are charged separately by Rutgers for these courses. Uniforms and textbooks are supplied to all students enrolled in both the basic and advanced programs. A deposit fee is required for textbooks and uniforms. This fee is refunded when textbooks and uniforms are returned. Students enrolled in the advanced program receive a subsistence allowance from the Air Force while enrolled.

Air Force ROTC scholarships of various lengths are available. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic performance, scores on the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test, results of a medical examination, and a personal interview.

For further information, call 848-932-7706, write to: Air Force ROTC Det 485 Rutgers University 190 College Ave New Brunswick, NJ 08901-1199 or send an e-mail (rotc485@afrotc.rutgers.edu). Information is also available on the ROTC Web site (http://afrotc.rutgers.edu).
ROTC students receive a subsistence allowance from the U.S. Army Cadet Command.

Army ROTC scholarships of various lengths are available. Scholarships cover tuition and fees at Monmouth University and Rutgers University and a book stipend. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic performance, the Army Physical Fitness Test, results of a medical examination, and a personal interview.

Academic Support Services

The Center for Student Success

The Center for Student Success (CSS) provides academic and career counseling for all students. Academic advising for transfer students is coordinated in the CSS. The Center administers Monmouth’s Early Warning System (MEWS) for several student populations including first year students, athletes, and undeclared sophomores. MEWS is utilized to identify students who are experiencing academic difficulty and connects them to their advisors and/or appropriate learning resources across campus. Advising for undeclared sophomores is designed to help with exploration of different majors while taking courses that satisfy degree requirements. Students are required to declare a major no later than the end of sophomore year. Additionally, throughout the year, the CSS offers numerous workshops related to academic, personal, and career topics.

Career Development offers many services and resources in order to assist students with career exploration, career planning, part-time employment, internships, experiential education, and job placement. Students are provided assistance in exploring their career values, interests, and skills.

All students have the opportunity to attend career fairs and meet with many prospective employers who visit the University at the invitation of Career Development. In preparation, students are given professional assistance in writing effective résumés and in acquiring interviewing skills to make the fullest possible use of these opportunities. In order to maintain close ties between the University and its students after graduation, Monmouth continues to offer these services to alumni. Job opportunities are available to students and alumni through Hawks Career Link, (https://www.monmouth.edu/career-services/hawks-career-link/) our online job board.

The CSS provides administrative support for the Experiential Education requirement. Please refer to the Experiential Education Requirements section of this catalog for a complete description of the requirement and the related Web site.

The Office of Service Learning and Community Service provides students with information about service learning and volunteer opportunities in nonprofit agencies, schools, and governmental organizations. Through service learning and volunteering, students can explore their personal, career, and intellectual potential while increasing their knowledge of community needs.

Services for First-Year Students

The Office of First Year Advising in the Center for Student Success is a key resource for first-year students at Monmouth University, offering academic advising and major and career services for all first-year students. First Year Advising offers programming designed to help first-year students experience the challenges, opportunities, and support needed to succeed at Monmouth. Students are encouraged to take part in academic and co-curricular activities that are supported by this office to promote their growth and learning.

Academic Advising

All first-year students receive comprehensive academic advising from specially trained faculty as part of our First Year Advising Program. Although most students tend to think of advising as simply assistance in registering for courses, the Office of First Year Advising strives to build an advising relationship that works holistically to help students develop their academic, career, personal, and social interests.

New Student Orientation

All new first-year students, commuters and residents, are expected to attend New Student Orientation. This structured program includes educational and social activities designed to ease the transition to college life at Monmouth and to give students opportunities to meet and interact with other new students. During orientation, students meet faculty, staff, and students with whom they will interact during their first year.

Throughout the academic year, many programs are offered to continue the transition process. The SHADOW Program, First-Year Service Project, leadership development opportunities, and social programming are led by the Coordinator of Transition and Leadership Programs.

Major and Career Choices

Monmouth University believes that everyone can benefit from career advising, whether it involves help in choosing a major, access to career interest resources, a workshop on resume writing, meeting with faculty across departments, and other related topics. First Year Advising offers students a great deal of support with their major and career choices.

Students can assess their career interests in a variety of ways, and we strongly encourage all first-year students to begin this exploration as early as possible.

Online Community: SOAR

SOAR (Support, Orientation, Advisement, and Registration) is an online community for new students that provides important information relevant to their first year and beyond. SOAR provides critical information about many first-year experiences, including career and major exploration opportunities, help in understanding course requirements for majors, and information for building student schedules.

Parent Orientation

It stands to reason that parents, guardians, and family members who are informed are better prepared to help their first-year students navigate the challenges ahead. Parents are encouraged to become familiar with transition issues, the nature of how a university works, the federal laws affecting the sharing of student information, and the wide variety of resources, support services, and activities available to students.
The Division of Student Life coordinates Parent and Family Orientation, which is designed to help family members of incoming first-year students learn more about Monmouth University and how to help their students make a successful transition to college life. These programs provide a broad range of information and the opportunity to meet with representatives from various departments across campus. Please visit our Parent and Family website (https://www.monmouth.edu/parents-and-families/) for a robust list of resources. Parents and families are encouraged to sign up for the Monmouth Family Connection (https://www.monmouth.edu/parents-and-families/monmouth-family-connection/), a free online resource available on any device where you can receive important updates and information.

Services for Transfer Students

The Office of Transfer Services assists undergraduate students transferring in eighteen or more credits. Initially, Transfer Services connects deposited students with their faculty advisors for course registration and academic advisement, while acting as a second layer of support for new students.

Transfer Services also helps transfer students transition into Monmouth University. Our online pre-orientation highlights academic and transfer credit policies, career and academic support services, and guides students to complete their preparations before classes begin. New Transfer Student Orientation welcomes students to campus by providing a dynamic venue to explore helpful resources while forming connections with faculty, staff, and student peers.

Lastly, Transfer Services plans workshops, events, and individual appointments to assist current transfer students. Programming focuses on helping students maximize their academic potential, explore career options holistically, and prepare for life after Monmouth.

Reverse Transfer

Students who transfer to Monmouth University from a New Jersey community college now have the opportunity to complete their associate degree through credits earned at Monmouth. Students can “reverse transfer” credits taken as part of their bachelor's degree back to their community college. Students must have earned a cumulative total of 66 semester hours between the community college and the four-year institution.

Students must have applied and been admitted to the four-year institution.

Following enrollment at the four-year institution, students must have earned a cumulative total of 66 semester hours between the community college and the four-year institution.

Students must be current with financial obligations to both the four-year institution and the community college.

Students must have met all of the graduation requirements of the community college.

How it Works
Please visit The Office of Transfer Services’ Reverse Transfer website (https://www.monmouth.edu/transfer-services/?page_id=882&preview=true) for information on how to initiate the reverse transfer process.

Student Success Services

Student Success Services, including Tutoring and Writing Services and the Math Learning Center, provide personalized academic assistance. Students may be referred by professors, may be required to attend as a result of placement testing, or may come voluntarily.

Tutoring and Writing Services

Located in the Center for Student Success, Tutoring and Writing Services provides free, personalized academic assistance to all students of the University. Students may be referred by faculty members and advisors or come voluntarily.

Undergraduate content-specific tutoring by peer tutors is available in most academic disciplines and students are encouraged to make appointments at accudemia.monmouth.edu. Academic coaches offer weekly one-on-one sessions focusing on executive functioning skills such as time management, note taking, test taking, and college level reading strategies. In addition, academic skills workshops on strategies for college success are offered throughout the semesters and are open to all undergraduate students. For more information, please contact Tutoring Services at 732-263-5721, by e-mail (tutoringservices@monmouth.edu) or by visiting the Tutoring Services Web site (http://www.monmouth.edu/tutoring/).

Peer, professional, and faculty writing assistants are available to help students with all stages of the writing process, across all disciplines, from the initial drafting of the assignment through the final stages of editing and proofreading. Writing Services also offers assistance with grammar and punctuation skills and documentation styles. Students can make an appointment for writing services online (https://mu.accudemia.net/Private/Main.aspx?Referer=http://www.monmouth.edu). For more information, please contact Writing Services at 732-571-7542, by e-mail (writingservices@monmouth.edu) or by visiting the Writing Services Web site. (http://www.monmouth.edu/writing/)

Supplemental Instruction (SI) is a peer-facilitated academic assistance program designed to help students succeed in traditionally difficult courses. SI sessions are regularly scheduled, informal review sessions that involve collaborative learning activities through which students can clarify course concepts and practice the types of study strategies that will help them truly master the information and skills required by the target course. Professors will notify students if their course has SI support. For more information about SI, please call 732-263-5530 or visit the SI Web site (http://www.monmouth.edu/si/).

The Math Learning Center, located in Howard Hall room 203, provides students with assistance in all levels of mathematics. Peer tutors are available to help students solve problems and to review concepts. In addition, students may use the Center to do homework assignments or to study for tests while having a student tutor available. For more information, contact the Department of Mathematics at 732-571-4461.

Disability Services

Monmouth University recognizes the needs of students with disabilities who are capable, with appropriate assistance, of excelling in a demanding university environment. Accommodations and a supportive environment... contribute to a students’ success. Services are available to students with disabilities through the Department of Disability Services (DDS).

Students seeking reasonable accommodations must self-identify themselves to DDS by completing the Confidential Registration Form (https://www.monmouth.edu/disability-services/current-students-2020/) located on the DDS website and submit current and adequate documentation (https://www.monmouth.edu/disability-services/documentation-guidelines/) of a condition that substantially affects a major life function. Students should contact the DDS office at dds@monmouth.edu and/or (732) 571-3460 with any questions related to documentation requirements and eligibility of services.

Educational Opportunity Fund Program

The Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) is one of the nation’s most comprehensive and successful state-supported efforts to provide access to higher education for economically disadvantaged students. EOF assists low-income New Jersey residents by providing supplemental financial aid to help cover college costs and provides academic support services, developmental counseling, and career guidance throughout the student’s college career. EOF students must be enrolled full-time. A five-week, residential, pre-freshman summer program is required of all incoming EOF freshmen. Additional information is available from the EOF Office, located in the 600 Building.

Pre-Professional Health Advising Programs

Pre-Health Advising for Medicine, Dentistry, and Other Health Careers

Designed to foster motivated, caring, and communicative students who intend to pursue careers as physicians and healthcare professionals, Monmouth University’s pre-medical, pre-dental, and health careers preparation charts a uniform course of study under the mentorship of the Pre-Health Advising. The preparation encompasses all undergraduates intending to attend medical school, dental school, or any graduate course of study in the health professions.

Pre-Health advising prepares undergraduates for medical school as well as other health professional schools, including dental, veterinary medicine, physician assistant, physical therapy, public health, and occupational therapy. The Committee members are from the science faculty and have strong interests in career advising. Pre-Health Advising works closely with the Center for Student Success (CSS) and Undergraduate Admission.

Most pre-medical students major in biology or chemistry, as a strong foundation in basic science is vital to success in professional education. However, it is possible to major in another field, and to take the prerequisite science courses for professional schools. Students from diverse majors, including Spanish, psychology, and health studies, have been successful by being exceptional in both their majors and in science courses. Non-science majors are encouraged to use their free electives for biology and chemistry courses, as taking more science than the minimum prerequisite courses for professional schools is advised. An increasingly complex and global medical profession demands healthcare professionals to have broad cultural knowledge and excellent communication skills. Therefore, Pre-Health students are encouraged to excel in humanities courses as well as in science. Students geared towards a career in healthcare should also seek out volunteer and shadowing opportunities as early as possible. Leadership skills can be enhanced through participation in campus clubs and organizations.

Preparation for health professional schools begins in the freshman year. Incoming first-year students are encouraged to indicate their future career aspirations to their academic advisor during orientation. The sequential nature of the natural and physical science courses chosen requires careful planning if students are to meet the requirements of their chosen professional schools. Throughout the academic year, students are encouraged to attend update meetings on the various professions, informal presentations by healthcare providers, and informational sessions on career preparation run by the Pre-Health Advising.

Committee members attend the major national and regional health profession conferences to remain current, concerning both developments in the field and medical and professional school requirements. In addition to course advisement, Pre-Health Advising members provide students with information on admissions tests, such as the MCAT (Medical College Admission Test) and the DAT (Dental Admissions Test), and prepare students for entrance interviews at professional health schools. The Committee also composes and provides a comprehensive letter of recommendation to professional health schools, which is one of the most important parts of the admissions package.

The Pre-Health Advising is pleased to offer the following affiliation programs:

Pre-Medical Preparation and be taken at MU as a Post-Baccalaureate student

College graduates who wish to enter medical or other health professional schools but have not completed the prerequisite course requirements may enroll at Monmouth University to complete the necessary credits as a post-baccalaureate student. If interested, please contact the Office of Admission at 732-263-5869. Once a student is admitted to Monmouth University as a post-baccalaureate student, Pre-Health Advising provides academic advising in preparation for admission into a medical or other health professional school.

Monmouth University Physician Assistant Program

The Monmouth University Physician Assistant Program began accepting students for its first class in Fall 2014. The Physician Assistant program allows qualified students to pursue a three-year Master of Science in Physician Assistant degree following a bachelor’s degree at Monmouth University. Preference for interviews for this program is given to Monmouth University undergraduates.

Rowan University - School of Osteopathic Medicine

Monmouth University offers a cooperative academic arrangement between Monmouth University and Rowan University-SOM so that highly qualified students can complete the required courses for the baccalaureate and osteopathic medicine degrees in an eight-year sequence. This program is composed of four years of approved undergraduate study at Monmouth University and four years of study in Osteopathic Medicine at Rowan University-SOM. Eligibility for entry into the program at the end of the sophomore year is limited to Monmouth University students who are citizens or permanent residents of the United States and who have completed a minimum of sixty (60) credits with a major in biology or chemistry, and meet the following requirements:
1. overall G.P.A. of 3.50 or higher,
2. receive a recommendation of support from the PPHAC, and
3. submit scores of all components of the SAT or the ACT.

Candidates must maintain a 3.50 G.P.A. at Monmouth University, with no science course grade lower than a “B.” Candidates will be interviewed by the PPHAC at Monmouth University and by Rowan University-SOM and must achieve a competitive score on the MCAT (determined by Rowan University-SOM) by September 15 of their senior year. The decision for final admission to medical school will be made by the Rowan University-SOM and will be based on a candidate’s satisfaction of the school’s admission requirements.

American University of Antigua – College of Medicine

American University of Antigua will allow qualified sophomores to apply to Monmouth University to be accepted into a “4 + 4” program with AUA College of Medicine. Qualified students (up to five per year) would complete four years at Monmouth University (with a major in biology or chemistry), and would continue to AUA College of Medicine to earn the Doctor of Medicine (MD) degree. Accepted students must maintain an overall 3.25 G.P.A. at Monmouth University and a 3.25 G.P.A. in all prerequisite courses required by AUA College of Medicine, with no more than one “D” or “F” in any prerequisite course. Candidates must also obtain a total MCAT score of 20 or higher, receive a letter of recommendation from the PPHAC, and be successfully interviewed by the AUA College of Medicine. Acceptance to this program is non-binding, and students in the program are eligible to apply to additional schools.

St. George’s University (SGU), Grenada, B.S./M.D. and B.S./D.V.M. 4 +4 Program

In this program, students will begin their studies at Monmouth University (MU). After successfully completing four (4) years of undergraduate study and earning a B.S. degree at MU, qualified students who satisfy all respective admission requirements will proceed to Grenada and enter the first year of St. George’s University School of Medicine or St. George’s University School of Veterinary Medicine. Qualified medical students will be eligible to complete the first two (2) years of medical study in Grenada and the final two (2) years of this combined program in clinical rotations at affiliated hospitals in the U.S. and/or the U.K. Qualified veterinary students will be eligible to complete the first three (3) years of veterinary study in Grenada and their final clinical year at affiliated veterinary schools in the U.S., U.K., Canada, Australia, or Ireland.

Undergraduate students must express interest in one of the combined degree programs at time of application to Monmouth University. MU and SGU will select candidates based on criteria and conduct undergraduate interviews. The eligible medical student will maintain a G.P.A. of at least 3.40 while at MU and a score of 25 or higher on the MCAT. For the veterinary student, a GPA of 3.10 must be maintained while at MU and a score of at least 300 (combined verbal reasoning and quantitative reasoning) on the GRE. Additionally, all qualified MU students must meet all admission criteria of SGU School of Medicine and SGU School of Veterinary Medicine including a successful interview with SGU.

Students apply to this joint program from high school. There is no cap on the number of students who can be accepted. There is no binding commitment for the student to attend SGU once accepted into the program. They may choose to apply and enter another school if accepted.

American International College of Arts and Sciences – Antigua (AICASA) – Monmouth University Bachelor of Science degree

Students who achieve an Associate’s Degree from the American International College of Arts and Sciences (Antigua) may be offered admission to Monmouth University to complete a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology or Chemistry if the following qualifications are met:

- Be in good academic and disciplinary standing;
- An overall cumulative college grade point average (G.P.A.) of 3.00 or higher; high school applicants must have at least a 3.00 cumulative high school G.P.A. and 1500 three-section SAT score;
- No “F” or “D” grade in any required course by Monmouth University;
- Monmouth University does not represent that students admitted pursuant to this agreement will be able to complete the degree requirements. Each student is responsible for planning his or her undergraduate education to develop the skills necessary to succeed in a demanding degree program;
- Transfer credit will be awarded as specified in the Monmouth University catalog.

Students interested in any of the pre-professional health programs should contact 732-571-3687 for specific requirements and to seek advising.

Law

Those students interested in law as a profession or as an adjunct to other vocations can obtain the necessary pre-law preparation at Monmouth University. Several majors are appropriate as undergraduate preparation for a career in law. Monmouth University also offers a major in Political Science with a Concentration in Legal Studies. Faculty members dedicated to career advising help interested students plan their courses of study and provide advice and suggestions concerning the processing of law school applications. In general, the student should consider joining the Pre-Law Club and give special attention to developing the skills of lucid writing, logical thinking, and precise comprehension of language.

Instructional Technology Support

Monmouth University fully supports the use of technology in teaching/learning through the comprehensive services of Information Management. Faculty are encouraged to integrate a variety of technologies into their courses and are provided necessary training and support to do so. Beyond making use of our learning management system for content presentation and online participation, many employ a variety of Web-based tools to increase student collaboration, participation, and engagement. In addition, the Monmouth University Library catalog and digital databases are available online, as are many instructional materials used in individual courses.

The University has a fully networked and wireless-enabled campus with over 1,000 computers available to students in various lab configurations including Windows, Macintosh, and Unix/Linux. A comprehensive complement of software is available throughout campus in these labs, and course-specific software is made available in departmental computing labs.

All students are provided with an official email account and storage for course-related files and Web pages. The Student Technology Assistant Program (STAP) provides students with the opportunity to learn about current technology, while earning cash and boosting their résumé. Each semester, approximately thirty (30) undergraduate and graduate students from all majors join the program in one of several different positions. STAP members can be found working in the University's open computer labs, at the Student Help Desk, with multimedia equipment, and troubleshooting problems with computer hardware and software.

For all Information Management service needs, call the Help Desk at 732-923-4357 (HELP). Normal hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. (5 p.m. on Fridays during the summer). Technicians are also on site until 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, with abbreviated availability on weekends. Please note Help Desk hours are subject to change; check the myMU Portal for the most recent schedule. For more information on the services of Information Management, please visit their Web page (http://www.monmouth.edu/Campus_Technology.aspx).

Guggenheim Memorial Library

The Guggenheim Memorial Library builds and maintains collections to support the teaching and scholarship mission of the University, whether online or in our historic library. Conveniently located adjacent to the residence halls, the library is a comfortable space where patrons can do so much: we have Wi-Fi, 110+ computers, network printers, copiers, document scanners, two classrooms, quiet study space, group meeting space, lounge space for casual reading, outdoor reading tables and benches, and a modest café.

Serving our faculty and students with resource materials needed to support both curriculum and research needs, the Guggenheim Memorial Library is the center of learning and research. The Library provides robust access to a diverse collection of more than 400,000 monographs, e-Books, print journals, e-Journals (full text), media titles, microfilms, reference materials, and special collections, including government documents, the New Jersey Collection, the Mumford Collection, and the Library Archives. Coupled with Interlibrary Loan and reciprocal borrowing privileges, access to more than 2.1 billion holdings in over 72,000 libraries located in 170 countries around the world is only a request away.

Library online services (http://library.monmouth.edu) are available twenty-four hours per day, seven days per week, and include research guides customized by subject area that can be helpful in jump-starting any project. The building is open seven days a week during the regular semester (until midnight Sunday-Thursday) and our staff is delighted to help, so please ask. We can support our patrons' needs in many ways, for any assignment, via phone at 732-571-3438 or e-mail (referenc@monmouth.edu) or one-on-one consultation by appointment.

Grades

The grading system is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>Failing performance. This grade is given for failure in a course; for unofficial withdrawal from a course after the deadline (see &quot;W&quot; grade); or, in some instances, when an Incomplete grade is not changed by the end of the next regular semester (see &quot;I&quot; grade).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>P</td>
<td>Pass. This grade is given for satisfactory completion of a course that is graded on a Pass/Fail basis. This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>R</td>
<td>Re-Registration Required. This undergraduate grade is given when a student has made significant, but not sufficient, progress in a developmental course. (See section entitled Developmental Courses.) This grade is not used in computing a student’s cumulative grade point average (GPA).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S</td>
<td>Satisfactory progress. This grade is given at the end of the first semester when satisfactory progress has been made in a course, which is part of a sequence of courses that take more than one semester to complete.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AU</td>
<td>Audit. This grade is given to a student who attends a class for the purpose of acquiring knowledge, without earned credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned reading, and participate in class discussions, but is not required to take examinations.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>T</td>
<td>Transfer. This grade is given to incoming students for courses accepted for transfer by Monmouth University. This grade is not computed in the grade point average (GPA).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W</td>
<td>Withdrawal. This grade is given for withdrawal from a course or courses up to five weeks before the last day of classes in a regular semester or its equivalent in a shorter term. See the academic calendar for the last date to withdraw in a given semester or term.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A, A-</td>
<td>Exceptional performance</td>

Incomplete. This grade is given in cases where permission has been granted by the instructor to postpone completion of specific required work, such as a laboratory project or report or a missed final examination. This grade is not intended for situations where, in the judgment of the instructor, the student must retake the course for an entire semester in order to earn a passing grade. The Incomplete grade, therefore, should not be used in cases where a grade of "W" or "F" would be appropriate. The student must complete the work within the time granted by the professor and no later than the end of the next regular semester. If the unfinished work is not completed within the specified time, an “F” grade will be recorded, unless the instructor indicates otherwise at the time the Incomplete was originally approved. Not available for thesis courses. For thesis courses that are graded on a Pass/Fail (P/F) scale, when the grade of “I” is assigned, the grade will be converted to “S.” Similarly, in non-thesis courses graded on the P/F scale, when the grade of “S” is submitted, the grade will be converted to “I”.

NR

No Report. This temporary grade is given by the Registrar when no grade has been received from the instructor at the time that official grades are issued.

X

Credit by Exam. Portfolio Credit.

Q

Waived. This graduate grade is determined by the appropriate department to indicate that certain course requirements are waived. This grade is not computed in the student’s grade point average (GPA).

Undergraduate Grade Point Averages

Grade points are awarded for each credit on the basis of grades as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Value</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>4.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-</td>
<td>3.7</td>

Thus, if a student completes a three-credit course with a grade of A, twelve (12) grade points are awarded. To calculate the grade point average (G.P.A.) for a given semester, a student should divide the number of grade points awarded by the number of credits attempted (excluding withdrawals and developmental courses). The official G.P.A. is rounded to two decimal places.

To calculate the cumulative G.P.A., the total number of grade points awarded is divided by the total number of credits attempted (excluding withdrawals) in all sessions at Monmouth University. Calculation of a major GPA includes all courses falling under the major/interdisciplinary portion of a program.

Grades received in developmental courses are not counted in the computation of the student’s semester or cumulative grade point averages. Refer to Repeating a Course for a discussion of repeating a course and its impact on the G.P.A.

Repeating a Course: Impact on the G.P.A.

Students have one opportunity to repeat any regular course in which a grade of “F,” “D-,” “D,” “D+,” or “C-” has been assigned. On-demand or requested courses (independent studies, co-ops, special topics classes, etc.) are not grade repeatable, in that the second grade earned will not replace a prior grade. When a course is repeated, the second grade for the course will be used in calculating the cumulative grade point average, regardless of whether the second grade is higher or lower than the first. If both attempts of the course earned passing grades, only the most recent set of credits and grades will be applied to the student’s academic record. Students cannot repeat a scheduled course using an independent study for G.P.A. improvement.

Grade Reports

A grade report is e-mailed to each student approximately ten days after the end of each semester. Final grades are recorded on the student’s official academic record. The Office of the Registrar does not respond to individual requests for grades until after the grade reports have been generated. Undergraduate midterm grades are only provided online.

Student Complaints About Grades

A student who wishes to file a complaint about a course grade should attempt first to resolve the matter through a discussion with the faculty member who taught the course in question. If the faculty member is unable to resolve the matter, the student may contact the department chair in writing, stating the basis of the complaint. Such complaints should be sent to the appropriate department chair within six weeks following the receipt of final grades. Before changing a grade, a chair must, in a timely manner, attempt to discuss the grade with the faculty member who assigned it. A student who is not satisfied with the decision of the department chair may appeal the decision in writing to the dean of the school housing the course. The decision of the academic dean is final. A faculty member who disagrees with a chair’s change of grade may also appeal the chair’s decision in writing to the dean, whose decision is likewise final.

Change of Grade Requests

In those rare cases where a faculty member determines that a change of grade is warranted, the request must be submitted and approved by the department chair and school dean. All changes must include specific reasons that support the proposed change. Changes beyond one year require the additional approval of the Academic Standards and Review Committee (ASRC). Students are not permitted to complete or submit additional work after a term/semester concludes in an effort to improve a grade, unless the original grade was an “I” (incomplete). Changes to grades after a student has graduated will not be considered.

Undergraduate Graduation Rates

Graduation rates for the student cohorts of first-time, full-time freshmen are available at the Office of Institutional Research and Effectiveness located in Great Hall, room 206.

Academic Definitions

Undergraduate Student Classification

Regular (Matriculated)/Non-Matriculated

All students—those attending during the day, in the evening, or weekends—are classified as either regular (matriculated) or non-matriculated.

A regular (matriculated) student is one who has been admitted and who intends to earn a degree. The class standing is determined by the number of credits earned as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Credits</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Freshman</td>
<td>0–29.5 credits</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sophomore</td>
<td>30–59.5 credits</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Junior</td>
<td>60–89.5 credits</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Senior</td>
<td>90 credits or greater</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

A non-matriculated student is one who is not a candidate for a degree. Non-matriculated students are subject to the same fees and regulations as regular students. See the Admission (p. 18) section of this catalog for further information about admission as a non-matriculated student.

Full-Time/Part-Time

Undergraduates who carry twelve (12) or more credits during a semester are classified as full-time students. The normal semester course load for full-time students is fifteen (15) to eighteen (18) credits. Those who carry fewer than twelve (12) credits are classified as part-time students.

Maximum Course Load

Undergraduate students who wish to carry nineteen (19) to twenty-one (21) credits in a regular term must obtain the permission of the department chair. Students wishing to enroll for more than twenty-one (21) credits need the permission of both their department chair and school dean. Undergraduate students are limited to twelve credits total for the summer without prior permission from the school dean. Students are strongly urged to avoid attempting more courses than they can complete satisfactorily.

Auditor Classification

An auditor is a student who attends a class for the purpose of attaining knowledge but not to earn credits. The auditor is expected to attend classes, do assigned readings, and participate in class discussions but is not required to take examinations.

Students who wish to audit a class must complete a “Permission to Audit a Class” e-FORM, which is available from the Monmouth University portal, myMU. The permission form must be received prior to the third class meeting. Auditor registration is subject to course section availability. No more than two (2) courses may be audited per semester. Students may not change the status of their registration in a course to “audit” or to “for credit” during the term. Auditors may be removed from classes after registering if seats are needed for matriculating students.

Part-time students who audit classes will be charged at the audit rate regardless of their status (matriculated or non-matriculated); the audit rate is one-third of the regular per-credit tuition rate.

Full-time undergraduates whose total semester credits (including those in audited classes) are in the twelve (12) – eighteen (18) range will be billed at the full-time tuition rate. If a full-time undergraduate audits a class whose credits put the total credit load in excess of eighteen (18) credits, the credits beyond eighteen (18) will be billed at the audit rate.

The transcripts of auditors, who, in the judgment of faculty members, do not attend class or participate sufficiently, will not reflect the audited courses.

Credit Hours Defined by Course Type

Information regarding credit hours by course type (http://www.monmouth.edu/university/credit-hours-defined.aspx) is available on the Monmouth University Web site.

This resource provides the following information for all lecture, seminar, laboratory, clinical, and art studio classes:

• Course-type definitions;
• Minimum contact time per week;
• Minimum instructional time total;
• Minimum out-of-class student work per week and total per semester;
• Total number of instructional contact hours and student work out-of-class hours.

Please visit the Monmouth University page to obtain the detailed information regarding this topic.

Undergraduate Honors and Awards

Dean’s List

The Dean's List is the official recognition of outstanding academic achievement. Inclusion on the Dean’s List is based on the comparative semester grade point average for that semester. Monmouth University students who fall within the top 20 percent of their major program by semester grade point average are recognized on the Dean’s List for that semester. Undeclared students will be grouped as one major. Students pursuing multiple degrees will be eligible for the Dean’s List if they fall within the top 20 percent of any major they are pursuing. In addition to the requisite class standing, a student must have a cumulative grade point average above 3.30 and must have completed all semester course work, except for the Honors Thesis Preparation and the Thesis. This list is compared each spring and fall semester immediately after the conclusion of the semester. Part-time students will be evaluated for inclusion on the fall or spring semester Dean's List each time twelve or more credits are accumulated in successive semesters. Credits utilized for inclusion on the Dean's List will not be considered for subsequent Dean's Lists.

Graduation with Honors

To be graduate with honors, a baccalaureate degree recipient must have earned at least fifty-three (53) credits at Monmouth University and have a cumulative GPA no lower than 3.50. Three levels of honors are distinguished and indicated on the diploma:

- cum laude for students earning a GPA between 3.50 and 3.64;
- magna cum laude for students earning a GPA between 3.65 and 3.84;
- summa cum laude for students earning a GPA between 3.85 and 4.00.

Students who received academic amnesty (see Academic Amnesty for more information) are not eligible to graduate with honors.

Department Honors

Department Honors are available for undergraduate students majoring in Art, Biology, Chemistry, English, Foreign Language with a Concentration in Spanish, Sociology, or Political Science. Department Honors are noted on the student transcript, and a letter will be issued by the chair of the department.

Curriculum of Record

A student's curriculum of record is the set of degree requirements associated with the student's particular major that is in effect at the time that major is declared. If major requirements are changed, students may elect to update to the newer version of the major requirements by sending written notification to both the major department and the Office of the Registrar.

The official curriculum of record is maintained in the Office of the Registrar. Students may review their curriculum requirements from their academic audit which is available through the University portal, myMU, under Self-Service, Student Planning, and locate My Progress.

Undergraduate Developmental Courses

Developmental courses are defined as those that have pre-college-level content. Students are required to enroll in and successfully complete developmental courses that are specified as a result of the placement testing process. These courses are designed, and required of the students who place into them, in order to provide students with the skills necessary to succeed in college-level work. Such courses carry institutional credit only, will not be used to satisfy degree requirements, will not be counted in the computation of the student's semester or cumulative grade point average, and will not be counted toward the total number of credits needed for graduation. However, successfully completed developmental courses will be considered in the calculation of

1. credit standing for priority registration,
2. credits earned for freshman athletes, and
3. credits completed for the determination of academic probation and eligibility for academic dismissal.

Students who successfully complete developmental mathematics will earn grades of "A" through "C-"; "D" grades are not used for developmental courses.

Students who are required to enroll in developmental courses, all of which carry the course number "050," must satisfactorily complete their developmental course work within one year following their initial registration. Students who, on the first attempt, make satisfactory progress but do not complete all course requirements will receive a grade of "F" (see "GRADING" (p. 54)) and are required to re-register for that course during the following semester. Students who do not make satisfactory progress in developmental courses will receive a grade of "F" (see "GRADING" (p. 54)), are required to re-register for that course during the following semester, and are on academic probation until the course is successfully completed.

Students who have not passed required developmental courses by the end of the second semester will be subject to review, and possible dismissal, by the Academic Standards and Review Committee.

Academic Regulations

Academic Amnesty

Academic amnesty provides former students of Monmouth University an opportunity to improve their grade point averages by extending to them the privileges enjoyed by transfer students. A former student of Monmouth University must be away from the University for at least three years and have a cumulative grade point average less than 2.00 before being eligible to receive academic amnesty. Students considering academic amnesty must apply for amnesty concurrently with their application for readmission. If academic amnesty is granted, credit will be given for all courses with grades of "C" or better and as many courses with grades of "C-," "D+," "D," or "D-" as possible while maintaining a grade point average of 2.00 or better. All courses with "F" grades will be given amnesty. Students who receive veterans' educational benefits who are approved for academic amnesty should be aware that they will not be entitled to VA benefits when taking courses that satisfy requirements that were satisfied prior to academic amnesty.

Academic amnesty may be granted to a student only once, and amnesty will be posted after the student re-matriculates at the University. A student receiving amnesty must still meet the residency requirement by taking the last thirty credits at Monmouth University with a minimum of fifteen (15) in the major field. Students who receive Academic Amnesty are required to complete additional course work in order to finish a program. Such students may not be considered for graduation with honors.

Under no circumstances will grades earned by a student at Monmouth University be expunged from the student's permanent record or excluded from any transcript sent from Monmouth University.

Courses that receive no credit under the grant of amnesty shall not be offered later for fulfillment of any degree requirement, and a grade point average adjusted by amnesty shall not be used to determine general honors upon graduation.

Evaluation of applications for academic amnesty shall be made by the Academic Standards and Review Committee in consultation with the appropriate departments. The Committee will inform the Registrar of its decision and of courses affected by the granting of amnesty.
Academic Honesty

Monmouth University encourages its students to grow intellectually as well as to become responsible citizens in our complex society. To develop their skills and talents, students are asked to conduct research, perform experiments, write papers, work individually, and cooperate in group activities. Academic dishonesty subverts the University’s mission and undermines the student’s intellectual growth. Dishonesty in such academic practices as assignments, examinations, or other academic work cannot be condoned. A student who submits work that is not original violates the purpose of Monmouth University and may forfeit their right and opportunity to continue at the University.

The University has an obligation as an educational institution to be certain that each student’s work is their own. Note that Monmouth University faculty members have access to Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com), a Web-based plagiarism-detection resource that compares the text of student papers to an extensive electronic database. This database includes current and archived Internet resources, periodicals, journals and other publications, and past student papers from Monmouth and other educational institutions. All student assignments may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to Turnitin (http://www.turnitin.com) for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers may be included as source documents in the Turnitin reference database (solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers). Faculty are expected to inform students in advance about which assignments will be checked for originality using Turnitin. Use of the Turnitin service is subject to the Usage Policy posted on the Turnitin site (http://www.turnitin.com).

Academic Probation

A major concern of the University is to provide students with appropriate notice whenever their academic status is in jeopardy. Academic probation is designed to serve this purpose.

Any full-time freshman student who fails to achieve a GPA of 1.50 following the first semester will be placed on academic probation; however, such a student who fails to earn at least a 1.50 GPA will be considered for academic dismissal. Any part-time freshman student who fails to achieve a GPA of 1.50 during the first nineteen (19) college credits completed will be placed on academic probation. Any student who has earned a minimum of eighty (80) credits and who fails to achieve the minimum major GPA as established by the content major will be placed on academic probation until his or her major GPA reaches the graduation minimum.

All other students are placed on probation when the cumulative GPA fails below 2.00. Additionally, any student who receives a grade of “F” in a developmental course will be placed on probation and will remain on probation until the course is successfully completed.

Students on probation...

• should not be absent from any classroom exercise, scheduled class function, laboratory, or conference period.
• are not permitted to self-register using WEBRegistration, but instead must make all schedule changes with their academic advisor.
• are urged to seek academic counsel from their faculty advisors or department chairs to help them improve their academic standing.
• may be advised to curtail employment, change their major curriculum (see Academic Probation), reduce the number of credits attempted, or restrict participation in extracurricular activities.

In addition, any student determined to be on probation at the end of an academic term is not permitted to hold higher officer in any University Organization or to participate in a varsity sports competition. If a spring sport varsity athlete is determined to be on probation during their championship season (including post-season competition), the athlete is permitted to compete up until the Completion of their championship season (including post-season competition), provided they have met all other NCAA eligibility requirements. If a fall or winter sport varsity athlete is determined to be on probation during their championship season, the athlete is permitted to compete up until the start of the spring semester, provided they have met all other NCAA eligibility requirements.

Good Academic Standing

• Any student who falls below a 1.5 cumulative GPA after completing 12 credits is no longer considered to be in Good Academic Standing.
• Any student who falls below a 1.8 cumulative GPA after completing 24 credits is no longer considered to be in Good Academic Standing.
• Any student-athlete deemed not in Good Academic Standing at any point is no longer permitted to participate in a varsity sports competition immediately; per NCAA Bylaw 14.01.2.1, until the student-athlete has regained a status of Good Academic Standing; and meets all other NCAA, conference, and institutional rules.
• All varsity sport student-athletes must meet all NCAA, conference, and institutional academic eligibility requirements above. In addition, a student must be in Good Academic Standing to compete in varsity competition.

Academic Dismissal

A student shall become subject to academic dismissal for any of the following conditions and may be dismissed without prior warning:

For failing to meet these minimum standards:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credits Completed</th>
<th>Minimum Cumulative GPA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>12–19 credits</td>
<td>1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>19.5–35.5 credits</td>
<td>1.60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>36–56.5 credits</td>
<td>1.80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>57 and more credits</td>
<td>2.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1 Credits completed include credits for all courses not officially withdrawn from, and all transfer credits accepted by Monmouth University (though only credits earned at Monmouth are computed in the GPA).

• For failing to earn a semester GPA of at least 1.00 (if a full-time student), or a GPA of 1.00 in any combined consecutive semesters within which at least twelve credits have been attempted (if a part-time student);
• For failure to earn a passing grade in a required course after the maximum number of allowable repeats (see Repeating a Course);
• For failure to earn the minimum major GPA as set by the content major after three (3) consecutive semesters;
• For failure to successfully complete all required developmental courses within the first year of attendance;
• Upon the recommendation of the student’s chair or school dean.

A student who has been dismissed for the first time has the right to appeal that decision in writing to the Academic Standards and Review Committee. Second dismissals are not subject to appeal except for factual error. A student may apply for readmission three years after the second dismissal. See Readmission to the University after Academic Dismissal for information on readmission following academic dismissal.

Attendance

Monmouth University believes that attendance is essential to success in academic courses. Therefore, class attendance is required. The University believes that learning is an interactive process dependent in part on the student and is not just a matter of the passive absorption of information. The University also believes that to benefit fully from their respective courses, students need to participate in, and contribute constructively to, the classroom experience, and, secondly, that the success of any course depends as much on what students contribute to the class as on what the instructor presents.

Grades in courses are normally based on academic performance (participation, contribution, and examination). However, individual faculty members may adopt reasonable regulations that additionally relate grades to class attendance. All professors must state their specific attendance policies in a written statement containing the pertinent course requirements and give it to the students during the first week of the semester. A student who may not be present at a particular class or laboratory is, nevertheless, responsible for adhering to the attendance requirements of the course. A student absent from class due to inclement weather may not be penalized for that absence but are required to contact their faculty regarding the timely completion of assignments.

Students are not permitted to attend classes for which they have not officially registered (as determined by the Office of the Registrar). If students attend without prior registration, they are subject to disciplinary actions, inclusive of suspension and/or dismissal, and will not be permitted to "retroactively" enroll.

Course Withdrawals

Students are expected to complete the courses for which they register. On occasion, however, withdrawals are warranted. (See section entitled "GRADING (p. 54)" for a description of the "W" grade and associated procedures.) Students who do not intend to complete any course for which they are officially registered should execute an official withdrawal prior to the "W" deadline.

The official date of a withdrawal form is the date it is received in the Office of the Registrar. The student is responsible for completing the e-FORMS request prior to the deadline date.

Students withdrawing from some courses while remaining registered for one or more courses are required to complete a "Withdraw from Course Form," available from e-FORMS. The official date of a withdrawal form is the date the completed form is received in the Office of the Registrar and must be received prior to the Withdraw ("W") deadline date as published in the Academic Calendar (http://www.monmouth.edu/university/academic-calendars.aspx).

Students who are withdrawing from all their courses are encouraged to make notification of withdrawal in writing; however, verbal or e-mail notification is acceptable under the guidelines set forth in "Refund Policy for Complete Withdrawals—fall and spring semester." (p. 31)

Except under unusual circumstances, such as prolonged illness, a student will not be permitted to withdraw from course work any later than five weeks prior to the last day of classes of the semester or its equivalent in a shorter term. In these exceptional cases, students will be withdrawn from all course work in the term.

Students who do not complete courses and who have not executed an official withdrawal prior to the deadline indicated will receive "F" grades for such courses.

Students wishing to withdraw from classes after the specified withdrawal deadline must provide documentation of serious extenuating circumstances; the documentation will be reviewed by the appropriate faculty members teaching the courses, the department chairs, the deans of the schools in which the course(s) are housed, and the Registrar.

Fourteenth Week Class Schedule

Fourteenth week classes shall be held during a time scheduled by the University.

Fourteenth week information is available on the "Registration Information" (http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/registration_information/default.asp) page of the Monmouth University Web site. A student who has three or more fourteenth week classes scheduled in one day may request that one of them be rescheduled to another day. It is normally the middle one of the three that is rescheduled. The class should be given at a time agreed upon by both the student and the faculty member on or before the end of the fourteenth week class period.

Graduation

All undergraduate students are required to complete a minimum of 120 credits; some degrees require more credits. Individual program requirements are included on the applicable department page of this catalog. Additionally, all undergraduates must meet a minimum 2.00 overall grade point average (GPA), a minimum major GPA of 2.10 (except for Education majors who are held to a 3.00 minimum GPA), and, if applicable, a minimum 2.10 minor GPA. Calculation of a major GPA includes all courses taken within the major and courses cross-listed within a major.

Diplomas are mailed 2-3 weeks following the graduation date, provided that all University obligations have been met. In addition, Monmouth University provides a Certified Electronic Diploma (CeDiploma), an official and verifiable PDF version of the diploma. A link to download the CeDiploma will be sent by email 2-3 weeks following the graduation date.

In those rare instances when a student has not met all degree requirements, but for whom a change to the academic record is received by the Office of the Registrar within one week following the graduation, the student will be considered for the earlier graduation. The effective date of the change must be on or before the actual date of the graduation. Changes received later than one week beyond graduation will not be considered for prior graduation but will be part of the next graduation cycle.

Only students who have completed all graduation requirements, including, but not limited to, course work, credit requirements, GPA minimums, residency requirements, and the like, will be allowed to participate in Commencement.

Independent Study

Independent Study courses permit a student to pursue a research project or guided readings in a subject area not substantially covered in the
A course in which a grade of “C” or higher has been earned may not be repeated without the student first obtaining written permission from the appropriate department chair and the dean of the school in which the student is enrolled. If written permission is not received, the student may be administratively dropped from the course.

Students have one opportunity to repeat any regularly offered course in which a grade of “F,” “D,” “D-,” “D+,” or “C-” has been assigned. On-demand or requested courses (independent studies, co-ops, special topics, service learning, or certain experiential education courses) are not grade-repeatable in that the second grade earned will not replace a prior grade. When a course is repeated, only the second grade for the course will be used in calculating the cumulative grade point average, regardless of whether the second grade is higher or lower than the first. If both attempts of the course earned passing grades, only the most recent set of credits and grades will be applied to the student academic record. Students cannot repeat a scheduled course with an independent study for GPA improvement. The permanent academic record will contain a listing of all course registrations and grades. Students wishing to repeat a course ordinarily should do so no later than the next time that course is offered at Monmouth University during the regular academic year.

Students cannot repeat a course ordinarily should do so no later than the next time that course is offered at Monmouth University during the regular academic year. Exceptions must be approved by the advisor.

If, after repeating a course once, a grade of "C" or higher has not been earned, at the request of the student, a determination will be made by the appropriate dean, upon recommendation of the department chair, as to whether special circumstances exist to justify a second repeat of the course. When a course is repeated for the second time (third attempt), only the third grade for the course will be used in calculating the cumulative grade point average, regardless of whether the previous grades for that course are higher or lower than the third. A student found to be registered for a second repeat of a course, who has failed to obtain the dean's permission in advance, will be administratively dropped from the course.

*Note:
Please consult with your department to determine if your program requires that a course(s) be completed with a grade higher than "C". A course repeat would be necessary if the minimum grade requirement set by the department has not been achieved. Students must also consult with their department to determine what impact course repeats may have on continuation in their program.

Student (Biographical) Data

Any currently enrolled student whose biographical data (e.g., name, address, or Social Security number) has changed must inform the Office of the Registrar in writing. Requests for name or Social Security number changes must be accompanied by legal documentation. Biographical information is not changed for previously enrolled students; alumni should contact the Office of Alumni Affairs to report biographical changes.

Permission to Take Courses at Another Institution

It is expected that Monmouth University students, once enrolled, will complete all degree requirements at Monmouth University. However, in recognition that students may, on occasion (usually in the summer), have sound academic or personal reasons to take courses at other accredited institutions, they may request permission to do so. In evaluating such requests, consideration will be given to the relationship between the student's classification and the type of institution the student seeks to attend.

A student who requests permission (using e-FORMS) to take courses at another institution must be in good academic standing. The student should not be enrolled in classes at Monmouth during the semester or term in which permission is sought. The student must receive permission in advance from the chair of the department in which the student's major is housed, the school dean, and the Registrar. The student must present supporting evidence of course equivalency. Permission is granted for free elective courses and required courses outside the major but not for general education or major courses. Major courses include courses within the concentration, if any. Students may not repeat a course at another institution that they have previously attempted at Monmouth University.

Once a student attains junior status (completed sixty-one [61] or more credits), permission will not be given to take courses at any two-year institution. For credit to become part of the student’s Monmouth University transcript, a grade of “C” or higher must be earned at the other institution. For such courses, the grade earned at the other institution does not calculate in the Monmouth University grade point average; a “T” grade is posted to the student’s academic record, except when there is a financial aid consortium agreement in place. Students with a financial aid consortium agreement will have the actual grades posted to their academic record but the grades will not have any G.P.A. impact. In accordance with Monmouth University’s residency requirement, students who are within thirty-two (30) credits of graduation are not eligible for this permission.

Graduate Courses for Undergraduates

An undergraduate student at Monmouth University who has an outstanding academic record may apply for permission to take graduate courses while completing the work for a bachelor's degree. Please review the requirements listed below before submitting a request:

1. Students must have an overall GPA of 3.0.
2. Requests are subject to approval by the graduate program director and are subject to course availability and program policies.
3. Students must submit the “Undergraduate Request to Take a Graduate Course” e-FORM requesting that the course apply to either the current undergraduate program or a future graduate program.
4. Students seeking course substitutions for graduate coursework from the stated undergraduate degree requirements of their academic program should consult with their academic advisor. If the advisor recommends a substitution, the “Substitution of Undergraduate or Graduate Program Requirement” e-FORM will be submitted to their respective department for review.
5. Credits in excess of 150 may count toward both the undergraduate and graduate degree if the plan sequence chart allows it and it is approved by the graduate program director, undergraduate major chair, and dean of both the undergraduate and graduate degree. The total credits of both degree programs must be equal to or greater than 150. A minimum of 120 credits must be applied toward an undergraduate degree, and a minimum of thirty (30) graduate credits must be applied toward a graduate degree.

Submission of the Same Paper or Computer Program for Two Courses

The submission of the same (or essentially the same) paper or computer program for two separate courses without the expressed permission of all faculty members involved is against University policy. (Please refer to the Academic Honesty policy included in this catalog for more information.)

Time Limitation for Completion of Requirements

The requirements of a particular baccalaureate curriculum must be satisfied within a period not exceeding eight calendar years. The Monmouth University catalog in effect at the time of admission, readmission, or change of major shall normally be the student’s official catalog of record. However, faculty and curriculum changes may require related changes in a student’s program. If after following a curriculum of record for eight calendar years a student has not completed the requirements of the curriculum, the student must update the curriculum of record (including general education requirements) to the most recent one that exists.

Substitution of Requirements

Students seeking course substitutions or any deviations from the stated degree requirements of an academic program should first consult with their academic advisors. If the advisor recommends a substitution, the “Substitution of Undergraduate or Graduate Program Requirement” e-FORM should be submitted to their respective department for review. The department will forward their decision to the Office of the Registrar for processing. Students will receive an e-mail to their Monmouth University e-mail accounts after the substitution request has been completed, unless the substitution was initiated by their advisor. In that case, students should follow up with their advisors to make sure that their substitution has been completed. If the department chair does not approve the substitution, the student may appeal that decision to the school dean. If the school dean does not approve the substitution, the student may appeal that decision to the Provost. The Provost has final authority concerning the substitution.

Students should avoid processing substitution forms close to the time of graduation; instead, substitutions should be effected as warranted in academic planning sessions with academic advisors. Deadlines to submit substitutions for graduating students are provided on the “Registration Information” (http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/registration_information/default.asp) page of the Monmouth University Web site.

Academic Procedures

Scheduling Information

Fall and Spring Semesters

Monmouth University schedules on-campus classes year-round. During the fall and spring semesters, in addition to the traditional schedule of daytime classes, Monmouth also offers non-traditional students other scheduling options. Courses are available in the evening and on weekends.

Summer Sessions

Summer sessions provide a comprehensive program of day and evening courses and special workshops for Monmouth students and students in good standing at other colleges and universities. Summer session programming also provides a taste of college life and a head start for high school students who have completed either the junior or senior year. Because of Monmouth’s location near the shore, summer sessions are well attended by visiting students as well as Monmouth’s own students.

The University offers five regular summer sessions. The maximum course load for summer school is twelve (12) credits.

Students enrolled at other institutions should receive approval from that institution for courses for which credit is desired. Students must meet all course prerequisites. Admission into the summer program does not constitute acceptance into the University’s regular programs.

Campus recreational and dining facilities are available to summer students. Residence halls will be open to resident students during the summer. Inquiries regarding summer sessions and applications for admission should be addressed to the Director of Admission.

The Monmouth University Student Portal, myMU

All currently registered and deposited Monmouth students have established student accounts for use in schedule preparation, grade and transcript look-up, and academic audits. Students should login to the student portal, myMU, to become familiar with this account so that they can retrieve their academic information. Questions concerning the account can be answered by the Help Desk (732-923-4357), or by utilizing the documentation and tutorials that are linked from the student menu. Examples of information obtainable online include:

- Instructions and Links (e-FORMS)
- Personal Academic Information (Grades, GPA, Schedule)
- Registration (Academic audit, Search for Courses, Prerequisite Worksheet)
• Graduation (Apply to Graduate)
• Financial Information

WebAdvisor is available for general use to view the Schedule of Course Offerings. “Search for Courses” is not restricted by User ID and password and is accessible to all users. Monmouth University provides a menu selection accessible from WebAdvisor for students that allows currently enrolled students to electronically submit academic requests to the department and to the Office of the Registrar.

Current students initiate requests with the Academic Affairs Division by utilizing the e-FORMS selection available from their WebAdvisor menu.

Instructions about how to use WebAdvisor for students and e-FORMS are posted under “Instructions” on the WebAdvisor for students main menu.

Withdraw from the University

Students who intend to withdraw from Monmouth University and plan not to return are requested to notify the University by completing a “Total Withdraw from the University” e-FORM. Provided the e-FORM is received by the “W” deadline date (see academic calendar (http://www.monmouth.edu/university/academic-calendars.aspx)), students will be withdrawn from the current term; otherwise the total withdraw will not be effective until the next regular term.

Application for Graduation

As you approach the completion of your program, students must review their academic audits through the Monmouth University portal, myMU, in order to monitor their degree progress. After the completion of seventy-five (75) credits you are required to submit an “Application for Graduation” form to the Office of the Registrar or you will be blocked from all future registration activity. The application is available in the student portal under the WebAdvisor for Students tab.

Participation in Commencement

Only students who have completed all degree requirements are permitted to participate in Commencement exercises. All application deadlines for graduation, substitutions of program requirements, grade changes, waivers, transfer credits, and the like are outlined on the “Registration Information” (https://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/registration_information/default.asp) page of the Monmouth University Web site. Failure to meet any of the deadlines may impact inclusion in Commencement-related activities.

Change of Major

The choice of a major can have dramatic impact on life and career goals. Undergraduates considering changing majors should be aware that academic advising, including interest testing, is available to them through the Center for Student Success.

Students who wish to change their majors should seek the advice of the chair of the proposed new department and make themselves familiar with the requirements of the new major. To make the change, students should submit a “Request to Change Curriculum” e-FORM. (Note: Freshmen students must consult with their advisors in the First Year Advising Office in order to change their major.) The Office of the Registrar will review the application and route it to all appropriate parties for their approval. Students will receive an e-mail once this form has been successfully processed. Students must fulfill the requirements of the new major that are in effect at the time of the change of major.

Undeclared majors are required to officially declare a major by the end of the sophomore year. Failure to do so will prevent registration for future semesters. An undeclared student who has maintained continuous matriculation under earlier general education requirements may elect to follow those general education requirements when declaring a major. See Curriculum of Record (p. 57) for additional information.

Changing from Non-Matriculated to Regular (Matriculated) Status

An undergraduate student accepted to Monmouth University as a non-matriculated (non-degree-seeking) student may request to matriculate (seek a degree) by applying for admission as a regular (matriculated) student. If accepted as a regular student, he or she may declare a major (provided admission criteria, if any, of the particular major are met) or choose the undeclared status.

A non-matriculated undergraduate student who did not meet regular admission requirements when accepted in the provisional non-matriculated status must complete a minimum of twelve (12) credits and a maximum of eighteen (18) credits of college-level course work with a minimum grade point average of 2.00 before applying for admission as a regular student. The student will follow all curricular requirements in effect at the time of admission as a regular student.

Courses taken in the non-matriculated status will be considered for applicability toward degree requirements in the same way that courses taken in the matriculated status are considered. Undergraduate students wishing to change from non-matriculated to regular status should contact the Office of Undergraduate Admission.

Course Changes (Add/Drop)

Students can add or drop classes at any time during the open registration period or until the conclusion of the Add/Drop period (as outlined in the Academic Calendar (http://www.monmouth.edu/university/academic-calendars.aspx)) using the Register/Remove Previously Selected Courses feature in the student portal or with the assistance of their academic advisor/department.

Students who want to petition to add a closed class must complete a “Registration: Add Class Form (http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/forms.asp#PRINT)”. This form must be printed and approved by the instructor, department, and/or dean. Students attempting to add a closed class after the Add/Drop Period has ended must also obtain permission from the Bursar. All forms must be brought to the Office of the Registrar for processing immediately after all approvals have been obtained; the forms will not be accepted after the term concludes. It is the responsibility of the student to see that all forms reach the appropriate office.

Students who want to petition to add an open class after the Add/Drop period has concluded must submit an “Add Open Course” e-FORM. The e-FORM will be routed for all of the required approvals including the Bursar’s Office. The Bursar’s Office will not approve the form until all financial obligations for the course have been satisfied.

Students simultaneously adding and dropping a course (e.g., same course, different section) should use e-FORMS and select “Swap Course Registration. Approvals for this action will be done electronically, and since there is no credit change, Bursar approval is not required.

Leave of Absence

A leave of absence (LOA) enables students to maintain the same curriculum of record if they intend to be away (no active registration) from the University for a full semester. Interested students should submit an LOA request e-FORM in order to be placed on a leave; e-FORMS are accessible through the Monmouth University student portal, myMU. The deadline to submit this request is by the conclusion of the course change (add/drop) period. Please consult the official University academic calendar (http://www.monmouth.edu/university/academic-calendars.aspx) for specific dates. All degree requirements must be completed as specified in the “Time Limitation” section of this catalog. Students on a LOA may not attend another institution and transfer credits back to Monmouth University.

Registration

All current Monmouth University students and deposited “Applicants” are provided with access to the University’s student portal, myMU. These students are provided with a unique User ID and password, which allows them to view their personal student information and to conduct their personal student business via the Web.

Continuing students who have met with their academic advisor and received permission to do so may self-register using the registration tools linked from the student portal during the registration period. Specific information for dates and times to register online will be distributed to each student in advance of this period. Other important information regarding registration is available on the “Registration Information” page of the Monmouth University Web site. Online registration is not available to students who are on academic probation or whose current admission status is conditional.

Continuing students are strongly urged to complete “early registration” for upcoming semesters and terms. Early registration for the fall, spring, and summer semesters usually begins in April and concludes in August. Late registration is conducted during the first week of the fall and spring semesters; students are required to pay the “late registration” fee when registering during the late registration period. Registration after the conclusion of the late registration period requires the written approval of the appropriate faculty and department chairs. Students are not permitted to attend classes for which they are not officially registered (as determined by the Office of the Registrar). If students attend without prior registration, they are subject to disciplinary action, including suspension and dismissal, and will not be permitted to “retroactively” enroll.

New students are invited to register during special programs during the summer and in January as part of their orientation to the University. Late registration is available to new students, although it is less desirable than the mode described above.

Registration privileges are not extended to students who have significant unresolved financial or other obligations to the University. “Holds” are placed on the records of such students. Upon resolution of the obligation, registration privileges are restored. Course prerequisites are updated periodically. Students should confer with their advisors concerning the most recent prerequisites on record for courses they wish to take. Students should also confer with their advisors when they want to register for more than eighteen (18) credits per semester. Students must fulfill the most current prerequisite requirements prior to taking courses at Monmouth University.

Transcript Requests

Current students, former students and alumni may request printed transcripts through the National Student Clearinghouse. (https://tsorder.studentclearinghouse.org/school/select/) If your request to Clearinghouse is received before 4:00 pm (E.T.) the printed transcript will be mailed the following business day. Students and alumni also have the option, at an additional cost, to have their printed transcripts mailed overnight, sent certified mail, or mailed to an international address. Please note the Clearinghouse envelope containing the transcript cannot be opened by a student or alumnus since it will render the transcript, “unofficial”

If you need a PDF copy of your transcript, or if you need it processed immediately, you may also request it through the National Student Clearinghouse. (https://tsorder.studentclearinghouse.org/school/select/)

Transcript Holds

The University is not obligated to provide transcripts to students or alumni whose financial obligations to the University have not been satisfied.

Pursuant to NJ LAW A4001/S1914, effective 01/01/06, Monmouth University transcripts will include only the last 3 digits of the Social Security Number (SSN). In those instances where the student SSN is required for the recipient, request a “student sealed official.” It is the student’s responsibility to communicate their SSN to the recipient.

University Emergency Closing

Monmouth University has established a Weather Emergency Information Line: 732-263-5900. During emergencies, including weather-related situations when the University may need to close or delay the start of the workday, this line will have a prerecorded message with necessary information for students and staff. If the University must close or cancel classes, a broadcast message will also be sent to all employees and resident students via the campus alert system. You may also find out about weather-related cancellations and closings by e-mail messages, the Monmouth University Web page (http://www.monmouth.edu), social media posts, or from one of the local radio stations or TV channels listed below:

University E-mail

Monmouth University provides all students with a Monmouth University e-mail account. When communicating via e-mail with University offices, students should use their Monmouth e-mail account so as to easily establish identity. Official communications are sent exclusively to the student’s Monmouth University e-mail account, such as:

- Grade reports
- Semester schedules
- Registration information
- Academic announcements
- Graduation deadlines
- Change-of-class notifications
- Academic standings
THE WAYNE D. MCMURRAY SCHOOL OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

Interim Dean: Richard F. Veit, Ph.D.
Associate Dean: Michael Paul Thomas, M.F.A.

The Wayne D. McMurray School of Humanities and Social Sciences prepares students for lifelong learning and effective engagement with a changing world. The humanities give critical insight into aspects of thought, values, and achievement in all times and places. The social sciences contribute an understanding of the structure and function of society. Both areas provide a foundation for major courses of study that prepare students for productiveness and responsibility in both their careers and civic life. Undergraduate and graduate curricula provide strong programs that prepare students for successful entry into professions and advanced study. The School of Humanities and Social Sciences fosters critical, social, political, and cultural thought by creating new knowledge, sound, and art. By doing so, the school creates an intentional active learning environment through which students can make a meaningful and long lasting impact.

The Wayne D. McMurray School offers twenty-three undergraduate degree programs and master's degrees in:

- Addiction Studies
- Anthropology
- Clinical Mental Health Counseling
- Communication
- Communication with a Concentration in Interactive Digital Media
- Communication with a Concentration in Strategic Public Relations and Social Media
- Criminal Justice
- English with a Concentration in Creative Writing
- English with a Concentration in Rhetoric and Writing
- English with a Concentration in Literature
- History
- Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) in Creative Writing

Among our academic goals are proficiency in all forms of communication; an appreciation for the diversity of people and ideas and the ability to collaborate with others; stimulation of aesthetic sensitivity and creative expression; and the ability to think and react critically. Interdisciplinary studies are encouraged. All majors provide options for minors, double majors, concentrations, and interdisciplinary studies.

Within the School of Humanities and Social Sciences are the Freed Chair in Social Science endowed through a gift from the Gerald Freed Foundation. Professor Rekha Datta occupies the Freed Endowed Chair in Social Sciences. The Jules Plangere Jr. Chair in American Social History endowed through a gift of Life Trustee Jules Plangere Jr. Professor Katherine Parkin occupies the Jules Plangere Jr. Endowed Chair in American History and Political Studies. The McMurray-Bennett Endowed Chair in the Humanities. Professor Kristen Bluemel of the English Department occupies the Wayne D. McMurray-Bennett Chair. The Helen McMurray Bennett Endowed Chair of Social Ethics. Professor Johanna Foster occupies the Helen McMurray Bennett Endowed Chair of Social Ethics.
Anthropology

Chair: Christopher DeRosa, Department of History and Anthropology

The Anthropology curriculum is designed to provide a liberal arts education that emphasizes the scientific study of humanity. Three areas of Anthropology are covered:

- Cultural Anthropology, the comparative study of human beliefs and behavior with special attention to non-Western societies;
- Archaeology, the study of the human cultural heritage from its prehistoric beginnings to the recent past; and
- Biological Anthropology, the study of racial variation and the physical and behavioral evolution of the human species.

The goal of the Anthropology program is to provide students with a broad understanding of humanity that will be relevant to their professions, their daily lives, and their larger roles in the modern world.

Faculty

Heidi Bludau, Lecturer. B.A., M.E.d., Texas AM University; M.A., Ph.D., Indiana University. Research interests include transnationalism and migration of healthcare workers, globalization and health, professional identity, post-socialism, and Europe. Teaching areas include medical anthropology, globalization, applied anthropology, ethnographic methods, and anthropology of food.

Veronica Davidov, Associate Professor and Anthropology Graduate Program Director (Graduate Faculty). Ph.D., New York University. Areas of research interest include cultures of Latin America and ecotourism in the Amazon. Teaching focus includes anthropological theory, ethnographic methods, area studies (Latin American), political ecology, and globalization.

Hillary DelPrete, Assistant Professor (Graduate Faculty). B.S., Tulane University; M.A., Ph.D., Rutgers University. Professor DelPrete is a biological anthropologist with a specialization in modern evolution. Teaching and research interests include human evolution, human variation, human behavioral ecology, and anthropometrics.

Christopher DeRosa, Associate Professor and Chair (Graduate Faculty). B.A., Columbia University; Ph.D., Temple University. Fields include military history and American political history. Recent research concerns the political indoctrination of American soldiers.

Adam Heinrich, Assistant Professor (Graduate Faculty). B.S., M.A., Ph.D., Rutgers University. Historical and prehistoric archaeology; historical and prehistoric zooarchaeology; cultural and environmental variation in husbandry and meat consumption; taphonomy, African and European diaspora and cultural contact; 17th-19th century commemoration; Osteology/Forensics, Archaeobotany (macrobotanicals); experimental archaeology; development of mercantile systems; consumerism in archaeology; material culture and social process.

Richard F. Veit, Professor (Graduate Faculty).

Interim Dean, School of Humanities and Social Sciences. B.A., Drew University; M.A., College of William and Mary; Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania. Teaching areas include archaeology, historic preservation, North American Indians, and New Jersey history. Research interests include historical archaeology, industrial archaeology, and early American Material Culture. Author of Digging New Jersey’s Past: Historical Archaeology in the Garden State.

Courses

AN-103 Cultural Anthropology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS.SV
Introduction to comparative study of human beliefs and behavior. Emphasis on the concepts used in studying human culture; analysis of non-Western societies with respect to ecology, economy, social and political organization, religion, and art; implications for American society.

AN-104 Introduction to Biological Anthropology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE, SS.SV
Introduction to physical anthropology; racial variation and the evolutionary origins of the human species; concepts and principles used in the study of living and fossil evidence for human evolution and genetic diversity; unique influence of culture on human biology; human evolution in the present and future.

AN-107 Introduction to Archaeology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS.SV
Introduction to archaeological techniques, concepts, and principles; recovery and interpretation of evidence; examples from the prehistoric cultures of the Americas, Europe, Africa, and Asia.

AN-113 Cultures of the World Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, SS.SV
Common and distinctive features of culture in each of several broad zones around the world, including native North America, native South America, northern Asia, southern Asia, and sub-Saharan Africa; descriptive overview with emphasis on the variety of human experience and achievement.
AN-117 Great Excavations: Survey of World Archaeology Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
This course is a social science seminar that examines how archaeologists study and interpret the ancient world. Ancient societies from North America, South America, Africa, Asia, and Europe are examined. Students are introduced to the ethical challenges that face archaeologists and to how archaeologists separate fact from fiction.

AN-198 Special Topics in Anthropology (100 Level) Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in anthropology to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AN-220 History of Advertising Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS, HSUS
Designed to develop a critical understanding of the historical evolution of advertising in the United States, with critical attention to race, class, gender, and sexuality. We will explore the economic, political, and cultural factors that have contributed to the development of advertising, and which have been affected by advertising. Some of the topics to be discussed include: the rise of national advertising; the relation of advertising to consumption; advertising to children; political advertising, the relationship between advertisers and the medium in which they appear (magazines, television, radio, etc.) and broadcast and internet advertising. Also listed as HS-220 and GS-220.

AN-262 Primate Behavior, Evolution and Ecology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The study of primatology, which examines the lifeways, biology, and behavior of our closest living relatives. Various topics will be explored including taxonomy and classification, diet, behavior, grouping patterns, locomotion, and land usage patterns of monkeys, apes and prosimians. These topics will be explored within the frameworks of natural selection, sexual selection, and evolution. Also listed as BY-262.

AN-263 Peoples and Cultures of South America Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or AN-113
Course Type(s): RE
A social and cultural survey of representative peoples in South America and the Caribbean, emphasizing the comparative study of economic, political, social, and religious organization.

AN-264 North American Indians Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GU, RE
A survey of the cultural, social and linguistic diversity of Pre-Columbian North American societies; problems of contemporary Indian groups. Also listed as HS-264.

AN-266 Historical Archaeology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or HS-201 and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
An introduction to historical archaeology, the archaeology of the modern world (c. 1492+). It focuses on archaeological sites in the United States. Students are introduced to the various written and material sources that historical archaeologists use to interpret the recent past, including artifacts, vernacular architecture, grave markers, documents, photographs, and other visual sources. Archaeological field methods are also introduced with a minimum of one class period spent excavating an archaeological site. Also listed as HS-266.

AN-267 Tourism Around the World Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, SUS
Introductory examination of the various factors that impact tourism in different parts of the world. Students will consider political, social, economic, cultural, and environmental factors that affect tourists, local populations, and the physical destinations. Also listed as GO-267.

AN-268 Urbanization Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, RE, SUS
An introduction to urbanization on a global scale. Historical and contemporary development of the world’s cities using geographical approaches to urban analysis. Includes examination of urban forms and the local global, social, cultural, economic, political, and physical processes that shape and are shaped by cities, and the large and rapidly growing cities of the developing world that dominate and control the global economy. Also listed as GO-268.

AN-272 Magic, Witchcraft, and Religion Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Explores motivation of human behavior within the realm of religion and the supernatural with an emphasis on the role of gods and goddesses. A cross-cultural approach will be used while exploring cultures both past and present across the globe. Also listed as RS-272.

AN-274 Anthropology of Sex and Gender Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS, RE
Anthropological perspectives on sexuality and gender; emergence of human sexuality and gender differentiation in the context of species evolution; cross-cultural survey of social and ideological aspects of sexuality and gender.

AN-275 Global Environmental Problems Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GU, SUS
Focus on the complex relationship between human beings and their environments in an effort to build an ecological perspective in a global framework. Discussion of basic issues of ecological science in terms of impact on both the Western and non-Western worlds. Also listed as GO-275.
AN-278 Maritime History/Underwater Archaeology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
A mid-level seminar that examines maritime archaeology, with a focus on North America and particularly New Jersey. As part of this course, students will explore the world of maritime archaeology through readings, fieldwork, lectures, and hands-on exercises. It will include fieldwork on Monmouth’s research vessel, work with a subsmersible, and lab work with shipwreck artifacts.

AN-279 Culture, Health and Illness  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, HE, HEPE, WT
A cross-cultural examination of health and healing from the view of applied medical anthropology. Explores biological, sociocultural, political economic, and structural factors that affect health, illness, and disease both now and in the past. Cultural areas of study include: populations in the United States, Africa, Latin America, the Caribbean, and Southeast Asia.

AN-280 Anthropology and Education  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
The Anthropology of Education has a long and rich history of exploring intersections of learning and culture. This course is an introduction to the issues and approaches central to the study of education within the discipline of anthropology. Over the course of the semester, students will engage with classic and contemporary methods and readings in the field, including cross-cultural approaches to schooling and key issues in educational policy. This course is founded in anthropological approaches to education and how anthropologists address topics related to learning.

AN-282 Life’s a Beach  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): CD
A majority of the world’s population lives along shorelines. In some places, the shore is necessary for survival, a place where people depend on their interactions with the natural environment to provide for their daily needs. Elsewhere, the beach is a location for leisure, a destination for tourists. This class examines life at the shore from the different perspectives of those who utilize the beaches in different ways. Approximately one-third of the class will take place in situ, meaning off campus and on site of some local beach location. Applying anthropological theories and methods to the topic, this course will examine concepts such as identity, political economy, cultural ecology and development, using New Jersey beaches as locus. Also listed as GO-282.

AN-289 Anthropological Field Study  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Anthropology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised field experience in various branches of anthropology, e.g., archaeological excavation, museum work, ethnography, and primate behavior. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

AN-290 Popular Culture and the Middle East  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): GU, HSNW
Examines recent events, traditional cultural practices, and the perceptions of the Middle East through the lens of popular media (film, graphic novels, journalism, etc.). Topics to be covered may include are not limited to: religion, the Arab Spring (2011), the Iranian Revolution, the Arab-Israeli Conflict, women's rights/roles, Orientalism and racism, and common governing structures. Also listed as HS-290.

AN-296 Cultures and Societies of Africa  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, WT
Examines the history, cultures, and societies of Africa from the precolonial to the contemporary period. Discusses the cultural, political, and economic changes that have taken place in Africa as a result of Western influence. Also listed as HS-296.

AN-298 Special Topics in Anthropology (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in Anthropology to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AN-299 Independent Study in Anthropology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum. Students must be an Anthropology major and have at least a 2.50 G.P.A. to register for this course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department is required to take this course.

AN-303 Archaeology of the Southeastern United States  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): GU
This course offers an overview of the archaeology of the American Southeast. The course will focus on the region’s prehistoric and contact periods, which is one of the richest in the US. Students will develop an understanding of the area’s primary archaeological cultures and their geographic and temporal extents.

Course Type(s): HSUS
Examines the evolution of American attitudes towards commemoration and remembrance from the colonial period to the present. Focuses on the analysis of landscapes and artifacts, e.g. monuments, grave markers, cemeteries, and historic sites. Topics discussed include: the evolution of American burial grounds from colonial burial grounds to the rural cemeteries of the Victorians and modern memorial parks. Changing grave marker designs and iconography are examined. Distinct ethnic, regional, and national memorial practices are also studied. Public memorials in the form of statuary, commemorative institutions, and historic sites will also be discussed. There will be field trips to select sites. Also listed as HS-304.
AN-305 Caribbean Archaeology  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): GU, RE
Students are introduced to the archaeology and ethnohistory of the Caribbean Islands; the region where the Old World violently encountered the New World in AD 1492. The general approach is historical and chronological. This course is divided into two broad sections covering the prehistoric and historic periods of the region. The encounter between Europe and the region's native inhabitants proved catastrophic for the later. The region than became central to the world economy through slave labor and the production of luxury for world markets.

AN-306 Food and Culture  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): GU, WT
Augments the anthropology program's offerings in both archaeology and socio-cultural anthropology, and demonstrates the synergy of these approaches in the topical study of food. Through a combination of lecture, discussion, hands-on learning, and readings, students are introduced to the basic modes of human subsistence identified by the anthropological tradition. They also will explore the material and social challenges connected with these different subsistence strategies, and finish up by looking at current food-based problems facing the world today.

AN-307 Forensic Anthropology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the basic principles of forensic anthropology. Forensic anthropology is an application of biological anthropology (Skeletal understanding) to help solve criminal cases. Topics that will be covered in this course schedule include: methods of determining sex, nutrition, stature and ancestry from skeletal remains. We will also explore the cause of death, time since death and other relevant information. In addition we will examine the changing role of forensic anthropology in a larger global context.

AN-311 Anthropology Internship Seminar  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Application of theory learned in the classroom in practice through actual work experience. Includes both academic and experiential learning. Eight to twelve hours per week in a public history or field work setting. Open only to anthropology majors. This course is repeatable for credit.

AN-315 Field Research in Archaeology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or AN-107 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Archaeological field methods, analysis of data, and anthropological interpretation; students will do supervised work on local sites. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Also listed as HS-315.

AN-321 Qualitative Research Methods  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
An interdisciplinary overview of qualitative research methods employed in the social sciences and education. Qualitative methods are offered as an alternative way of knowing about individuals and groups. Topics covered include: theory, fieldwork, interviewing, observational studies, time sampling, writing field notes, questionnaires(survey research), archival research, and conducting qualitative research in various settings. Emphasis also placed upon the factors that affect the fieldwork process (e.g., gender, emotions, etc.) Also listed as PY-321.
AN-371 International Service Seminar Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, PSIP
Students will learn to unite theory and practice by studying theories and policies based on human security, and learning about their applications through service-learning projects. Students will enhance their understanding of human security by volunteering in international community organizations and reflecting on the social, political, and economic factors and policies that affect them. Also listed as SW-371, PS-371, and SO-371.

AN-377 Archaeology of African American Life Credits: 3
Course Type(s): CD, RE
Explores the rapidly growing subfield of historical archaeology which deals with the life and history of African Americans. The history and modern challenges facing this group is conditioned by the historical experience of individuals and communities of African descent with the United States. Unlike many European groups, the historical evidence documenting the experience of African Americans through time is sparse and incomplete. Archaeological investigations offer a primary method for recovering the everyday life experiences of this group. In addition, African American archaeology provides an important intersection for engaging the deep connection between the past and the present in socially meaningful ways. This course will review important case studies, key figure, major issues, and the overall development of African American archaeology.

AN-378 Gender, Sex and Medicine Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, GS, HE, EL, WT
Explores intersections of biological sex with cultural constructs of gender and medicine. Using cross-cultural examples, the course will employ an anthropological approach to explore how health, well-being and even medical belief systems operate in relation to different genders. Together as a class, we will examine how cultural constructs of gender frame ideals and norms regarding health, explore ways that biological sex is used to support gendered constructs, and demonstrate how these constructs eventually frame how healing takes place.

AN-379 Globalization, Health and Healing Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GU, HE, EL, HEPE
Explores globalization through the lens of health and transnational movements. Through lectures, interactive seminar discussions, films, reflective analysis and research projects, students will examine globalization processes through the movement of disease and treatments, patients and healthcare workers.

AN-380 American Cultural Diversity Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, RE
Explores the historical, social, and cultural backgrounds of immigrant groups found within the United States. Through lectures, readings, case studies, and discussions incorporated with service learning as fieldwork, students will be introduced to the complexity and diversity of American society.

AN-382 Applied Anthropology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
This course is anthropology put to use - meaning using anthropological research and methods to solve practical problems. This is an upper-level survey course that pays attention to cultural viewpoints, methods and results. While exploring different areas of applied anthropology through the history of the discipline and contemporary research projects, we will study methods unique to this subfield. Practical information, advice and resources on career preparation and development will be offered. By the end of the course, students should be able to answer the question "How can I use anthropology in my future career?"

AN-383 Old World Prehistory Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive survey of the prehistoric cultures of Europe, Africa, and Asia, focusing on the period between the origins of modern humans to the rise of the first civilizations. Particular attention is paid to the development of art, religious belief systems, agriculture, urbanism, metallurgy, and writing. Early civilizations in Egypt, sub-Saharan Africa, Mesopotamia, Western Europe, and China are examined.

AN-387 Visual Anthropology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, COSS
Deals with aspects of visuality in culture and anthropology. A significant part of the course will be devoted to visual anthropology. We will learn about the development of visual anthropology as a discipline, the particular problems and challenges involved in practicing this type of ethnography, the evolution of ideas about accountability, representation, reflexivity and positioning in visual ethnographic methods. We will start with exploring the role of image in anthropology by considering the relationship between photography and ethnography, and continue to study ethnographic filmmaking, from Robert Flaherty's "Nanook of the North," (considered to be the first ethnographic documentary), to the development of Cinema Verite, to the emergence of indigenous media. Students will gain a nuanced understanding of the subject through weekly writing exercises, presentations, and in-class discussion. For a final project, students will write a long-form paper that will combine original research and visual analysis.

AN-389 Anthropological Field Study Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Anthropology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised field experience in various branches of anthropology, e.g., archaeological excavation, museum work, ethnography, and primate behavior. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

AN-390 Archaeology Field Study Credits: 3
Course Type(s): EX5
An introduction to the practice of archaeology with a focus on fieldwork and limited laboratory analysis. This is a residential field school, meaning that students will live at or near the site for the majority of the semester. This might include living nearby during the week or for several weeks at a time, as in the case of an international archaeological field project. Students will learn traditional and advanced surveying methods, how to conduct pedestrian surveys, standard archaeological excavation techniques, and how to identify, catalogue, and analyze artifacts. There will be weekly lectures on the archaeology, history, and culture of the chosen archaeological site by project staff and visiting experts.
AN-398   Special Topics in Archaeology (300 Level)
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in anthropology to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AN-399   Independent Study in Anthropology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum. Students must be an Anthropology major and have at least a 2.50 G.P.A. to register for this course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department is required to take this course.

AN-401   Anthropological Theory
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A survey of the major theories in anthropology from the nineteenth century to the present, focusing on contributions to our understanding of human society by some of the major figures of anthropology.

AN-408   Cultural Psychology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An interdisciplinary course that utilizes theoretical, empirical, and methodological contributions from psychology and anthropology to discuss the position of culture in understanding human behavior and thought. Culture is viewed as a cognitive construct that is learned, lived, shared, and performed. A sample of topics include: the history of cultural and cross-cultural psychology, methodological approaches, aggression, education, development, play, language, social relationships, intelligence, emotion, motivation, and mental health issues. Also listed as PY-408.

AN-425   Latin American Seminar
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or permission of the instructor and EN-101 and EN-102
Course Type(s): RE, WT
An in-depth analysis of select groups in Native Latin America, through lectures, readings, case studies, film, and interactive panel discussions.

AN-426   Research Seminar in Anthropology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 90 credits completed or Senior standing
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
The development, research, and writing of a BA paper on any aspect of anthropology, with special emphasis on scrupulous documentation, use of appropriate sources, clear expository writing, and oral presentation of research results. The course will be taught as a mixture of seminar and one-on-one meetings with the instructor. (It will also include a meeting with a librarian or bibliographer from the Monmouth University Library.)

AN-489   Anthropological Field Study
Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Anthropology and permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised field experience in various branches of anthropology, e.g., archaeological excavation, museum work, ethnography, and primate behavior. This course may be repeated once for credit.

Art and Design

Chair: Frederick McKitrick, Department of Art and Design
Compliance Officer/Technical Specialist: Mark Ludak
Director of Galleries and Collections: Scott Knauer

The Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree (B.F.A.) in Design and Animation (with concentrations in Animation and Graphic and Interactive Design) is a career-track program that prepares students for professional work in the fields of graphic design, computer graphics, Web design, and animation or for graduate school. Entering freshmen will be accepted as B.F.A. degree candidates. As sophomores, or in the fourth semester at Monmouth University, B.F.A. degree candidates will be required to pass the Art and Design Student Portfolio Review (AR-REV). Upon successful completion of the AR-REV, B.F.A. degree candidates will be officially accepted into the B.F.A. degree program. If a student fails to pass the AR-REV, he or she will be referred to a Student Review Committee, which will determine whether the student should change his or her major or be given a conditional semester or year. Transfer students can declare themselves a B.F.A. candidate upon acceptance to Monmouth University. Transfer students will also be required to pass the first given AR-REV.

The BA in Art is designed for students who seek a strong studio experience and the option of developing skills useful in several professional areas. The core of the degree is traditional studio work in foundations, drawing, painting, sculpture, printmaking, and ceramics. The B.A. in Art with a Concentration in Photography is a more focused program on photographic skills, both traditional and digital. All art and design majors are required to complete a one- to three-credit internship during their senior year. Additional internship and cooperative education opportunities are offered as electives starting in the junior year.

Department Honors will be earned based on the following criteria being met:

- An overall GPA of at least 3.3
- A major GPA of at least 3.5
- Completion of AR-410 Advanced Project I (1-3 cr.) and AR-411 Advanced Project 2 (1-3 cr.)
- Artifacts having been publicly presented with a reading and defense of research topic
- Project and paper to have a combined average of a "B" or better

Faculty

Thomas Baker, Associate Professor. B.F.A., Eastern Carolina University; M.F.A., University of Wisconsin-Madison. Professional experience includes work at collaborative print shops: Tandem Press and Winstone Press. He is a council member of the Society of American Graphic Artists in New York, and his prints have been shown and collected nationally and internationally.
tbaker@monmouth.edu

Karen Bright, Professor. B.F.A., University of the Arts; M.F.A., Cranbrook Academy of Art. Specialization includes graphic design and computer graphics. Professional work includes all aspects of graphic design including print and related collateral design. Also working as a digital artist whose work has been shown in national and international competitions and exhibitions.
kbright@monmouth.edu

Kimberly Callas, Assistant Professor. B.F.A., University of Michigan; M.F.A., New York Academy of Art. Focus is on the ‘ecological self’. Works collaboratively with individuals and organizations from a variety of fields, particularly poetry, biology and ecology. Focus is on the human body, patterns and symbols from nature that reoccur across cultures, and natural materials. Sculpt life-size figures in water-based clay, and then cast them into an architectural concrete. Ground colors mixed with beeswax or shellac, and natural materials such as wasp paper, bark, roots, and seeds are often used to finish the work.
kcallas@monmouth.edu

Patricia Cresson, Professor. B.S., University of Wisconsin; M.F.A., Pratt Institute. Specialization includes computer graphics and graphic design. Her professional experience includes art direction and design from concept through print in the areas of publishing, corporate design, and computer illustration. Her fine art work is represented in a New York City gallery and has been shown nationally and internationally.
pccresson@monmouth.edu

Vincent DiMattio, Professor. B.F.A., Massachusetts College of Art; M.F.A., Southern Illinois University. Practicing artist who has exhibited his work in New York City and throughout the United States, Spain, and Mexico. Teaches drawing, painting, basic design, and several lecture courses. Started the gallery program at Monmouth University. He is a co-author of the book The Drawings and Watercolors of Lewis Mumford.
vdimatti@monmouth.edu

Corey Dzenko, Associate Professor. B.F.A., Central Michigan University; M.A., University of Alabama; Ph.D., University of New Mexico. Contemporary and modern art history specialist, with emphasis on photography, interactive media, and theory.
cdzenko@monmouth.edu

Wobbe Koning, Associate Professor. B.F.A., The Netherlands Film and Television Academy; M.F.A., Ohio State University. Animation and interactive media specialization; also has video, sound, and television expertise.
wkoning@monmouth.edu

Mark M Ludak, Specialist Professor. Compliance Officer/Technical Specialist. B.A., Monmouth University; M.F.A., Hunter College. Professional work includes documentary, fine art, and editorial photography.
mludak@monmouth.edu

Mike Richison, Assistant Professor. B.F.A., Calvin College; M.F.A., Cranbrook Academy of Art. Motion graphics and graphic design.
mirichison@monmouth.edu

Jing Zhou, Associate Professor. B.A., Sichuan Fine Arts Institute; M.F.A., Georgia Southern University. Interests include graphic design, Web design, digital media art, flash animation, art direction, and fine arts.

Courses

AR-REV Art and Design Student Portfolio Review Credits: None
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Required student portfolio review usually completed during the fourth semester. Transfer students need to schedule with an advisor. This is a pass/fail course.

AR-SHO Senior Show Credits: None
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This is a pass/fail course.

AR-101 Art Appreciation Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
A global survey of the cross-cultural evolution of art from the prehistoric period through the twentieth century. Emphasis will be placed on understanding the basic elements of art, the creative process, and the significance of art within the context of social, political, religious, and economic climate of its time. This course is not available to Art majors.

AR-113 Basic Design and Composition Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): AT
Drawing and design disciplines pertaining to a solid and basic understanding of composition, figure-ground relationships and the organization of marks and shapes on flat surfaces. Some beginning aspects of color and an experience relating to relief forms.

AR-114 Basic Design and Color Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-113 and AR-191
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A continuation of material covered in Basic Design and Composition (AR-113) with emphasis on the study of color and its relationship to various aspects of drawing and design. Color will be studied in two specific ways: the physicality of color and the illusionistic possibilities inherent in color. To put it simply, physicality pertains to color mixing or painting, and illusion relates to the interaction of color.

AR-116 Three-Dimensional Design Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-113 and AR-191
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Three-dimensional design takes 2D design knowledge and experience and brings it into the third dimension. This course develops a sensitivity to a wide range of 3D media, processes, and concepts, including digital modeling and 3D printing. Studio hours to be arranged.
AR-172 Introduction to Digital Design
Prerequisite(s): AR-113
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
An introduction to basic graphic design and visual communication concepts. Builds on the skills learned in foundation courses in basic design and complements the introduction to the field in Graphic Design Studio I, AR-269. Students will become proficient in design concepts and computer skills later used in the Graphic Design field, including page layout, illustration, photography, and Web design. They will continue to develop creative problem-solving skills and the foundation theory of Graphic Design.

AR-177 Introduction to Digital Design for Non-Art majors
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Designed for students with little or no experience in computer graphics. Combines basic visual problem solving with hands-on, computer-based digital training. Projects are designed with the non-art/design major in mind and would be appropriate for students majoring in journalism, communications, marketing and music industry.

AR-178 Web Studio
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): IM
An introduction to the visual aesthetics and fundamental skills required to create web graphics and media, digital publication, and web and mobile interface design. Covers the use of current graphics software in addition to training in graphic production and composition needed for the Internet.

AR-181 Digital Photography I
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT, IM
Light and lens are the fundamental elements of photographic and video media. This foundation level course introduces students to the formal characteristics of light and lenses by surveying a variety of image-making practices, from primitive photographic devices to digital photography and video. Through a combination of classroom talks and hands-on projects, students will encounter principles of black-and-white and color photography as well as elementary video. Learning camera controls in this manner opens up a wide range of expressive possibilities.

AR-183 Black and White Photography I
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Technical proficiency in basic black and white photography, including exposure, developing, printing, and presentation. Photography is presented as a tool to understand the world and as a means of expression and communication. Students will learn how to interpret and discuss the visual language of photography.

AR-191 Drawing I
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Explore fundamentals of drawing in order to accurately describe nonfigurative volumetric objects. Students are expected to develop a solid understanding of basic drawing elements such as line, value, mass, and space and learn to comprehend the understanding of space, shape, proportion, form, volume, light, and rhythm. Drawing I is a basic hands-on course that introduces the student to various traditional drawing techniques and materials for expression. Working with a basic drawing medium, we will explore fundamental rendering techniques. Six hours per week.

AR-192 Drawing II
Prerequisite(s): AR-191
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A studio course that continues to develop the skills covered in Drawing I, AR-191. Students will be introduced to both traditional and nontraditional concepts and techniques of interpretive and subjective drawing and rendering. Drawing techniques and materials pertaining to the expression of both figurative and nonfigurative subject matter will be explored. The human figure will serve as the primary subject of study with an emphasis placed on the rendering skills. The complex nature of the figure provides students with problems that require serious attention to observational skills in order to correctly render the form. Drawing II utilizes the live, nude model. Six hours per week.

AR-198 Special Topics in Art (100 Level)
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite it will be announced in the course schedule.

AR-199 Independent Study in Art
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided research - A studio project or art history topic. Weekly consultation. May be elected for a total of 6 credits Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

AR-216 Sculpture 1 and 3D Printing
Course Type(s): AT
Sculpture has an incredibly varied history of content, form, material, scale and intent. In this course you will become introduced to basic methods of 3D construction and fabrication, including hand modeling, digital modeling, mold-making, casting, carving and 3D printing. We will work from observation as well as conceptual models. We will explore current sculptural trends, funding and visibility/marketing models. We will also practice creating artist statements to support our work. Confidence in materials and form will lead to an ever-increasing level of craftsmanship and ability to communicate your ideas in 3D form.

AR-217 Sculpture 1
Prerequisite(s): AR-116, AR-191, and AR-192 for art majors
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Sculpture for beginners as well as intermediate students, including modeling from life, plaster, simple casting procedures, found object, installation, digital modeling and 3D printing. Students will be introduced to professional practices in sculpture. Six hours per week. Department chair approval is required for non-art majors.

AR-218 Sculpture II
Prerequisite(s): AR-217
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX3
A direct continuation of AR-217, Sculpture I, processes along with multi-media contemporary practice of interdisciplinary collaboration, artist teams and social practice art. Students will develop professional practices in sculpture. Six hours per week.
AR-221 Painting I
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Prerequisite(s): AR-113, AR-114, AR-191, and AR-192 for art majors
A continuation of AR-221, Painting I, with emphasis on the further development of painterly ideas and creative thinking. Art and Art Education majors must have prerequisites. Six hours of studio work per week. Department chair approval is required for non-art majors.

AR-222 Painting II
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Prerequisite(s): AR-221
Techniques and craftsmanship to facilitate expression in acrylic or oil painting; still-life and landscape subjects. Art and Art Education students must have prerequisite. Six hours of studio work per week. Department chair approval is required for non-art majors.

AR-231 Eco Art
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
With the idea of the artist and non-artist in mind, this course focuses on building creativity, vision, and the ability to synthesize new ideas from across disciplines to form original ideas and solutions around the human/nature relationship. Through individual and collaborative problem-led investigations, students will utilize research, writing, and discussion to create 2D, 3D, and time-based art that engages a specific ecological topic. Particular focus will be placed on eco-artists’ ways of working, eco-art materials, and transdisciplinary research.

AR-241 History of Western Art I
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): ARHIS, AT
Survey of the significant styles and periods in Western art and architecture from Prehistoric to Gothic periods. Weekly lectures and discussions assist students with developing their visual literacy and a critical understanding of the past.

AR-242 History of Western Art II
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ARHIS, AT
Survey of the significant styles and periods in Western art and architecture from the Renaissance to the present. Weekly lecture and discussions assist students with developing their visual literacy and a critical understanding of the past.

AR-253 Digital Photography II
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Prerequisite(s): AR-181
Students develop knowledge of image development, construction, retouching, and collage techniques using traditional film, digital images, and drawing as source material. Students will learn a variety of camera skills, including shooting in RAW format. A critical examination of intent is stressed along with output options and color management. Introduces programs such as Aperture and/or Lightroom to further expand digital workflow skills.

AR-265 Hand Built Ceramics
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
An introduction to clay as a creative material for making both functional and sculptural 3-D forms using various hand-building techniques, including coils, slabs, carving, incising, and their combination. Basic glazing and firing methods will be covered. Slide presentations, group and individual critiques will be part of the curriculum.

AR-266 Wheel Thrown Ceramics
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
An introduction to the potter’s wheel as a tool for creating both functional and sculptural clay forms. In addition to throwing forms on the wheel, students will gain knowledge about glazing and firing techniques. Slide presentations, group, and individual critiques will be part of the curriculum.

AR-269 Graphic Design Studio I
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Prerequisite(s): AR-113 or AR-114
A continuation of Introduction to Digital Design with primary emphasis on more advanced illustration software. Assignments build on previously learned software and concepts. Projects may include illustrative posters, booklets, interiors, and currency design.

AR-270 Graphic Design Studio II
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177, and AR-269
Co-requisite(s): AR-114
Introduces more advanced visual communications and typographic problem solving. Projects strategically test the students’ understanding of design theory, research, writing, and thinking. Individual projects mimic those in a professional design environment and are developed following the traditional creative process. Projects include branding, corporate identity, information design, digital illustration, app design, and packaging.

AR-273 Digital Illustration
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177
A continuation of Introduction to Digital Design with primary emphasis on more advanced illustration software. Assignments build on previously learned software and concepts. Projects may include illustrative posters, booklets, interiors, and currency design.

AR-282 Web Design/Interactive I for Non-BFA Candidates
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): IM
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177
An introduction to web design and development. Covers an overview of the creation of websites and the use of web graphics, web programming, and multimedia through web-based software programs. Other software tools including Photoshop and Illustrator are used to develop design concepts and web content. Fundamentals of graphic production, layout design, and web typography are discussed. Not available to BFA Candidates.
AR-283 Black and White Photography II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-183
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Focuses on advanced technical skills as a means of gaining greater personal and aesthetic understanding. Advanced 35mm camera and printing techniques, basic studio lighting, and exploring different photographic formats including medium, large, and toy cameras, as well as experimental techniques of image making and printing.

AR-284 Web Design/Interactive II for Non-BFA Candidates Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-178 or AR-282
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): IM
Integrates previously learned web design and development concepts. Students will create dynamic web content such as animation, audio/video using web-based software and programming languages. Other software tools including Photoshop, Illustrator, and sound editing programs are used to develop design concepts and web content. Not available to BFA candidates.

AR-286 Principles of 3-D Animation for Non-BFA Candidates Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-177 or AR-181 or CO-145 or AR-284
Course Type(s): IM
Students will learn basic techniques of building three-dimensional, digital objects along with the basic theories and principles of animation using the software Maya. Skills needed to construct 3D objects in Maya will be introduced with hands-on experiences on the Macintosh platform. Meets six hours per week. Not available to Fine Art majors.

AR-287 Typography Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177, and AR-269
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): IM
An introduction to the theory, function, history, and impact of typography in graphic design. This course is an analysis of the shape and form of letters. Investigation and comparison of existing typefaces, type specification and layout in relation to graphic design and the printed piece.

AR-288 Cooperative Education: Art or Graphic Design Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX
An on-site graphic design cooperative work placement. This course may be repeated for credit.

AR-290 Motion Graphics for Non BFA Majors Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177 or CO-145
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): IM, RD
An introduction to the art of time-based, graphic storytelling for non-art/design majors. Emphasis will be placed on the creation of engaging digital environments through the thoughtful integration, manipulation, and orchestration of audio, video elements, typography, and animated logos. Meets six hours a week. Not available to BFA candidates.

AR-298 Special Topics in Art (200 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AR-299 Independent Study in Art Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research - A studio project or art history topic. Weekly consultation. May be elected for a total of 6 credits. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

AR-306 Creative Book Arts Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-114 and AR-192
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to bookbinding and papermaking. Traditional western-style papermaking and several non-adhesive binding structures will be covered. The students will produce a final bound book of sequential images (pages) in any media relevant to her/his discipline. The print lab will be available but not required. AR-351 Methods of Teaching Art I
Prerequisite(s): AR-114, AR-116, AR-192 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

The history and philosophy of art education; the construction of art curricula and the exploration of teaching methods; media and tools appropriate for the educational level. Methods I deals with the needs of the elementary school child. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Hours required. Open to Art majors only. Also listed as ED-351.

AR-352 Methods of Teaching Art II
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

The history and philosophy of art education; the construction of art curricula and the exploration of teaching methods; media and tools appropriate for the educational level. Methods II deals with the needs of the adolescent. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Hours required. Open to Art majors only. Also listed as ED-352.

AR-353 Digital Photography III
Prerequisite(s): AR-253
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

A strong foundation in the technical and aesthetic aspects of color photography through projects utilizing digital RAW files and analog negatives with instruction in color printing and studio lighting as it pertains to the nuances of color. Discussions and critical writings focus on the history and theory of color photography. Combines analog and digital techniques and focuses on more advanced file managing and color control both on the monitor and in the print.

AR-351 Gender, Art, and Society
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): ARHIS, GS

A critical survey about the role of gender in the arts through a study of representational subjects, artists, and patronage. This course considers art's role in the construction of gender as a social structure by drawing from fields that include art history, gender studies, critical race studies, and queer theory.

AR-357 Advanced Typography
Prerequisite(s): AR-287
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

An advanced level course in the study of typography. This course will expand upon topics covered in AR-287 Typography by considering the emotional, expressive, and effective use of typographic elements pertaining to graphic design and visual messaging. Projects will be produced for a variety of applications including: broadsides (print media), original typeface design with Font Lab Studio (digital), and conceptual typography (experimental).

AR-371 Graphic Design Studio III
Prerequisite(s): AR-270
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

Marks the transition from graphic design fundamentals to more complex visual problem solving. Projects focus on original exploration and design in corporate identity and branding. Course topics include: trademark and copyright, marketing research, brand strategy, and design briefs. Students implement concepts through creation of collateral, packaging, and interactive promotion. Professional preparation of work for commercial use is an integral part of this course.

AR-375 Illustration for Gaming
Prerequisite(s): AR-114, AR-172, and AR-192
Course Type(s): None

Introduction and application of illustration as a means toward effective visual communication in the gaming and animation industry. Emphasis on the development of the creative visual concept and its relationship to style, media, technique, and methods of reproduction. Introduction to a variety of traditional and non-traditional techniques.

AR-381 Print: Intaglio/Relief
Prerequisite(s): AR-191 and AR-192
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

Introduction to the printmaking techniques of relief printing; linocut, woodcut, and etching; hard and soft ground, and aquatint. Six hours per week. Department chair approval is required for non-art majors.

AR-382 Print: Lithography and Silkscreening
Prerequisite(s): AR-191 and AR-192
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

Introduction to the printmaking techniques of aluminum plate lithography and Photo Silkscreen, with an emphasis on multiple color and combination Litho/Silkscreen hybrid prints. Six hours per week. Department Chair approval for non-art majors is required.

AR-383 Web Design/Interactive I
Prerequisite(s): AR-253 or AR-374
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

An introduction to web design and production. Covers an overview of the creation of websites and the use of web graphics, web programming, and multimedia through web-based software programs. Fundamentals of graphic production, layout design, web typography, and the principles of Interaction Design and UX Design are discussed.
AR-386 Principles of Animation Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-114
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn the basic theories and principles of animation. An overview of the early history of animation will be given to put current practice into perspective. Students will be introduced to different animation techniques, such as 2D, Stop Motion, and 3D computer animation. They will apply these techniques to complete several short exercises and pick one to complete a final project.

AR-383 Web Design/Interactive II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-383
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An advanced class in web design and development. It extends the design principles and techniques introduced in Web Design/Interactive I. Students will create dynamic web content such as animation, audio/video using web-based software and programming languages. Emerging web technology will be discussed.

AR-387 3D Modeling, Lighting and Rendering Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn how to create virtual objects, both hard surface and organic models, apply materials and lighting, set up a camera, and render professional quality images. Special attention will be given to modeling for animation and real time rendering. The focus will be on the concepts, aesthetics, and practice of generating 3D computer imagery as a means of artistic expression.

AR-384 Web Design/Interactive II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-383
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An advanced class in web design and development. It extends the design principles and techniques introduced in Web Design/Interactive I. Students will create dynamic web content such as animation, audio/video using web-based software and programming languages. Emerging web technology will be discussed.

AR-390 Animation/Motion Graphics I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-181
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): IM, RD
An introduction to the art of time-based, graphic storytelling. Emphasis will be placed on the creation of engaging digital environments through the thoughtful integration, manipulation, and orchestration of audio, video elements, typography, and animated logos.

AR-391 Animation/Motion Graphics 2 Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-290 or AR-390
Course Type(s): IM
Explores the commercial and experiential nature of motion graphics. Projects for this advanced course expand upon established time-based narrative structures for film, video and television. Emphasis will be placed on the synergy of video, writing, storyboarding, editing, and three-dimensional graphic elements.

AR-388 Special Topics in Art (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AR-395 Animation Production Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-386
Course Type(s): None
Students learn how to organize and plan an animation project, add sound and finish their final product. All the steps from concept to final product are covered: Storyboarding, Animatic, Sound, Post-production. While students will make use of computer technology for the practical side of this course, the main focus is on the professional animation process: workflow, planning, and best practices.

AR-394 3-D Environments and Effects Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-393, or AR-387 and AR-392
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Concepts, tools, and techniques for creating realistic natural environments and phenomena (such as moving clouds, fire, and flowing water). Students will sculpt complex polygonal geometry into various terrains including landscapes and foliage. Students will learn to create realistic backgrounds incorporating natural light. Creating realistic shadows will be explored as well. Students will learn how to use particle emitters in order to simulate phenomena such as flowing water, flames, and snow.

AR-392 3-D Animation Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-387
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Building upon the Principles of Animation, students learn to create three dimensional animations, both virtual (3D Computer Animation) and physical (Stop Motion). Character Animation, Procedural animation and simulation, and animation for Real Time applications will be introduced. Students will complete assignments for each of these different types of animation, and complete a final project with their choice of one of these techniques.

AR-393 3-D Animation Production Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-387
Course Type(s): None
Explores the commercial and experiential nature of motion graphics. Projects for this advanced course expand upon established time-based narrative structures for film, video and television. Emphasis will be placed on the synergy of video, writing, storyboarding, editing, and three-dimensional graphic elements.

AR-385 2D Animation Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will be exposed to the fundamental terminology, concepts, and techniques of creating 2D animations to broaden their skills as animators and enhance their overall creative ability. Using pencil and paper in conjunction with computer based techniques, students will gain experience in basic principles of animation including timing, expression of emotion, straight ahead action and pose to pose, key frames and in-betweens. In the assigned projects for this course, students are responsible for controlling and manipulating a subject's perceived volume, weight, proportion, and movement, thus gaining a more thorough understanding of the animation process.

AR-398 Special Topics in Art (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AR-389 Art and Photography Internship Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
An internship in any art and design disciplines with the development of professional competence in the career setting. The placement must enhance a student’s knowledge of his or her chosen field of study. Students are required to complete 50 hours per credit. Sophomore status and permission of the instructor is required to register for this course.

AR-382 Internship Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): AR-290 or AR-390
Course Type(s): None
Concepts, tools and techniques employed in animated storytelling. Students will pre-visualize their projects through storyboarding, planning, and assembling shots in sequence. Students will learn how to combine sound with advanced 3D computer animation. Audio/visual synchronization as well as character lip syncing with phonemes will be explored. Students will construct complex 3D animated stories in Maya and complete a fully animated piece.
AR-399  Independent Study in Art  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research - a studio project or art history topic. Weekly consultation. May be elected for a total of six credits. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

AR-401  Senior Portfolio  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A seminar class that chronologically analyzes and refines graphic design and computer projects, which have been done throughout the student's coursework. Meetings with instructor to discuss and critique reworked and new projects that have been specifically assigned.

AR-402  Photography Portfolio  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-353
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Equal parts seminar and studio in its approach, this senior-level course incorporates discussions and readings focused on contemporary photo-based artworks and the theoretical and critical developments in recent photographic art practices. In addition, this course helps prepare students to enter the professional art world and/or graduate school. Students develop a cohesive portfolio of photographic imagery and create a strategy for the presentation of their work.

AR-403  Advanced Digital Imaging and Illustration  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-253 or AR-374
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
For student designers and fine artists with intermediate computer skills who are interested in more advanced concepts and creative techniques in digital illustration, photography, digital collage, printmaking and handmade techniques, digital book publishing, and large format printing. Programs to be explored are Adobe Photoshop and Wacom digital tablets.

AR-404  Responsive Media  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-145 or AR-181
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTP, IM
Students learn how to make interfaces for smart phones and tablets to create interactive audio and video. In addition, students produce creative projects using data mapping, generative art and work collaboratively on a site-specific media project. Also listed as CO-404.

AR-408  Senior Year Experience: Client/Thesis  Credits: 3
Co-requisite(s): AR-383
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
The first part of a two course, senior year capstone experience designed to provide students the opportunity to propose and research a thesis project, create entry-level, professional design work, and to work with clients all while under the direction of a faculty member. For BFA majors Graphic Design majors only.

AR-409  Senior Year Experience: Thesis/Portfolio  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-408
Co-requisite(s): AR-384
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The second part of a two course, senior year capstone experience designed to provide students the opportunity to complete a thesis project, work with clients under the direction of a faculty member, successfully mount their senior exhibition for AR-SHO credit, and to create an entry-level, professional design portfolio. For BFA Graphic Design Majors only.

AR-410  Advanced Project I  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Research, art making, and writing for Honors Project may be conducted for photography, painting, sculpture, printmaking, graphic design, Web design, or motion graphics and is determined by a student's particular discipline and medium of choice. The art to be made is informed by the student's research and is articulated in full through a final eighteen- to twenty-page research paper. The topic of research may include but is not limited to identity, gender roles in culture, feminism, religion, the occult, consumerism, politics, cultural diversity, war, personal experience, Renaissance vs. contemporary art, Greek vs. contemporary sculpture, etc. Alternatively, the student may also conduct a thorough exploration of the characteristics of a particular medium. Art and Design faculty must approve the topic. This is the first part of a two-semester class. To register for this course, students must have Junior standing or higher, permission of the department chair, a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00, a major G.P.A. of 3.50, and the student must be an art or fine arts major.

AR-411  Advanced Project 2  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): AR-410, a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00, a major G.P.A. of 3.50, Junior status, EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor, and the student must be an Art or Fine Arts major and have permission of the department chair

Research, art making, and writing for Honors Project may be conducted for photography, painting, sculpture, printmaking, graphic design, Web design or motion graphics and is determined by a student's particular discipline and medium of choice. The art to be made is informed by the student's research and is articulated in full through a final eighteen- to twenty-page research paper. The topic of research may include but is not limited to identity, gender roles in culture, feminism, religion, the occult, consumerism, politics, cultural diversity, war, personal experience, Renaissance vs. contemporary art, Greek vs. contemporary sculpture, etc. Alternatively, the student may also conduct a thorough exploration of the characteristics of a particular medium. Art and Design faculty must approve the topic. This is the second part of a two-semester class.

AR-414  Group Project in 3D Animation  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-394 or AR-395
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn how to work on a production team for a 3D project. Students will work in a team environment to brainstorm, communicate effectively, develop project goals, and delegate responsibilities. Students will learn how to meet deadlines both individually and collectively. Student groups are expected to produce a 3D animated piece with an estimated three-minute duration.
AR-415 Senior Animation Reel Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-414
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will create a reel between two to three minutes in duration of their animation work from previous animation projects and new animation projects. Includes lecture, discussion, demonstration, critiques and individual meetings with students to support the development of students' work. Students will research self-promotional opportunities such as competitions and festivals. Students will revise their resume to respond to their career interests. Emphasis will be placed on the development of a personal point of view.

AR-488 Cooperative Education: Art or Graphic Design Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-335 or AR-337 and departmental approval
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
An on-site graphic design cooperative work placement. This course may be repeated for credit.

AR-489 Internship in Art and Design Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): AR-374, Junior standing, and permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
An internship in either graphic design or fine arts at an off-campus work site. The placement must enhance a student’s working knowledge of his or her chosen field of study. Students are required to complete a minimum of ten hours per week for a total minimum of 150 hours.

AR-498 Special Topics in Art (400 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite it will be announced in the course schedule.

AR-499 Independent Study in Art Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research - a studio project or art history topic. Weekly consultation. May be elected for a total of six credits. Students must have Senior standing and prior permission of the directing professor and department chair to take this course.

Communication

Chair: Aaron Furgason, Department of Communication

In our commitment to students’ personal, professional, and public success, the mission of the Department of Communication is to provide a rigorous, ethical, collaborative, and culturally responsive learning environment. We embrace civic participation ideals and provide rich opportunities for written, oral, and technological communication competence, research skills, intercultural appreciation, and professional readiness.

The Department serves this mission at the undergraduate level through its three clusters:

• Communication Studies,
• Journalism and Public Relations, and
• Media Studies and Production.

Student Honor Societies: Alpha Epsilon Rho (Media Studies and Production), Lambda Pi Eta, the National Communication Honor Society.

Departmental approval, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, and completion of thirty credits is required to take this course.

CJ-480   Criminal Justice Research Project  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CJ-315, Junior or Senior standing, and permission of the instructor and department chair
Course Type(s): None
Active participation in a research project chosen by and currently being pursued by the faculty sponsor. Student activities may include but are not limited to: literature search, data collection, data analysis, and preparation of a manuscript.

CJ-488   Cooperative Education: Criminal Justice  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Professional work experience in a criminal justice-related position.
Departmental approval, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, and completion of thirty credits is required to take this course.

CJ-489   Internship in Criminal Justice II  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): EX1
Directed individual study of Criminal Justice in areas of special interest.
Junior standing or higher is required to take this course. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

CJ-490   Seminar in Criminal Justice  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): CJ-315 and Senior standing in Criminal Justice
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CJHLS
Selected topics in criminal justice; presentation and discussion of a research paper. Homeland Security majors should register for HLS-490.

CJ-498   Special Topics in Criminal Justice (400 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in criminal justice to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CJ-499   Independent Study in Criminal Justice  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms

Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum.
Senior standing, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.50 and prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.
HLS-101 Introduction to Homeland Security Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the fundamental components of homeland security. The course examines historic events that shaped homeland security policy and practice, as well as providing students with an understanding of the interdisciplinary, interagency, interjurisdictional, and all-hazards nature of homeland security. Homeland security hazards include adversarial/human caused threats (terrorism, crime), natural threats (hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, storms), and technological/accidental threats (industrial/transportation). Homeland security policies and practices endeavor to prevent, mitigate, respond to, and help the Nation recover from all hazards.

HLS-199 Independent Study in Homeland Security Credits: 3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Homeland Security topic not substantially treated in a regular course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to register for this course.

HLS-235 GIS Applications in Homeland Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-224
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the basic theories in Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Provides students with a hands-on practical approach to analyze homeland security related data. Students will develop a skill set to map homeland security data and perform spatial analytical tasks. Also listed as GIS-235.

HLS-245 Strategic Security Management Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): HLS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Analysis of the post-September 11, 2001 strategic security environment. The course focuses on threat and vulnerability assessments, and the use of data to drive security strategy. Students will assess and evaluate current and evolving business practices to protect private sector and government architecture and critical infrastructure assets. The course explores current and evolving security technology, techniques, procedures, and risk-based resource allocation of personnel and security-technologies.

HLS-285 Domestic and International Terrorism Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Provides students with an in-depth examination of terrorism and its implications for society. Examines terrorist ideologies, motivations, goals, strategies, and tactics. Focuses on issues related to the operational and organizational dynamics of terrorist organizations, state and political terrorism, religious-motivated terrorism, domestic terrorism, the relationship between the media and terrorism, terrorist tactics and targeting, and counter-terrorism methodologies.

HLS-286 Principles of Emergency Management Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the background components and systems involved in the management of disasters and other emergencies. Focusing on the United States, the course will illustrate current practices, strategies and key players involved in emergency management.

HLS-287 Theoretical Approaches to Homeland Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): HLS-101, HLS-285, HLS-286, EN-101, and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Examines the various theories that describe, explain, predict, and judge the causes of terrorism and crime, as well as the behaviors associated with natural, technological/accidental, and adversarial/human caused disasters. Topical issues include terrorism, transnational crime, extreme weather, and emergent threats including climate, economic, energy, environmental, food, human, technology, and water security.

HLS-298 Special Topics in Homeland Security Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in Homeland Security to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

HLS-299 Introduction to Homeland Security Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Homeland Security topic not substantially treated in a regular course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to register for this course.

HLS-301 Homeland Security Intelligence Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101, EN-102, and HLS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Examines the role of intelligence in homeland security policy and practice. The course focuses on the duties and responsibilities of intelligence collectors, analysts, and policy makers in the intelligence cycle. Topical issues include intelligence policy, law and ethics; threat and vulnerability assessments; and interagency information-sharing processes.

HLS-302 Advanced Homeland Security Intelligence Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): HLS-301
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): None
Examines the role of strategic intelligence in homeland security policy and practice. The course focuses on intelligence methodologies that bring a broad range of information to bear on difficult strategic questions, select that information which is most significant, and then tailor the information for decision makers. The course will examine recent terrorist attacks and other events with strategic implications as well as projected future threats.

HLS-303 Open Source Intelligence Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): HLS-301
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Open source intelligence is publically available information including academic and trade publications, court documents, news sources, business websites, and social networks, forums, and blogs that are collected, evaluated, and disseminated in a timely manner for the purposes of addressing specific intelligence requirements. The course examines the rapidly evolving open-source information landscape and the implications for U.S. homeland security. Students will apply the tenets of open-source intelligence to current homeland security issues.
HLS-310 Transport Security
Prerequisite(s): HLS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Examines transportation security issues in the homeland security era. The course examines topics associated with the security of aircraft, airports, bridges, roadways, seaports, vehicles, trains, train stations, vessels, tunnels, waterways, and utilities (cable lines, telephone lines, pipelines, and powerlines), as well as border security, hazardous material risks, intermodal transportation, and supply chain resilience. The course also examines technological solutions employed to enhance transportation security.

HLS-315 Homeland Security Research Methods
Prerequisite(s): CJ-211 or MA-151, EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Introduces students to the principles of scientific research in criminal justice. It begins with a description of the importance of research by criminal justice and homeland security organizations and moves toward the tenets of sound research practices, including: the formulation or a research question, developing a hypothesis, collecting data, measurement, analysis, and evaluation. Special attention is devoted to practical, ethical, and political issues that can arise when conducting research. Also listed as CJ-315.

HLS-320 Critical Infrastructure Security
Prerequisite(s): HLS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the identification and protection of the Nation's sixteen critical infrastructure sectors, and their roles in homeland security. The course examines the roles of government and the private sector in identifying, mitigating, and protecting critical infrastructure from all-hazards. The course focuses on risk-based implementation of protective measures and practices.

HLS-335 Advanced Geographic Information Systems and Homeland Security
Prerequisite(s): HLS-235 or GIS-235
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will build upon the skills and information learned in HLS-235 Geographical Information Systems and Homeland Security to demonstrate advanced techniques in the analysis of spatial data to help the homeland security enterprise prevent, mitigate, respond to, and recover from intentional, natural, and accidental threats. Also listed as GIS-335.

HLS-375 Homeland Security Internship
Prerequisite(s): CJ-101 or HLS-101, EN-101, EN-102 and permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CJHLS, EX1, WT
Provides practical experiences in the administration of criminal justice and homeland security through assignments to criminal justice and homeland security agencies under the joint-supervision of agency officials and Monmouth University instructors. Course assignments include a resume and cover letter application for an internship; journaling of real-world professional experiences; and the evaluation of criminal justice/homeland security policies and practices.

HLS-385 Cyber Security
Prerequisite(s): HLS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The internet and cyber technologies have created unparalleled opportunities for commerce, education, entertainment, and public discourse. Accompanying these opportunities are unprecedented criminal and terrorist threats. This course examines security issues related to securing the cyber space including information infrastructure maintenance, information assurance, continuity planning, cybercrime, cyber terrorism, privacy, and emerging technologies.

HLS-386 Emergency Management Planning
Prerequisite(s): HLS-286
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CJHLS
This course provides students with a comprehensive overview of emergency management planning. The course examines the multifaceted inter-agency participatory processes inherent to emergency management planning and provides students with the opportunity to develop emergency operations plans with fellow students. Topical issues include the four phases of emergency management, continuity of operations planning (COOP), hazard vulnerability assessment, and business continuity.

HLS-387 Emergency Management Table-Top Exercises
Prerequisite(s): HLS-286
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): CJHLS
This course provides students with a comprehensive overview of emergency management scenario and exercises planning. The course focuses on the National Preparedness System and stakeholder preparedness. Topical issues include table-top exercises, field-exercises, computer generated simulations, assessment, preparedness, core capabilities, and media relations.

HLS-388 Special Topics in Homeland Security
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in homeland security to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

HLS-398 Independent Study in Homeland Security
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Homeland Security topic not substantially treated in a regular course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

HLS-489 Internship in Homeland Security
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in homeland security. Repeatable for credit. Junior standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to register for this course.
HLS-490 Senior Research Project in Homeland Security  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): CJ-315 or HLS-315 and Senior standing
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CJHLS
Provide the student with an opportunity to complete a senior thesis in the area of homeland security. By exploring and analyzing the practical as well as theoretical problems, the student will be able to recommend changes with homeland security based upon empirical study. Criminal Justice majors should register for CJ-490.

HLS-498 Special Topics in Homeland Security  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): HLS-385 or CS-104
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in homeland security to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis.

HLS-499 Independent Study in Homeland Security  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Homeland Security topic not substantially treated in a regular course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to register for this course.

English

Chair: Susan Goulding, Department of English
Director First Year Composition: John P. Hanley
Undergraduate Program Coordinator: Elizabeth Gilmartin-Keating
Graduate Program Director: Mary Kate Azcuy and Alex Gilvarry (M.F.A. Creative Writing)

The major in English is designed to serve various needs within the framework of traditional literary study, creative writing, and rhetoric. Sensitivity to texts and the attendant skills in writing and analysis are useful for a wide range of careers in today’s changing workplace, including careers in law, teaching, editing, journalism, freelance writing, government service, marketing, management, and business. Combining the major with another minor is encouraged.

Departmental Honors will be earned based on the following criteria being met:

- An overall GPA of at least 3.3
- A major GPA of at least 3.5
- Fulfillment of the intermediate-level language requirement for English majors
- Two courses beyond those required for the English major as follows:
  1. complete one course from list of EN 300-400 courses chosen with thesis advisor
  2. complete a second course as an independent study/senior thesis with a grade of “B” or better

Student Honor Society: Sigma Tau Delta, Delta Chapter

Courses

HS-101 Western Civilization in World Perspective I Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
An introduction to the major historical developments in the history of Western society and its intellectual tradition. Secondarily, it is also an introduction to the uses of history itself. Our survey will consider ancient Greece and Rome, Medieval Europe, the Renaissance, the Reformation, and the rise of nation-states in Europe. To understand the history of the West in a larger context, we will examine it in relation to the history of the Middle East, particularly at points of contact such as the Crusades.

HS-102 Western Civilization in World Perspective II Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
A readings-based introduction to Western history, from the seventeenth century to the present, in the perspective of a major non-Western civilization. Topics include the Enlightenment, the Industrial Revolution, the Great Depression, the World Wars, the Cold War, and Globalization.

HS-105 The Verdict of History Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
Students will explore the history of Western civilization through some of its most controversial and pivotal trials. They will study both the historical context and the particulars of such cases, as the trials of Socrates, Jesus of Nazareth, Joan of Arc, Martin Luther, Galileo, the Amistad rebels, Alfred Dreyfus, Oscar Wilde, John Scopes, Sacco and Vanzetti, Adolf Eichmann, and O.J. Simpson.

HS-107 Love and Marriage in Historical Perspective Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
Love and Marriage in Historical Perspective is a reading-and-discussion-based thematic history course. This course is designed to expose students to the history of love and marriage from classical antiquity to the present in global perspective. Marriage is one of the oldest social institutions in human culture; and, as an institution, it has not always been associated with the concept of love. This course considers the transformation of marriage as both a public, private, political, economic, social, and emotional institution that has been fundamental to the development of human societies. This includes a discussion of the Greco-Roman world, the Middle Ages, the Romantic era and marriage in the global village at the present. Why is traditional marriage on the decline in Western societies? What is traditional marriage? When, why, and how did the idea of love get tangled up with marriage and how successful has the love-marriage connection been over time? Why is marriage in crisis? What does love have to do with it? What are the revolutionary implications of the rise and fall of marriage as a love-match? These are some of the questions we will contemplate in this course as associated with issues related to sex, gender, sexuality, race and class by examining love and marriage in literature, poetry, music, and in philosophical treatises on the subject utilizing the historical method as the primary approach.

HS-108 Human Gods: Science, Technology, and Culture in History Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
This is a readings-and-discussion-based history course on the interplay between science, technology, and culture in human societies from the scientific revolution to the human genome project. In this course, we will explore the relationship between what science writer Richard Rhodes has alluded to in his text The Making of the Atomic Bomb as a "Republic of Science" and human culture, as coupled with discussion of the connection between scientific discovery and technological advance (an in turn how technology impacts human culture) within the context of world history. The focal point of this course is to critically examine how scientists are shaped by the cultures they live in and how scientists and their discoveries impact culture. Specifically, we will contemplate how cultural attitudes about race and gender shape scientific inquiry such as with the emergence of race science in the age of Darwin during the nineteenth century, and the emergence of eugenics in the early twentieth century. The overarching theme of the course is "Human Gods" because we will pay close attention to how scientists in their attempts to manipulate nature in the sense "play god" and how playing god may have devastating consequences for marginalized groups in particular and humanity more generally. The various arenas of science and technology including medicine, military technology, and computer technology are examined to demonstrate how individuals, industries, and governments have harnessed science and technology to control nature (such as with disease control, other nations in warfare, and general human activity via computer technologies).

HS-110 Historical Studies Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
Through a deep study of a single historical topic, students will learn how historians draw and revise conclusions about the past. They will examine the uses and abuses to which history is put, and they will practice advancing historical arguments of their own.

This course will examine the political, economic, religious, intellectual, and social lives of a select number of world empires. We will analyze how each of these empires came into being, and why they fell apart. Case studies will include western and non-western empires, and range from the preclassical to the modern.

A historical survey of the evolution of warfare and the interaction of war and society, putting the western experience of war in a larger world perspective.

This course will study Western Civilization in World Perspectives II through the lens of revolution, 1715-2015. As the revolutions are many, due to time constraints, the course will necessarily be limited. It will focus on selected revolutions (subject to change) that impacted the development of the modern west. Transcending national borders and resonating across continents, these revolutions sought an end to tyrannical government, relief from the ravages of the industrial world and freedom from foreign domination and influence. In their efforts to create a better society and a better world, these revolutions, at once heroic and horrific, produced change on an epochal scale that, in some instances, is playing out in the contemporary community.

Environmental history is an introduction to major developments in world history through the lens of environmental change and experience. As, additionally, an introduction to history itself this survey considers the interaction between people, states, empires, and the "natural world" from the "dawn of time" through the present. Students will examine the relationship between human society(ies) and the natural world over recorded time. As an interdisciplinary exercise this class will draw on the natural sciences and history to better understand the biological, cultural, imperial, ethical, economic, religious, political, and global ramifications of the relationship between humanity and humanity’s natural surroundings.

An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in history to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar-basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

The development of the multi-ethnic American nation. Colonial origins, the Revolution, the Age of Jackson, slavery, the Civil War, and Reconstruction.

The study of African-Americans from their first contacts with Europeans through the rise of the Black Power movement in the 1960’s; the status of African-American society and contributions to American culture.

 Defines public history, explains its past, and explores its intricacy to the future of the historical profession. Topics covered will include oral history, museums and archives management, history’s influence on public policy, teaching history, history and the media, cultural tourism, the politics of memory, and digital history. Students will put what they have learned in the classroom to work in the field via a capstone service learning project. All students will, throughout the course of the semester, produce portfolio items suitable for presentation to future employers.

The response to industrialism and the search for a new order by farmers, laborers, immigrants, African-Americans, and reformers.

Surveys the American experience of war, from the first Native American-European contact through the military interventions at the dawn of the twenty-first century; examines not only the major conflicts in this period, but also the evolution of strategy, military institutions, civil-military relations, and the American way of war.

Designed to develop a critical understanding of the historical evolution of advertising in the United States, with critical attention to race, class, gender, and sexuality. We will explore the economic, political, and cultural factors that have contributed to the development of advertising, and which have been affected by advertising. Some of the topics to be discussed include: the rise of national advertising; the relation of advertising to consumption; advertising to children; political advertising, the relationship between advertisers and the medium in which they appear (magazines, television, radio, etc.), and broadcast and Internet advertising. Also listed as AN-220 and GS-220.

Focuses on the analysis of landscapes and artifacts, e.g., monuments, grave markers, cemeteries, and historic sites. Topics discussed include the evolution of American burial grounds from colonial burial grounds to the rural cemeteries of the Victorians, and modern memorial parks. Changing grave marker designs and iconography are examined. Distinct ethnic, regional, and national memorial practices are also studied. Public memorials in the form of statuary, commemorative institutions, and historic sites will also be discussed. There will be field trips to select sites. Also listed as AN-304.

HS-305 Women in US History Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS, HSUS, WT
Surveys women's historical experience in the US. The emphasis of the course will be on how women of different socio-economic backgrounds, races, and ethnic groups have shaped and been affected by US History. Also listed as GS-305.

HS-306 Jazz Age and Harlem Renaissance Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, HSUS, RE, WT
Focus will be on race, gender, class and sexuality in Jazz Age America as related to the development of the Harlem Renaissance. Harlem was the center of black culture in the 1920s; but this "New Negro Movement" stretched far beyond Harlem. In this course, we will explore both the national and transnational dimensions of the Harlem Renaissance and how the culture of the Harlem Renaissance helped to shape modern American culture more broadly. This course will include an examination of the Harlem Renaissance in American history from multiple perspectives including literary, artistic, cinematic, economic and philosophical aspects of the Renaissance in American history.
HS-307 History of Sexuality in America Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, GS, HSUS, RE, WT
Explores the social and cultural history of sexuality in the United States. How race, class, and gender have influenced ideas about sexuality, morality, and power. Major topics include: reproduction, gay and lesbian sexualities, sexually transmitted diseases, and sexual representation and censorship. Also listed as AN-315.

HS-308 The American Civil Rights Movement Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, HSUS, RE
Includes a historical examination of the major personalities, groups, and organizations central to the development of the American Civil Rights Movement in the 1960s. Students will be introduced to important scholarship and participant histories crucial to the Movement through an examination of both primary and secondary source material.

HS-309 Readings in African-American Intellectual History Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, HSUS, RE
Examines some of the major themes and thinkers in the development of the African-American intellectual tradition from the black abolitionists to the present. Major topics of the course include the formation of black oppositional leadership in the Reconstruction south, Booker T. Washington and racial accommodation, W.E.B. DuBois and integration, along with Black Nationalism and contemporary, black-feminist theory.

HS-310 Business and Economic Development of the United States Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HSUS, WT
The impact of political and economic decisions on the structure of society: agrarianism, merchant capitalism, laissez-faire industrialism, neomercantilism, and the social welfare state.

HS-312 Oral History Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn about oral history by reading about it, researching it, and actually doing it. Students will end the semester with a solid understanding of when, why, and how to conduct oral history interviews, as well as an awareness of the logistical, ethical, and legal considerations involved in doing so. All students will, throughout the course of the semester, produce portfolio items suitable for presentation to future employers.

HS-313 History of the Book in America Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HO, HSUS, WT
Examines the impact of printed text in America historical development from the colonial era to the present day. It will cover selected topics that will demonstrate that the printed text in all of its various manifestations was shaped by a nascent and evolving American culture and, in turn, was instrumental in shaping this culture.

HS-314 Exploring History and Heritage Sites Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The days of whitewashed, feel good history; staid curators; dusty, static museum displays; and musty, hushed archives are fading. Today, the public history community is constantly reassessing what constitutes a history or heritage site, and how traditional sites like museums and archives should operate in the 21st century. In this class, we will consider what history and heritage sites look like, and what they can do to stay relevant while still honoring their core values. In addition to reading the latest in the historiography, students will spend several class sessions visiting local sites, which will act as case studies related to designated readings.

HS-315 Field Research in Archaeology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or AN-107 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): EX5, HSUS
Archaeological field methods, analysis of data, and anthropological interpretation; students will do supervised work on local sites. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Also listed as AN-315.

HS-317 Museum and Archives Management Basics Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the best practices and procedures of museum and archives management. Topics covered will include the basics of museum and archives administration, as well as the basics of records management, collections care, exhibition, and interpretation.

HS-318 History of Public Policy Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 or EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, HSUS, PO, WT
A survey of major issues in domestic public policy. Emphasis on changes in the process of policy formulation in both the public and private sectors from the early nineteenth century to the present.

HS-319 History of the American City Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, HSUS, RE, WT
Students study the history of the American city from the colonial era to the present, examining how cultural, economic, geographical, political, and technological factors have influenced urban development and vice versa.

HS-330 The Civil War and Reconstruction Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HSUS, RE, WT
Covers the military, political, and social history of the American Civil War, and the rise, the fall, and the legacies of the postwar Reconstruction.

HS-331 World War II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): HSEU, HSUS, WT
Considers the military, economic, and political characteristics of the Allied and Axis powers and the strategies they produced; examines the military campaigns, the wartime economies, life on the home fronts, the experience of combat, the dynamics of occupation, and the roles of morality and immorality in the conduct of the war.
Examines the development of militant nationalist groups and the ideologies behind militant nationalism over the course of the twentieth century. Several case studies will be examined including, but not necessarily limited to: the Irish Republican Army (IRA), the National Liberation Front of Algeria (FLN), the Euskadi Ta Askatasuna (ETA), and the Tamil Tigers (LTTE).
We will also discuss the ways Africa can become more relevant in global affairs.

Music and Theatre Arts

Chair: Joseph Rapolla, Department of Music and Theatre Arts

The Music curriculum is designed to provide specific knowledge and skills in music and a basic education in the liberal arts. Students entering the Department of Music are required to present evidence of proficiency in their major area of performance.

The Music Industry concentration is designed to prepare students for careers in the music business in areas of specialization, such as music publishing, marketing, talent acquisition, concert production, media relations, and merchandising. Students will also be required to take courses that deal with popular music history and complete an internship program.

Faculty

Sheri R. Anderson, Senior Specialist Professor. B.A., William Jewel College; M.F.A., University of California, San Diego; M.A., Monmouth University. Ms. Anderson has extensive Broadway, off-Broadway, and regional experience as both a director and stage manager. To date, she has done thirteen Broadway productions, two national tours, and numerous regional and off-Broadway shows. Highlights include the Broadway productions of Phantom of the Opera, Little Me, and The Full Monty. She has been privileged to work with such theatrical legends as Neil Simon, Cy Coleman, Jerry Herman, Marvin Hamlisch, Terence McNally, John Guare, Chita Rivera, Rob Marshall, and Horton Foote, as well as Hollywood heavyweights Martin Short, John Lithgow, John Ritter, Henry Winkler, Kevin Spacey, and Madeline Kahn. She spent much of 2003 at Oxford University studying Shakespeare in performance. Fields of interest include theatre history, postcolonial drama, and musical theatre. She is a member of Actors’ Equity Association and Mensa.

Joseph Rapolla, Specialist Professor and Chair. M.B.A., Monmouth University. A recognized music industry innovator, who built and led Award Winning Marketing departments at both Universal and Warner Music Group. Professor Rapolla has directed programs for top talent, such as Madonna, Bon Jovi, Michael Jackson, U2, and Sting, and has partnered with the world’s leading entertainment and media companies. He has earned multiple Gold Records for his work. He is also a songwriter, musician, and producer. He has released three studio CD’s and a film soundtrack, collaborates with top writers and artists in NYC and Nashville, and continues to perform internationally.

<td>Introducing the Beatles!</td>

<td>Fall Term</td>
<td>AT, HY</td>
<td>This course addresses the Beatles' musical career in terms of their wide-ranging cultural and artistic influence. Particular attention will be devoted to examining their songs within the context of their composition and in terms of their place (and placement) on the band's albums. In addition to investigating their biographical lives, we will discuss the Beatles' overtly literary and textual intentions, especially their various attempts at irony, parody, and satire. This course's chronological design is arranged in order to capture the band's artistic trajectory from two-track recording and the relatively primitive Please Please Me album through the sonic heights of Revolver, Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band, The White Album, and Abbey Road. The thrust of this course is interpretive in nature, with the Beatles' songs and albums receiving considerable scrutiny in terms of their composition, production, and attendant musicianship. Developments in recording and instrument technology are germane to our understanding of the Beatles' evolving aesthetic, as is the bandmates' development as songwriters who eventually eschew issues associated with romance in order to address larger and more prescient subjects in their music such as loneliness, oppression, nostalgia, ethics, and redemption.</td>

PS-278  International Political Economy  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GLS, PSIP, RE
The role that international institutions, transnational actors, and foreign governments play in the production, distribution, and consumption of resources will be investigated. Since much of international political economy has to do with various thinkers and schools of thought, an appropriate emphasis will be given to some of the important works in the field. For example, we will be analyzing the contributions of Liberal, Marxist, and Statist thinkers and the various perspectives that have been used to analyze the way policies are made, agreements are reached, and resources distributed. Following the establishment of this theoretical framework, we will focus on the growth of regional integration, the role of hegemony in maintaining the stability of international systems, strategies of economic development, and the role of multinational and transnational companies in both the industrial and developing world. In essence, this course is concerned with looking at the relationship between power and wealth and the balance between the state and the market. Also listed as SO-278.

PS-288  Cooperative Education: Political Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or PS-103

The evolution of law, social forces influencing law, social impact of law, and law as an instrument of social control and social change. Also listed as SO-364.
PS-365  Sports Law I: Governance and Regulation  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): PSAL
Sports law is a subfield of law and political science that examines a broad mixture of laws that apply to athletes and the sports they play. Many legal scholars argue that the term "sports law" is a misnomer because "sports" represent the convergence of activity and entertainment that is governed by the legal system in its entirety. Accordingly, this course provides an overview of many areas of the law, particularly in the realm of governance and regulations. Through the assigned readings and research projects, students will gain valuable insight as to how "sports" are regulated by the laws of our country but also by the governing bodies and institutions that oversee the formation, activity, and "entertainment" of each sport. This course is related to Sports Law II: The Business of Sports Law in that both courses provide student with in-depth analysis of law as it relates to sports but also how "sports law" impacts society, business and the economy. However, the courses are non-sequential and students can be successful in each course independent from the other as they are both designed to be introductory courses related to governance and regulation, and legal implications in the business of sports, respectively.

PS-366  Sports Law II: The Business of Sports Law  Credits: 3

SO-245 Theories of Society I
Prerequisite(s): EN-101, EN-102, and SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
The wide range of theoretical paradigms that characterized the discipline of sociology from the emergent period of industrialization to the rise of modernity are investigated. More specifically, the major foundations of classical sociology theory as it emerged in the mid-nineteenth century, moving beyond the narrowly constructed cannon of Marx, Weber and Durkheim, toward a more accurate and inclusive look at our intellectual roots as manifested in the works of Gilman, Simmel, DuBois and Mead are explored. Throughout the course, we critically engage in a kind of "sociology of knowledge" as we situate these central ideas and schools of thought in the social, political and economic contexts of the larger society, as well as their specific social history of the discipline. Finally, we engage the course with a preview of the ways in which the wide range of theoretical paradigms that characterized the nascent years of the discipline of sociology set the stage for the development of the modernist and postmodernist traditions, including, but not limited to critical theory; structural functionalism; symbolic interactionism; and feminist and critical race theories.

SO-250 Fundamentals of Social Science Research
Course Type(s): TL

Designed to develop students' understanding of the major purposes of social research as well as the major types of quantitative and qualitative research designs. Students will learn the research process itself, from conceptualization and measurement to operationalization, sampling, ethics, and the analysis and presentation of their proposed study. As part of the research process, students will use spreadsheet, presentation, and word processing software to build datasets, analyze data, and design and present research. Also listed as PS-250. Political Science majors should register for PS-250. This course is for Sociology majors only, or other majors with instructor permission.
SO-278 International Political Economy Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GLS, PSIP
The role that international institutions, transnational actors, and foreign governments play in the production, distribution, and consumption of resources will be investigated. Since much of international political economy has to do with various thinkers and schools of thought, an appropriate emphasis will be given to some of the important works in the field. For example, we will be analyzing the contributions of Liberal, Marxist, and Statist thinkers and the various perspectives that have been used to analyze the way policies are made, agreements are reached, and resources distributed. Following the establishment of this theoretical framework, we will focus on the growth of regional integration, the role of hegemony in maintaining the stability of international systems, strategies of economic development, and the role of multinational and transnational companies in both the industrial and developing world. In essence, this course is concerned with looking at the relationship between power and wealth and the balance between the state and the market. Also listed as PS-278.

SO-280 Peer Tutoring Credits: 1
Course Type(s): None
Peer tutoring experience. Students will prepare course-related information for presentation to students in classes at the 100- or 200-levels. Peer tutors will meet weekly with a faculty supervisor and assigned students. Permission of the instructor required.

SO-298 Special Topics in Sociology (200 Level) Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in sociology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SO-299 Independent Study in Sociology Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum. Student must have a 2.50 cumulative G.P.A. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SO-302 Data Analysis for Social Sciences Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-250 or SO-250
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to techniques used to evaluate social science data; addresses strategies for analyzing qualitative data and presents social science applications of quantitative techniques such as cross tabulation, t-test, and regression. Students will learn to apply procedures to test hypotheses. Also listed as PS 302.

SO-307 Practicum in Applied Social Research Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-250 or SO-250
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SJS
An advanced introduction to the principles and methods of conducting social science research for the express purpose of solving social problems. Informed by sociological theories in the tradition of public sociology, students will explore a wide range of applied research strategies, including: community-based research (CBR); participatory action research (PAR); policy research; evaluation research; and power analyses for community organizing. The course also addresses key ethical, political and logistical challenges that shape the work of applied social scientists in the field.

SO-309 Sociology Internship Seminar Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Provides an opportunity for students to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience. Includes both academic and experiential learning. The experiential part involves a minimum of 120 hours of work experience during the semester for three credit hours. The academic aspect includes maintaining a journal log and writing a final report. Also listed as PS-309.

SO-316 Policy Research Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The principles of social research, with emphasis on an understanding of the policy-making or planning process; development of applied research skills, combining policy-making, implementation, and scientific or empirical research.

SO-320 Small Group Communication Credits: 3
Course Type(s): EX3
Students explore academic perspectives on the process of group communication, leadership, conflict, decision-making, and problem solving, then reflect on and apply these perspectives outside the classroom in the context of a service learning project. Also listed as CO-320.

SO-325 Survey Research Consulting Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-250 or SO-292 or SW-409 or PY-220 or CJ-315 or HLS-315 or HE-290 or NU-355 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Provides students with real-world experience in the application of social science methodology, specifically survey research. The course is designed to strengthen social science research methods skills as well as competencies in professional communication and collaboration. Students, as a class, will work on a small-scale project (e.g., needs assessment, program evaluation, marketing study, etc.) for a “client” - a non-profit organization, government agency, small business, or academic institute - who has agreed to collaborate as a service learning opportunity. The client is not paying for this service and understands the limitations of working with consultants-in-training. However, the course will strive to adhere to the highest standards in both survey research practice and the client-consultant relationship. Also listed as PS-325.

SO-331 Political Sociology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Course Type(s): None
Analysis of the interplay among political and social behavior, bureaucracies, voluntary associations, and government. The social basis of democracy; emphasis on conflict and consensus models of power.
SO-332  Gender and Sexual Identities  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, GS, SI, SJS
Draws on sociological and feminist theories of identity to question the definitions, constructions, deconstructions, ambiguities, and socially constructed nature of gender and sexual identities. In questioning such identities, this course aims at helping students understand the connections between gender and sexuality, and how those two social forces shape people's individual identities and the identities of others. Examines how structures of race, class, gender, and sexuality, and social institutions such as family and work shape gender and sexual identities. It pays particular attention to how ones' social location within power structures shapes personal identities. Also listed as SW-332.

SO-360  Political Economy in the Developing World  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): PSIP, SJS
This course introduces undergraduate students to the core concepts, theories and debates of political economy in the context of developing world countries. The primary unit of analysis will be the national case study (i.e., Brazil or Indonesia) rather than the international system or international institutions (for example, World Bank, IMF or global financial markets.) The aim is to provide the intellectual tool set to evaluate questions and challenges of political and economic development and modernization across a range of national case studies from Latin America, the Caribbean, Africa, the Middle East and Asia. Also listed as PS-360.

SO-364  Law and Society  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101 or PS-101 or PS-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SIN, SJL
The evolution of law, social forces influencing law, social impact of law, and law as an instrument of social control and social change. Also listed as PS-364.

SO-368  Applied Ethics in American Prisons  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-271 or CO-271
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SJS
The second in the sequence of the Monmouth University Academic Exchange Program, a collaborative effort between Monmouth University and the New Jersey Department of Corrections. This program, of which this course is a requirement, is offered by Monmouth University to help to facilitate a transformative exchange of ideas and perspectives on the topics of ethics and social issues between incarcerated students and non-incarcerated students inside a New Jersey prison. Also listed as CO-368.

SO-369  Feminist Theories  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-225 or GS-225
Course Type(s): GS
Advanced exploration of the major currents of feminist social theory as they have emerged from feminist movement histories in the U.S. and globally. Students will critically examine competing feminist explanations for the history and persistence of gender inequality, as well as deconstruct sex, gender, sexuality from a range of feminist perspectives. The course will also invite students to consider what it means to be "feminist" and how these meanings are connected to the relations and tensions between gender, sexuality, race/ethnicity, class, ability, and nation. In particular, students will compare and contrast key concepts and theoretical assumptions of major feminist theories with a commitment to intersectional analyses. Students will also apply feminist theory to better understand social relationships, organizations, and politics, and self-reflect on how course content applies to their lives as people situated within multiple social contexts and identities. Also listed as GS-369.

SO-371  International Service Seminar  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, PSIP
Students will learn to unite theory and practice by studying theories and policies based on human security, and learning about their applications through service-learning projects. Students will enhance their understanding of human security by volunteering in international community organizations and reflecting on the social, political, and economic factors and policies that affect them. Also listed as SW-371, AN-371, and PS-371.

SO-375  Social Movements and Social Change  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 9 credits in Sociology
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Overview of major contemporary and classical theories of social change within an international and historical context; the social impact of change; effects of social variables on change processes; and assessment of predictive models of change.

SO-379  Work and Society  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 3 credits in Sociology
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SIN
An examination of the individual experience of work: socialization, occupational choice, career development, worker (dis)satisfaction, and unemployment; the organization of work: bureaucracy, professionalism, racism and sexism, theories of motivation, and the reward structure.
SO-390 Washington Center Internship Credits: 7-12
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5
This internship allows students in all majors to intern at government agencies, public service organizations and business associations located in Washington, DC. Under the supervision of Washington Center supervisors and faculty, students gain substantive entry-level professional experience along with academic credit over the course of one semester. In general, students are required to intern in a government agency or public organizations four and a half days per week and attend educational seminars, workshops and participate in professional forums conducted by the Washington Center. In addition, students must complete learning objectives and assignments specified by Monmouth University faculty sponsors. Also listed as SO-390 and PS-390. Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.50 is required to register for this course.

SO-393 Washington Center Course Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students participating in a Washington Center Internship are required to enroll in a three credit seminar. A list of available courses is forwarded to all students prior to the beginning of the Fall, Spring, and Summer term. Regular offerings include: politics, professional communication, the fine and performing arts, and economics. Also listed as CO-393 or PS-393. Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.50 is required to take this course.

SO-396 Sociology of Education Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, SIN
Encourages students to study education as a social institution using a sociological lens, and to become involved with the education of youth in the local area. The course is divided into three parts. The first part introduces students to the study of education as a social institution, particularly examining how social inequalities such as race, class, gender, and sexuality shape educational experiences of youth today. Students will also examine the cultural, social, economic, and political structures that shape education as a social institution. The second part of the course involves preparing students to tutor youth in surrounding towns. The preparation will be accomplished through theoretical discussions of what it means to be a good tutor, and through practical training to be administered in collaboration with local tutoring organizations. Through the auspices of local organizations, the third part of the course involves Monmouth students tutoring students from local schools in basic subjects such as math, language arts, and social studies. Students must be available to tutor three to four days a week for a total of ten hours per week. This course is open to students who have completed twenty-nine credits or more.

SO-397 The Sociology of Aging Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, WT
A service learning course that encourages students to become involved with the elderly population in the area. It introduces students to the sociological study of social gerontology or, more specifically, aging. Students will examine the cultural, social, and political structures that define the aging process and will study and practice ethnographic, life history in order to conduct life histories of seniors within the local community.

SO-398 Special Topics in Sociology (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): PY 103 or GS-225 or SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in sociology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite it will be announced in the course schedule.

SO-399 Independent Study in Sociology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum. Students must have at least a 2.50 cumulative G.P.A. and prior permission of the directing professor and department chair to take this course.

SO-403 Theories of Society II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101, EN-102 and 9 credits in Sociology
Course Type(s): WT
The wide range of theoretical paradigms that characterized the discipline of sociology from the emergent period of modernity to our current postmodern era is investigated. In the first half of the course, the traditions of critical theory; structural functionalism; symbolic interactionism; and phenomenology as key schools of thought in the modernist period are examined. In the second half, the most contemporary, and overlapping, additions to the theoretical landscape in sociology in our study of feminist and gender theories; critical race theories; post-modernism; and global theoretical perspectives are examined. Throughout the course, there will be critical engagement in a kind of "sociology of knowledge" as we situate these central ideas and schools of thought in the classic theoretical traditions from which they may intellectually descend, as well as in the more current political and economic contexts that influenced the emergence of these contemporary perspectives.

SO-490 Sociology Thesis Proposal Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101, 9 credits in Sociology and completion of fifty-seven credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Provides students with the opportunity to begin the process of conducting original research in sociology in which they will ultimately produce primary research, analyze data, and write up their findings, discussion, and conclusions. This course allows students to begin the work that they will complete in Sociology Thesis class (SO-491), thus ultimately resulting in a final Senior thesis. Students will write a comprehensive thesis proposal including an introduction and statement of purpose, theory section, literature review, and preliminary methods section.

SO-491 Sociology Thesis Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): RD
Provides students with the opportunity to complete an original research project in sociology in which they will conduct primary research, analyze their data, and write up their findings, discussion, and conclusion. This course will also allow students to combine the work conducted in their proposal class (SO-490) with the work conducted in this semester, thus resulting in a complete Senior thesis. Students will present their work two times: once as practice for the class and a second time for members of the Department of Political Science and Sociology and invited guests. Hence, the goal of this course is to present a holistic perspective to students and serve as their gateway to future studies and plans.

Psychology

Chair: Christine J. Hatchard, Department of Psychology

The psychology curriculum focuses on the scientific study of behavior and mental processes. Majoring in psychology can lead to employment in business and industry (in fields such as human resources and applied research), social agencies, hospitals, and various other mental health settings. The curriculum provides excellent preparation for graduate school and a wide variety of career paths within and outside of psychology.

Student Honor Society: Psi Chi

Faculty

Natalie Ciarocco, Professor. B.A., M.A., Ph.D., Case Western Reserve University. General area of interest in social psychology. Within social psychology, specializes in self-regulation and how it impacts interpersonal relationships.
nciarocc@monmouth.edu

Lisa Dinella, Professor. B.A., The College of New Jersey; M.S., Ph.D., Arizona State University. Licensed Marriage and Family Counselor. Interests include how gender development impacts individuals' life decisions and development, particularly in terms of education and career trajectories.
ldinella@monmouth.edu

Jamie Goodwin-Uhler, Specialist Professor. B.A., Susquehanna University; M.S., Loyola University; Ph.D., Ball State University. Research interests include attachment theory, friendships and relational aggression/victimization, gender issues and feminism, couples and family counseling, human sexuality, and sexual assault. Additional interest includes the psychological and sociocultural aspects of Internet fandom.
jgoodwin@monmouth.edu

Emma B. Greenspon, Assistant Professor. B.S., University of Richmond; M.A., Ph.D., University of Buffalo, The State University of New York. Research interests include defining the cognitive mechanisms that underlie vocal communication, with a focus on auditory imagery and auditory memory.
egreensp@monmouth.edu

Christine J. Hatchard, Associate Professor and Chair. B.A., Monmouth University; M.S., Psy.D., Chestnut Hill College. Specialization in object relations therapy and emotion, personality assessment, eating disorders, human sexuality, and therapeutic considerations in the context of mother-daughter sexual abuse.
chatchar@monmouth.edu
Robyn Holmes, Professor. B.A., M.A., Ph.D., Rutgers University. Specialization is in child development with a primary interest in children’s play and ethnographic methods. Current research focuses upon relationship play and culture, play and learning, and recess, most recently in the Pacific Rim. Teaching and research interests include interdisciplinary and cross-cultural approaches.

Gary Lewandowski, Professor. B.A., Millersville; M.A., Ph.D., State University of New York at Stony Brook. General area of interest is social psychology. Within social psychology, specializes in close romantic relationships, involving such topics as interpersonal attraction, love, relationship maintenance, and relationship dissolution. Specifically, research focuses on how entering, maintaining, and losing romantic relationships influences the self.

Lindsay Mehrkam, Assistant Professor. B.A., Franklin and Marshall College; M.S., Ph.D., University of Florida. Primary areas of interest include animal behavior, behavior analysis, and human-animal interactions with an emphasis on how the environment influences play, aggression, and stereotypic behavior in companion and exotic animals, how to promote behavioral choices and welfare of captive animals, and how to best conduct formal evaluations of training and enrichment practices in a variety of animal settings, as well as the assessment of human-animal interactions in therapeutic applications and in broader society.

Judith Nye, Associate Professor. B.S., M.S., Ph.D., Virginia Commonwealth University. Specialization is in the area of experimental social psychology with a primary interest in social cognition. Current research focuses on group processes, specifically impression formation and the relationship between leaders and followers. Of additional and related interest are sex role stereotypes.

Janice C Stapley, Associate Professor. B.A., Russell Sage College; M.S., Ph.D., Rutgers University. Special areas of interest are developmental psychology and emotion regulation. Research program is focused on gender, emotion, and adjustment during emerging adulthood.

Michele Van Volkom, Senior Lecturer. B.A., Seton Hall University; M.A., Ph.D., State University of New York at Albany. Current research interests include intergenerational and gender differences in communication and technology use. Research interests include family relationships, especially the relationship between siblings, as well as the link between tomboyism in childhood and gender roles in adulthood.

Courses

PY-103 Introduction to Psychology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS.SV
The scientific study of behavior and mental processes, including motivation, emotion, intelligence, maturation, learning, personality, perception, and thinking.

PY-202 Career Preparation in Psychology Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An orientation to career opportunities available with a background in psychology as well as preparation for employment and graduate/professional training in psychology. For Psychology majors only.

PY-203 Child Psychology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NU.EL
Physical and mental development from conception to early adolescence; motor, emotional, and social behavior; intelligence and language development; personality formation; play and other imaginative activities.

PY-204 Adolescent Psychology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NU.EL
Students are given up-to-date knowledge of the field of developmental psychology in general but particularly focuses on issues that are relevant to individuals as they transition from being children to young adolescents; as they go through the physical, emotional, cognitive, and social changes of adolescence; and finally as they experience emerging adulthood. It will enable students to understand, contrast, and critically evaluate various developmental theories that apply to adolescent development. Both the normative patterns of adolescent development and individual variability within these norms are covered.

PY-205 Psychology of Adulthood and Aging Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Development from mid-life to old age; physical, intellectual, social, emotional, and personality changes, interests, attitudes, and maladjustments with emphasis on later life.

PY-207 Social Psychology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A survey of human behavior and mental processes in their social context. Addresses interpersonal processes, including social influence, relationships, prosocial and antisocial behavior, prejudice, and group dynamics. Also addresses intrapersonal processes, including the self, social perception, social cognition, cognitive dissonance, and attitudes.

PY-208 Psychopathology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An examination of the theoretical and clinical perspectives underlying various psychological disorders, including etiology, symptoms and presentation, therapeutic recommendations, and an introduction to the diagnostic process.
PY-220 Research I: Methods and Basic Data Analysis Laboratory

Prerequisite(s): PY-103 and MA-101, or MA-105 or higher; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): TL, WT

Introduces students to the essence of the scientific method and the use of empirical inquiry. Students will be introduced to various issues concerning data collection and other method procedures used in psychology. Students will learn to appropriately summarize, describe, and analyze obtained data to test research hypotheses.

PY-230 History of Psychology

Prerequisite(s): PY-103

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): None

The historical development of psychology, including its relationship to other disciplines; the contributions of philosophy and the growth of scientific methodology.

PY-298 Special Topics in Psychology (200 Level)

Term Offered: Spring Term

Course Type(s): None

An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in psychology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite for this course it will be announced in the course schedule.

PY-301 Psychology of Learning

Prerequisite(s): PY-103

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): None

Basic issues and methods in the scientific study of learning, with attention to major theories about mental and neural processes in conditioning, skill learning, and various types of cognitive learning and memory.

PY-302 Memory and Cognition

Prerequisite(s): PY-103 and PY-220

Term Offered: Spring Term

Course Type(s): None

Scientific study of mental processes, especially pertaining to the acquisition, retention, and use of knowledge and mental skills. Emphasis on memory, imagery, and natural language, with limited attention to developmental and individual differences.

PY-302L Memory and Cognition Thesis Laboratory

Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 both passed with a grade of C or higher

Co-requisite(s): PY-302 and PY-491

Course Type(s): None

Techniques for the experimental study of memory, thought, and language processes. Includes pattern recognition, serial recall, memory organization, imagery, decision-making, and story schematization.

PY-305 Theories of Personality

Prerequisite(s): PY-103

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): None

An introduction to methods for studying personality and building personality theories; psychodynamically oriented theories as well as biosocial, behavioristic, cognitive, humanistic, and existential approaches.

PY-306 Introduction to Neurosciences

Prerequisite(s): PY-103 and 3 credits in Biology

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): None

The organization of the nervous system in terms of its anatomy, physiology, neurochemical correlates, and evolution; behavioral processes, such as attention, sleep, motivation, instinct, learning, and language.

PY-306L Neurosciences Thesis Laboratory

Term Offered: Spring Term

Course Type(s): None

Human and animal neuroanatomy; surgical techniques, including lesion, stimulation, and perfusion; histology; drug and hormone administration; and physiological recording techniques. Three hours per week.

PY-310 Psychology Internship

Prerequisite(s): PY-208, PY-220, and completion of fifty-seven credits

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): EX5

Supervised, volunteer work in approved facilities, professional development and training and supervision provided by the agency in consultation with the psychology department.

PY-311 Research II: Behavioral Statistics and Laboratory

Prerequisite(s): PY-220 passed with a grade of C or higher

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): TL

A continuation in statistical concepts and application, including analysis of variance, nonparametric techniques, regression equations, correlations. Laboratory: Instruction in data analysis using SPSS (Statistical Package for the Social Sciences), training in software tools for formatting and presenting research findings.

PY-320 Research III: Experimental Methods and Laboratory

Prerequisite(s): PY-220 passed with a grade of C or higher

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): WT

An introduction to theory and application of experimental methods in psychology. Three hours of lecture, two hours of individual laboratory work per week.
PY-321 Qualitative Research Methods  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
An interdisciplinary overview of qualitative research methods employed in the social sciences and education. Qualitative methods are offered as an alternative way of knowing about individuals and groups. Topics covered include: theory, fieldwork, interviewing, observational studies, time sampling, writing field notes, questionnaires (survey research), archival research, and conducting qualitative research in various settings. Emphasis also placed upon the factors that affect the fieldwork process (e.g., gender, emotions). Also listed as AN-321.

PY-322 Industrial Organizational Psychology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The application of psychological principles to human problems in business and industry: personnel psychology, counseling, motivation, supervision, organizational structure, efficiency, and engineering psychology.

PY-331 Psychology of Women  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GS
The current state of knowledge about the psychology of women based on theoretical and empirical contributions from psycho-biology, personality, social and life-span psychology.

PY-331L Psychology of Women Thesis Lab  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-311, PY-320, both passed with a grade of C or higher; and either PY-331 or GS-225 or SO-225
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Research strategies used in the study of the psychology of women. Deals with the following topics: constructing surveys, writing quality question items, two-group design, multigroup design, factorial design, within-subject design, correlational design, and the use of statistical methods in research. These topics will be covered in the context of student projects. Each student will design and carry out his or her own research project. Three hours per week.

PY-332 Psychology of the Male Experience  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS
Examines stereotypes about men in Western society, many of which are challenged in the light of empirical research; theoretical and empirical contributions from personality, social and life-span psychology, and psychobiology; consideration of methods and sources of bias in research used in gender studies.

PY-335L Gender and Sex Roles Thesis Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-103; and PY-311 and PY-320, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): PY-331 or PY-491 or PY-332
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS
Research strategies used in the study of gender and sex roles. Projects include: methods of archival research, interview and survey techniques, naturalistic observation, and correlational and experimental procedures. Students also design and carry out their own research project, and prepare written and oral reports of the findings. Three hours per week.

PY-342 Children's Play and Culture  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-203
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive examination of children's play. Theoretical and empirical contributions from psychology and anthropology as a developmental and cross-cultural foundation for the following topics: the historical development of the concept of childhood, theories of play, conceptions of play and work, the functions of play, play and child development, gender differences, cross-cultural forms of play, and children's peer cultures. Also listed as AN-342. Anthropology majors should register for AN-342.

PY-350 Evolutionary Psychology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The role of evolutionary thinking in human psychology, including ideas and evidence from animal behavior; topics include a brief history of socio-political resistance to Darwinian ideas, basic principles of evolutionary (population) biology, behavioral strategies affecting cognitive and social psychology, especially survival issues (feeding, predator avoidance), mating systems (attraction, mate retention, reproduction and rearing offspring), and social exchange issues. Exploration of potential application in other disciplines (medicine, law, history, marketing and economics).

PY-350L Evolutionary Psychology Thesis Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-103; and PY-311 and PY-320 passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): PY-350 and PY-491
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Research strategies used in studying the role of evolution in human psychology. Projects include: methods of archival research, interview and survey techniques, naturalistic observation, correlational and experimental procedures. Students will design and carry out their own research project and prepare written and oral reports of the findings. Three hours per week.

PY-360 Intimate Relationships  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-207
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Provides an overview of current theory and research in the field of intimate relationships. Focuses on topics such as: our need for relationships, interpersonal attraction, love, attachment, communication, relationship maintenance, relationship trajectories, relationship dissolution, jealousy, and extra-dyadic relationships. Special attention will be given to understanding these topics through the use of scientific journal articles.

PY-360L Intimate Relationships Thesis Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Research strategies used in the study of intimate relationships. Deals with the following topics: constructing surveys, writing quality question items, two-group design, multi-group design, factorial design, within-subject design, and the use of statistical methods in research. These will be covered in the context of student projects. Each student will design and carry out his or her own research project. Three hours per week.
PY-370  Sensation and Perception  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103 and PY-220
Course Type(s): None
Evolution of animal and human sensory systems and perceptual mechanisms and processes; current research data and person-machines comparisons.

PY-370L  Sensation and Perception Thesis Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): PY-370 and PY-491
Course Type(s): None
Basic laboratory techniques for the study of perceptual experiences. Includes sensory thresholds, intensity scaling, color judgments, visual shape and depth, visual illusions, brain lateralization, interactions among sensory modalities, and attention. Three hours per week.

PY-388  Cooperative Education: Psychology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Thirty completed credits and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Provides students with an opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience. Placements are selected to forward the student's career interest through experiential education. Repeatable for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

PY-389  Independent Internship in Psychology  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): 21 credits in Psychology, Junior standing, overall GPA of 3.00, approval by the Psychology Department
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Students apply the psychological concepts they have learned in the classroom and laboratory to work-related experiences. Working with the cooperation of the Life Career Advising Center and a faculty sponsor, the student will secure an internship site. On a volunteer basis, students will work forty hours per credit per term at their internship sites. Students are required to develop learning objectives at the start of their internship, keep a journal of their internship experience throughout their placement, and write a final paper that includes an integrated review of the literature and reports their progress in meeting their learning objectives. Limited to Psychology majors.

PY-398  Special Topics in Psychology (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in psychology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite for this course it will be announced in the course schedule.

PY-398L  Special Topics in Psychology Thesis Laboratory  Credits: 1-3
Co-requisite(s): PY-491
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in psychology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis.

PY-399  Independent Study in Psychology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a selected topic in psychology not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the Psychology faculty. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PY-401  Introduction to Clinical Psychology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-208 and PY-305
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The application of psychological approaches to the study and treatment of behavior problems, diagnosis, therapeutic techniques, and the professional role of the clinical psychologist in society.

PY-401L  Clinical Psychology Thesis Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-208; and PY-311 and PY-320 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): PY-401 and PY-491
Course Type(s): EX5
A practicum in assessment and therapeutic techniques, incorporating standard research procedures used in clinical psychology. The scientific study of individual differences and their impact on behavior.

PY-404  Animal Behavior  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103 or BY-103 or above passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Why and how animals (vertebrates and invertebrates) do the things they do. Emphasizes rules governing the evolution of behavior rather than mere description of how animals behave. Focus includes behavioral ecology, habitat selection, feeding strategies, predator-prey tactics, mating systems and strategies, social behavior (conflict and cooperation) and population dynamics. The course begins with a historical overview and ends with the evolution of human behavior. Also listed as BY-404.

PY-404L  Animal Behavior Thesis Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): PY-404 or BY-404
Course Type(s): None
Methods in the study of animal behavior. Projects on instinctive behavior, early experience, learning, dominance relationships, territoriality, behavioral ecology, and sociobiology. One all-day field trip and an independent project will be required.

PY-407  Social Cognition  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Focus on social cognition, a research area within social psychology that studies the social and cognitive processes through which individuals notice, interpret, remember, and use information about their social world. Exploration of past and present social research, current theoretical understanding, and potential applications of important social-cognitive processes.
PY-407L Social Cognition Thesis Laboratory Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): PY-407 and PY-491
Course Type(s): None
Study and evaluation of empirical methods used in social cognition research. Students will critique published research and learn to identify and avoid common threats to the validity of their own research. Three hours per week.

PY-408 Cultural Psychology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An interdisciplinary course that utilizes theoretical, empirical, and methodological contributions from psychology and anthropology to discuss the position of culture in understanding human behavior and thought. Culture is viewed as a cognitive construct that is learned, lived, shared, and performed. A sample of topics include: the history of cultural and cross-cultural psychology, methodological approaches, aggression, education, development, play, language, social relationships, intelligence, emotion, motivation, and mental health issues. Also listed as AN-408.

PY-409 Leadership and Group Processes Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103 and PY-207
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the study of group dynamics, particularly with regard to leadership and power. Exploration of past and present research on groups; current theoretical understanding of important group processes, such as group formation, changes over time, group decision-making and performance, social influence, and intermember relations.

PY-409L Leadership and Group Processes Laboratory Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-103, PY-311, and PY-320 all passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): PY-409 and PY-491
Course Type(s): None
Study and evaluation of empirical methods used in group-dynamics research. Students will critique published research and learn to identify and avoid common threats to the validity of their own research. Three hours per week.

PY-411 Field Experience in Animal Behavior Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103; and PY-220 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Covers psychological principles that are relevant to the psychology of animal behavior, animal training, and learning, memory, and cognition. Students are exposed to - and engage in - research on animal behavior management and watch demonstrations of these principles on-site at Six Flags Safari with a selection of exotic animals. Students will explore careers in applied animal behavior and apply what they have learned to other vocations with humans, such as teaching and therapy, in weekly presentations and round tables. Students gain public speaking experience via facilitating educational outreach events. Psychology majors only. Instructor consent required.

PY-426 Theories of Childhood and Development Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-203, PY-320, and PY-321
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

Prerequisite(s): PY-208 and PY-220, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Working with the Department of Psychology's Field Placement Coordinator, the student will secure an internship site and be assigned a faculty sponsor. Students will intern fifty hours per credit per term in their placements. In collaboration with their faculty sponsor, students will develop learning objectives, maintain a journal and log of their hours, and submit assignments that demonstrate an advanced application of psychological concepts to their internship experiences. Weekly meetings with faculty sponsors are required. Limited to Psychology majors.

PY-490 Senior Seminar in Psychology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-320 passed with a grade of C or higher and 18 credits in Psychology
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Readings, invited speakers, student presentations, and discussion of current and review topics in psychology. Course emphasis to vary with orientation of directing professor.

PY-491 Research IV: Thesis in Psychology Credits: 2
Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Study and research in psychology under the supervision of a psychology faculty member, leading to the preparation of a senior thesis.

PY-498 Special Topics in Psychology (400 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in psychology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

World Languages and Cultures

Chair: Mirta Barrea-Marlys, Department of World Languages and Cultures

Student Honor Societies: Hispanic Honor Society: Sigma Delta Pi, Eta Pi Chapter; Italian Honor Society: Alpha Gamma Kappa

The World Language curriculum provides the opportunity to concentrate in Spanish, to minor in Italian, and to study in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Irish, and Latin.

World Language Placement Policy

1. 101 – No more than two years of the language in high school²
2. 102 – Three years of the language in high school or having completed 101²
3. 201 – Four years of the language in high school or having completed 201, or AP with a score of “2” or lower²
4. 202 – Having completed 201, or AP with a score of “3”²
5. 300+ – Five or more years of the language, or AP with a score of “4” or higher

Native speakers (students who speak Spanish, Italian, etc. as their first language) may not register in a class below the 201 level and should consult with the chair of the Department of World Languages and Cultures or the department advising coordinator for placement.

Heritage speakers (students who verbally interacted with at least one parent in Spanish, Italian, etc.) may register in any course from 101 on upon consultation with the chair of the Department of World Languages and Cultures or the Department Advising Coordinator.

Note: Any student who registers for a language class and does not follow the policies will be administratively dropped and placed into the appropriate level.

Foreign Language courses 101, 102, 201, 202 are sequential and may not be taken out of order.

For any questions or concerns regarding this policy, please call the Chair of the Department of World Languages and Cultures, Dr. Mirta Barrea-Marlys, at extension 5390 or the Department Advising Coordinator, Dr. Alison Maginn, extension 3612.

Note: FS-300A Advanced Spanish Conversation and Oral Discourse (3 cr.) is intended for non-native speakers of Spanish¹ and is a co-requisite for FS-300B Advanced Spanish: Composition and Conversation II (3 cr.), and a prerequisite for all other 300- and 400-level courses in Spanish. FS-300A Advanced Spanish Conversation and Oral Discourse (3 cr.) is designed to bridge the gap between lower- and upper-division courses by providing students with optimal opportunities to practice their oral language skills at the high intermediate/low advanced level. The course provides practice in all four language skills while placing special emphasis on conversation, listening, and oral presentation skills.

Note: FS-300B Advanced Spanish: Composition and Conversation II (3 cr.) is a prerequisite for all 400-level courses in Spanish and should ideally be taken in the fifth or sixth semester of Spanish studies. The course is intended for both native and non-native speakers of Spanish and should be taken before or simultaneously with other 300-level courses in literature and culture. Non-native speakers of Spanish are required to take FS-300A Advanced Spanish Conversation and Oral Discourse (3 cr.) in the same semester as FS-300B Advanced Spanish: Composition and Conversation II (3 cr.).

Language Study Abroad

Students who wish to take language courses abroad are referred to the pertinent information appearing under Study Abroad in this catalog. Those who wish to participate in a Study Abroad program should begin making plans before their sophomore year and consult with their advisors in the department, where the necessary information is available.

Note: In courses numbered above 300, it is presumed that the student has taken 201-202 (Intermediate) or equivalent to assure adequate reading facility in the foreign language. These courses are conducted wholly in the foreign language, so that FS-300B Advanced Spanish: Composition and Conversation II (3 cr.) is regularly scheduled as a prerequisite or corequisite to these courses. For courses numbered above 400, permission of the instructor may also be required. Please consult the departmental office.

Note: All Spanish majors must complete the Oral Proficiency Interview (OPI) coordinated by the department. For any questions concerning the OPI, please contact the Chair of the Department of World Languages and Cultures, Dr. Barrea-Marlys, extension 5390 or the Oral Proficiency Coordinator, Dr. Gac-Artigas, extension 3406.

Departmental Honors will be earned based on the following criteria being met:

• Overall GPA of at least 3.3.
• Major GPA of at least 3.5.
• Fulfillment of the intermediate level language requirement for Spanish majors.
• Two courses beyond those required for Spanish majors
  • One course chosen from a list of Spanish 300-400 level per thesis advisor.
  • One independent study (FS-499 Independent Study in Spanish (3 cr.)) to include writing of a thesis in consultation with a full-time World Languages and Cultures faculty member. This will be orally presented and defended to a committee of at least three faculty members (two from the World Languages and Cultures Department full-time faculty).

• Thesis
  • Thesis will be orally presented and defended to a committee of at least three faculty members (two from the World Languages and Cultures Department full-time faculty).
  • Length: for students of the BA in Spanish, thesis must be fifteen pages in Spanish; and for students with Honor in Spanish and Honor School, thesis must be twenty-five pages in Spanish.
  • Thesis must earn a “B” or better.

THE SCHOOL OF SCIENCE

Dean: Steven M. Bachrach, Ph.D.
Associate Dean: Catherine N. Duckett, Ph.D.
Assistant Dean: John A. Tiedemann, M.S.

Monmouth University’s School of Science is a community of teacher-scholars actively fostering learning, quantitative reasoning, and scientific inquiry among its majors and among all students. A goal of the School is to lead in the innovative development and delivery of curricula and in providing creative solutions to problems that include significant technical components. Educational programs provide a student-centered learning environment that builds a foundation for lifelong learning, critical thinking, and collaborative, technical problem solving. Faculty scholarship interests include: original basic and applied research in a range of disciplines and scholarly work on science education and pedagogy. Undergraduate and graduate students are encouraged to participate in student-faculty collaborative research projects leading to the acquisition and dissemination of new knowledge in the sciences.

The School of Science offers:

Majors
- B.S. in Biology (p. 236)
- B.S. in Biology and Education with Endorsement in Secondary Education in Biology (p. 237)
- B.S. in Biology with a Concentration in Molecular Cell Physiology (p. 239)
- B.S. in Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy (p. 240)
- B.S. in Chemistry (p. 251)
- B.S. in Chemistry and Education with Endorsement in Secondary Education in Chemistry (p. 253)
- B.S. in Chemistry and Education with Endorsement in Secondary Education in Physical Sciences (p. 253)
- B.S. in Chemistry with a Concentration in Advanced Chemistry (American Chemical Society Certified) (p. 254)
- B.S. in Chemistry with a Concentration in Biochemistry (p. 256)
- B.S. in Computer Science (p. 266)
- B.A. in Computer Science (p. 267)
- B.S. in Mathematics (p. 277)
- B.S. in Mathematics and Education with Endorsement in Elementary Education (p. 278)
- B.S. in Mathematics and Education with Endorsement in Secondary Education in Mathematics (p. 279)
- B.S. in Mathematics with a Concentration in Statistics (p. 280)
- B.S. in Clinical Laboratory Sciences with a Concentration in Medical Laboratory Science (p. 282)
- B.S. in Medical Laboratory Science (p. 283)
- B.S. in Software Engineering (p. 268)

Undergraduate Certificates
- Information Technology (p. 269)

Minors
- Biology (p. 241)
- Chemistry (p. 257)
- Computer Science (p. 269)
- Environmental Biology (p. 241)
- Global Sustainability (p. 242)
- Information Technology (p. 270)
- Mathematics (p. 281)
- Statistics (p. 281)
- Physics (p. 285)

The School of Science also offers master’s degrees in Computer Science, Information Systems, and Software Engineering. The undergraduate Bachelor of Science in Computer Science program is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org). The undergraduate Bachelor of Science in Software Engineering program is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org). The Chemistry and Physics Department is approved by the American Chemical Society (ACS). All qualified advanced chemistry, biochemistry, and chemical physics degree recipients may receive ACS certification of their degrees. All programs of study are directed toward preparing students for working and living in a multicultural, technologically complex, global environment.

Studies in the School of Science provide students with a solid background in the technical aspects of their chosen scientific or engineering field, sufficient to prepare them for further study in graduate or professional programs, or to compete for access to employment opportunities in industry or education. Core courses for the non-major stress the nature of the scientific enterprise and the benefits and risks that scientific advances present to society rather than the digestion of large doses of content from the discipline. Both major and non-major courses emphasize the importance of critical thinking and cooperative learning, clarifying working to the scientific method in posing and answering questions concerning the natural world, and exploring the nature of human problems for which technology may provide solutions.
Biology

Chair: Dorothy Lobo, Department of Biology

The Biology curriculum is designed to give students a basic diversified background in the life sciences and prepare them for graduate work, professional school (medicine, dentistry, podiatry, chiropractic, etc.), laboratory work in government and industry, and careers in teaching.

National Biological Honor Society: Beta Beta Beta, Chi Eta Chapter, requires completion of at least ten credits of biology and a 3.2 or better GPA in biology courses.

Department Honors can be earned in Biology based on the following criteria being met:

- Achieving a 3.3 or better overall GPA with a 3.5 or better GPA in biology courses;
- Completing two additional courses at the 300 or 400 level;
- Completing six credits of faculty-directed research and presenting a research thesis.

Faculty

Jason E. Adolf, Associate Professor. B.S., Roger Williams University; M.S., University of Hawai‘i; Ph.D., University of Maryland. Specializes in phytoplankton ecology and physiology, Harmful Algal Blooms (HABs) and real-time continuous water quality monitoring in the coastal ocean.

Pedram Daneshgar, Associate Professor. B.A., University of Delaware; M.S., Saint Joseph's University; Ph.D., University of Florida. Research interests include community and ecosystem ecology of coastal systems including dunes and mangroves, impacts of invasive plant species, and diversity maintenance mechanisms of grasslands.

Ellen Doss-Pepe, Senior Lecturer. B.S., University of Scranton; Ph.D., Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Specializes in biochemistry, protein folding and misfolding, and protein degradation. Current interests include the relationship of protein misfolding and degradation as underlying causes of neurodegenerative diseases and the roles of antioxidant proteins in cells during oxidative stress and neurodegeneration.

Bernadette Dunphy, Specialist Professor. Co-Director of the Pre-Professional Health Advising Committee. P.T., D.P.T., University Medicine and Dentistry, N.J. Specializes in physical therapy, sports medicine, and anatomy and physiology. Current interests are integration of clinical skills and case study work with teaching Physiology and Anatomy as well as preparing students for graduate health programs.

Keith Dunton, Assistant Professor. B.S., M.S., Ph.D., Stony Brook University. Current research interests are focused on the ecology, management, and conservation of marine fisheries with a specialized focus on species of concern.

Ivan Gepner, Associate Professor. B.A., Rutgers University; M.A., Ph.D., Princeton University. Specializes in genetics and developmental biology. Current interests include computer applications in biology, especially computer modeling and simulation of natural phenomena.

Martin J. Hicks, Assistant Professor. B.A., San Diego State University; Ph.D., University of California, Irvine. Specializes in genetics, gene therapy and RNA molecular biology. Current research is focused on the generation and genetic delivery of RNA and protein therapeutics to the tumor microenvironment in brain cancer.

Cathryn Kubera, Assistant Professor. B.S., Cornell University; Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania. Specializes in cell and molecular biology and neuroscience. Current research interests include cell signaling regulation of proliferation, migration, integration and cell death during brain development.

Kathryn Ann Lionetti, Associate Professor. B.S., Ph.D., State University of New York at Stony Brook. Specializes in microbiology and molecular biology. Current interests include recombinant DNA technology, apoptosis, and applications of molecular biology in clinical diagnostic procedures and emerging viral diseases.

Dorothy Lobo, Associate Professor and Chair. Co-Director of the Pre-Professional Health Advising Committee. B.A., Immaculate College; Ph.D., The Catholic University of America. Specializes in cell and molecular biology, and signal transduction pathways. Current research includes the regulation of stress signaling pathways during cell proliferation and programmed cell death, and the use of crafts and models for teaching molecular biology.

James P. Mack, Professor. B.S., Monmouth University (Monmouth College); M.S., William Paterson College; Ed.D., Teachers College, Columbia University. Specializes in anatomy and physiology. Current research includes alternative treatment for multidrug-resistant bacterial infections in health care settings including MRSA, MSSA, Pseudomas aeruginosa, E. coli (ESBL), and Enterococcus (VRE).

Tiffany Medley, Lecturer. B.S., University of Delaware; M.S., N.J. Institute of Technology and Rutgers University; Ph.D., City University of New York. Specializes in environmental policy, estuarine ecology, and... ecosystem restoration. Current research includes evaluating the abundance and health of wild oysters in the Hudson River Estuary. tmedley@monmouth.edu

Karen Pesce, Lecturer. B.A., B.S., M.S., Seton Hall University; Ph.D., Rutgers University. Specializes in environmental microbiology. Current research interests include microbial community analysis and characterization of novel biodegradative genes from polluted environments. kpesce@monmouth.edu

Megan Phifer-Rixey, Assistant Professor. B.S., Duke University; Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania. Specializes in evolutionary genomics with an emphasis on the genetics of adaptation and speciation. Current research includes genomic and functional approaches to understanding environmental adaptation in wild house mice. mphiferr@monmouth.edu

Dennis Rhoads, Professor. B.A., University of Delaware; Ph.D., University of Cincinnati. Specializes in biochemistry and neuroscience. Current research on neurobiology of alcohol and drug abuse. drhoads@monmouth.edu

Sean Sterrett, Assistant Professor. B.Sc., Butler University; M.S., Ph.D., Warnell School of Forestry and Natural Resources, University of Georgia. Specializes in wildlife biology, ecology, management and conservation with a concentration on reptiles and amphibians. Current interests include diamondback terrpin ecology and management on the Jersey Coast and influence of "Big Night" volunteer efforts to mitigate road mortality of migrating amphibians. ssterret@monmouth.edu

Jeffrey Weisburg, Specialist Professor. B.A., Ph.D., Cornell-Weill Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences. Specializes in anatomy and physiology and immunology. Current research involves the use of nutraceuticals and food derivatives that have pharmacological properties for treating cancers of the oral cavity and leukemia. jweiss@monmouth.edu

BY-101 Issues and Methods of Biology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SC-100
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Major concepts in biological science and their importance in current society. Methods and approaches to questions in biology. Cannot be used in satisfaction of a major requirement in the Biology program.

BY-102 Applications in Biotechnology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
Introduction for non-science majors. The focus is on basic principles of biotechnology along with an exploration of associated biotechnical issues. The laboratory component serves to familiarize students with scientific practice.

BY-103 Environmental Science Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Examines society's effects on the natural environment and current efforts to address environmental issues in a sustainable manner. Stresses the interdisciplinary nature of environmental issues, and that resolution of environmental problems sustainably involves the application of sound scientific information, but at the same time involves social, political, cultural, and economic values as well.

BY-104 Human Biology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Introductory course for non-science majors. Focus is on basic structure and function of human body systems and diseases of these systems. The laboratory component serves to familiarize students with scientific practice.

BY-105 Introductory Biology and Human Development Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory-level survey of biology with an emphasis on human biology that includes human development, aging, genetics and other topics selected to support the social work program. An introduction to neurobiology will be provided with applications in mental health. Not for credit toward a major in biology. For Social Work majors only.

BY-106 The Brain - Highs and Lows Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory neurobiology course designed for non-science majors. The focus is the study of the human brain from the highs of intelligence and creativity to the lows of depression. The brain will also be examined for its roles in drug use, from the highs of euphoria to the lows of dependence. Topics will include the interplay between genetic and environmental influences that shape the brain and its responses. Not for credit towards a major in Biology.

BY-107 Microbiology in Health and Disease Credits: 4
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Microorganisms pathogenic for man; emphasizing etiology, modes of transmission and control. Laboratory includes proper collection of specimens, aseptic technique, cultivation, identification, and disposal of microbes. Three hours of class, two hours of laboratory per week.

BY-108 Evolution and the History of Life on Earth Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
Examines evolution both as a process and as a phenomenon. Students will examine how evolutionary processes occur in time, both very short and geological time scales, and how both are studied. Students will review the history of life on earth with emphasis on major lineages such as vertebrates, mollusks, insects and plants, as well as basic geological processes and continental drift during these time periods. Bacterial evolution will be examined in the context of the importance of understanding natural selection and evolution and their impacts on society and medicine. Emphasis will be placed on understanding evolution of groups and processes often cited in creationist arguments, to help students be prepared to enter civil discourse as informed citizens. Evidence of evolutionary change from the fossil record and DNA sequences of organisms will be compared and reviewed.
BY-109 Introduction to Biodiversity and Evolution
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory course for biology majors. Focus is on evolution, phylogeny, taxonomy, origin and diversity of life, physiology of plant and animal systems, and ecological principles. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. Limited to students who are majors in Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Computer Science and Software Engineering.

BY-110 Introduction to Cell and Molecular Biology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
For biology majors and other students needing an introduction to the cellular and molecular levels of biology. Includes an introduction to cell structure and function, biochemistry and metabolism, bioenergetics, genetics and cell division, and molecular biology. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week. Limited to majors in Biology, Chemistry, Clinical Science, Medical Laboratory Science, Mathematics, Computer Science, Software Engineering, Criminal Justice, Health Studies, Health and Physical Education.

BY-111 Anatomy and Physiology I
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Study of human systems: structure, function and integration, including chemical and cellular base, integumentary, skeletal, muscular and nervous systems. Laboratory covers human anatomy, microscopy of tissues and organs, and physiological study of living organisms. Three hours of lecture, two hours of laboratory per week. Open to Health Studies, Health Promotion, Health and Physical Education and Education, and Nursing majors only. This course is a non-major level Biology course and cannot be used to fulfill the Biology minor. Students pursuing professional graduate health programs should register for BY-211. Students who take BY-111 are not eligible to take BY-211.

BY-112 Anatomy and Physiology II
Prerequisite(s): BY-111 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): NS
Study of human systems: structure, function and integration, including special senses, digestive, endocrine, cardiovascular, lymphatic and immunity, respiratory, urinary and reproductive. Laboratory covers human anatomy, microscopy of tissues and organs, and physiological study of living organisms. Three hours of lecture, two hours of laboratory per week. Open to Health Studies, Health Promotion, Health and Physical Education and Education, and Nursing majors only. This course is a non-major level Biology course and cannot be used to fulfill the Biology minor. Students pursuing professional graduate health program should register for BY-212. Students who have taken BY-112 are not eligible to take BY-212.

BY-113 Introduction to Structure and Function of Living Systems
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Examines the characteristics of living organisms. Intended primarily for future elementary teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the life sciences they will teach. Content will focus on the structure and function of cells, tissues and organs and life processes. There is an emphasis on understanding heredity, including patterns of inheritance of traits and the molecular basis of heredity, and growth and development. This is an activity-centered/lab course to demonstrate scientific inquiry (questioning, developing hypotheses, gathering data, and drawing reasonable conclusions) and how to use resources and research material in science. BY-113 does not count towards the Biology major or minor requirements.

BY-114 Unity and Diversity of Life
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): NS
Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the life sciences they will teach. Examining the interdependence and individuality of organisms in ecosystems, populations and communities and how these organisms change over time due to life cycles, mutations, adaptations and natural selection. Classification of organism will also be covered. This is an activity-centered/lab course to demonstrate scientific inquiry (questioning, developing hypotheses, gathering data, and drawing reasonable conclusions) and how to use resources and research material in science. BY-114 does not count towards the Biology major or minor requirements.

BY-115 The Biology of Nutrition, Aging, and Anti-Aging Nutrition
Course Type(s): None
Discussions of the theories of aging and the role of nutrition in delaying aging and preventing degenerative disease. Analysis of the scientifically sound, medically reliable evaluation of widely promoted nutritional supplements, including the anti-aging nutrients: vitamins, minerals, amino acids, nucleic acid derivatives, lipids and derivatives, pharmaceuticals and chemicals (BHA, BHT, DMSO, etc.) and other supplements (L-Carnitine, ginseng, etc.)

BY-116 The Mighty Microbes
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory microbiology course designed for non-science majors. Students will investigate microbiology in everyday living. Topics will include the role microbes have in health, disease, the environment, and food and beverage production. Attention will be devoted to microbiology related current issues. Students will learn the impact microbes have in society so that they develop awareness, knowledge of and appreciation of microbiology.
BY-119 Introductory Biology Major Seminar
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Designed for first-year students in any of the majors offered by the Biology Department, this course will introduce students to the academic requirements required for the major, and the related skills to be successful in college and beyond, including University resources, curricular and co-curricular requirements, and opportunities related to the Biology major. Preparation for research and advanced coursework will be emphasized, and students will be introduced to career resources. Transition to studying and integrating into the Monmouth University Department of Biology will be complemented by the assistance of a peer learning assistant for the course. Attendance at a limited number of campus events will be required. This course will be offered as "pass/fail". Limited to students with 30 or fewer credits.

BY-201 Introduction to Biotechnology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Introduction to recent advances in biotechnology: the use of living organisms to create products, applications or processes that improve the quality of life for humans and other species. Presents historical and modern applications of biotechnology that impact our everyday lives. An overview of current developments and applications of microbial, agricultural, animal, marine and forensic biotechnology, bioremediation, and medical biotechnology will be presented. Regulated agencies and policies that govern the biotechnology industry will be discussed, and students will also learn to formulate opinions about ethical, legal and social issues associated with biotechnology.

BY-202 Human Biology and Health
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-113 and BY-114 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the life sciences they will teach. This course will concentrate on basic physiology of the human body looking at the different organ systems. There will be an emphasis on understanding regulation and behavior, such as how the body responds to external stimuli and controls the internal environment. Personal health including nutrition, human disease, microbiology, immunology and substance abuse will be examined. This is an activity-centered/ lab course to demonstrate scientific inquiry (questioning, developing hypotheses, gathering data, and drawing reasonable conclusions) and how to use resources and research material in science. BY-202 does not count towards the Biology major or minor requirements.

BY-205 Zoology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an introductory survey of vertebrate and invertebrate zoology. Topics covered include taxonomy and classification, anatomy and physiology, behavior and ecology, and evolutionary relationships of the major phyla of the animal kingdom with a specific focus on local marine species. The laboratory component of the course focuses on the diversity of the animal kingdom from a structural, functional and ecological perspective. Labs will include exercises that will include examination of live organisms, dissections and examinations of preserved specimens, and field trips.

BY-209 Environment and Human Health
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 and BY-110, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MC, MEBP
Human activities are adversely affecting ecosystems throughout the world. Some of these changes may be deleterious to human health. The purpose of this course is to provide students with an understanding of the relationship between the environment and human health. Specific topics that will be covered are the importance of biodiversity to human health, the relationships between global warming and vector-borne diseases, microbial evolution and resistance of pathogenic organisms, persistent pollutants and toxicity, and the effect of environmental disasters on human health. A focus of this course will be to integrate several areas of biology including microbiology, toxicology, and environmental science.

BY-210 Forensic Genetics and DNA Analysis
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 and CJ-211
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Focus on fundamental principles of DNA and genetic analysis and their applications in forensics. Designed for criminal justice majors who have had an introduction to Mendelian and molecular genetics and to DNA structure, but who need more background in the underlying biology of forensic DNA analysis and interpretation. Sources of DNA will be presented along with methods for DNA extraction, amplification of DNA by polymerase chain reaction, analysis of restriction fragment length polymorphisms and short tandem repeats. Open only to Criminal Justice majors.

BY-211 Physiology with Anatomy I
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, CE-111, and CE-112 all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Lecture and laboratory course Study of Human Systems: Their structure, function and integration. Laboratory covers gross human anatomy and physiology. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. Open only to Biology, Chemistry, Medical Lab Science, Clinical Lab Science, Health, and Psychology majors. Students who have taken BY-211 are not eligible to take BY-111.

BY-212 Physiology with Anatomy II
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, BY-211, CE-111, and CE-112 all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Lecture and laboratory course Study of Human Systems: Their structure, function and integration. Laboratory covers gross human anatomy and physiology. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. Open only to Biology, Chemistry, Medical Lab Science, Clinical Lab Science, Health, and Psychology majors. Students who have taken BY-212 are not eligible to take BY-112.

BY-214 Botany
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Characteristics of the major plant groups, principles of plant taxonomy, considerations of evolutionary and ecological relationships. Two hours of class, two hours of laboratory per week.
These topics will be explored within the frameworks of natural selection, locomotion, and land usage patterns of monkeys, apes and prosimians, including taxonomy and classification, diet, behavior, grouping patterns, behavior of our closest living relatives. Various topics will be explored in detail in BY-450. Limited to sophomore Biology majors.

BY-298 Special Topics in Biology (200 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in biology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar, or laboratory format. Please note: when Scuba is offered as BY-298 it does not carry a course type of MC. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BY-299 Independent Study in Biology Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Principles of independent study and research; critical review of published work on a designated topic in the biological sciences or original research; preparation of a research paper or review article in publishable format or oral presentation of research results. Laboratory or field work arranged as needed. Requires submission and approval of an "Application for Independent Study" (an e-form is available on WEBadvisor) with a faculty mentor. To take this course, students need prior permission of the directing professor and department chair and Sophomore or higher standing in Biology (Total of all independent study credits to be counted towards the degree may not exceed six, unless approved by the Dean).

BY-301 Vertebrate Histology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): MC
Microscopic structure of vertebrate cells, tissues, and organs, emphasizing microscopic anatomy of the human body. Laboratory identification of vertebrate tissues. Two hours of class, three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-303 Biological Oceanography Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 and BY-214 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
Biological Oceanography provides an introduction to the biology of life in the sea. Biological Oceanography emphasizes the fundamental oceanographic processes that control the distribution and abundance of living organisms in the sea. Two hours of lecture and two hours of lab per week.
BY-310  Biochemistry and Lab
Prerequisite(s): CE-242 passed with a grade of C- or higher; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): MEBP, WT
A survey of the major principles of biochemistry with attention to the structures and functions of proteins, carbohydrates and fats; the major pathways for metabolism of proteins, carbohydrates and fats; and the biochemical basis of DNA replication and gene expression. Laboratory provides hands-on experience in selected biochemical techniques with an emphasis on protein characterization. Designed to provide practice and critique in effective writing and appropriate writing style and format.

BY-314  Topics in Horticulture
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Principles and practices of plant culture; practical experience through greenhouse projects; the horticulture industry and career possibilities; field trips to places of horticultural interest. Two hours of class, three hours of laboratory per week. Field trips arranged.

BY-317  Tropical Island Ecology
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, ME, MEBP, NS
A field course focusing on investigations of plants, animals, and natural ecosystems of the Bahamas with emphasis on marine ecosystems, island ecology, resource management, and sustainable development.

BY-322  Ichthyology
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 and BY-205, passed with a C- or better
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
A survey of all-extant groups of fishes (e.g., bony fishes, cartilaginous fishes, and jawless fishes), including sections on evolution, taxonomy, form and function, biogeography, behavior, and ecology. Laboratory component will include required dissections. There will be several scheduled off campus field trips. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-324  Applied Microbiology
Prerequisite(s): BY-223 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Microorganisms of food, water, soil, dairy products, industrial processes, disease, and genetic engineering. Three hours of class, three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-327  Design and Analysis of Biological Experiments
Prerequisite(s): MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C or higher or permission of the instructors.
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The purpose of this course is to learn about the statistical design & analysis of biological experiments. After learning mathematical techniques of designing experiments, and statistical analyses customized to them, students will be presented with a broad research question by the instructors. Literature surveys will be a critical part of the course to allow students to find pertinent, relevant, potentially publishable biological questions that address a specific aspect of the larger question posed by the instructors. Students will design their own experiment addressing their question, generate their own data collection plan, collect their data, and then analyze their data using statistical techniques taught in class. This course will involve field/lab work for data collection and computer work in the statistical analysis of the final data. Students will defend their question, design and analysis from both a statistical and biological perspective. At the end of the semester students will complete a formal manuscript in journal format. This course can be used to fulfill the Mathematics or Statistics minor and the Bio/MEBP elective. This course is a research based course and students must have demonstrated a strong interest in and potential for research. Also listed as MA-327.

BY-341  Marine Biology
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 and BY-214, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Biota of the oceans and inshore waters with an emphasis on ecology, functional morphology, and marine and estuarine habitats. Basic oceanography is also included. Marine biology is a laboratory course supported by lectures and field projects. Field trips outside of class time may be required.

BY-342  Coastal Zone Management
Prerequisite(s): BY-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ME, WT
Focus on the impact of increased demand on the coastal environment based on the theme that management of an environment for multiple purposes requires an understanding of the effects of use and exploitation throughout that environmental system and how decisions can be made in an effective, equitable manner.
BY-360  The Business of Biotechnology: From the Bench to the Market Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Limited to junior or senior biology majors or other students with approval by the course faculty. BY-110 or BY-201 completed with a grade of C- or higher. For Business majors: BY-102, BY-110, or BY-201, completed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MC
Tomorrow's biotechnology leaders require a breadth of cross-functional knowledge to face the scientific, regulatory, and financial challenges for developing biotech companies in the 21st century. This course will provide students with a strategic overview of the business of biotechnology, exploring the integration of science, technology, the regulatory framework, financial requirements, and market forces that drive the industry. The course will introduce students to basic aspects of molecular biology related to product development in the biopharmaceutical industry, and the regulatory and financial requirements for drug development, placing emphasis on real-world application and the challenges of bringing new biotechnology drugs to market for the treatment of human disease. Limited to junior or senior biology majors or other students with approval by the course faculty. BY-110 or BY-201 completed with a minimum grade of C- or higher is required. For Business majors BY-102, BY-110, or BY-201, completed with a minimum grade of C- or higher are required.

BY-370  Cell Biology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
In-depth study of biology at the cellular and subcellular levels. Integrates principles of biochemistry into an understanding of cell structure and physiology.

BY-375L  Laboratory in Molecular and Cellular Biology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310, and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP, RD, WT
Designed to introduce biology majors to basic laboratory techniques used in molecular and cellular biology. Students will develop proficiency in modern techniques in molecular and cellular biology including micro pipetting, bacterial culturing and sterile technique, solution preparation, DNA extraction, restriction digestion of DNA, DNA sub cloning, gel electrophoresis of nucleic acids and proteins, nucleic acid blotting and analysis with molecular probes, DNA sequencing, polymerase chain reaction (PCR), immunological techniques for analysis of proteins, mammalian cell culture and transfection, and DNA sequence analysis on the Internet. The use of traditional and Internet information resources for molecular and cellular biology will also be emphasized. The presentation of data in both oral and written form will be emphasized. Partially fulfills the reasoned oral discourse requirement for biology and biology/ molecular cell physiology.

BY-388  Cooperative Education: Biological Sciences Credits: 1-4
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Biology, overall G.P.A. of 2.00 and Junior standing or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX2
Provides an opportunity for students to fulfill the Experiential Education requirement by pursuing a short-term cooperative work experience in biology or for students who, are currently employed in a biological or medical field, to integrate the work with a related academic component. May be repeated for credit. This is a pass/fail course. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

BY-389  Internship in Biological Science Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): Overall GPA of 2.00; Junior status, at least six credits of biology courses and departmental approval
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Complements the practical experience gained by students at internship sites, such as hospitals, clinics, private practices, research laboratories, environmental agencies, museums, botanical gardens, and zoos with a significant set of academic goals. May be repeated once for credit. This is a pass/fail course.

BY-395  Seminar in Marine and Environmental Biology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MEBP, RD
A seminar-style course for juniors in the Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy (MEBP) major.

BY-398  Special Topics in Biology (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in biology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar, or laboratory format. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BY-399  Independent Study in Biology Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Principles of independent study and research; critical review of published work on a designated topic in the biological sciences or original research; preparation of a research paper or review article in publishable format or oral presentation of research results. Laboratory or field work arranged as needed. Requires submission and approval of an "Application for Independent Study" an e-form is available on WEBadvisor) with a faculty member. Students must have prior permission of the directing professor and department chair; and Junior standing in Biology to take this class. (Total of all independent study credits to be counted towards the degree may not exceed six, unless approved by the Dean.)

BY-404  Animal Behavior Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103 or BY-103 or above, passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Why and how animals (vertebrates and invertebrates) do the things they do. Emphasizes rules governing the evolution of behavior rather than mere description of how animals behave. Focus includes behavioral ecology, habitat selection, feeding strategies, predator-prey tactics, mating systems and strategies, social behavior (conflict and cooperation) and population dynamics. The course begins with an historical overview and ends with the evolution of human behavior. Also listed as BY-404.

BY-404L  Animal Behavior Laboratory Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): BY-404 or BY-404
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Methods in the study of animal behavior. Projects on instinctive behavior, early experience, learning, dominance relationships, territoriality, behavioral ecology, and sociobiology. One all-day field trip and an independent project will be required.
BY-406  Introduction to Neurosciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-216 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME
The organization of the nervous system in terms of its anatomy, physiology, neurochemical correlates, and evolution; behavioral processes such as attention, sleep, motivation, instinct, learning, and languages.

BY-406L  Neurosciences Laboratory  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): BY-406
Course Type(s): MC
Human and animal neuroanatomy; surgical techniques, including lesion, stimulation, and perfusion; histology; drug and hormone administration; physiological recording techniques. Three hours per week.

BY-410  Molecular Biology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-216 or BY-310 or CE-331 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Provides a detailed examination of the central dogma of molecular biology - DNA replication, transcription, reverse transcription, and translation - in viruses, prokaryotes, and eukaryotes. Standard techniques of biotechnology used to study molecular biology will be emphasized. Additional topics, including eukaryotic chromosome structure and regulation of gene expression, will also be discussed.

BY-412  Vertebrate Physiology and Laboratory  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC
Comparative vertebrate physiology, with emphasis on osmotic regulation, nutrition, circulation, respiration, and muscle physiology. One hour of class, four hours of laboratory per week.

BY-420  Applied Field Biology  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BY-205, BY-214, and BY-220 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1, MEBP
Applied Field Biology is a research-based applied ecology course that combines lectures, hands-on field and laboratory activities, and focused data collection and analysis to allow participating students to understand techniques used by scientists and environmental managers in order to provide information necessary to perform key functions associated with natural resource and ecosystem conservation and management. The course is designed to allow students in the Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy Program (MEBP) to fulfill their Experiential Education requirement. This course is repeatable twice for credit.

BY-423  Genetics  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher and at least Junior status
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP
Lecture of classical and molecular genetics; applications in human heredity; structure and function of genetic material and gene regulation, laboratory exercises using Drosophila, bacteria, and bacterial viruses as experimental material. Three hours of lecture, three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-424  Evolution  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 and BY-216, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Synthetic theory of evolution, including sources of genetic variability, Hardy-Weinberg, natural selection, genetic drift, balanced polymorphism, molecular evolution, speciation and the origin of life. Three hours of class per week.

BY-425  Principles of Developmental Biology  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-216 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The study of major morphological changes during development and the analysis of causative factors. Model organisms used in the study of development include: sea urchin, nematode worm, Drosophila, frog, and mouse. Topics include: fertilization, growth, differentiation, morphogenesis, regeneration, and tissue interactions. The genetic control of development will be emphasized.

BY-427  Cancer Biology  Credits: 3
Co-requisite(s): BY-370 or BY-410
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC
Course will provide students with a foundation in the molecular biology of cancer. Topics include the genetic and molecular changes that lead to transformation, oncogenes, tumor suppressors, viruses, angiogenesis, metastasis, tumor immunology, and clinical trials and treatments. Primary literature and review articles, as well as field work, will be used to understand advances in cancer biology and treatment.

BY-430  Neuroscience Beyond Neurons  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-216
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC
A seminar-style class with focus on the different cell types that make up the brain and how they interact and signal with one another. Topics include how glial-neuronal interactions impact brain development, brain metabolism, and numerous pathological conditions. Objectives will be met through lectures and class discussions, readings from primary literature, journals clubs and class debate.

BY-431  Immunology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MC
Components of the immune system; biological individuality and the recognition of "foreignness"; structure of antibodies; cellular immunity and graft rejection; blood group antigens; the immune system and cancer development; immunogenetics; clinical and experimental applications. Two hours of class, two hours of laboratory per week.

BY-440  Ecology  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 or BY-214, and BY-220 all passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102 and Senior standing
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP, WT
Lecture and laboratory course examining the concepts of ecology and evolutionary biology, the interaction of organisms and their environment, population ecology, community ecology, and ecosystems dynamics. 3 hours of lecture and 3 hours of lab/field work per week.
BY-442  Natural Resource Conservation and Management  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-220 and BY-440, both passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ME, MEBP, SUS, WT
The principles of ecology and resource management are used to analyze contemporary environmental problems and highlight legislative, technological, and methodological solutions to environmental problems that move us toward a sustainable society.

BY-450  Research in Molecular Cell Physiology  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, MC
A faculty-student collaborative research lab course. Students will work in small groups under faculty supervision to conduct comprehensive research on a project in molecular cell physiology determined by the directing faculty member. Students will experience all aspects of the research process, from developing hypotheses, planning and carrying out experiments using modern lab techniques, and analyzing data, to preparing research results for publication. May be taken to extend research initiated in BY-250. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Limited to Junior or Senior biology majors.

BY-475  Endocrinology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310 or twelve credits in Biology
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME
Introduction to biochemical, molecular, and physiological aspects of the vertebrate endocrine system and mechanisms by which hormones maintain homeostasis in animals, including humans. Topics to be studied include: molecular structures: biochemical properties and interactions of different categories of hormones and their receptors; major endocrine systems that regulate reproduction, growth, development, and metabolism; neuroendocrinology; and pathophysiology of the endocrine system. Hormones and organs that influence processes such as calcium homeostasis, digestion, salt balance, carbohydrate metabolism, and sex differentiation and development will be examined. Endocrine regulation of male and female reproductive organs and reproduction will also be discussed, including the hormonal control of fertilization, implantation, placental function, pregnancy, parturition, lactation, and contraception.

BY-489  Internship in Biological Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Biology, Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Complements the practical experience gained by students at internship sites, such as hospitals, clinics, private practices, research laboratories, environmental agencies, museums, botanical gardens, and zoos with a significant set of academic goals. May be repeated once for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. This is a pass/fail course.

BY-495  Senior Seminar  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): completion of 90 credits; for Biology majors only
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
A seminar course with presentations by guest scientists as well as students. Gauges students' abilities to draw upon a broad background of coursework and experience to organize, present, discuss, and evaluate topics of current interest in biology.

BY-499  Independent Study in Biology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Principles of independent study and research; critical review of published work on a designated topic in the biological sciences or original research; preparation of a research paper or review article in publishable format or oral presentation of research results. Laboratory or field work arranged as needed. Requires submission and approval of an "Application for Independent Study" (an e-form is available on WEBadvisor) with a faculty member. Students are required to have prior permission of the directing professor and department chair and Senior standing in Biology to take this course. (Total of all independent study credits to be counted towards the degree may not exceed six, unless approved by the Dean.)

BY-499T  Independent Study in Biology with Thesis  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Preparation and submission of a thesis in science journal format. The thesis will contain results from the completion of independent study and research and will include appropriate description of the background and methods for the project and discussion of the results and its significance. It is designed specifically for students desiring Biology departmental honors. Students are required to have permission of the course advisor and Senior standing in Biology, Biology with a concentration in Cell and Molecular Physiology, or Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy in order to take this course.

1. BY-102 Applications in Biotechnology (3 cr.), BY-104 Human Biology (3 cr.), BY-105 Introductory Biology and Human Development (3 cr.), and BY-106 The Brain - Highs and Lows (3 cr.) are not available to BY majors.

2. Two Writing Intensive courses (WT) must be selected and two courses (six credits of electives) must be at the 400-level. Take note of course prerequisites in the catalog descriptions. Writing intensive courses include BY 310, BY 342, BY 375L, BY 440, and BY 442.

3. Please consult with your advisor regarding the required number of free electives that must be completed.

4. The General Education curriculum requires the completion of 45 credits. However, students may be able to share credits from within their major or interdisciplinary requirements. Please consult with your advisor to determine which General Education (p. 43) courses must be completed.

2 If course has not been previously completed.
3 Minimum grade of “C” required for Education Courses
4 Students must complete the appropriate test requirement(s) with a passing score PRIOR to Clinical Practice.
5 Please consult with your advisor regarding the required number of free electives that must be completed.

The General Education curriculum requires the completion of 45 credits. However, students may be able to share credits from within their major or interdisciplinary requirements. Please consult with your advisor to determine which General Education (p. 43) courses must be completed.

Additional Endorsements Available

• TSD - Teacher of Students with Disabilities - Secondary
• ESL - English as a Second Language - Secondary

Notes

• 54 credits must be completed at the 200 level or higher.
• Education majors are required to have an overall GPA of 3.00 for State Certification.
• By state regulation, all Education Majors seeking content area endorsement must complete 30 content credits (12+ credits at the 300+ level).

Chemistry and Physics

Chair: William Schreiber, Department of Chemistry and Physics

Our curricula provide foundations in the traditional chemistry subdisciplines. The programs serve as excellent preparation for further professional study in chemistry and related sciences, health professions such as medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and physical therapy. Careers in academia, the chemical and pharmaceutical industries, environmental protection, forensics, government, industrial hygiene, information science, patent law, science writing, toxicology, and education are open to those whose initial field of study is chemistry.

The Bachelor of Science in Chemistry provides a core curriculum of chemistry while allowing sufficient flexibility to combine it with a second major, a minor, or elective biology courses for pre-medical studies, within the total number of credits required for graduation. Completion of the Chemistry and Education curriculum qualifies graduates to apply for Secondary Education endorsement as a chemistry teacher. Completion of two additional courses provides eligibility for physical science certification, which is required for teaching chemistry or physics at the high school level.

The Bachelor of Science in Chemistry with a concentration in Advanced Chemistry provides a strong foundation in all five of the chemistry subdisciplines. Students planning to pursue graduate study in chemistry or to seek employment in chemistry-related positions should follow this program, which leads to a degree certified by the American Chemical Society.

The Bachelor of Science in Chemistry with a concentration in Biochemistry includes an introduction to the traditional subject areas of biology as well as specific biochemistry courses. This program is appropriate for students planning to seek employment or pursue graduate study in biochemistry, or attend medical or other health professional schooling. American Chemical Society certification may be achieved in this concentration by appropriate choice of electives.

The Chemistry faculty are engaged in research in many interesting areas. Providing opportunities for student participation in these efforts is an important priority for the department.

Departmental Honors can be earned in Chemistry if the following criteria are met:

- An overall GPA of 3.3 or higher;
- A major GPA of 3.5 or higher;
- At least three credits of research;
- Completion of both Physical Chemistry I and II along with their associated laboratory courses;
- Completion of a thesis with a grade of “B” or higher;
- Public presentation of research.

Davis Jose, Assistant Professor. B.S., M.S., Mahatma Gandhi University, India; Ph.D., Max-Plank Institute for Biophysical Chemistry, Germany. Research interest is biological chemistry.
djose@monmouth.edu

Ilyong Jung, Assistant Professor. B.S., M.S., Kyngpook National University; Ph.D., Brown University. Research interests include Biophysics of microorganism locomotion.
ijung@monmouth.edu

Dmytro Kosenkov, Associate Professor. B.S., M.S., National Taras Shevchenko University of Kyiv; Ph.D., Jackson State University. Research interests are investigation of energy transfer in photosynthetic complexes to design new types of solar cells, modeling light-sensitive proteins for non-invasive control of neurons; speeding up computational chemistry using graphics processing units (GPUs).
dkosenko@monmouth.edu

Yana Kosenkov, Lecturer. B.A., M.S., Dnepropetrovsk National University; Ph.D., Jackson State University.
ykholod@monmouth.edu

Massimiliano Lambert, Associate Professor. B.S., M.S., University of Messina, Italy; Ph.D., University of Southampton (UK). Organic chemistry. Research interests: small molecule synthesis for the inhibition of telomerase by G-quadruplex DNA stabilization; synthesis of novel chromophoric systems for dye-sensitized solar cells and sensor applications; synthetic methodology.
milambert@monmouth.edu

Kayla Lewis, Associate Professor. Ph.D., Georgia Institute of Technology. Geophysics. Research interests are computer modeling of processes associated with climate change.
klewis@monmouth.edu

Gregory Moehring, Associate Professor. B.A., Western Washington University; Ph.D., Purdue University. Research interests are synthesis and NMR characterizaton of transition metal polyhydride compounds; transformations of small molecules at transition meal polyhydride compounds.
gmoehrin@monmouth.edu

Datta V. Naik, Professor. B.S.c., St. Xavier's College, University of Bombay, Goa, India; Ph.D., University of Notre Dame. Analytical inorganic chemistry.
dnaik@monmouth.edu

Jonathan Ouellet, Associate Professor. B.S., M.S., Ph.D., University of Sherbrooke. Research interests are nucleic acid structure and folding dynamics.
jouellet@monmouth.edu

William Schreiber, Lecturer, Chair, and Coordinator, Clinical Laboratory Sciences and Medical Laboratory Science Programs. B.S., Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Ph.D., University of Rochester. Organic chemistry. Organic synthesis, process research, and chemical education.

Courses

CE-101 Chemistry in Our Lives Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Major concepts and methodologies in chemistry and their relation to specific, important issues in today’s society.

CE-109 Introduction to General, Organic, and Biochemistry Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): Score of 3 or higher on the Mathematics Placement Exam, or MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher.
Course Type(s): None
Structure of matter, the mole concept, chemical bonds and reactions, acids and bases, structure and reactions of organic compounds, chemistry and metabolism of amino acids, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, and nucleic acids. Three hours of class, three hours of lab per week. Students must have had High School Chemistry to take this course.
CE-111 General Chemistry I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Score of 2 or higher on the Mathematics Placement Exam or MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-111L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The first of two lecture courses which, taken together, provide a preparation for subsequent courses in chemistry. Principles and theories of chemical problem solving, stoichiometry and chemical reactions, states of matter, periodic properties of the elements, atomic and molecular structure, introductory quantum mechanics, thermochemistry, and the properties of gases are covered.

CE-111L General Chemistry Laboratory I Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): CE-111
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work to complement the class work of CE-111 and CE-112; review of mathematical fundamentals; experiments involving observation and interpretation of chemical and physical changes; experimental studies of gas laws, thermodynamics, kinetics, equilibrium, acids and bases, qualitative analysis, and molecular mass determination. Three hours per week.

CE-112 General Chemistry II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-111 passed with a grade of C- or higher, CE-111L passed with a grade of C- or higher, and either MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher or a score of 3 or higher on the Mathematics Placement Exam.
Co-requisite(s): CE-112L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The second of two lecture courses which, taken together, provide preparation for subsequent courses in chemistry. Properties of liquids and solutions, chemical kinetics and equilibrium, thermodynamics, electrochemistry and nuclear chemistry.

CE-112L General Chemistry Laboratory II Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): CE-112
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work to complement the class work of CE-111 and CE-112; review of mathematical fundamentals; experiments involving observation and interpretation of chemical and physical changes; experimental studies of gas laws, thermodynamics, kinetics, equilibrium, acids and bases, qualitative analysis, and molecular mass determination. Three hours per week.

CE-198 Special Topics in Chemistry (100 Level) Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CE-220 Environmental Chemistry Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-112 and CE-112L, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-220L
Course Type(s): ME
Soil, aquatic, and atmospheric chemistry; environmental analytical chemistry; connections to environmental biology. Sources, reactions, mobility, effects, and fates of chemical species in the soil, water and air environments and the effect of human activity on these. Gives the theoretical principles and techniques of both classical and instrumental methods of chemical analysis.

CE-220L Environmental Chemistry Laboratory Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): CE-220
Course Type(s): MEBP
Soil, aquatic, and atmospheric chemistry; environmental analytical chemistry; connections to environmental biology. Sources, reactions, mobility, effects, and fates of chemical species in the soil, water and air environments and the effect of human activity on these. Laboratory experiments and field trips will be used to address the needs for this course. Students will gain hands-on experience in both classical and instrumental methods of chemical analysis.

CE-221 Analytical Chemistry I Quantitative Analysis Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-112 and CE-112L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-221L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Theoretical principles and techniques of volumetric, gravimetric, and potentiometric methods of analysis; treatment of analytical data, equilibrium involving acid-base, redox, complexometric, and precipitation reactions.

CE-221L Analytical Chemistry I Laboratory Quantitative Analysis Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): CE-221
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory techniques, procedures, and practice in quantitative analysis of selected substances by volumetric, gravimetric, and potentiometric methods.

CE-225 Bioanalytical Chemistry Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, CE-112, and CE-112L all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-225L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces fundamentals of analytical chemistry and modern methods of instrumental analysis in the context of biochemical concepts. Topics include statistical treatment of data, acid-base chemistry, spectrophotometry, chromatography, electrophoresis, biological mass spectrometry, proteomics/protein identification, immunochemistry, and electrochemical methods.

CE-225L Bioanalytical Chemistry Laboratory Credits: 2
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, CE-112, and CE-112L, all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-225
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
Introduces analytical laboratory techniques in the context of biochemistry and will cover topics that include statistical treatment of data, acid-base chemistry, spectrophotometry, chromatography, electrophoresis, biological mass spectrometry, proteomics/protein identification, immunochemistry, and electrochemical methods. Laboratory experiments and an independent research project will be used to address the needs for this course. Students will gain "hands-on" experience in classical and instrumental methods of biochemical analysis.
CE-241 Organic Chemistry I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-112 and CE-112L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-241L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Preparations and reactions of major classes of organic compounds with extensive discussion of reaction mechanisms and stereo-chemistry; interpretation of mass, infrared, and nuclear magnetic resonance spectra.

CE-241L Organic Chemistry Laboratory I Credits: 2
Co-requisite(s): CE-241
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work demonstrating the basic techniques of organic chemistry; qualitative organic analysis; and use of the gas chromatograph and infrared and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers to solve problems. Six hours per week.

CE-242 Organic Chemistry II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-241 and CE-241L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP
Preparations and reactions of major classes of organic compounds with extensive discussion of reaction mechanisms and stereo-chemistry; interpretation of mass, infrared, and nuclear magnetic resonance spectra.

CE-242L Organic Chemistry Laboratory II Credits: 2
Prerequisite(s): CE-241L; and CE-241 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work demonstrating the basic techniques of organic chemistry; qualitative organic analysis; and use of the gas chromatograph and infrared and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers to solve problems. Six hours per week.

CE-298 Special Topics in Chemistry (200 Level) Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-111, CE-111L, CE-112, CE-112L and others as announced in the course schedule
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar or laboratory format.

CE-299 Independent Study in Chemistry Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Original research work planned and carried out with the assistance of a faculty research advisor. The number of course credits will be arranged with the advisor. Three hours per credit. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CE-311 Chemical Literature Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CE-241
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A study of the literature of chemistry and the techniques of making source searches; extensive use is made of the library.

CE-322 Analytical Chemistry II Instrumental Analysis Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, MA-126, PH-212, and PH-212L, all passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): WT
Basic components of instruments and their arrangements; fundamental principles, applications, and limitations of instrumental methods of chemical analysis; spectroscopic methods (UV-Visible, Fourier transform infrared, Raman, Fluorescence, Phosphorescence, Atomic absorption, Atomic emission, and Mass spectrometry); electrochemical methods (Potentiometry and Voltammetry); separation methods (High Performance liquid chromatography, Gas chromatography, and Capillary Electrophoresis).

CE-322L Analytical Chemistry II Laboratory Instrumental Analysis Credits: 2
Co-requisite(s): CE-322
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
A treatment of the theories and applications of modern Fourier transform infrared, Fluorescence, Atomic absorption and Atomic emission; electrochemical methods (Potentiometry and Voltammetry); separation methods (High Performance liquid chromatography, Gas chromatography - Mass spectrometry). Laboratory experiments and an independent research project will be used to address the needs of this course. Students will gain hands-on experience in instrumental methods of chemical analysis for both qualitative and quantitative work.

CE-325 NMR Spectroscopy Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-242L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Basic components of instruments and their arrangements; fundamental principles, applications and limitations of instrumental methods of chemical analysis; spectroscopic methods (UV-Visible, Fourier transform infrared, Fluorescence, Atomic absorption and Atomic emission); electrochemical methods (Potentiometry and Voltammetry); separation methods (High Performance liquid chromatography, Gas chromatography - Mass spectrometry). Laboratory experiments and an independent research project will be used to address the needs of this course. Students will gain hands-on experience in instrumental methods of chemical analysis for both qualitative and quantitative work.

CE-331 Biochemistry I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-242
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to biochemistry with a molecular biology and chemistry focus. It is centered on the relationships between structure and function of biological molecules such as proteins, carbohydrates, nucleic acids, and lipids and their chemistry in living systems. It also includes the principle of bioenergetics, metabolic pathways, protein-ligand interactions and enzyme kinetics.

CE-331L Biochemistry Laboratory Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): CE-331
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Provides training in modern biochemical techniques, using proteins, nucleic acids, carbohydrates and lipids.
CE-332  Biochemistry II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-331
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A continuation of Biochemistry 1 (CE-331). Focus will be on metabolism, biological oxidation and reduction processes, and biosynthetic pathways in the cell. Also covers molecular aspects of DNA replication, transcription, and protein translation, and molecular basis of genetic regulation. In addition, some diseases related to defects in these metabolic pathways will be discussed.

CE-341  Physical Chemistry I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-126 and PH-212, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-341L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Basic principles of quantum mechanics essential for understanding of atomic and molecular spectroscopy are covered. The specific topics included: Quantum Mechanics: postulates and formulation of Schrodinger equation, uncertainty principle, particle in a box, simple harmonic oscillator, rigid rotor, Hydrogen atom, hydrogenic wave functions, Pauli principle, Helium atom, Hydrogen molecule, Molecular Orbital Theory; Introduction and applications of Computational Chemistry; Spectroscopy; Light-matter interaction, term symbols, spectroscopic selection rules, electronic spectra of atoms and molecules, rotational and vibrational spectra, IR and Raman spectroscopy, Lasers.

CE-341L  Physical Chemistry I Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Co-requisite(s): CE-341
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): WT
This course is designed to be taken concurrently with CE-341, Physical Chemistry I. The experiments performed complement material studied in CE-341. Topics covered include: UV-Vis, FT-IR, Raman, Laser Induced Fluorescence, and Flash Photolysis spectroscopies. This laboratory also requires the use of modern computer platforms and quantum chemistry software for molecular simulations and data analysis.

CE-342  Physical Chemistry II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-126 and PH-212 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-342L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Amplification of concepts in thermodynamics, chemical kinetics and dynamics and application of these to gases, liquids, and solutions to provide a solid background for understanding the physical principles that govern behavior of chemical and biological systems. The specific topics included: Thermodynamics: standard functions (enthalpy, entropy, etc.), ensembles, partition function. Gibb's chemical potential, phase equilibria, electrochemical cells; Kinetic Theory of Gases: Maxwell-Boltzmann distribution, collision frequency; effusion rate, heat capacity, transport processes (diffusion, viscosity, etc.); Chemical Kinetics: differential and integral expressions for rate laws, reaction mechanisms, Chemical Dynamics: collision theory, absolute rate theory, transition state theory.

CE-342L  Physical Chemistry II Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Co-requisite(s): CE-342
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
This course is designed to be taken concurrently with CE-342, Physical Chemistry II. The experiments performed complement material studied in CE-342. Topics covered include experimental investigation of gas laws, phase transitions, transport properties of gases (diffusion), electrochemistry (electrolysis, electroplating, and voltammetry) and chemical kinetics (fluorescence quenching). This laboratory also requires the use of modern computer platforms and quantum chemistry software for simulations of chemical kinetics, dynamics and data analysis.

CE-350  Research in Chemistry  Credits: 1-4
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, CE-242L, an overall GPA of 2.00, a minimum of fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval of the department
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Original research work, associated with an external constituent and/or organization, planned and carried out with the assistance of a faculty research advisor. Research conducted by the students will be submitted for outside presentation, publication, or review. The number of course credits will be arranged with the advisor. Forty hours per term.

CE-388  Cooperative Education: Chemistry  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, and CE-242L; an overall G.P.A. of 2.00; fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval of the Department of Chemistry
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Application of chemical concepts and skills learned in lecture and laboratory to work-related experiences. Students and faculty sponsors maintain journals of their cooperative education opportunities with the assistance of the Director of Cooperative Education. Students will work forty hours per credit per semester at their jobs. Students will maintain journals of their cooperative education experiences and write reports demonstrating how their experiences helped them achieve their learning goals. This is a pass/fail course. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

CE-389  Internship in Chemistry  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, CE-242L, an overall GPA of 2.00, fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval of the Department of Chemistry
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Provides an opportunity to apply chemical concepts and skills learned in lecture and laboratory to work-related experiences. Students and faculty sponsors will identify internship opportunities. Students will work forty hours per credit per semester in their internship positions. Students will maintain journals of their internship experiences and write reports demonstrating how their internship experiences helped them achieve the learning objectives identified at the start of the internships. This is a pass/fail course.
CE-398  Special Topics in Chemistry (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-241, CE-241L, CE-242, CE-242L, or as announced in the course schedule
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar, or laboratory format.

CE-399L  Special Topics in Chemistry  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. Conducted in a laboratory format.

CE-400  Independent Study in Chemistry (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Original research work planned and carried out with the assistance of a faculty research advisor. The number of credits will be arranged with the advisor. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CE-401  Advanced Inorganic Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-242 and CE-242L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-401L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Modern theories of inorganic chemistry, including advanced considerations of atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, complex ions, solid state chemistry, magnetic properties of ions, periodicity, and contemporary problems.

CE-401L  Advanced Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): CE-401
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Inorganic synthetic techniques, including inert atmosphere, high temperature, and non-aqueous solvents; methods of characterization of inorganic compounds, including use of spectroscopic and other instrumental methods. Three hours per week.

CE-405  Methods of Inorganic Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-401
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Coverage of important experimental methods in inorganic structural determinations. Topics include symmetry and group theory, computational methods, mass spectrometry, diffraction analysis and nuclear magnetic resonance, electron paramagnetic resonance, rotational, Mossbauer, vibrational, electronic absorption, photoelectron spectroscopies. The application of these techniques to the characterization and determination of inorganic substances is the emphasis of the course.

CE-410  Seminar  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CE-311
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
Oral presentation of reports and discussion of current and review topics in chemistry.

CE-452  Advanced Organic Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-242 and CE-242L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Selected topics of modern, theoretical, organic chemistry.

CE-460  Electrochemical Methods  Credits: 3
Co-requisite(s): CE-341
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Theory and applications of electrochemical analysis: electrode processes, thermodynamics and kinetics of electrode reactions, controlled potential and controlled current microelectrode techniques, and bulk electrolysis.

CE-475  Computational Chemistry and Molecular Modeling  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-341 and CE-341L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Principal methods and techniques used to study organic molecules and biomolecules by computational methods. Interpretation of chemical data with the aid of a computer. Atomic and molecular orbitals, force fields, molecular dynamics, and molecular modeling and drug design.

CE-486  Medicinal Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-241 and CE-242
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A Medicinal Chemistry course in which you will learn about the application of chemistry to the discovery, design and synthesis of new drugs. Medicinal chemistry is an interdisciplinary science. Its successful application to new drug discovery and development involves knowledge of organic chemistry, biology, physiology, microbiology, biochemistry, pharmacology and medicine among others. Topics that will be covered in this course include: structure and function of biological targets (proteins, enzymes, receptors and DNA/RNA); sources of new drugs from nature or synthesis; methods used to identify relevant structural features for biological activity; fate of a drug in the body and interaction with its biological target (pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics); strategies for drug design and case studies.

CE-489  Internship in Chemistry  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, CE-242L, an overall GPA of 2.00, fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval by the Department of Chemistry
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Provides an opportunity to apply chemical concepts and skills learned in lecture and laboratory to work-related experiences. Students and faculty sponsors will identify internship opportunities. Students will work forty hours per credit per semester in their internship positions. Students will maintain journals of their internship experiences and write reports demonstrating how their internship experiences helped them achieve the learning objectives identified at the start of the internships. This is a pass/fail course.

CE-498  Special Topics in Chemistry (400 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-242 or as announced in the course schedule
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar, or laboratory format.

PH-212 General Physics with Calculus II Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-126, PH-211, and PH-211L all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): PH-212L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
The second of a two-semester sequence of courses that, taken together, provide a thorough introduction to classical physics using calculus. Topics covered include: sound and wave mechanics, electrostatics, circuits, magnetic forces and fields, Faraday’s Law, refraction and reflection, and optics.

PH-212L General Physics with Calculus Laboratory II Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): PH-212
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory experiments to complement the topics covered in PH-212. Includes experiments in sound, electricity, magnetism, circuits, and optics.

PH-270 Physical Oceanography Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109, CE-111, CE-111L, CE-112, and CE-112L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
Physical Oceanography provides a survey of physical, chemical and geological processes that define and affect the coastal ocean including ocean basins, beach formation and dynamic ocean processes (currents, waves, wind, weather). Environmental considerations include the role of the ocean in the association with global climate change issues, problems associated with coastal development, exploitation of marine resources, and ocean and coastal pollution.

PH-298 Special Topics in Physics (200 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in physics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

PH-299 Independent Study in Physics Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a selected topic in physics not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the Physics faculty. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PH-301 Modern Physics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PH-302 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Topics from physics of the twentieth century, including special relativity, the origins of quantum theory, quantum mechanics, atomic structure, nuclear physics, and elementary particles.

PH-302 Theoretical Physics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PH-212 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Presents physics topics aimed at the advanced undergraduate level. The subjects range over classical mechanics, electromagnetism, and statistical mechanics, with explicit links made to topics from PH-301. The course is calculus-based, and seeks to round out the physics education of physics minors.

PH-399 Independent Study in Physics Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physics faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PH-499 Independent Study in Physics (400 Level) Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physics faculty member. Three hours per week per credit. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SC-100 Discovery and Thinking in Natural Sciences Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The development of major concepts in the biological, chemical, and physical sciences; their importance today.

SC-103 Physical Geography Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
A survey of the Earth sciences from a spatial perspective. We will use maps, diagrams, simulations, and computer mapping software to learn about the systems of the Earth. Students will gain an understanding of physical processes and patterns of the Earth’s atmosphere, climate, landforms, and biosphere. Understanding of these systems will be used to examine the ways in which humans influence and adapt to Earth systems. The learning outcomes of this course satisfy a general education requirement for the Natural Sciences. Also listed as GO-103.

SC-110 Nutrition Science Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An overview of the science of human nutrition, including the basics of protein, carbohydrate, lipid, vitamin, mineral, water, and alcohol metabolism. An analysis of the relationship of diet to various health issues and current controversies in nutrition will be covered. Students will learn the elements of nutritional analysis by evaluating their personal diets. Emphasis will be on the manner in which nutrition knowledge is acquired, including a nutrition study conducted by the students.

SC-120 The Science of Food and Cooking Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
This course covers concepts from chemistry, biology and physics that underpin the principles of food science and the transformations that occur during food preparation and cooking. Students will develop a scientific understanding of food preparation, cooking techniques, and recipes. Cooking demonstrations and experiments will be used to illustrate the scientific concept involved. Note: This course involves the preparation and (optional) consumption of food. If you have specific food allergies or needs, contact the instructor to discuss any necessary arrangements.
SC-130  Climate Science for 21st Century Citizens  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SUS, NS
Earth's climate has changed in the past and will change in the future. Climate science and hypotheses about climate change and man's effects on climate figure prominently in the news and popular culture. However, forces and feedbacks impacting climate are poorly understood by the general public. This lack of understanding originates partially because climate science is complicated and interdisciplinary, and partially because addressing climate change requires significant changes in the global energy economy, turning it into a political issue with skewed and un-scientific public discourse. This course aims to cover parts of climate science that are well established, differentiate them clearly from parts of climate science where genuine uncertainty exists and use these contrasts to illustrate the scientific methods, culture of science and science practices of the 21st Century.

SC-140  Forensic Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory course in which scientific principles will be applied to the methods used to investigate and solve crimes. The course will focus on the principles and methods utilized in the traditional sciences of biology, chemistry, and physics. The scientific techniques used to collect and analyze evidence will be covered.

SC-150  Drug Discovery  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Concepts of biology, chemistry and pharmacology are used to examine aspects of drug discovery from early recorded history to modern treatments for disease. Additionally, students will understand the impacts of key drug discoveries on society/public health. Note: No prior biology/chemistry knowledge is assumed.

SC-160  Sustainable Energy  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Energy consumption is a key aspect of society that has been profoundly impacted by abundant low-cost energy. What does the future of energy look like in terms of abundance and cost? This course examines energy sources, energy needs, and the transition from geologically stored energy sources (fossil fuels) to ecologically available energy sources and conservation. It also explores the potential environmental consequences of such transition in the immediate future and long-term.

SC-170  Oceanography  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Oceanography provides a survey of physical, biological, chemical, and geological resources and the processes that define and affect ocean basins, coasts, beaches, estuaries, offshore waters and marine species. Environmental considerations include the role of oceans in global climate change issues, coastal development, exploitation of marine resources, and marine pollution. Students in the Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy (MEBP) program should take PH-270, Physical Oceanography, for elective credit.

SC-198  Special Topics in Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
Study of a particular subject or problem in science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or seminar basis. Courses would meet General Education requirements in the natural sciences. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SC-233  Climate Science: Understanding our Changing Climate  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): NS, SUS
Climate Change is arguably the most important problem of the 21st century. Climate Science Understanding Our Changing Climate provides students with a quantitatively rigorous treatment of basic climate science as well as a scientific exploration of impacts caused by human-mediated climate change. This course aims to cover climate science from an explicitly interdisciplinary perspective, because climate science depends on chemistry, physics, biology, mathematics, computer modeling and geology for complete understanding of the climate system and because workable climate solutions are almost always interdisciplinary in nature. Climate modeling and assessment of future climate conditions and risks will be stressed.

MA-126 Calculus with Analytic Geometry II 4
(MA-125 or MA-126 satisfy Mathematics in General Education)

PH-211 General Physics with Calculus I 4
PH-211L General Physics with Calculus Laboratory I 1
PH-212 General Physics with Calculus II 4
PH-212L General Physics with Calculus Laboratory II 1
PH-301 Modern Physics 4
PH-302 Theoretical Physics 4

Education Methods Requirements (6 credits)
ED-369 Methods of Teaching Science for the Secondary Teacher Part I 3
ED-370 Methods of Teaching Science for the Secondary Teacher Part II 3

Free Electives (0 credits) 0
Complete up to 0 free electives credits. 6

General Education Requirements (33 credits) 6
Complete 33 credits as outlined on the General Education table. 6

Total Credits 123

Students desiring certification by the ACS should enroll in the BS CE ACS program
Minimum grade of "C" required for Education Courses
Students must complete the appropriate test requirement(s) with a passing score PRIOR to Clinical Practice.
These courses are offered in alternatives years, care in scheduling is required.

Additional Endorsements Available
- TSD - Teacher of Students with Disabilities - Secondary
- ESL - English as a Second Language - Secondary

Notes
- 54 credits must be completed at the 200 level or higher.
- Education majors are required to have an overall GPA of 3.00 for State Certification.
- By state regulation, all Education Majors seeking content area endorsement must complete 30 content credits (12+ credits at the 300+ level).

Notes

- 54 credits must be completed at the 200 level or higher.
- By appropriate choice of required and free electives, students in this Concentration can meet the requirements for American Chemical Society Certification. It would be necessary to take CE-401 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry (3 cr.) and CE-401L Advanced Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory (1 cr.) and two (2) courses from the following list:
  - CE-322 Analytical Chemistry II Instrumental Analysis (3 cr.);
  - CE-325 NMR Spectroscopy (3 cr.);
  - CE-341 Physical Chemistry I (3 cr.);
  - CE-405 Methods of Inorganic Chemistry (3 cr.);
  - CE-452 Advanced Organic Chemistry (3 cr.);
  - CE-475 Computational Chemistry and Molecular Modeling (3 cr.);
  - CS-486 Medicinal Chemistry;
- Students who major in this concentration cannot also major in the Advanced Chemistry Concentration.
- Please consult with your advisor regarding the required number of free electives that must be completed.
- The General Education curriculum requires the completion of 45 credits. However, students may be able to share credits from within their major or interdisciplinary requirements. Please consult with your advisor to determine which General Education (p. 43) courses must be completed.

Computer Science and Software Engineering

Chair: Daniela Rosca, Department of Computer Science and Software Engineering

UNIX Administrator and Teacher: Joseph Chung

Bachelor of Science with a Major in Computer Science

The Computer Science curriculum provides a solid foundation in the computing sciences, preparing students for employment in industry or for graduate school. Software design and development is emphasized along with foundational computing concepts. The higher-level courses enable students to explore a variety of topics, such as databases, networks, artificial intelligence, scripting languages, game programming, UNIX administration, and computer security.

The B.S. in Computer Science, which is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org), is recommended especially for students who plan to attend graduate school in computer science or who plan to specialize in scientific computing. The educational objectives of the BS in Computer Science are to enable graduates, within a few years after graduation, to:

- Work as effective team members or team leaders in the development of computer and software systems covering a wide range of business, educational and scientific applications.
- Enter professional careers in positions including computer programmer, software tester, systems analyst, network administrator, software systems designer, database manager, computer systems integrator, software security analyst, and game developer.
- Undertake graduate studies and develop the knowledge and expertise to complete advanced studies or do research in computer science, engineering, and other scientific fields.
- Work in teams, communicating effectively with technical and non-technical team members, clients, and customers, while meeting the social and ethical responsibilities of their profession.
- Explore, synthesize, and implement ideas in their areas of interest and activity.
- Adapt to new technologies and methodologies with the skills required to react to a changing world.

Students interested in Computer Science but looking for a more flexible curriculum may choose to pursue the non-ABET-accredited B.A. in Computer Science. This program requires fewer math and science credits, which allows students to take additional coursework or a minor in other academic areas.

Bachelor of Science in Software Engineering

The undergraduate Software Engineering curriculum, which is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET (http://www.abet.org) is designed to give students a broad background in both computer and engineering science with a heavy emphasis on those aspects of software engineering that will enable graduates to efficiently participate in the design, development, and deployment of large software systems. Because of the sequential nature of the courses and the number of requirements for engineering majors, careful planning is necessary to complete the curriculum in four years.

The educational objectives of the BS in Software Engineering program are to prepare software engineering graduates to do the following things within the first few years after graduation from the program:

- Obtain employment in organizations that develop or acquire software and/or enter graduate school;
- Make strong contributions to teams that are responsible for the specification, design, construction, testing, deployment, maintenance, or use of software systems;
- Develop experience in additional areas of professional specialty that, when combined with their BSSE education, will continue the path toward lifelong learning;
- Use their engineering, communications, interpersonal, and business skills to advance their careers in a business, government, or academic environment;
- Critically assess their engineering capabilities and acquire the additional knowledge and skills they need to maintain currency within their evolving work environment;
- Assist their employers’ organizations in achieving their business goals.

Courses

CS-104 Introduction to Problem Solving and Software Development

Credits: 3

Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL

Introduces a broad overview of problem solving, computing topics, and fundamental concepts and methodologies of software development designed to provide students with awareness of the computing field’s many aspects. Topics include fundamentals of computer architecture, operating systems, applications, problem-solving. It emphasizes the main phases of the software development lifecycle, such as requirements, design, implementation, testing, project planning. Also, it stresses the difference between the software product and process. Introduces social and ethical issues related to computing and explores the local and global impact of computing on individuals, organizations and society. It also gives students their initial exposure to group project work.
The students will become familiar in using some R data manipulation and statistics and how to build chart for effective data visualization tasks. Described. The course also describes how to compute descriptive and transform data, and to save/export data to data repositories are external sources (files, databases, online resources), to manipulate in R and their practical application. Methodologies to import data from this course introduces the most important data structures available in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and CS-175L, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to advanced concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and CS-175L, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Continuation in depth and breadth of problem solving and algorithm development, using the same modern object-oriented language as in CS-175. More advanced object-oriented design. Introduction to polymorphism, inheritance, and interfaces.

CS-201 Introduction to Computer Programming for Data Science
Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 or IT-102 or IT-150 or CS-104
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

CS-175 Introduction to Computer Science I
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-104
Co-requisite(s): CS-175L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introductions to the basic concepts of program development in a modern object-oriented language; problem-solving methods and algorithm development; basic primitive and object data types; language syntax; style and documentation; and coding and testing of programs

CS-175L Introduction to Computer Science I lab
Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CS-104
Co-requisite(s): CS-175
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introductions to the basic concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

CS-176 Introduction to Computer Science II
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and CS-175L, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): CS-176L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Continuation in depth and breadth of problem solving and algorithm development, using the same modern object-oriented language as in CS-175. More advanced object-oriented design. Introduction to polymorphism, inheritance, and interfaces.

CS-176L Introduction to Computer Science II lab
Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and CS-175L, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): CS-176
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to advanced concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

CS-199 Independent Study in Computer Science
Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a computer science topic not substantially treated in a regular course; for students with superior ability. One-hour consultation per week. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CS-202 Discrete Mathematics and Applications
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and MA-109
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers the basic concepts, methods, structures, and models from discrete mathematics used throughout computer science. Topics addresses include: logic and mathematical reasoning, functions, sets, summations, asymptotic notation, algorithms and complexity, number theory, cryptography, matrix algebra, induction and recursion, counting techniques, combinatorial objects, discrete structures, discrete probability theory, relations, and graph theory and graph algorithms.

CS-205 Data Structures and Algorithms
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-130, CS-176, and CS-176L, all passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): CS-205L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the design, implementation, and use of fundamental data structures (lists, stacks, queues, trees), extensions of these structures and associated algorithms; informal complexity analysis.

CS-205L Data Structures and Algorithms Lab
Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): MA-130, CS-176, and CS-176L, all passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introductions to the basic concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

CS-250 Android Application Development
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course will teach students software methodologies for Android App Development. This will include Android Development Studio, Kotlin programming language, and interfaces to external services required to develop simple to moderately complex Android mobile apps. Also listed as SE-250.

CS-285 Computer Architecture I
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

CS-286 Computer Architecture II
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-130, CS-176, and CS-176L, all passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introductions to the basic concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

CS-250 Android Application Development
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course will teach students software methodologies for Android App Development. This will include Android Development Studio, Kotlin programming language, and interfaces to external services required to develop simple to moderately complex Android mobile apps. Also listed as SE-250.

CS-285 Computer Architecture I
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
CS-299  Independent Study in Computer Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a computer science topic not substantially treated in a regular course; for students with superior ability. One-hour consultation per week. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CS-300  Advanced Computing  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to fundamental concepts of computer science theory and methods of parallel and distributed programming. The course covers automata theory (including finite-state machines and Turing machines, algorithm complexity (including the distinction between P and NP problems), BNF specification of programming languages, methods of parallel programming, methods of distributed programming, measuring the speedup obtained by parallelization, and methods of addressing NP completeness through approximation. The course will provide experience in the implementation of parallel and distributed programming.

CS-310  Advanced Object-Oriented Programming and Design  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Object-oriented programming and design, using a language different from that used on CS 176. Use of classes, inheritance, polymorphism, and libraries. Topics will include flexible system design for such requirements as globalization. This is a writing-intensive course.

CS-315  Theory of Computing  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher and either CS-202 or MA-120 or MA-130 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to phrase structure languages and their relation to automata, computability, and program verification.

CS-325  Software Engineering Concepts  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Overview of software engineering concepts, analysis/design techniques, Unified Modeling Language (UML), software documentation, and group development of software.

CS-335  Programming Language Concepts  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Design, evaluation, and implementation of programming languages. Discussion of imperative, applicative, object-oriented and concurrent languages. Four hours per week.

CS-337  Enterprise Mobile Apps Design and Development  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Presents methodologies to build enterprise mobile apps on iPad tablets and iPhone smartphones using iOS. The course will cover technologies to use in the design and development of apps on mobile devices and integration of these apps with corporate data sources, sensor devices and cloud computing services. Also listed as SE-337.

CS-350  Research in Computer Science  Credits: 1-4
Prerequisite(s): CS-306 passed with a grade of C or higher, a minimum of fifteen credits at Monmouth University and a minimum GPA of 3.25
Course Type(s): EX5
Original research work, associated with an external constituent and/or organization, planned and carried out with assistance of faculty research advisor. Research conducted by the student will be shared with the external constituency and submitted for outside publication and review. Number of credits arranged with advisor. Limited to Computer Science students with approval of chair, program director, or advisor.

CS-355  Software Frameworks  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SE-357 or CS-357; or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to Design Patterns and modern Software Frameworks, programming languages, data access methods and asynchronous Application Programming Interfaces (APIs). Also listed as SE-358.

CS-360  Introduction to Game Development  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the creation of computer/video games and the different elements of games, including computer graphics, animation, artificial intelligence, algorithms, data structures, networking, software development cycles and human-computer interaction. Also listed as SE-360.

CS-370  Program Development Under Unix  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the use of the UNIX operating system and its utilities for incremental and distributed program development, maintenance, and debugging. The course covers the UNIX shell, utilities, and program development tools that are used for large projects involving multiple developers on multiple machines. Three hours per week.

CS-371  Scripting Languages  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 or equivalent
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to programming using widely-used, dynamically-typed, interpreted programming languages, which are sometimes called "scripting" languages. Covers general-purpose scripting languages, such as Perl and Python that are used to develop a wide range of applications. Scripting languages, such as PHP that are used primarily in web development, will not be covered in this course.
CS-375  File Management  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Overview of files, records and files, blocking and buffering, secondary storage devices; sequential file organization, external sort/merge algorithms; random access; relative file organization; tree-structured file organization; search trees, indexed sequential file organization; list-structured file organization; multiple-key file organization. Four hours per week.

CS-388  Cooperative Education: Computer Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher, Junior standing and thirty or more earned credits with at least fifteen taken at Monmouth University
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX2
Provides an opportunity for students who are engaged in a computer science-related experience. Fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week. This course may be repeated for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

CS-389  Internship in Computer Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in Computer Science. Repeatable for credit. Junior standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to take this course.

CS-398  Special Topics in Computer Science (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 or CS-275 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in computer science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CS-399  Independent Study in Computer Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a computer science topic not substantially treated in a regular course; for students with superior ability. One-hour consultation per week. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CS-414  Computer Networks  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-286 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introductory-level course on the hierarchy of networking software and hardware. Emphasis on the; description of protocols in the Internet, specifically, client-server Application Layer Protocols such as HTTP, SMTP, DNS, DHCP; Transport Layer Protocols such as UDP/TCP; Network Layer Protocols such as IP, ICMP as well as Network Layer Routing and Forwarding techniques, such as RIP and OSPF for IPv4 and Tunneling for IPv6.

CS-418  Compiler Construction  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
The principles and practices of incorporating the theory of finite automata and context-free languages, the maintenance and use of semantic information, and the generation and optimization of code to produce a compiler. Four hours per week.

CS-420  Survey of Artificial Intelligence Concepts and Practices  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 and MA-130 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduction of fundamental concepts and practices of artificial intelligence, covering search techniques, constraint satisfaction, knowledge representation, machine learning, planning, and natural language processing. The course will provide experience in the implementation of techniques from these areas. Three hours per week.

CS-432  Database Systems  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Overview of database system concepts; data modeling; ER and UML diagrams; relational database schema definition; database design; query languages; introduction to NoSQL and comparison between relational and non-relational databases; hand-on experience of SQL, Oracle, and NoSQL.

CS-438  Operating Systems Analysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-286 and CS-205 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Management of memory, processes, files, and devices. OS design principles and performance measures. Multiprogramming, multiprocessing, concurrency, deadlock, virtual machines. Competitive and cooperating processes. Programs will be written in C or in Java. Three hours per week.

CS-450  Cyber Security  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Cover fundamental theory and practice of cyber security. Review cryptographic tools used to provide security, such as shared key encryption; public key encryption, key exchange, authentication, digital signature, and intrusion detection. Learn implementation of secure mechanisms in object-oriented programming languages. Also listed as SE-450.

CS-451  Applied Computer Security  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-450 or SE-450
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course will introduce students to multiple aspects of computer security and practice into a series of well-defined security topics such as network security and hacking tools. Also, the student will introduce different topics of digital forensics. Also listed as SE-451.

CS-471  System Administration  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-370 or CS-371 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Fundamental topics in system administration, focused primarily on UNIX administration with added coverage of Microsoft Windows NT descendant systems. The course is a hands-on introduction to installing and maintaining modern, multi-user, production UNIX-like operating systems and the essential services that are hosted on these systems.
CS-488 Cooperative Education: Computer Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX2
Provides an opportunity for students who are engaged in a computer science-related experience. Fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week. May be repeated for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. Junior standing, thirty or more earned credits with at least fifteen taken at Monmouth University and CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher are required to take this course.

CS-489 Internship in Computer Science  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in Computer Science. Repeatable for credit. Junior standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to take this course.

CS-490 Senior Project  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): CS-325 and CS-432 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): RD
Affords the student an opportunity to integrate topics and techniques from previous coursework in a capstone project. The project will combine investigation into computer science literature and actual implementation, either in an area of current research or an application area of interest to industry. Implementation might involve collaboration with other students. The project will be presented formally, both orally and in written form. This course satisfies the reasoned oral discourse requirement for computer science students.

CS-492A Computer Science Senior Project A  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-325 and CS-432, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
Affords the student an opportunity to integrate topics and techniques from previous coursework in a capstone project. The project will combine investigation into computer science literature and actual implementation, either in an area of current research or an application area of interest to industry. Implementation might involve collaboration with other students. The project will be presented formally both orally and in written form. This course satisfies the reasoned oral discourse requirement for computer science students.

CS-492B Computer Science Senior Project B  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-492A
Course Type(s): RD
Affords the student an opportunity to integrate topics and techniques from previous coursework in a capstone project. The project will combine investigation into computer science literature and actual implementation, either in an area of current research or an application area of interest to industry. Implementation might involve collaboration with other students. The project will be presented formally both orally and in written form. This course satisfies the reasoned oral discourse requirement for computer science students.

CS-498 Special Topics in Computer Science (400 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in computer science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CS-499 Independent Study in Computer Science  Credits: 1-4
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a computer science topic not substantially treated in a regular course; for students with superior ability. One-hour consultation per week. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

IT-100 Information Technology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Introduction to computer-based information management concepts that provide an integrated approach to personal computer software in a Windows environment. These include, word processing, spreadsheet, database, presentation graphics, and electronic communication applications; information retrieval from the Internet and online library resources; fundamental computer literacy; and the ethical and societal implications of computer technology. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided. Not open to students who have completed CS-102 or IT-102 or IT-150.

IT-102 Information Technology for Scientists  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Introduction to computer-based information management that provides an integrated approach to personal computer software in a Windows environment, which includes word processing, spreadsheet, mathematics, database, presentation graphics, Internet and electronic communication applications. Emphasizes scientific applications, technical report preparation and presentation. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-103 Applied Information Technology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): TL
Applies the principles and tools of information technology toward a deeper understanding of their impact on scientific, social and ethical issues via a central theme for the semester such as (but not limited to) climate change, big data, health-care cost analysis and others. This course will use software such as spreadsheets, databases, modeling, simulation, data analysis, software, electronic-communication applications; information retrieval from the internet and on-line library resources; social media, intranet and extranet systems to help students emerge with thematic materials in a way that deepens their understanding of associated topics.

IT-150 Information Technology for Business  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Introduction to computer-based information business management that provides an integrated approach to personal computer software in a Windows environment. This includes fundamental technology literacy; operating systems, word processing, spreadsheet, database, presentation graphics, and electronic communication applications; computer and network security; troubleshooting; information retrieval from the Internet and on-line library resources; intranet and extranet systems; and the ethical, societal, legal, and economic implications of computer technology. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.
IT-200  Advanced Information Technology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 or IT-102; or CS-104 or IT-150
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Advanced concepts and techniques in computer-based information management are provided through an integrated approach to personal computer hardware and software in a Windows environment. These include: hardware and software considerations; societal and ethical considerations; the program development life cycle; creating tables; merging documents and desktop publishing in word processing; creating templates, workbooks with multiple worksheets, and creating a data map in electronic spreadsheets; creating custom reports and an application system using macros in database management; and using embedded visuals in presentation graphics applications. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-250  Internet and Network Technology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-200 or CS-175 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to integrated application software used for authoring and publishing Web sites in a Windows environment. Applications include markup programming and Internet scripting languages used to create Web pages. Network technologies and the fundamental concepts involved in creating a network and in facilitating network operation will also be introduced. Concepts include: protocols, networking media, and architectures. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-298  Special Topics in Information Technology (200 Level)  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 and as announced in the course schedule
Course Type(s): None
Topics of current interest in Information Technology.

IT-299  Independent Study in Information Technology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

IT-300  Windows Applications: Program Design and Implementation  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-250 or permission of the department
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Design process notations, methods, paradigms, and tools. System architecture tradeoff analysis; component and subcomponent specification. Generic (domain) design; architectural styles, frameworks, and patterns. Test and integration plan documents. Architecture standards; design tools.

IT-398  Special Topics in Information Technology (300 Level)  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 and as announced in the course schedule
Course Type(s): None
Topics of current interest in Information Technology.
SE-250 Android Application Development Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course will teach students software methodologies for Android App Development. This will include Android Development Studio, Kotlin programming language, and interfaces to external services required to develop simple to moderately complex Android mobile apps. Also listed as CS-250.

SE-289 Internship in Software Engineering Credits: 3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in Software Engineering. Repeatable for credit. Junior standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to take this course.

SE-299 Independent Study in Software Engineering Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent Study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering under the guidance of a software engineering faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SE-306 Formal Methods in Software Engineering Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers a variety of formal methods and applies them to software specification development. Assumes a firm grounding in mathematical logic, knowledge of proof techniques, and skill in the translation of problems expressed in English into predicate logic.

SE-312 Software Verification, Validation, and Maintenance Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-104 and CS-176
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers inspections of requirements, design and code, as well as testing, the handling of change requests, software evolution, code comprehension, and change management.

SE-337 Enterprise Mobile Apps Design and Development Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher and CS-337
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Presents methodologies to build enterprise mobile apps on iPad tablets and iPhone smartphones using iOS. The course will cover technologies to use in the design and development of apps on mobile devices and the integration of these apps with corporate data sources, sensor devices and cloud computing services. Also listed as CS-337.

SE-351 Microprocessor Laboratory Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces the student to microprocessor-based, hardware-interface design. Provides practice in developing software that drives the interfaces between a microprocessor and the outside world. Topics include: logic circuit analysis and synthesis, digital hardware components, microprocessor system architecture, and assembly and C/C++ language programming of input/output device drivers.

SE-352 Embedded and Real-Time Software Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SE-351
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Familiarizes students with the fundamental issues related to embedded and real-time software systems and gives them an opportunity to become familiar with a commercially available system for developing and testing embedded and real-time software. Topics include: definition of embedded systems, process concurrency, interprocess communications, synchronization, and process scheduling.

SE-353 Comparative Languages Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176
Course Type(s): None
Begins with a history of the development of programming languages that provides the background necessary to understand programming-language design and evaluation. This is followed by an introduction to the basic programming language constructs and then critically comparing their implementation in some of the most common languages. Included is a discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of modern programming languages for a variety of applications. Some of the languages discussed are LISP, C, Small Talk, C++, Java, Ada, PL/1, and Prolog.

SE-357 Engineering Web-Based Systems Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A practical introduction to the principles, methods, and tools required to create high-quality software applications for the distributed, client-server context of the Web. Emphasis is on architectural designs, and language and data access methods that are common in Web-based systems. Also listed as CS-357.

SE-358 Software Frameworks Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SE-357 or CS-357; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to Design Patterns and modern Software Frameworks, programming languages, data access methods and asynchronous Application Programming Interfaces (APIs). Also listed as CS-358.

SE-360 Introduction to Game Development Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the creation of computer/video games and the different elements of games, including computer graphics, animation, artificial intelligence, algorithms, data structures, networking, software development cycles and human-computer interaction. Also listed as CS-360.

SE-370 Program Development Under Unix Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the use of the UNIX operating system and its utilities for incremental and distributed program development, maintenance, and debugging. The course covers the UNIX shell, utilities, and program development tools that are used for large projects involving multiple developers on multiple machines. Three hours per week.
SE-398  Special Topics in Software Engineering  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
A 300-level intensive study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SE-399  Independent Study in Software Engineering  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent Study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering under the guidance of a software engineering faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SE-402  Human Computer Interaction  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): IM
Covers basic human psychology, computer technology, and the interface between them. The key topics of HCI are examined, grounded in the context of usability and the design lifecycle.

SE-403  Software Process Improvement  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will be introduced to the various aspects related to software processes. It will focus on the definition and modeling of a software process, as well as on methods for process assessment and improvement. The concepts will be illustrated through process-improvement case studies, followed by hands-on experience with the improvement of the personal software-development process.

SE-418  Software Project Management  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Project management and its application to software-development projects. Emphasis will be on planning, organizing, monitoring, and controlling. Students will learn how to develop work breakdown structures, estimate task durations, assign resources, specify network precedence, and determine a project's critical path. Methods for scheduling in the face of resource constraints will be included, as well as function point counting, algorithmic models for estimating total project cost, and software tools for project planning and monitoring.

SE-450  Cyber Security  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Cover fundamental theory and practice of cyber security. Review cryptographic tools used to provide security, such as shared key encryption; public key encryption, key exchange, authentication, digital signature, and intrusion detection. Learn implementation of secure mechanisms in object-oriented programming languages. Also listed as CS-450.

SE-451  Applied Computer Security  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-450 or SE-450
Course Type(s): None
This course will introduce students to multiple aspects of computer security and practice into a series of well-defined security topics such as network security and hacking tools. Also, the student will introduce different topics of digital forensics. Also listed as CS-451.

SE-485A  Software Practicum  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205, SE-205, SE-207, and SE-312
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): EX5, RD
Team work on substantial software projects submitted by corporate sponsors. Interim progress reports required, with a final formal defense and presentation to corporate staff, faculty, and other students in the course. At the end of SE-485A, students must submit their software engineering portfolio for review by the Software Engineering faculty.

SE-485B  Software Practicum  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SE-485A
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, RD
Team work on substantial software projects submitted by corporate sponsors. Interim progress reports required, with a final formal defense and presentation to corporate staff, faculty, and other students in the course. At the end of SE-485B, students must submit their software engineering portfolio for review by the Software Engineering faculty.

SE-498  Special Topics in Software Engineering  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
A 400-level intensive study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SE-499  Independent Study in Software Engineering  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent Study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering under the guidance of a software engineering faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Electives (6 credits)
Mathematics

Chair: Joe Coyle, Department of Mathematics

The Bachelor of Science curriculum in mathematics is designed to provide an introduction to classical and modern mathematics and to provide a foundation for graduate study or careers in various areas of application.

The Concentration in Statistics gives students both a strong foundation in mathematics and specialized, advanced knowledge in pure and applied statistics. Students will be well prepared to enter data analysis and statistics fields, as well as graduate statistics programs.

Programs

Majors

• Bachelor of Science in Mathematics
• Bachelor of Science in Mathematics with a Concentration in Statistics
• Bachelor of Science in Mathematics and Education with Endorsement in Elementary Education
• Bachelor of Science in Mathematics and Education with Endorsement in Secondary Education in Mathematics

Minors

• Mathematics
• Statistics

Faculty

Richard Bastian, Senior Lecturer. B.S., City College of New York; M.S., Columbia University; Ph.D., Johns Hopkins University. Interests include applied mathematics, mathematics and culture, and philosophy of mathematics.

rbastian@monmouth.edu

Joseph Coyle, Professor and Chair. B.S., Miami University; M.S., Ph.D., University of Delaware. Interests include numerical analysis and inverse problems.

jcoyle@monmouth.edu

David Darmon, Assistant Professor. B.A., Ursinus College; Ph.D., University of Maryland. Research focuses on developing new analytical tools to facilitate understanding of dynamical processes that occur on networks.

ddarmon@monmouth.edu

Torey Gallagher, Assistant Professor. B.S., Temple University; M.A., Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh. Research interests include functional analysis, or more specifically, fixed point theory.

togallag@monmouth.edu

Biyue Betty Liu, Professor. B.S., M.S., Nanjing University, China; PhD, University of Maryland. Interests include numerical solution of differential equations and mathematical modeling.

bliu@monmouth.edu

David Marshall, Associate Professor. B.A., California State University at Fullerton; Ph.D., University of Arizona. Interests include number theory, commutative algebra, and the theory of bilinear and quadratic forms.
Susan Marshall, Associate Professor. B.S., Wake Forest University; Ph.D., University of Arizona. Interests include number theory, arithmetic geometry, and the learning and teaching of proof.
smarshal@monmouth.edu

Emanuel Palsu-Andriescu, Lecturer. B.S., M.S., Al.I., Cuza University, Romania; Ph.D., University of Rochester. Interests include microlocal analysis, Colombeau generalized functions, and Fourier integral operators.
epalsu@monmouth.edu

Wai Kong Pang, Associate Professor. B.S., Brigham Young University; M.S., Ph.D., Texas Tech University. Interests include functional data analysis, and multi-sample problems in Hilbert spaces.
w pang@monmouth.edu

Laura Turner, Assistant Professor. B.S., Acadia University, M.S., Simon Fraser University; Ph.D., Aarhus University. Interests include the history of mathematics, especially 19th and 20th centuries.
lturner@monmouth.edu

Francis Valliquette, Assistant Professor. B.S., M.S., Universite de Montreal; M.S., Ph.D., University of Minnesota. Research interests lie at the interface of applied mathematics, differential geometry, and discrete geometry. In particular, Dr. Valliquette is interested in the theory of transformation groups and their applications to differential equations and their finite difference approximations.
fvaliquette@monmouth.edu

Sandra Zak, Lecturer. B.A., M.A., San Diego State University; Ph.D., University of New Hampshire. Interests include operator algebras, C*-algebras, curriculum development, and the mathematical preparation of teachers.

Courses

MA-050 Pre-Algebra Mathematics Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The language of mathematics, terms and symbols, the real number system, arithmetic operations on real numbers, including exponents and roots, emphasis on fractions and decimals, and evaluation of expressions. Special topics on divisibility, figurate numbers, and introduction to college algebra. Three hours per week, plus mandatory attendance with mathematics lab. This course cannot be used to satisfy graduation requirements.

MA-100 Quantitative Reasoning and Problem Solving Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL2 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Basic mathematical concepts studied through solving problems in collaborative groups; examination of decision-making and problem-solving techniques and various formats for representing quantitative information.

MA-101 College Algebra Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The axioms and properties of the real number system. Manipulating expressions representing quantities; functions and their representations as rules, graphs or tabulations; linear and polynomial functions; zero, factoring techniques, and graphical properties of polynomials; the logarithm and exponential; solving systems of equations; sequences and summations; and combinations and permutations. Calculators required for selected topics. This course cannot be used in satisfaction of the general education mathematics requirement.

MA-103 Foundations of Elementary Mathematics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or 3 credits in Math
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-8, and their history and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary-school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. This course will also be of value for any student who wants a better understanding of these ideas. Focus on understanding and exploring the mathematics behind computation through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. Topics include: number systems, measurement, probability, statistics, and geometry. Not open to freshmen.

MA-105 Mathematical Modeling in the Social Sciences Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Exploration and aspects of algebra, mathematical modeling, and data analysis, which are important in the social sciences. Topics include: an introduction to data, the use of variables, assorted kinds of graphs to represent data, the concept of function, the problem of fitting functions to data, representing change over time, rates of change, linear functions and linear models, piecewise-linear functions, and an introduction to non-linear functions. Pedagogical methods to be used include: projects using real data, computer explorations, and group work. MA-LVL4 may not take this course.

MA-107 Mathematics in the Arts Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Study of artistic design in architecture, painting, sculpture, and crafts; math of music.

MA-109 Pre-Calculus Mathematics Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The real number system, algebraic expressions, exponents, radicals, solution of equations, solutions of inequalities, functions, graphing of functions, and trigonometry. Not open to students who have successfully completed MA-125.
MA-115  Pre-Calculus Modeling for the Biological Sciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL 3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Provides a development of an understanding of linear, exponential, logarithmic, polynomial and trigonometric functions related to biological phenomena. The development is from an algebraic, graphical and modelling perspective. In addition, the solutions of equations and inequalities related to these functions are studied. Use of related technology is included.

MA-116  Calculus for the Biological Sciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-115 or MA-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to calculus, from a primarily graphical perspective, through applications to biological and ecological phenomena. Topics include: differentiation, integration, and differential equations.

MA-117  Quantitative Analysis for Business I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 or MA-105 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Linear equations and models, systems of linear equations and applications, matrices and techniques for solving systems of equations, linear programming and applications, quadratic functions and models, and exponential and logarithmic models. A computer laboratory component is incorporated. Designed for students majoring in Business Administration; other students by permission of the Mathematics Department.

MA-118  Quantitative Analysis for Business II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-117 passed with a grade of C- or higher, or permission of the department
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Functions, limits, continuity, polynomial calculus, including optimization models, anti-derivatives, area and applications to business models; introduction to probability and statistics as applied to business models.

MA-120  Introduction to Mathematical Reasoning  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to reasoning, proof, and exposition in mathematics. Topics include: Boolean logic, set theory, counting techniques, functions, mathematical induction, permutations, and the proofs of various elementary theorems.

MA-125  Calculus with Analytic Geometry I  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-109 or MA-115 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Functions, limits, continuity, and the differential and integral calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, and exponential functions.

MA-126  Calculus with Analytic Geometry II  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-125 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Functions, limits, continuity, and the differential and integral calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, exponential functions.

MA-130  Applied Discrete Mathematics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to reasoning, proof, and exposition in mathematics. Topics include: Boolean logic, set theory, counting techniques, functions, mathematical induction, permutations, and the proofs of various elementary theorems.

MA-151  Statistics with Applications  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 or MA-105 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Analysis of data, probability, random variables, normal distribution, sampling theory, confidence intervals, and statistical inference. Not open to computer science majors or to students required to complete MA-125, except software engineering majors.

MA-198  Special Topics in Mathematics (100 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in mathematics to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite for this course it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-199  Independent Study in Mathematics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

MA-203  Foundations of Elementary Mathematics I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, their history, and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary-school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. This course, along with MA-204, Foundations of Elementary Mathematics II, will also be of value for any student who wants a better understanding of these ideas. Focus on understanding and exploring mathematics through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. MA-203 concentrates on problem solving, whole number arithmetic and theory, discrete math, integers, fractions, decimals, and algebraic concepts. MA-203 does not count toward the mathematics major or minor requirements. Students who take MA-203 are not eligible to take MA-205. Prerequisite: MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
MA-204 Foundations of Elementary Mathematics II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-203 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, their history and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. This course, along with MA-203, Foundations of Elementary Mathematics I, will also be of value for any student who wants a better understanding of these ideas. Focus on understanding and exploring mathematics through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. Topics in MA-204 include: fractions, ratios and percent, data analysis, counting and probability, geometry of shape, measurement, and measurement geometry (perimeter, area, surface area, volume). MA-204 does not count toward the mathematics major or minor requirements. Students who have taken MA-204 are not eligible to take MA-207.

MA-205 Number Systems Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, and their history and applications in daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. Concentrates on the various number systems of school mathematics: whole numbers, integers, fractions, decimals. It does this by examining, in other number bases, standard algorithms for addition, subtraction, multiplication and division, as well as alternative algorithms in base ten, including student-generated algorithms. The course will focus on understanding and exploring the mathematics through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. MA-205 does not count towards the mathematics major or minor requirements. Students who have taken MA-205 are not eligible to take MA-203.

MA-206 Algebraic Thinking, Probability and Statistics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-205 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, and their history and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. MA-206 concentrates on the algebraic thinking, probability and statistics. MA-206 does not count towards the mathematics major or minor requirements.
MA-298  Special Topics in Mathematics (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in mathematics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-299  Independent Study in Mathematics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

MA-301  Careers in Mathematics Seminar  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): MA-220 and MA-221
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An orientation to career opportunities and graduate level programs and degrees available to students with a background in mathematics and statistics.

MA-305  Mathematical Problem Solving  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-205, MA-206, and MA-207 all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
The final mathematics course in the four-course sequence for future elementary school teachers. Designed to strengthen their mathematical content knowledge, problem solving skills, conceptual understanding and ability to communicate about mathematics, through the investigation of mathematically challenging problems. Problems will require creative thinking and utilization of past content knowledge in new situations. Students will work in groups and individually, and write up their solutions. This course does not count towards the mathematics major or minor requirement.

MA-311  Differential Equations  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-126 and MA-221 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Designed to provide students with the fundamentals of differential equations. The topics include elementary methods of solution, n-th order linear equations, systems of linear equations, Laplace transform methods, numerical solutions, and initial and boundary value problems.

MA-314  Number Theory  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 and MA-221 both passed with a grade of C- or higher and EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
Properties of integers, divisibility, prime numbers, congruence, and Diophantine equations.

MA-317  Geometry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 and either MA-221 or MA-225 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Study of Euclid’s axioms, fifth postulate and its substitutes, absolute geometry, projective geometry, constructions, and convexity.

MA-318  Combinatorics and Graph Theory  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130 or CS-202 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and MA-221 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Combinatorics is the study of countable discrete mathematical structures. Graph theory is the study of mathematical structures involving a collection of objects, known as the vertex set, along with a collection of pairs of vertices, known as the edge set. These two inseparable areas of mathematics are ripe with beautiful theory and endless applications. Students will learn the techniques required to answer questions in these fields, as well as appropriate applications.

MA-320  Probability and Statistics II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher, MA-151 or BE-251 or MA-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher, EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
A continuation of MA-220, including sample distributions, exploratory data analysis, estimation methods, regression and correlation, as well as applications to quality control.

MA-321  Statistical Consulting  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Gives students a working knowledge of statistical consulting in the world outside of the classroom by working with real clients. Students will interview clients, translate client needs into statistical language, design statistical experiments, generate data collection plans, assist in data collection, analyze data, interpret their analyses, and present their finding to the client. Throughout the process students will interact with their clients regarding ongoing questions that occur. By the end of the course, students will be able to choose and apply appropriate statistical design and analysis methodologies. They will also be able to interpret, evaluate, and present their conclusions in oral and written form. Topics covered will depend upon client needs and may include designing experiments with power and sample size considerations, multiple and logistic regression, survival analyses, t- and chi-square tests, ANOVA/MANOVA/ANCOVA, and principal component analysis. This course may be repeated once for additional credit to either continue work on a long-term project, or to take part in a new statistical consulting project.

MA-325  History of Mathematics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GU, WT
Surveys historical milestones in the development of mathematics from ancient times to the Nineteenth century, with modern topics as time permits.
MA-327 Design and Analysis of Biological Experiments Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C or higher or permission of the instructors.
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The purpose of this course is to learn about the statistical design & analysis of biological experiments. After learning mathematical techniques of designing experiments, and statistical analyses customized to them, students will be presented with a broad research question by the instructors. Literature surveys will be a critical part of the course to allow students to find pertinent, relevant, potentially publishable biological questions that address a specific aspect of the larger question posed by the instructors. Students will design their own experiment addressing their question, generate their own data collection plan, collect their data, and then analyze their data using statistical techniques taught in class. This course will involve field/lab work for data collection and computer work in the statistical analysis of the final data. Students will defend their question, design and analysis from both a statistical and biological perspective. At the end of the semester students will complete a formal manuscript in journal format. This course can be used to fulfill the Mathematics or Statistics minor and the Bio/MEBP elective. This course is a research based course and students must have demonstrated a strong interest in and potential for research. Also listed as BY-327.

MA-334 Problem Solving Seminar Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130; and MA-126 all passed with a minimum grade of C- or higher, and permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): None
Problem solving techniques and the ability to use them in applications lie at the core of learning and applying mathematics. The course covers important strategies for solving mathematical problems, most of which are only tangentially studied in the usual mathematics curriculum. The strategies are an assortment of both overarching themes and particular techniques of more limited applicability. Each strategy is covered in a theoretical context followed by implementation to specific problems. Polya's classic framework for the problem solving processes will be referenced and used throughout the course. This course is repeatable for credit.

MA-350 Computation and Statistics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and either MA-151 or BE-251 or MA-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers topics related to computational statistics, including obtaining large, realistic, real-time datasets, calculation and visualization of basic statistical features, regression, empirical distributions, and time-series features. Also covered will be principal components analysis (PCA), analysis of variance (ANOVA), correlation, prediction, and stochastic volatility estimation (GARCH). Portfolio theory will also be covered.

MA-380 Research in Mathematics Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Mathematical or statistical research work carried out under the mentorship of a faculty research advisor. Research conducted by the students will be submitted for presentation, publication or review. The number of credits will be determined by arrangement with the advisor. Three hours/week per credit. This class is repeatable up to six credits total.

MA-388 Cooperative Education: Mathematics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-311 and MA-220, both passed with a grade of C- or higher if a Mathematics major; or MA-120 and MA-126, both passed with a grade of C- or higher if other major, a cumulative G.P.A. of 2.00 and Junior or Senior standing
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Affords the student an opportunity to apply mathematical theory to practical work-related experience. Includes both academic and experiential components. Involves ten hours per week of work experience. The academic aspect includes a reflective journal and a written report; repeatable for credit.

MA-389 Internship in Mathematics Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in math; repeatable for credit. Student must have at least Junior status. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

MA-398 Special Topics in Mathematics (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in mathematics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-399 Independent Study in Mathematics Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-407 Topology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Topology is the study of the structure of space and is one of the major theoretical areas in modern mathematics. The course serves as both a rigorous foundation for advanced study in the field and as a survey of important techniques established since its inception. After building the necessary framework of point-set topology, the course will move on to selected topics such as the classification of surfaces, knot theory, and algebraic topology.

MA-410 Modern Algebra Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-221 and MA-225, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Beginning with the natural numbers, the integers and rational numbers are developed. Complex numbers and roots of unity are followed by groups, rings, and polynomials.
MA-411  Group Theory  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-221, and MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 or MA-407, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Group Theory is the study of symmetry, and is one of the core branches of abstract algebra. The course will explore the theory and applications of groups. In addition to covering many examples of groups, course topics will include subgroups, group homomorphisms and isomorphisms, permutations, quotient groups, Sylow Theorems, and the structure of finitely generated abelian groups.

MA-413  Complex Analysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-225 and either MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 or MA-407 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Complex numbers and plane, functions, derivatives, line integrals, and Cauchy integral theorem. Cauchy’s formula, series, applications.

MA-415  Real Analysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-225 and either MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 or MA-407 passed with a grade of C- or higher and EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Metric spaces, real number system, limits, functions, continuity, differentiation and integration, and counter-examples.

MA-419  Introduction to Mathematical Modeling  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-220, MA-311, MA-221 all passed with a grade of C- or higher, Junior standing, and EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, WT
Introduction to mathematical modeling, which is a process in which a real-world situation is studied, simplified, and abstracted to the point that mathematical tools can be applied to gain understanding. Introduction to the process, first via a text and mini-projects, then in teams investigating problems from local industries or organizations.

MA-421  Design of Experiments and ANOVA  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher and either MA-151 or BE-251 or MA-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Provides a working knowledge of multivariate regression and ANOVA methods balanced with the theory underlying these techniques. Intended for students considering a career in statistics, including but not limited to biostatistics, financial mathematics and theoretical statistics. Topics include: an introduction to experimental design, power and effect size calculations, data screening and transformation to meet assumptions of the analyses, multivariate regression, multinomial logistic regression, multivariate survival analysis, ANOVA/ANCOVA/MANOVA/MANCova, and time permitting, an introduction to time series analysis. Extensive use is made of real-world case data from business/finance, health/biology, and education/psychology.

MA-440  Regression and Time Series Analysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher and either MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers topics related to multiple regression techniques, including testing the assumptions required for each to be valid. This includes applications to yield curve smoothing, pricing, and investment models, and the use of principal component analysis. Also covered are techniques for the analysis and modeling of time series data and forecasting.

MA-460  Multivariate and Categorical Statistics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher and MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This advanced statistics course provides students with skills in advanced multivariate analysis and its applications. Students will learn the material through projects using data from business, finance, and biology. Topics include MANOVA, discriminant analysis, cluster analysis, multidimensional scaling, and factor analysis. Topics may also include conjoint analysis, canonical correlation and structural equation modeling.

MA-488  Cooperative Education: Mathematics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-220 and MA-311 passed with a grade of C- or higher if a Math major
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Affords the student an opportunity to apply mathematical theory to practical work-related experience. Includes both academic and experiential components. Involves ten hours per week of work experience. The academic aspect includes a reflective journal and a written report; repeatable for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. MA-311 and MA-320, both passed with a grade of C- or higher are required, if a mathematics major; or MA-120 and MA-126, passed with a grade of C- or higher, if another major; a cumulative GPA of 2.00 and Junior or Senior standing.

MA-499  Independent Study in Mathematics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

1 Minimum grade of "C" required for Education courses.
2 Students must complete the appropriate test requirement(s) with a passing score PRIOR to Student Teaching.
3 Please consult with your advisor regarding the required number of free electives that must be completed.
4 The General Education curriculum requires the completion of 45 credits. However, students may be able to share credits from within their major or interdisciplinary requirements. Please consult with your advisor to determine which General Education (p. 43) courses must be completed.

Additional Endorsements Available

- MID-MA - Middle School Mathematics
- ESL - English as a Second Language - Elementary
- P-3 Early Childhood Endorsement

Notes

- 54 credits must be completed at the 200 level or higher.
- Education majors are required to have an overall GPA of 3.00 for State Certification
- By state regulation, all Education majors seeking content area endorsement must complete 30 content credits (12+ credits at the 300+ level).

Medical Laboratory Sciences and Clinical Laboratory Sciences

Chair: William Schreiber, Department of Chemistry and Physics

The curricula in Medical Laboratory Science and Clinical Laboratory Sciences are quite similar. Both prepare students to work as skilled professionals in medically related laboratories. Students complete three years of course work, focused on chemistry and biology, followed by a one-year hands-on internship at one of several hospital sites. Professionals in these areas provide laboratory data that is essential to the diagnosis of diseases, management of patient therapy, and maintenance of health. Graduates of these rewarding programs are highly employable and enjoy excellent starting salaries. They also have the potential for further career advancement in the field.

The Medical Laboratory Science curriculum is offered in conjunction with one of our medical center affiliates. The curriculum requires completion of ninety-six credits of collegiate work prescribed by the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS) and is followed by an eleven-month internship period at an NAACLS-approved hospital program. Monmouth University confers the Bachelor of Science degree upon successful completion of the hospital program. Students have typically attended internships at:

Monmouth Medical Center
Long Branch, NJ 07740
Program Director: Emily Su

Jersey Shore University Medical Center
Neptune, NJ 07753
Program Director: Perla L. Simmons

The Clinical Laboratory Sciences with a Concentration in Medical Laboratory Science program is offered in collaboration with the Rutgers School of Health Related Professions (Rutgers-SHRP). The curriculum requires three years of pre-professional study followed by a fifteen-month internship at the Rutgers School of Health Related Professions. Monmouth University and the Rutgers-SHRP jointly confer the Bachelor of Science degree upon successful completion of the professional component. The internships for this program take place at:

Rutgers-School of Health-Related Professions
Newark Campus
Program Director: Deborah A. Josko

Notes

1 Students who have not completed all core requirements with a “C” grade or better will be ineligible for admission to the required internship program at Rutgers-SHRP.

2 MA-116 Calculus for the Biological Sciences (3 cr.) or MA-125 Calculus with Analytic Geometry I (4 cr.) are to be taken by students who score 4 on the Math Placement Exam.

3 Please consult with your advisor regarding the required number of free electives that must be completed.

4 The General Education curriculum requires the completion of 45 credits. However, students may be able to share credits from within their major or interdisciplinary requirements. Please consult with your advisor to determine which General Education (p. 43) courses must be completed.

• 54 credits must be completed at the 200 level or higher.

Physics

Chair: William Schreiber, Department of Chemistry and Physics

Physics faculty members offer a curriculum leading to a minor in physics, which may be combined with any major. The minor in physics can be combined with a major in chemistry and education to prepare for the Teacher of Physical Science Certification. A minor in physics also complements the interests of students majoring in mathematics, software engineering, and a variety of other fields. The physics faculty support various undergraduate programs by offering specific courses required in other majors and courses designed to meet the general education natural sciences requirements. They also provide research opportunities for interested students.

Programs

Minor

- Physics (p. 285)

Courses

PH-101  Physics in Our Lives
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS

Presents major concepts and methodologies in physics and their importance in today’s society. Introduction to principles of physics and their applications to today’s technology using lectures and demonstration.

PH-103  The Physics of Sound and Music
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS

Presents the topics of sound and music from a physics point of view. Covered topics are harmonic motion, waves (both traveling and standing), the human voice and ear, the production of music and musical scales and the physics of several representative instruments.

PH-105  Physics for the Life Sciences I
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 or MA-109 or MA-115 or higher Math courses passed with grade of C- or higher.
Co-requisite(s): PH-105L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS

An introduction to classical physics intended primarily for students majoring in the life sciences. Topics include: mechanics, dynamics, heat, electricity, magnetism, and optics.

PH-105L  Physics for the Life Sciences Laboratory I
Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): PH-105
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

Laboratory work to complement PH-105. Experiments in the fields of statics, dynamics, energy, momentum, heat, sound, electricity, magnetism, optics, and spectroscopy. Three hours per week.

PH-106  Physics for the Life Sciences II
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PH-105 and PH-105L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): PH-106L
Course Type(s): NS

An introduction to classical physics intended primarily for students majoring in the life sciences. Topics include: mechanics, dynamics, heat, electricity, magnetism, and optics.
PH-106L   Physics for the Life Sciences Laboratory II  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): PH-106
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work to complement PH-106. Experiments in the fields of sound, electricity, magnetism, optics, and spectroscopy. Three hours per week.

PH-150   Principles of Astronomy  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The historical development of astronomy and the modern concepts of the universe, including demonstrations and viewing sessions with optical telescopes.

PH-199   Independent Study in Physics  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a selected topic in physics not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the Physics faculty. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PH-211   General Physics with Calculus I  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-125
Co-requisite(s): PH-211L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): NS
The first of a two-semester sequence of courses that, taken together, provide a thorough introduction to classical physics using calculus. Topics covered include: one- and two-dimensional motion, Newton's laws and their applications, energy, momentum and impulse, rotational motion, gravitation, and thermodynamics.

PH-211L   General Physics with Calculus Laboratory I  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): PH-211
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory experiments to complement the topics covered in PH-211. Includes experiments in statics, dynamics, and thermodynamics.

PH-212   General Physics with Calculus II  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-126, PH-211, and PH-211L all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): PH-212L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
The second of a two-semester sequence of courses that, taken together, provide a thorough introduction to classical physics using calculus. Topics covered include: sound and wave mechanics, electrostatics, circuits, magnetic forces and fields, Faraday's Law, reflection and refraction, and optics.

PH-212L   General Physics with Calculus Laboratory II  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): PH-212
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory experiments to complement the topics covered in PH-212. Includes experiments in sound, electricity, magnetism, circuits, and optics.

PH-270   Physical Oceanography  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109, CE-111, CE-111L, CE-112, and CE-112L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
Physical Oceanography provides a survey of physical, chemical and geological processes that define and affect the coastal ocean including ocean basins, beach formation and dynamic ocean processes (currents, waves, wind, weather). Environmental considerations include the role of the ocean in the association with global climate change issues, problems associated with coastal development, exploitation of marine resources, and ocean and coastal pollution.

PH-298   Special Topics in Physics (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in physics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

PH-299   Independent Study in Physics  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a selected topic in physics not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the Physics faculty. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PH-301   Modern Physics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PH-302 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Topics from physics of the twentieth century, including special relativity, the origins of quantum theory, quantum mechanics, atomic structure, nuclear physics, and elementary particles.

PH-302   Theoretical Physics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PH-212 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Presents physics topics aimed at the advanced undergraduate level. The subjects range over classical mechanics, electromagnetism, and statistical mechanics, with explicit links made to topics from PH-301. The course is calculus-based, and seeks to round out the physics education of physics minors.

PH-399   Independent Study in Physics  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physics faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PH-499   Independent Study in Physics (400 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physics faculty member. Three hours per week per credit. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Urban Coast Institute

Director: Tony MacDonald

The Urban Coast Institute (UCI) serves the public interest as a forum for research, education, and collaboration that fosters the application of the best available science and policy to support healthy and productive coastal ecosystems and a sustainable and economically vibrant future for coastal communities. The UCI efforts focus on the following program areas:

- Coastal and Ocean Management, Law, and Policy
- Coastal Marine Stewardship, Habitat and Water Quality
- Sustainable and Resilient Coastal Communities

Institute Staff

Tony MacDonald, Esq. Director. J.D., Fordham University School of Law. Mr. MacDonald has over thirty years of executive and policy experience in coastal and ocean law and policy at the local, state, and federal level.

Thomas Herrington, Associate Director. Ph.D., Stevens Institute of Technology. Dr. Herrington is one of New Jersey's leading experts on coastal processes, beach management and ocean engineering. He has more than 25 years of experience in coastal sustainability and hazard mitigation research, including the analysis of storm surge and wave impacts on coastal communities.

James Nickels, Marine Scientist. M.S., Montclair State University. Mr. Nickels has worked for over twenty-five years on marine research, monitoring, surveying, and field operations in both the public and private sectors. His expertise includes survey work in fisheries, plankton, benthic organisms, sediment, water quality, mitigation, and geophysics. He is a licensed hydrographer and Certified Floodplain Manager.

Karl Vilacoba, Communications Director. M.A., New Jersey Institute of Technology. Mr. Vilacoba has over fifteen years of experience in professional media, writing, and technical communications. He is the lead for the Urban Coast Institute (UCI) outreach and communications efforts related to ocean and coastal programs and activities.

LEON HESS BUSINESS SCHOOL

Dean: Raj Devasagayam, Ph.D. (2021)
Associate Dean: Gilda Agacer, Ph.D.
Assistant Dean: Janeth Merkle, M.B.A., M.M.
MBA Program Director: Rick Roberts, M.B.A.

The Leon Hess Business School (LHBS) is currently ranked in the top 300 of the 2,000 schools of business in the United States, is a community of teacher-scholars educating students to develop strong leadership skills in achieving organizational excellence and sustainability; the integrated strategic management of interlocking economic, social, technological and ecological systems in which organizations operate. The LHBS is accredited by AACSB International — the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. AACSB accreditation is the hallmark of excellence in business education, and has been earned by less than 5 percent of the world’s business programs. Today, there are 727 business schools in 48 countries and territories that maintain AACSB accreditation.

Within the LHBS are two Centers of Distinction.

1. The first is the Kislak Real Estate Institute. The Institute is the sole provider of both undergraduate and graduate academic credit-bearing real estate education in the State of New Jersey.
2. The second, the Center for Entrepreneurship is directed by Dr. Joseph McManus of the Management and Decision Sciences Department. The Center has been nationally recognized for its innovative teaching in the field of entrepreneurship and product designs.

The School of Business is most fortunate to have two professors who are endowed Chairs.

- Professor Donald Moliver holds the Steven and Elaine Pozycki Endowed Professor Chair in Real Estate.
- Professor Nahid Aslanbeigui holds the Kvernland Endowed Chair in Philosophy and Corporate Social Policy.

Student Honor Society: Beta Gamma Sigma

The top 20 percent of MBA graduates and 10 percent of undergraduate junior and senior students are eligible for election to Beta Gamma Sigma, the International Honor Society for AACSB-accredited business schools.

Accounting

Chair: J. Peter Christakos, Department of Accounting

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Accounting is to prepare students for careers in public, private industry, and governmental and not-for-profit organizations. The department encourages and supports dynamic interaction between faculty and students. Faculty members contribute as leaders in the profession through research and community activities.

The Monmouth University Department of Accounting prepares students for today's varied and challenging careers in the accounting field including:

- Public Accounting: Opportunities range from the “Big 4” to regional and local firms which provide audit, tax, management, and forensic services to clients.
- Private Accounting: These options involve working within an individual company or non-profit organization.
- Government Work: Jobs are available working for the Internal Revenue Service, the NJ Division of Taxation, or other government agencies.
- Education: Graduates can continue for advanced degrees and return to academia for research and teaching opportunities.

Monmouth University accounting graduates will have met the educational requirements to sit for the rigorous Certified Public Accounting Examination (Students will have the opportunity to plan for meeting the additional requirements of 150 college credit hours, and work experience to become a CPA.)

The opportunities for accounting graduates are unlimited with the demand continuing at a strong level despite the current economic downturn.

- CPAs are highly respected and in demand.
- All financial decisions, for businesses and successful individuals, are dependent on accounting information.
- Accounting is the “language of business.”
- Graduates with accounting skills are able to succeed in a career and life that offers wonderful opportunities.

Economics, Finance, and Real Estate

Chair: Barrie Bailey, Department of Economics, Finance, and Real Estate

Within the Leon Hess Business School, students can pursue a number of academic degrees including economics, finance, and real estate. The program provides an education that helps qualify its graduates for positions of leadership in private and public sectors.

Curricula are developed, taught, and regularly updated by a faculty with strong academic and business experience. They stress the development of critical thinking, sophisticated communication skills, and a flexible managerial perspective.

The undergraduate program in business administration is grounded in a broad-gauged education in the liberal arts and sciences designed to prepare students for responsible judgment in a wide variety of cultural and social settings.

Management and Leadership

Chair: Stuart Rosenberg, Department of Management and Leadership

Within the Leon Hess Business School (http://www.monmouth.edu/business-school/leon-hess-business-school.aspx), students can pursue a number of academic degree programs (http://www.monmouth.edu/registrar/UG_curriculum_charts/default.asp#business), including those available in the Department of Management and Leadership.

The program prepares students for success through an effective contemporary business education. The program provides an education that helps to qualify its graduates for positions of leadership in both the private and public sectors. Curricula are developed, taught, and regularly updated by faculty members with strong academic and business experience. The faculty members stress the development of critical thinking, sophisticated communications skills, and a flexible managerial perspective.

Monmouth’s program in management offers an interdisciplinary approach that prepares graduates to excel in a variety of management positions.

<td>Logistics is an integrative activity uniting suppliers, providers of goods and services, and customers. It is also a global activity where the suppliers, providers, and customers may be located all over the world. In order to emphasize the global aspects of logistics and the impact of geopolitics on logistical systems, the course will focus on the logistics of energy transportation: primarily oil plus liquefied petroleum gases. This course will cover the differing perspectives of users (oil companies) and providers (tanker owning companies) and financial institutions that support providers. International efforts to deal with oil pollution and other forms of pollution from ships will be investigated. The role of trucks, railroads, airlines, and pipelines in domestic logistics will be described along with the role of containerization and intermodalism in global logistics. Supply chain management as practiced by a number of different companies will be covered via lecture and student presentations.</td>

Marketing and International Business
Chair: Min Hua Lu, Department of Marketing and International Business

Within the Leon Hess Business School (http://www.monmouth.edu/business-school/about-leon-b-hess.aspx), students can pursue a number of academic degree programs (http://www.monmouth.edu/university/undergraduate-programs.aspx#business), including those available in the Department of Marketing and International Business.

The program prepares students for success through an effective contemporary business education. The program provides an education that helps to qualify its graduates for positions of leadership in both the private and public sectors. Curricula are developed, taught, and regularly updated by faculty members with strong academic and business experience. The faculty members stress the development of critical thinking, sophisticated communications skills, and a flexible managerial perspective.

Students are primed for leadership through a comprehensive curriculum that prepares them to assume responsibility in every phase of marketing.

School of Education

Dean: John E. Henning, PhD
Associate Dean: Wendy Harriott, PhD
Assistant Dean: Tracy Mulvaney, EdD

The School of Education (SOE) was established in 1995 to broaden and increase support for Monmouth University’s education programs. The goal of the School is to provide highly effective programs to prepare practitioners who can help all students learn in diverse school settings. Candidates are mentored by a diverse faculty that models best practices grounded in evidence-based research. The School seeks to foster collaboration and partnerships among University faculty, students, staff, school practitioners, and community representatives to improve student achievement. Programs are rooted in the belief that all students can learn and are guided by four key themes:

1. the importance of both pedagogical and content knowledge with a commitment to lifelong learning,
2. an emphasis on collaboration and partnerships with schools and local communities,
3. the essential role played by cultural diversity and individual differences in the teaching/learning process, and
4. the need to develop educational leadership skills consistent with professional ethics.

The School of Education’s mission is to be a leader in the preparation of highly competent, reflective professional educators (e.g., teachers, administrators, school counselors, speech-language pathologists, behavior analysts, student affairs specialists, and reading specialists) who have the knowledge, 21st century skills, and dispositions required to improve the teaching and learning of students in a highly pluralistic, democratic society. Toward this end, our candidates are prepared to serve students from diverse identities in terms of abilities, age, culture, ethnicity, family, lifestyle, and socioeconomic status.

The SOE programs emphasize state and national curriculum standards with research-based best practice designed to improve student learning and prepare P-12 students to be successful in the 21st-century global economy. Programs are designed to improve a candidate’s critical thinking, communication, and problem-solving skills as they apply these core competencies to P-12 student learning. The School’s programs also integrate state-of-the-art instructional technologies that can be applied in K-12 classrooms, school administrative practices and educational counseling. The School has its own computer lab and offers online, hybrid, and Web-enhanced courses.

Curriculum and Instruction

Chair: Ruth Morris, Department of Curriculum and Instruction

Programs are designed to provide a strong liberal arts or sciences background, a subject area major, a behavioral/social science sequence, and significant professional preparation for an elementary teacher (K–6), an elementary teacher with subject matter specialization (K-8), and a subject area (K–12) teacher.

Students with aspirations to earn certification as an elementary teacher are required to simultaneously complete the requirements of both the BA program in Education and one of the BA programs in Anthropology, Art, English, English/Creative Writing, Spanish, History, History/Political Science, Interdisciplinary Studies for Elementary Educators, or Political Science; or to simultaneously complete the requirements of both the BS program in Education and the BS program in Mathematics. Students in these programs will have two academic advisors—one in each department. Students can also choose to pursue a BA in Interdisciplinary Studies for Elementary Educators. Students in this program will have one academic advisor from the School of Education.

Students with career objectives to earn certification in a subject area, K–12, are required to simultaneously complete the requirements of both the BA program in Education and one of the BA programs in Art, English, English/Creative Writing, Spanish, History, History/Political Science, Music, or Political Science; or to simultaneously complete requirements of both the BS program in Education and one of the BS programs in Biology, Chemistry, Chemistry (physical science), Health/Physical Education, or Mathematics. Students will have two academic advisors—one in each department.

Students wishing to enhance their academic program and expand their education may choose an undergraduate endorsement:

- English as a Second Language (ESL);
- Teacher of Students with Disabilities (TSD);
- Middle School (5-8) Endorsement (available to Elementary K-6 majors in English, Math, Science, or Social Studies); or
- Early Childhood - P-3 (available to Elementary K-6 only).

One or more of these endorsements may be combined with a student’s academic program.

Internal Progression Requirements

Students must meet New Jersey State mandated progression requirements beginning an education program at Monmouth University. This will require students to have a 3.0 grade point average (GPA), achieve a passing score on the Praxis Core Academic Skills for Educators (CORE) (or achieve a score as regulated by the State of New Jersey that is “approximately equal to the top third percentile score for all test takers in the year the respective test was taken”) and send a completed assessment of written and oral communication skills to the School of Education. Students must also complete the professional education components at Monmouth University and meet current standards of the Monmouth University School of Education and the New Jersey Department of Education. The program includes field experiences beginning in the sophomore year, increasing in intensity during the junior and senior years, and culminating in full-time clinical practice (i.e., student teaching) in the second semester of their senior year. Students are required to maintain a 3.0 GPA. Undergraduate students in the School of Education must receive a minimum grade of “C” in all required Education courses. If a grade below “C” is earned, that course must be retaken and will follow the rules set forth in this catalog referencing “Repeating a Course (p. 60)”.

Transfer students must have a minimum GPA of 2.75 and will have one semester of provisional status pending their attainment of a 3.0 GPA. Transfer students will be permitted to take one or two education courses as appropriate in the first semester. Transfer students may transfer a maximum of six (6) professional education credits from a two-year institution. Please refer to the Internal Progression Requirements in the paragraph above for additional State-mandated progression requirements.
Applications for clinical practice (student teaching) must be submitted to the Office of Certification, Field Placements, and School Partnerships for fall and spring placements. At this time, students are screened to ensure that they have met the academic and professional standards required for State certification. Students must pass the appropriate Praxis II examinations prior to student teaching and receive passing scores as a requirement for State certification. Candidates seeking Spanish or Chinese certification must also earn a passing score on the appropriate official Oral Proficiency Interview (OPI) prior to clinical practice. English as a Second Language (ESL) candidates must earn a passing score on the official English OPI and English Writing Proficiency Test (WPT) for certification.

Courses

ED-EDTPA  Educator Preparation Voucher Fee for Undergraduate Students

Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

Educator Preparation Voucher Fee for Undergraduate Students.

ED-050  English as a Second Language Instruction for Undergraduate International Students

Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

This is a pass/fail course.

ED-101  Transition to College

Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

The identification and management of the academic and socio-emotional issues confronting the student during the transitional stage from secondary to post-secondary education. Permission of the instructor is required to take this course.

ED-250  Psychological and Philosophical Foundations of Education

Credits: 3

Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

Enhances a teacher candidate's background in principles and practices of elementary and secondary education, including curriculum planning, assessment, procedures, instructional technology, culturally and linguistically diverse students, diverse learning needs, classroom management, core curriculum standards, and school organization. Relevant information about national and state standards will be addressed. Social, historical, political, psychological, and philosophical foundations of education are examined. Observation and participation in actual classroom procedures are required through structural experiences. Service learning hours required. Education majors only.

ED-299  Independent Study in Education

Credits: 3

Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): None

Independent research in education in an area not substantially treated in a regular course offering under the supervision of an education faculty member; written evaluation of the research is required. For students with superior ability. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.
ED-300  Education and Culture  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GU
Offers students the opportunity to become immersed in educational, cultural, and historical contexts while exploring contemporary issues relevant to various countries or regions. Students will be introduced to cross-cultural issues within that country. They will expand their understanding of the focus country; especially its educational practices, as they gain an immersive experience related to education, history, culture, art, and literature through travel and through participating in volunteer work in a school setting. Students in this course examine another culture in order to gain experience which may transform not only their understanding of that culture, but the way in which they understand culture in general. Not open to freshmen. This course may be repeated once for credit. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course.

ED-315  Digital Media and Instructional Technology Skills for Teachers  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Aims to introduce teacher-candidates to computer science concepts and recent instructional technologies to support teaching and learning processes in K-12 classrooms. The course focuses on teacher-candidates' exploration and evaluation of technology-enhanced applications. Teacher-candidates learn how to use digital media, technologies, and interactive games to support their instructional strategies and student learning, enhance classroom management, aid formative and summative assessment techniques, and communicate professionally.

ED-319  Content Literacy  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-250; EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, WT
Designed to focus on the development of literacy through the integration of literature and literate thinking across the curriculum for academic-content learning at the secondary level. It emphasizes the implementation of both teaching and learning strategies to develop independent learners. The course included research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, students with diverse learning needs, and incorporating instructional technology into the classroom. Clinical Practice is required. Limited to Education majors.

ED-320  Teaching English Language Learners in Mainstream Classroom  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-250, EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD, WT
This writing intensive course is offered to address issues and research-based pedagogical strategies of teaching English language learners in today’s mainstream classrooms. Teacher candidates will explore a variety of instructional strategies and develop cultural knowledge and its application in teaching English language learners. The course also includes incorporating instructional technology into the classroom, and utilizing data to inform instruction. Education majors only.

ED-327  Theories and Practice of ESL Instruction Part I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-320 and a minimum GPA of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
With an emphasis on teaching English as a Second Language through content, part one of this two-semester course will introduce the history of ESL teaching and critically explore exemplary curriculum designs and methods of teaching ESL. A wide range of ESL instructional materials, instructional technology, services, and assessment measures will be introduced and practiced, with an emphasis on standard-based content and ESL teaching. Both instructional design and implementation will be the focus for practice, with embedded language acquisition/learning theories and research studies carefully examined. Clinical Hours required. Education majors only.

ED-328  Theories and Practice of ESL Instruction Part II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-327 or ED-374, EN-442, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A continuation of ED-327 examines public issues pertinent to ESL education, with an emphasis on making connections between theories or research findings and classroom practice. More approaches to ESL instruction will be introduced with an emphasis on various strategies, techniques, and instructional technology for teaching specific language skills in a standard-based content and ESL teaching program. Reflective practice is an integral part. Clinical Hours required.

ED-331  Music for the Child  Credits: 2
Prerequisite(s): MU-151 and MU-218
Course Type(s): None
Focus on methods and materials of teaching in the elementary school (K-8): singing, rhythmic expression, listening, use of simple instruments, and correlating music with other areas of learning. It will include pedagogical strategies related to teaching linguistically diverse students, students with diverse needs, using instructional technology and using data to inform instruction. For Music majors only. Also listed as MU-331. Clinical Hours required.

ED-333  The Teaching of Music in the Secondary School  Credits: 2
Prerequisite(s): MU-151 and MU-218
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Study and application of appropriate concepts, methods, skills, and materials for secondary-school music teachers. It will include pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with special needs using instructional technology and using data to inform instruction. For Music majors only. Clinical Hours required. Also listed as MU-333.

ED-336  Applied Linguistics for the Language Educator  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): None
Designed to introduce students to the concepts of linguistics as related to bilingual education and the teaching of English as a second language. Students will also learn structural aspects of linguistics, including morphology (words), syntax (sentence patterns), semantics (the meaning of words), phonetics and phonology (the sounds of language), pragmatics (the way language works in the world), and English grammar. Students will gain familiarity with important theories, research, and how the English language works. Education majors only. Students must have a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 to register for this course.
ED-361 Methods of Teaching Science for Elementary School  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDL-326 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Science methods for elementary education students is designed for those without a strong background in science (although those with a strong background will also benefit greatly from this course). The intent of this course is to provide an integrated perspective of teaching science from pre-kindergarten through grade 5. This course will provide active learning of science concepts through various inquiry activities. Following the learning theories that have produced both the Next Generation Science Standards and the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for science, this course will utilize projects, cases, and problems in real world settings using a diversity of instructional methods and strategies to provide each student with the opportunity to learn how to teach inquiry and problem-solving across the sciences. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Practice hours required.

ED-362 Teaching Elementary Social Studies  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDL-326 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Introduces elementary teacher certification candidates to the social studies curriculum and methods. Course content will emphasize national and state standards for social studies education, cross-curriculum integration, particularly world languages and culture, personal and social problem solving, and situated cognition in social studies education learning. The essential elements of planning, instruction using technology, and assessment based on research and data are explored to teach culturally and linguistically diverse learners and students with diverse learning needs in social studies education. Clinical Practice hours required. Not open to Art majors.

ED-365 Secondary Mathematics Methods, Part I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327, and ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Focus will be on the teaching of secondary mathematics. It is intended to deepen future secondary school teachers’ understanding of the secondary mathematics curriculum and build their competencies at the level of instructional implementation. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Essential elements of effective instruction, including inquiry based learning, implementing tasks that promote reasoning and problem-solving, assessment, facilitating meaningful mathematical discourse, eliciting and using evidence of student thinking, grouping strategies and effective questioning are explored as these are techniques utilized to bring conceptual understanding of mathematics to all learners. The fieldwork component of the course requires clinical practice hours in a secondary public school mathematics classroom and provides candidates with opportunities to translate theory into practice. Clinical Practice hours required.
ED-366 Secondary Mathematics Methods, Part II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327, ED-320, ED-365, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
ED-366 is the second course in a sequence intended to deepen future secondary school teachers' understanding of the secondary mathematics curriculum and build their competencies at the level of instructional implementation. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Essential elements of effective instruction, including inquiry based learning, implementing tasks that promote reasoning and problem-solving, assessment, facilitating meaningful mathematical discourse, eliciting and using evidence of student thinking, grouping strategies and effective questioning are explored as these are techniques utilized to bring conceptual understanding of mathematics to all learners. ED-367 Teaching Language Arts at the Secondary Level Part I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
As a component of the teacher-education program, the intention is to introduce to future secondary English/Language Arts teachers the fundamental concepts of curriculum design and instructional planning. To also introduce a variety of approaches to curriculum design with an emphasis on the two distinct but important goals of language arts education: developing general literacy skills and discovering the inner joy of reading literature and using language as a tool for communication. Topics related to decision-making, classroom management, and instructional planning are treated in depth to help prospective teachers master the base competencies at the level of planning to fulfill the requirement for state and national certification. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for utilizing data to inform instruction.

ED-368 Teaching Language Arts at the Secondary Level Part II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-367 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
A continuation of ED-367: Teaching Language Arts at the Secondary Level Part I. Part II provides in-depth preparation to teach candidates desiring to teach English/Language Arts at the secondary level by extending the essential knowledge, skills, and strategies grounded in research and related to effective classroom instruction. Teacher candidates will have increased opportunities to apply theory and refine practice in the use of print and non-print texts and in the integration of the English Language Arts through clinical practice. The NCTE/ILA and New Jersey Core Content Curriculum Standards will be an integral part of the course. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching students with diverse needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom, and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Practice hours required.

ED-369 Methods of Teaching Science for the Secondary Teacher Part I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-369 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Science methods for middle- and secondary-education students is designed for those with a background in science. The intent is to provide an integrated perspective of teaching science from grade 5 through grade 12. It also provides active learning of science concepts through various inquiry activities. Following the learning theories that have produced both the Next Generation Science Standards and the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for science, it will utilize projects, cases, and problems in real-world settings, using a diversity of instructional methods and strategies to provide each student with the opportunity to learn how to teach inquiry and problem-solving across the sciences. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction.

ED-370 Methods of Teaching Science for the Secondary Teacher Part II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-369 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Science methods for middle- and secondary-education students is designed for those with a background in science. ED-371 Teaching Social Studies at the Secondary Level Part I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Introduces the middle- and secondary-level teacher certification candidate to social studies curriculum and methods. Course content will emphasize national and state standards for social studies education curriculum across the traditional social science disciplines. The course will also explore the philosophical and theoretical foundations of social studies education. It provides the candidate with practical strategies necessary for success in teaching culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse learning needs, utilizing instructional technology, and using research and data to assess and inform instruction in the context of social studies.
ED-372  Teaching Social Studies at the Secondary Level Part II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-371 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Expands and further develops competencies. Instructional methodologies focusing on a constructivist and student-centered approach, using instructional technology, will be explored. Targets strategies for future secondary teachers to teach culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse learning needs and to meet the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for Social Studies to include: infusing Economics and Geography into the curriculum, developing greater technology coalescence, extending cross-curriculum lesson plans, embracing a pluralistic approach, and expanding multicultural themes. Fosters the development of effective inquiry-based curriculum activities making active use of community-based resources and using research and assessment data to inform instruction in the context of social studies. Clinical practice hours required. Education majors only.

ED-374  Issues and Practices in World Language Education Part II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): EX5
Issues and practices in world language curriculum and instruction. Fieldwork required. Designed to expand future world language teachers’ understanding of the complexities of the content-based instruction in curriculum design and strengthen their competencies with a focus on standard-based language instruction that addresses the national and state standards. A wide range of world language instructional materials, instructional technology, services, and assessment measures will be introduced and practiced. The experiential component of the course provides the students with opportunities for hands-on experiences for deepening understanding and strengthening competencies. For Education majors only. Clinical Practice hours required.

ED-377  Integrated K-12 Teaching Methods  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319, ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Deepens future K-12 school teachers' understanding of the complexities of the curriculum and builds their competencies at the level of instructional implementation in specific subject areas. Focuses on a broad spectrum of instructional methodologies and techniques that are workable in today's classroom. A constructivist approach to planning and instruction will be emphasized. The experiential component of the course provides the students with opportunities for clinical work in the classroom, strengthening competencies and deepening understanding. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Practice hours required. Education majors only.

ED-378  Methods of Teaching Elementary Physical Education and Health  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-320 either as a prerequisite or corequisite, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): HEPE
Focus on the planning, implementing, and assessing of competency-based physical education and skill-based health in elementary settings. Preservice teachers will learn pedagogical strategies related to teaching culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse (special) needs in addition to using instructional technology, research-based best practices, and assessment data to inform instruction in elementary physical education and health. The course will utilize a lecture-based format and lab-based activities to prepare preservice teachers to develop physical literacy and health literacy for PreK-5 students. During lab-based activities, preservice teachers will plan and implement physical education and health lessons to peers and PreK5 students. Clinical practice hours are required in accordance with New Jersey state statutes. Education majors only.

ED-379  Methods of Teaching Secondary Physical Education and Health  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-320 as either a prerequisite or corequisite, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): HEPE
Focus on the planning, implementing, and assessing of competency-based physical education and skill-based health in secondary settings. Preservice teachers will learn pedagogical strategies related to teaching culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse (special) needs in addition to using instructional technology, research-based best practices, and assessment data to inform instruction in secondary physical education and health. The course will utilize a lecture-based format and lab-based activities to prepare preservice teachers to develop physical literacy and health literacy for 6-12 grade students. During lab-based activities, preservice teachers will plan and implement physical education and health lessons to peers and 6th-12th grade students. Clinical practice hours are required in accordance with New Jersey state statutes. Education majors only. Prerequisite: a minimum G.P.A of 3.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: ED-320.

ED-380  Middle Level Learning and Teaching  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-250, ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5
The candidate will examine aspects of middle-level schooling that are responsive to the nature and needs of adolescents. The candidate will apply knowledge of adolescents' cognitive and affective development to design learning environments and to structure and implement learning experiences that effectively promote academic achievement and personal growth for all middle-grade students. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Experience hours required.

ED-398  Special Topics in Education (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in education to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.
ED-399  Independent Study in Education
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Credits: 3
Independent research in education in an area not substantially treated in a regular course offering under the supervision of an education faculty member; written evaluation of the research is required. For students with superior ability. Students must have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.75 to take this course, along with prior permission of the directing professor and department chair.

ED-416  Clinical Practice
Co-requisite(s): ED-EDTPA
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Credits: 8
This full-time, full-semester clinical practice in a school setting requires clinical interns to observe, plan, instruct, and assess P-12 students collaborating with a cooperating teacher and university faculty. Clinical interns complete an edTPA portfolio and analyze their instruction and the effect on student achievement. In addition, there are on-campus seminars, focus groups and an online component. All aspects of the requirements are linked to the New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS) the NEW Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers (NJPST), and national Specialty Professional Association (SPA) standards. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Limited to Education majors. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. Passing the appropriate state required teacher examinations, Senior standing, and approval of the department, are also required.

ED-416S  Clinical Practice Seminar
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Credits: 1
A one-credit seminar to be taken in conjunction with Clinical Practice. Education majors only. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course.

ED-427  The Teaching of World Languages
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Credits: 3
This course is designed to prepare the World Language teacher candidate's understanding of the ACTFL performance guidelines and standards together with their application and assessment in the classroom. Various modes of teaching language will be explored including meaningful integration of the ACTFL 5 C's and Integrated Performance Assessments into each lesson. Professional development is explored and students must complete a Professional Development Plan that includes joining professional affiliations. Preparation for the edTPA is included in this course with one lesson in the target language to be presented and videotaped in class for self and group assessment. This course will include pedagogical strategies related to teaching linguistically diverse students, students with diverse needs, using instructional technology and using data to inform instruction. These components provide the students with valuable pre-teaching experiences that will strengthen understanding of teaching strategies and capabilities. Also listed as FO-427. Clinical Hours are required.

ED-428  Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Teaching
Prerequisite(s): ED-250 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Course Type(s): OL
Credits: 3
Students will focus on two aspects of culturally and linguistically responsive and relevant instruction. The first aspect is the focus on equity and diversity and the second aspect concentrates on pedagogy for infusing culturally and linguistically responsive teaching into instruction. Professionals will engage in self-reflection related to racism and other forms of discrimination in order to better understand how identities and ideologies impact everyday school practices and the educational experiences of all students, especially those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds. The course also includes incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instructions.

ED-498  Special Topics in Education (400 Level)
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Credits: 1-3
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in education to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

Application must be filed before registration.

EDL-280  Introduction to Early Childhood Education
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Credits: 3
This is an introductory course, which examines the historical, philosophical, and theoretical foundations of early childhood education. The course will cover major aspects of the physical, socio-emotional, and cognitive development of young children from birth to 8 years of age. The course addresses major theories and concepts of child development, early childhood ethics and professionalism, developmentally appropriate practice, diverse early childhood curriculum and programs, inclusion and special needs children, the use of technology, the use of data(formative and summative) to inform instruction, and home-school partnerships. The course covers the tenets of culturally responsive teaching in order to meet the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse children.
EDL-325 Language and Early Literacy Development, Birth Through Kindergarten Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course, which involves a field experience, focuses on language development and early literacy of regular, special education, and young learners from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, birth to kindergarten. ## Total Credits 120
EN/ED majors MUST take EN-470 Theory and Practice of Writing (3 cr.) or EN-474 Approaches to Composition Theory (3 cr.) to fulfill the above credits.

Minimum grade of "C" required for Education Courses.

Students must complete the appropriate test requirement(s) with a passing score PRIOR to Clinical Practice.

Please consult with your advisor regarding the required number of free electives that must be completed.

The General Education curriculum requires the completion of 45 credits. However, students may be able to share credits from within their major or interdisciplinary requirements. Please consult with your advisor to determine which General Education (p. 43) courses must be completed.

Notes

• 54 credits must be completed at the 200 level or higher.
• Education majors are required to have an overall GPA of 3.00 for State Certification.
• By state regulation, all Education Majors seeking content area endorsement must complete 30 content credits (12+ credits at the 300+ level).
• The English Department awards Departmental Honors to those graduating seniors who successfully complete a senior thesis, two designated courses beyond the standard major requirements, a 3.50 major GPA, a 3.30 overall GPA, and fulfillment of the World Language requirement for English majors.

Course Type(s): OL
Provides an understanding of the anatomical structures, as well as the physiological and functional mechanisms essential for speech production. Specifically, the anatomy and physiology of respiration, phonation, articulation, resonance, and hearing will be covered in depth.

SLP-303  Neurological Bases of Speech and Language  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-201
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): OL
Students will learn the neuroanatomical and neurophysiological underpinnings of speech, language and hearing and will study how the nervous system controls communication. Additionally, the course will examine the cranial nerves and the circuits underlying sensory perception, motor action, and cognition as they relate to speech production and hearing.

SLP-389  Internship in Speech, Language and Pathology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in Speech, Language and Pathology; repeatable for credit. Departmental approval and Junior standing is required to take this course.

SLP-401  Speech and Hearing Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-301 and SLP-302
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): OL
Studies the nature of sound, sound transmission, and units of measurement necessary to understand the physiologic, acoustic, and perceptual parameters of speech. Acoustics, speech production, and speech perception will be emphasized.

SLP-402  Introduction to Audiology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-302
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): OL
An introduction to the field of audiology. Designed to acquaint students with topics regarding the anatomy and physiology of normal and abnormal hearing, basic concepts in pure-tone air and bone conduction audiometry, speech audiometry, interpretation of audiograms, immittance procedures, and basic management of the hearing loss of the hearing-impaired client. This course is repeatable once for credit.

SLP-498  Special Topics in Speech-Language Pathology  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in educational leadership to be announced prior to registration. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

The Marjorie K. Unterberg School of Nursing and Health Studies

Dean: Ann Marie P. Mauro, Ph.D., R.N., CNL, CNE, FAHA, FAAN

The Marjorie K. Unterberg School of Nursing and Health Studies was established in 1998, having served as a Department of Nursing since 1981. The School of Nursing and Health Studies reflects in its philosophy the mission of Monmouth University: to provide a learning process and environment that enables students to realize their full potential and enhance the quality of life for individuals, families, groups, and the community; and to provide high-quality baccalaureate and graduate education programs to a diverse student population for development of potential leaders in nursing and health professions. Graduates are committed to lifelong service to their chosen profession and prepared to enhance the quality of life for diverse populations in a global and increasingly interdependent society.

The baccalaureate degree in nursing prepares a generalist and is the basis for graduate study and continuing education. Professional nursing education focuses on the development of an accountable practitioner and responsible citizen. Professional nurses need knowledge of the liberal arts and sciences in order to understand the interrelating factors that influence the health of individuals and society. This knowledge facilitates their special obligation to promote a healthy environment for all persons and enriches the conceptual base that supports development of critical thinking and ethical decision-making skills.

Nursing is a learned profession with a unique body of knowledge. Nursing is both a science based on scholarly inquiry and an art that reflects specific skilled and complex human interactions. The breadth of professional nursing knowledge and skills can only be attained within higher education. Chair: Christopher Hirschler, Ph.D., Department of Health and Physical Education

The Health Studies (https://www.monmouth.edu/health-and-physical-education/hpe-majors-undergraduates/) program at Monmouth University is designed for students who wish to enhance their knowledge of health and prepare for careers in the exciting field of healthcare and health promotion. Courses engage students in analysis of current research, problem-solving, and valuable internships. The program enables students to develop the skills needed to positively impact lives through the application, evaluation, and creation of knowledge. Additionally, students develop an understanding of the link between new research in health science and the development of healthcare strategies and policies.

Graduates of the program are prepared to work with individuals, groups, and families in health organizations and services, corporate health programs, education, and at the local, state, federal, or international level. Students can further their education by pursuing graduate degrees in areas such as medicine, dentistry, physical therapy, health and physical education, healthcare administration, public health, and many others.

The mission of the Health Studies program is to increase students’ knowledge in a variety of health disciplines by teaching students to: analyze the causes and means of preventing disease and illness while seeking optimal health, develop the responsibilities and competencies of effective health educators, and advocate for the health of others. The mission of the Health and Physical Education Department is to prepare students to be well-rounded, service-oriented community members and professionals in health/exercise sciences, health promotion, public health, and education.

Health Studies graduates have secured employment in various health-related organizations as well as acceptance to graduate schools in numerous health science disciplines. Health Studies students are prepared for graduate programs including: Exercise Science, Health Promotion/Public Health, Medicine, Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, Physician Assistant, and Speech Language Pathology. All students are encouraged to apply to sit for the Certified Health Education Specialist (https://www.nchec.org) (CHES) certification exam at the conclusion of their undergraduate curriculum. The School of Nursing and Health Studies Web site (https://www.monmouth.edu/school-of-nursing-health/careers-outcomes/) provides additional information regarding employment settings.

Courses

HE-100 Technology and Health Informatics Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): TL
Designed to provide an introduction to the computer technology used in health care and its impact on decision-making. Includes an overview of the basic computer skills required to process electronic information, the nature and types of health information available on the World Wide Web, the development of search skills associated with finding information, linking electronic information to health decision-making processes, ethical and social issues involving the use of technology, and identifying major issues in computer and Internet security. Also listed as NU-100.

HE-101 Strategies for Healthy Living Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Factors influencing personal health; function of body cells and systems; lifestyle choices such as nutrition, exercise, alcohol, drug and tobacco use, sexuality, contraception, and sexually transmitted diseases; the U.S. health care system and those of other countries.

HE-150 Medical Terminology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE, NU.EL
Introduction of medical terminology to those students who have an interest in a wide variety of health care services. Presents a study of basic medical terms, including prefixes, suffixes, word roots, special endings, plural forms, abbreviations, and has a special emphasis on spelling, definition, usage, and pronunciation for each body system. A programmed learning, word building system will be used to learn word parts that are used to construct and analyze new terms. The accurate use and understanding of medical terminology used in communications between health care professionals, clients, and other providers of care will be enhanced by taking this course.

HE-180 Introduction to Public Health Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
This course is designed to provide an introduction to the field of public health. The history of the field as well as key philosophical perspectives are reviewed. It will address the core values of public health practice, and the role of public health agencies at the international, national, state and local levels. Determinants of health, public health initiatives, ethical practice and selected contemporary public health issues will be explored.

HE-198 Special Topics in Health Studies Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in health studies to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

HE-199 Independent Study in Health Studies Credits: 3
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
Guided research and in-depth study of an area of health studies of particular interest to the student. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

HE-200 Becoming a Home Health Aide Credits: 4
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): HE EL
Through classroom lecture, discussions, reading and laboratory practice the student will learn the 76-hour training program designed to meet the NJ requirements for the Certified Homemaker/Home Health Aide (HHA). After completion of this course the student will have the opportunity to sit for the state examination and become certified as a HHA. Once certified, the student will be able to gain employment as a certified HHA in numerous agencies and institutions in NJ.

HE-212 Lifespan Development and Health Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, RD
Health from conception through senescence using a developmental approach. Examines the factors that influence health at each stage of life, including the effect of environmental, biological, and genetic influences and common deviations from health. Using this approach, the student will investigate the effect of political and economic policies, education, epidemiology, health promotion, and illness prevention programs.

HE-225 Mind-Body Connection Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): HE.EL
Focuses on the psychology of wellness and illness and the healing connections between the mind and body across diverse cultures. How stress is interpreted and expressed in different cultures will be explored. The healing practices and rituals of different faiths and cultural traditions will be explored.

HE-235 Human Aging Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX3, HE.EL, HEPE
Designed to provide an understanding of the major health problems, health promotion, and wellness concepts that affect older people. Offers an introduction to the physical and functional changes associated with human aging. Common illnesses that are often identified in older people will be discussed. In addition, factors will be presented that are believed to cause or influence the aging process, changes in physical function and quality of life.

HE-260 Substance Use and Abuse
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL
Physical, psychological, and sociological aspects of addictive substances; legal and ethical concerns; alternative methods of dealing with stress in young adulthood; socially responsible behavior.

HE-275 Anthrozoology, Ethics, and Health
Course Type(s): HE.EL
Introduces students to the varied and complex ways in which animals contribute to human well-being and illness. Students will expand their understanding of the biological, social, psychological, environmental, occupational, spiritual, and cultural implications associated with the use of, and relationships with, animals. Students will critically examine cultural beliefs and practices that impact the well-being of humans, animals, and the planet.

HE-290 Health Research Methods
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Co-requisite(s): MA-151
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE, WT
Introduces students to the basic concepts in health sciences research. Students will gain an understanding of the rationale for conducting research, study designs, qualitative and quantitative inquiry, principles of instrumentation and measurement, data management and interpretation, and research proposal writing and presentation techniques. Students should be able to apply these concepts to evaluate research done by others.

HE-300 Principles of Health Education
Prerequisite(s): HE-101 and HE-290 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE, RD
Examination of the principles and practices of health education for adults in the community, including program development and implementation, educational strategies, behavioral objectives, learner characteristics, and institutional assessment. Essential factors for teaching, learning, and motivating clients to make behavioral changes to promote health.

HE-324 Human Sexuality
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GS, HE.EL
Designed to provide the student with a factual background as well as an in-depth understanding of his or her own and others' sexuality and how it affects health. Focuses on developing an understanding of the essential components of human sexuality and its interrelationship with human development. Social, cultural, and developmental determinants will be examined for their influence upon human sexuality. Examines the relationship between human sexuality and professional nursing practice. Content will include: the use of a sexual history in the nursing assessment; sexually transmitted disease; effects of pregnancy and aging on sexuality; effects of medical, surgical, and chronic health problems on an individual's sexual functioning; and identity. The role of the nurse as an educator/counselor is discussed. Also listed as NU-324.

HE-330 Women's Health
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, CD, GS, HE.EL, HEPE
Health care needs/concerns of women from diverse cultures will be examined. The focus will be on African, Asian, Caribbean, and Latina perspectives of health beliefs, health practices, physical and psychological threats, ethical issues. Body image, sexuality, marriage customs, reproduction, childbirth, parenting, lifestyle choices, menopause, and aging will be examined within the context of culture and contrasted to those of Western women. Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, HE.EL, HEPE, SUS
A comprehensive study of current environmental, occupational health issues and associated health risks. Focus on the practical applications of assessing environmental, quality and occupational safety. Major topics include: population growth, water quality, use of pesticides, air pollution, food quality, and occupational health. Legal and regulatory issues also considered.

HE-350 Epidemiology
Prerequisite(s): HE-290 passed with a grade of C- or higher and MA-151, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
A study of the basic principles and methods of epidemiology. These include types of epidemiologic studies, choices in study design, measures of disease frequency and association, sources of bias, screening, and applications to public health. The course covers conceptual and practical issues in epidemiologic research and the interpretation of epidemiologic data.

HE-360 Transcultural Health
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, HE.EL, HEPE
Focuses on African, Asian, Caribbean, South- and Latin-American, Middle-East, and Indian beliefs, values, and health practices; physical and psychological threats to health; and ethical issues. Differences of cultural beliefs related to health, illness, and the impact on the delivery of healthcare will be examined. Also listed as NU-360.

HE-365 Wisdom, Wellness and Aging
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, HE.EL, HEPE
Provides an understanding of the cross-cultural variations in the status of aging and health in older adults. Examples of various cultures include examining older adults from non-English speaking countries, such as North Korea, South Korea, Iran, Mexico, China, and Brazil. Examines factors that affect the economic, social, and health care decisions made by the older adults from these diverse populations as well as other nations. Topics to be covered include examinations of health implications on aging populations in non-English speaking countries. Compare countries, such as Japan, India, and Nigeria, to explore how their specific culture influences caregiving, social support networks, and community. Specific cultural views of love, intimacy, and sexuality in older adults will be examined. Also listed as NU-365.

HE-389 Internship in Health and Physical Education

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): EX1, HE.EL, HEPE

Supervised, pre-professional field experience in health and physical education. The student will secure an internship site related to his/her interests and career goals. Potential internship sites include health and fitness clubs, community wellness agencies, coaching opportunities, hospitals, corporations, and private services. The student will work fifty hours per credit per term at his/her internship site. Students are required to obtain a faculty sponsor, develop learning objectives at the start of their internship, keep a journal of their internship activities throughout their placement, and write a final paper reflecting upon their internship experience. Also listed as PE-389. This is a pass/fail course. Departmental approval is required to take this course. Junior standing (and others by permission of a faculty advisor), placement opportunity and approval by the Health and Physical Education Department are required to take this course. Limited to Health majors.

HE-398 Special Topics in Health Education (300 Level)

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE

An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in health education to be announced prior to registration. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

HE-399 Independent Study in Health

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE

Guided research and in-depth study of an area of health of particular interest to the student. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

HE-430 Health Advocacy

Prerequisite(s): HE-101 and HE-290, and Junior standing; or permission of the instructor

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE

Focus is on personal and peer health advocacy. Being healthy involves making decisions that are right for each individual and being part of a community that promotes healthy behaviors. Advocating for individual health requires that the student has the confidence, basic understanding of advocacy, resources, and skills to make proper health decisions. Foster student health advocacy as skills are taught while students grapple with personal and social questions that affect their overall health and the health of others. Put student health promotion into the hands of the students. They will be required to create a health initiative. These initiatives will foster a healthier Monmouth University community.

HE-435 Community Health

Prerequisite(s): HE-101, HE-290, EN-101, EN-102, and Junior standing; or permission of the instructor

Term Offered: All Terms

Course Type(s): WT

Healthcare of groups and communities; this includes community and public health theories, epidemiology, health promotion, illness prevention, research, ethics, vulnerable populations, and common deviations from health.
HE-440  Health Policy  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101, EN-102, and Junior standing or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE, WT
Delves into the core elements that define health policy. Describes factors, such as the healthcare delivery systems (public/non-profits vs. private/for profits), access to care, healthcare financing, quality-of-care issues, and social issues, such as gender and culture, and their impact on health and healthcare. The dynamics of the policy-making process at different levels (federal, state and local) will be explored, along with policy analysis and how policy influences healthcare decisions. The complexities and challenges of healthcare reform will be identified. Also listed as NU-440.

HE-476  Interpersonal Violence  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
Examines the various types and patterns of violence related to cultural values, beliefs, biases, and societal issues, as well as the historical perspectives of violence. Course content includes: family, community, youth, and workplace violence; child, domestic, elder, and sexual abuse. Theories concerning gender violence, gangs, bias and hate crimes, and terrorism are challenged. Public health and health care issues related to violence, and primary, secondary, and tertiary-level interventions for victims and offenders of violence are discussed. Individual responsibilities associated with identification and reporting violence are identified. Health care measures to identify and prevent violence are analyzed. Methods of treatment for victims and perpetrators of violence are evaluated. Also listed as NU-476.

HE-485  Professional Seminar in Health  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): HE-101, HE-290, and Junior standing; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, HE.EL, HEPE
Provides students with the experiential education requirement for the BS in Health Studies. Students will have a placement in a health setting where they will have the opportunity to work with a health professional and to apply what they have learned in class to the experiential setting. Weekly seminars will be designed to allow the students to share their experiences with their peers.

HE-489  Internship in Health and Physical Education  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): EX1, HE.EL, HEPE
Supervised, pre-professional field experience in health and physical education. The student will secure an internship site related to his/her interests and career goals. PE-103  Surfing  Credits: 1
Course Type(s): OUTDR
Students will learn the basic skills, history, etiquette, and strategy of surfing. The main emphasis will be placed on skill acquisition with focus on specific movements and techniques important to surfing. The analysis of skills, etiquette, safety considerations, and strategy will be covered. This course is a physical activity skills course. Course: Outdoor Pursuits(Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode. Student must know how to swim and will be tested by the instruction on their swimming ability.

PE-104  Biking  Credits: 1
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): OUTDR
Students will learn the basic skills, safety, maintenance, and strategy for bike riding. The main emphasis will be placed on skill acquisition with focus on specific movements and techniques important to riding and maintaining a bike. The analysis of skills, rules, safety considerations, and strategy will be covered. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Outdoor Pursuits(Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.

PE-105  Bowling  Credits: 1

Nursing

Chair: Rose Knapp, Department of Nursing

Pre-Licensure BSN Program for Non-Nurses

Admission Requirements (For Freshmen Only)
- Satisfying Monmouth’s admission criteria for the University and for the BSN program. Writing an essay that expresses an interest in, and commitment to, the nursing profession.
- Demonstrating a strong background in the sciences.
- Exposure to a healthcare setting or related experience is encouraged.

Progression Requirements
Once selected for the program, students will be required to meet certain benchmarks, including:
- Maintaining a cumulative GPA of 2.75 or better.
- Achieving a minimum standard grade of C+ or better in the following prerequisite courses:

    | Code  | Title                                                                 | Credits |
    |-------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
    | CE-109| Introduction to General, Organic, and Biochemistry                    | 4       |
    | BY-111| Anatomy and Physiology I                                              | 4       |
    | BY-112| Anatomy and Physiology II                                             | 4       |
    | BY-107| Microbiology in Health and Disease                                    | 4       |

- Maintaining a standard grade of “C+” or better in nursing clinical didactic courses:

    | Code  | Title                                                   | Credits |
    |-------|----------------------------------------------------------|---------|
    | NU-201| Foundations of Nursing Practice I                        | 6       |
    | NU-202| Nursing II, Medical Surgical Nursing I                   | 6       |
    | NU-206| Introduction to Pharmacology for Nurses                  | 3       |
    | NUPD-203| Nursing III - Pediatrics                                  | 3       |
    | NUOB-203| Nursing III - Obstetrics                                  | 3       |
    | NU-415| Community Health Nursing Laboratory                       | 3       |
    | NU-450| Leadership in Nursing and Healthcare                     | 3       |

- A BSN Pre-Licensure student must repeat any of the required courses for failure to achieve the minimum grade of “C+”. If the student receives a second grade below “C+” that student will not be permitted to continue in the Pre-Licensure BSN program.
- After acceptance, and prior to starting classes, a student must submit to the School of Nursing and Health Studies a certificate of good health from a primary care practitioner, including a complete health history and physical exam. Before beginning clinical laboratory experiences, students will be expected to have a physical examination, with associated laboratory studies, immunizations, and criminal background checks, in accordance with the special requirements of affiliation contracts with clinical agencies and submit a copy of a liability and malpractice policy. Students with criminal backgrounds may not proceed in the nursing program.
- All students are expected to maintain membership in the Student Nurse Association ANA/N.J.S.N.A. The faculty of the School of Nursing and Health Studies at Monmouth University reserve the right to dismiss a student from the program regardless of cumulative grade point average if, in the opinion of the faculty, the student fails to meet acceptable professional standards of behavior.

Courses

NU-100 Technology and Health Informatics Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Designed to provide an introduction to the computer technology used in health care and its impact on decision-making. Includes an overview of the basic computer skills required to process electronic information, the nature and types of health information available on the World Wide Web, the development of search skills associated with finding information, linking electronic information to health decision-making processes, ethical and social issues involving the use of technology, and identifying major issues in computer and Internet security. Also listed as HE-100.

NU-201 Foundations of Nursing Practice I Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): BY-111, BY-112, CE-109, NU-205, and NU-311 all passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-201L, NU-201P, NU-206, and NU-312.
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an introduction to the practice of nursing. Emphasis is placed on the knowledge and skills needed to provide safe, quality care. The theoretical foundation for basic assessment and nursing skills is presented, and the student is given an opportunity to demonstrate these skills in a clinical/laboratory setting. Students are introduced to the nursing process as a framework for the development of decision-making and clinical judgement skills. For Nursing majors only.

NU-201L Nursing I Lab Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-201 and NU-201P
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Communication skills, the nursing process and medical mathematical calculations are areas of development. Methods for interpretation of medical orders, calculation of safe medications dosing and preparation, and administration of medications will be emphasized. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-201P Nursing I Practicum Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-201
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn the didactic content and apply the associated nursing skills during the clinical experience in the medical setting with live patients. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-202 Nursing II Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-201, NU-206, and NU-312 all passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-202L and NU-202P.
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Professional nursing care for individuals and their significant others experiencing acute and/or chronic illness is emphasized. Students continue to develop skills in nursing diagnosis, problem solving, decision-making and critical thinking skills in caring for adult and geriatric patients. The nursing process is applied in caring for adult/geriatric patients and their significant others across health care settings such as the hospital, end of life facilities, and home care. There is a weekly lab and practicum component with this course. A minimum grade of C+ is required in this course to continue to NUOB-203 and NUDP-203.

NU-202L Medical Surgical Nursing I Lab Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-202 and NU-202P
Course Type(s): None
Fundational clinical experiences help students to develop plans and implement strategies for health promotion, risk reduction, health maintenance, rehabilitation, injury prevention and treatment of acute and complex health issues of adult and geriatric patients from diverse backgrounds. Critical thinking and evidence-based practice are introduced for students to formulate differential diagnoses, clinical impressions, nursing diagnoses for treatment and evaluation of care provided to adult and geriatric patients. Clinical opportunities are provided to deliver safe, legal, and ethical care for adult and geriatric patients in a variety of clinical settings. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-202P Nursing II Practicum Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-202
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will build upon their foundational experience with live patients in the hospital setting. Basic nursing skills will be expanded and focus is on the adult geriatric patient in a variety of students' clinical settings. Involvement with the live patients in the actual medical setting provide students with experiential knowledge and builds their confidence. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-205 Pathophysiology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-111 and BY-112, both passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Concepts for anatomy, physiology, and chemistry courses provide the foundation for exploring human dysfunction across the lifespan. Emphasis is placed on the relationship of health patterns of major body systems to changes that occur during the illness experience. Major pathophysiological concepts are explored using a symptom-based approach that focuses on the most common diagnoses encountered in the clinical setting. Themes relation etiology, pathogenesis, and clinical manifestations are used to study common disease processes. Concepts learned in this course are fundamental to nursing practice. A minimum grade of C+ in this course is required to continue to NU-206.
NU-206  Introduction to Pharmacology for Nurses  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-205 and NU-311 both passed with a grade of C+ or higher
Co-requisite(s): NU-201 and NU-312
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an introduction to the principles of pharmacology, including pharmacokinetics, pharmacodynamics, medication interactions and potential adverse reactions. Emphasis is placed on drug classifications and nursing care related to the safe administration of medication to patients. A minimum grade of C+ is required in this course.

NU-307  Medical Surgical Nursing II  Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-308 and NU-202 passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-307P and NU-492.
Course Type(s): None
This course focuses on the care of adult patients with complex medical/surgical health problems. Emphasis is placed on helping patients and their families cope with alterations in body functions. Concepts of pharmacology, health promotion and education, evidence-based practice, and interdisciplinary collaboration will be integrated throughout the course. Clinical experiences provide the student with an opportunity to apply theoretical concepts and implement safe care to patients and selected groups in a variety of settings.

NU-307P  Medical Surgical Nursing II Practicum  Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-307
Course Type(s): None
This course focuses on the care of adult patients with complex medical/surgical health problems. Emphasis is placed on helping patients and their families cope with alterations in body functions. Concepts of pharmacology, health promotion and education, evidence based practice, and interdisciplinary collaboration will be integrated throughout the course. Clinical experiences provide the student with an opportunity to apply theoretical concepts and implement safe care to patients and selected groups in a variety of settings. For Nursing majors only. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-308  Maternal, Pediatric, and Newborn Nursing  Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-201, NU-206, and NU-312 all passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-202 and NU-308P.
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an integrative, family-centered approach to the care of mothers, newborns, and children. Emphasis is placed on normal and high-risk pregnancies, normal growth and development, family dynamics, pediatric disorders and the promotion of healthy behaviors in patients. Clinical experiences provide the student with an opportunity to apply theoretical concepts and implement safe patient care to mothers, newborns, and children.

NU-308P  Maternal, Pediatric, and Newborn Nursing Practicum  Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-308
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn the didactic content and apply the associated nursing skills during the clinical experience in the medical setting with live patients. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-311  Issues and Trends in Professional Nursing  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
The course introduces the student to the art and science of nursing by exploring the historical role of the nurse as a professional practitioner and member of the interprofessional health care team. Nursing theories are introduced with emphasis on the nursing process as a framework for designing and delivering nursing care. Quality and safety education for nursing (QSEN) competencies, ethical issues, cultural influences are discussed globally. Emerging roles are evaluated in relation to changing healthcare delivery systems. Standards of practice are referenced in the analysis of professional nursing during this and all subsequent nursing courses. The roles of critical thinking and therapeutic communication in the development of safe nursing practice are explored.

NU-312  Individual Health Assessment  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-205 passed with a grade of C+ or higher
Co-requisite(s): NU-201 and NU-206
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course provides a framework for preparing students to perform comprehensive health assessments on patients in a variety of settings. Emphasis is placed on taking a thorough nursing history, performing physiological, psychological, sociological, cultural, and spiritual assessments, as well as identification of stressors and health risks. Laboratory/clinical experiences provide an opportunity to practice assessment skills on adult and older adult live and/or simulated patients. Malpractice insurance is required to take this class. Prerequisite: NU-205 passed with a grade of C+ or higher.

NU-324  Human Sexuality  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GS, NU.EL
An introductory course designed to provide the student with a factual background as well as an in-depth understanding of his or her own and others' sexuality and how it affects health. Focuses on developing an understanding of the essential components of human sexuality and their interrelationship with human development. Social, cultural and developmental determinants will be examined for their influence upon human sexuality. Examines the relationship between human sexuality and professional nursing practice. Content will include: the use of a sexual history in the nursing assessment, sexually transmitted disease, effects of pregnancy and aging on sexuality, effects of medical, surgical, and chronic health problems on an individual's sexual functioning and identity. The role of the nurse as an educator/counselor is discussed. Also listed as HE-324.

NU-330  Women's Health  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, CD, GS, NU.EL
Health care needs/concerns of women from diverse cultures will be examined. The focus will be on African, Asian, Caribbean, and Latina perspectives of health benefits, health practices, physical and physiological threats, and ethical issues. Body image, sexuality, marriage customs, reproduction, childbirth, parenting, lifestyle choices, menopause, and aging will be examined within the context of culture and contrasted to those of Western women. Also listed as HE-330.
NU-355 Research Methods in Nursing  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): HY, WT
This course is designed to promote clinical decision making through the exploration and integration of current scientific evidence, the use of clinical reasoning, and scholarly review. Focus is placed on the analysis and synthesis of evidence to answer a clinical question relevant to nursing practice.

NU-360 Transcultural Health  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, HE.EL, RE
Focus on African, Asian, Caribbean, South- and Latin-American, Middle-East, and Indian beliefs, values and health practices, physical and psychological threats to health, and ethical issues. Differences of cultural beliefs related to health, illness, and the impact on the delivery of healthcare will be examined. Also listed as HE-360.

NU-365 Wisdom, Wellness and Aging  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, HE.EL
Provides an understanding of the cross-cultural variations in the status of aging and health in older adults. Examples of various cultures include examining older adults from non-English speaking countries such as North Korea, South Korea, Iran, Mexico, China, and Brazil. Examines older adults from these diverse populations as well as other nations. Topics to be covered include examinations of health implications on aging populations in non-English speaking countries. Compare countries, such as Japan, India, and Nigeria, to explore how their specific culture influences caregiving, social support networks, and community. Specific, cultural views of love, intimacy, and sexuality in older adults will be examined. Also listed as HE-365.

NU-370 Alternative/Complementary Health Therapies  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, NU.EL
Cultural origins of CAM therapies will be discussed. Perspectives of health and healing through co-mingling Eastern Traditional Complementary and Alternative (TCAM) therapies and Western biomedical practices into an integrative strategy will be examined. Appropriate therapies for health promotion and specific illness contexts, potential risks/benefits, ethical issues addressing treatment choices and global entities that employ CAM therapies will be discussed. There will be an emphasis on choosing CAM therapies that are supported by research as safe and effective. Knowledge of reliable sources of information on the Internet will improve decision-making regarding therapies. Also listed as HE-370.

NU-375 Health in Developing Countries: A Cross-Cultural Perspective  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, NU.EL
Designed to introduce students to the concept of health as a cross-cultural issue. Students will examine their own health beliefs and practices and expand their understanding of health and health issues of the developing world. Contemporary health issues will be analyzed. Healthcare delivery systems in selected countries in Asia and Africa will be examined and compared to the American healthcare system. Students are expected to problem solve and postulate solutions to contemporary and emerging health issues. Also listed as HE-375.

NU-380 Nutrition and Health  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NU.EL
An introduction to the physiology of nutrition, basic concepts of normal nutrition, and nutrition in chronic disease (such as diabetes mellitus, cardiovascular disease, and obesity) will be explored. A study of the basic nutrients and the gastrointestinal system in its role of digestion, absorption, and metabolism. Food needs of an individual throughout life (birth to old age) will be considered, along with necessary dietary modifications caused by decreased activity. Food fads and fallacies will be discussed, as will factors to consider in choosing a healthy diet. Current concerns, such as how safe are the additives in our foods, the role of sugar, salt and highly processed foods, alternative therapies such as herbal remedies, and phytochemicals and their potential roles in modern nutrition, will be studied. Weight management will be addressed as it relates to medical nutrition therapy.

NU-390 Nursing Care of the Aging Adult  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-205 and NU-311 both passed with a grade of C+ or higher
Course Type(s): HY
This course provides an introduction to the care of aging adults while focusing on their unique physiological and psychosocial needs. Emphasis is placed on promoting healthy aging and retaining functional ability within a home or residential environment. Common health alterations of the older adult as well as safety and end-of-life care are introduced.

NU-395 Guided Research in Nursing  Credits: 1-3
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in nursing to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

NU-398 Special Topics in Nursing (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the physiology of nutrition, basic concepts of normal nutrition, and nutrition in chronic disease (such as diabetes mellitus, cardiovascular disease, and obesity) will be explored. A study of the basic nutrients and the gastrointestinal system in its role of digestion, absorption, and metabolism. Food needs of an individual throughout life (birth to old age) will be considered, along with necessary dietary modifications caused by decreased activity. Food fads and fallacies will be discussed, as will factors to consider in choosing a healthy diet. Weight management will be addressed as it relates to medical nutrition therapy.

NU-399 Independent Study in Nursing  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided research and in depth study of an area of nursing and/or healthcare of particular interest to the student. Permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

NU-400 Population Focused Care  Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-307 and NU-492 both passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-450 and NU-490.
Course Type(s): EX5, HY
This course is intended to orient students to nursing care of individuals, families, aggregates, communities, and populations. Principles and practices of community health are discussed. Emphasis is placed on assessing factors that influence the health of populations and the use of evidence-based practices in the delivery of spiritually and culturally appropriate health promotion and disease prevention interventions. The role of the nurse as an advocate for social justice is explored. Students are provided clinical experiences within the community. Nursing majors only.
NU-400P Population Focused Care Practicum Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-400
Course Type(s): None
This is a clinical practicum for population health nursing. The nursing process is utilized as students apply their knowledge in providing care to clients from the formation of the family through senescence. This practicum experience allows students to incorporate evidence-based practice strategies in the provision of care including health teaching, screening, outreach, disease and outbreak investigation, referral, and follow-up, across various aggregates, communities, and populations. Students must pass the practicum (NU-400P) to pass the course NU-400. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-413 Community Health Nursing I: Nursing of the Young Family Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-311
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): RD
The family as the basic unit of care in the community: a developmental approach to the nursing care of expanding families from conception through adolescence; the concept of health, environmental, and genetic influences; impact of political and economic policies, educational principles, ethics, health promotion, illness prevention, and common deviations from health.

NU-414 Community Health Nursing II: Nursing of Communities Credits: 3
Co-requisite(s): NU-415
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Care of groups and communities: a developmental approach focusing on adolescence through senescence; community health and public health theories, epidemiology, health promotion, illness prevention, research, ethics, palliative care, vulnerable populations, and common deviations from health.

NU-415 Community Health Nursing Laboratory Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-311, NU-312, and NU-355
Co-requisite(s): NU-414
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
The nine-hour clinical laboratory for Community Health Nursing. The nursing process is applied in a variety of community settings to clients from the formation of the family through senescence. Application of principles of health education, health promotion, and illness prevention in a culturally sensitive manner. A minimum grade of C+ is required in this course to continue to NU-450.

NU-440 Health Policy Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102, Junior Standing; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Delves into the core elements that define health policy. Describes factors, such as the healthcare delivery systems (public/non-profits vs. private/for profits), access to care, healthcare financing, quality of care issues, and social issues, such as gender and culture, and their impact on health and healthcare. The dynamics of the policy-making process at different levels (federal, state and local) will be explored, along with policy analysis and how policy influences healthcare decisions. The complexities and challenges of healthcare reform will be identified. Also listed as HE-440.

NU-450 Leadership in Nursing and Healthcare Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-307 and NU-492 both passed with a grade of C+ or higher
Co-requisite(s): NU-400 and NU-490
Course Type(s): None
The acquisition of knowledge and skills necessary for personal and professional growth designed to address the elements of successful leadership in a manner that is practical and relevant for today's professional nurse.

NU-450P Nursing 450 Practicum Credits: None
Prerequisite(s): NUPY-204 and NUMS-204
Co-requisite(s): NU-450
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
NU-450P Practicum for NU-450. This is a pass/fail course. Students must pass the practicum (NU-450P) to pass the course NU-450.

NU-476 Interpersonal Violence Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NU.EL
Examines the various types and patterns of violence related to cultural values, beliefs, biases, and societal issues, as well as the historical perspectives of violence. Content includes: family, community, youth, and workplace violence, and child, domestic, elder, and sexual abuse. Theories concerning gender violence, gangs, bias and hate crimes, and terrorism are challenged. Public health and health-care issues related to violence, and primary-, secondary- and tertiary-level interventions for victims and offenders of violence are discussed. Individual responsibilities associated with identification and reporting violence are identified. Health-care measures to identify and prevent violence are analyzed. Methods of treatment for victims and perpetrators of violence are evaluated. Also listed as HE-476.

NU-490 Transition to Professional Practice Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-307 and NU-492 both passed with a grade of C+ or higher
Co-requisite(s): NU-400 and NU-490
Course Type(s): None
This course is a comprehensive review of essential concepts and skills related to care of patients incorporating online review modules aligned with the NCLEX-RN detailed test blueprint. Students focus on those concepts necessary to prepare for the successful practice of professional nursing. Standardized testing is incorporated that includes a comprehensive examination and results-based remediation to support the successful completion of the NCLEX-RN exam and effective transition into nursing practice. Clinical experiences provide the student the opportunity to apply learned concepts while providing care to assigned patients and when functioning in a leadership role. For Nursing majors only.

NU-490P Transition to Professional Practice Practicum Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-490
Course Type(s): None
This capstone clinical course serves as a transition between the role of student and professional nurse. The major purpose is to increase independence in providing nursing care to groups of individuals in an acute care setting. The focus of this course is on organization, delegation and supervision of care and evaluation of outcomes. Practicum is Pass/Fail. Student must pass NU-490P in order to pass NU-490.
NU-492  Mental Health Tertiary Care  Credits: 5
Prerequisite(s): NU-308 and NU-202 both passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-492P and NU-307.
Course Type(s): None
Part I: This course focuses on the care of patients experiencing mental and behavioral disorders. Emphasis is placed on the management of patients facing emotional and psychological stressors as well as promoting and maintaining the mental health of individuals and families. Concepts of crisis intervention, therapeutic communication, anger management, and coping skills are integrated throughout the course. Clinical experiences provide the student with an opportunity to apply theoretical concepts and implement safe patient care to patients in mental health settings. Part II: Tertiary care nursing: Care for individuals, families, and aggregates highly specialized consultative care that involves advanced and complex procedures and treatments performed by medical specialists (such as pediatric centers, Oncology centers, burn centers, palliative care, plastic surgery, psychiatric hospitals) and community. The focus of tertiary care includes, but not limited to management of complex health issues, health promotion, disease prevention, risk reduction, health maintenance, and rehabilitation, injury prevention of adult and geriatric patients from diverse backgrounds. This course allows the students to improve and advance their abilities to critically think and apply evidence-based practice to formulate differential diagnoses, clinical impressions, nursing diagnoses for treatment and evaluation of care provided to adult and geriatric patients.

NU-492P  Mental Health Practicum  Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-492
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn the didactic content and apply the associated nursing skills during the clinical experience in the medical setting with live patients. For Nursing majors only. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-498  Special Topics in Nursing (400 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NU.EL
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in nursing to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

NU-498P  Special Topics in Nursing  Credits: None
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Practicum for NU 490.

NU-499  Independent Study in Nursing  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): NU-311, NU-312, NU-324, NU-355, and permission of the directing professor and department chair
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided research and in-depth study of an area of nursing and/or health care of particular interest to the student.

THE SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

Dean: Robin Mama, Ph.D.
Assistant Dean: Leah Lazzaro, D.S.W.
Director of the B.S.W. Program: Christa Hogan, Ph.D.
Director of the M.S.W. Program: Elena Mazza, Ph.D.

Social workers are concerned with improving the health and quality of life of persons who are disconnected or excluded from larger society. Social workers engage in practice at all levels, from working with children to working with communities and governments. The profession and the program at Monmouth University are especially concerned with human rights and social and economic justice, the representation and support of vulnerable or oppressed segments of the population, and direct-action strategies to bring about positive change for the disenfranchised.

The central mission of the School of Social Work at Monmouth University is to prepare its graduates for professional social work practice that strives to secure social and economic justice, advance human rights, and improve the quality of life of vulnerable families, individuals, organizations, communities, and nations on the local, national, and global levels.

The B.S.W. Program prepares students for generalist professional social work practice. Secondly, the B.S.W. Program prepares social work students for graduate social work education. The B.S.W. Program also introduces individuals within the University community to relevant social work and social welfare issues.

On the foundation of a liberal arts tradition, students are engaged to broaden and challenge their understanding, analysis, and evaluation of human experiences and societies in the past and in the contemporary world, and of families and individuals of varied cultural and social contexts.

The curriculum supports this mission through three perspectives:

• social and economic justice through the advancement of human rights,
• strengths-based empowerment, and
• practice with families within a global context.

Families within a global context define the initial focal social unit for all social work practice at Monmouth University.

Our three perspectives inform both our B.S.W. and M.S.W. programs as they contribute to the development of students’ knowledge, values, and skills:

1. To conceptualize and contribute to social work theory, knowledge, values, and skills on a generalist level for B.S.W. students, and on an advanced, concentration-specific level for M.S.W. students through three interrelated perspectives: social and economic justice through the advancement of human rights, strengths-based empowerment, and practice with families within a global context;
2. To develop the skills to understand, analyze, and evaluate the quality of life and well-being of vulnerable families, individuals, organizations, communities, and nations that is grounded in a strengths-based empowerment approach for social and economic justice and human rights;
3. To prepare social work practitioners to develop and systematically apply knowledge, values, skills, and ethics in their work with families, individuals, organizations, communities, and nations of diverse cultural contexts in working collaboratively toward the prevention and solution of social problems;
4. To think critically, analyze, produce, and disseminate research that informs theory, policy, practice, and evaluation in social work;
5. To collaborate with and support vulnerable populations through advocacy, social action, volunteerism, service, education, and consultation, working from a strengths-based empowerment approach for social and economic justice and human rights.

STUDENT LIFE

The Division of Student Life at Monmouth University offers many important services for resident and commuter students, undergraduates, and graduate students as well. Staff members promote personal and intellectual growth through a variety of programs and services while aiding students in resolving problems and helping them transition to the college experience. The Student Handbook is available on-line and provides students with the policies and practices relevant to student life. Students should become familiar with the handbook at the start of every academic year.

Orientation

A student’s introduction to student life at Monmouth begins even before classes start. All new students participate in orientation programs designed specifically for their needs.

First-year Students

All new first-year students, commuters and residents, are expected to attend New Student Orientation. This structured program includes educational and social activities designed to ease the transition to college life at Monmouth and to give students opportunities to meet and interact with other new students. During orientation, students meet faculty, staff, and students with whom they’ll be interacting during the first year.

Throughout the academic year, many programs are offered to continue the transition process. The SHADOW Program, First-Year Service Project, leadership development opportunities, and social programming are led by the Coordinator of Transition and Leadership Programs.

Families of first-year students have the opportunity to learn about campus services through our Parent/Family Orientation. In the fall parents/families are invited to campus to participate in Family Weekend, which traditionally takes place in late September or October.

Transfer Students

The Center for Student Success (CSS) coordinates the connections between transfer students (with eighteen or more credits) and their academic departments to ensure a smooth transition to Monmouth University. In addition to their assigned faculty advisors, the CSS serves as another level of support for their transition to Monmouth University. We encourage all incoming transfer students to attend transfer orientation, which is coordinated by the CSS prior to each semester. Orientation programs afford new transfer students the ability to connect with their peers and to learn about resources to guide their progress toward graduation and life after Monmouth.

Housing Options

Residents

The University offers a variety of housing options in fifteen locations: Beechwood, Cedar, Mullaney, Spruce, Willow, Laurel, Elmwood, Pinewood, Oakwood, Redwood, and Hesse Halls; as well as Maplewood Hall, the Garden, Great Lawn, and University Bluffs apartment complexes. Living styles include traditional room arrangements designated for first-year students; suite style, usually for first-year and upper-class students; and apartments for juniors and seniors. Residence halls are typically co-ed by floor/wing/room based on the building’s configuration, and the majority of students share double rooms. In an effort to make a comfortable match, new students are asked to complete a questionnaire before room assignments are made. First-year and sophomore housing is guaranteed for students who submit the required enrollment and housing deposits and housing contract by the required deadline; as well as out-of-state undergraduate students. For first-year students, the deadline is May 1. Graduate students are typically assigned to double occupancy assignments at the University’s owned or sponsored off-campus apartments based on space availability.

Each residential area is staffed by full-time professional Area Coordinators who reside on campus. Each hall is staffed by Resident Assistants, or Community Assistants, all of whom are intensively trained in providing assistance, information, activities, and programs for resident students. The Associate Vice President for Student Life, one Associate Director of Residential Life, and one Assistant Director of Residential Life reside near campus and provide additional, professional support for the Residence Life program.

All on-campus halls provide laundry facilities that utilize a smartphone app. All resident students not living in a University-owned or -sponsored apartment are required to be on a meal plan. These meal plans are not transferable and all meals are allocated to a single student. Students may choose either a carte blanche plan, which allows you unlimited access to the Residential Dining Hall, or one of three “block” meal plans, which provides students with a set number of meals for the semester. First-year students may not select a “block” lower than 195 until their sophomore year.

Depending on individual needs, cars may not be a necessary part of campus living, as everything is generally within walking distance of campus. Many students use bicycles to get around campus and the surrounding community. Parking is extremely limited and a parking decal purchased through MUPD is required. Students are discouraged from having cars on campus so they may fully experience university life and all that it has to offer.

Student Services

Commuters

There are traditional, non-traditional, full-time, part-time, graduate, and undergraduate students who commute to campus every year. Monmouth University recognizes commuter students are unique and have needs that the University supports each semester. The Office of Off-Campus and Commuter Services (OCCS) is available to provide resources, advocacy, and guidance to all commuter students who attend Monmouth University. Incoming first-year commuter students are offered guidance and support as part of the Commuter Student Mentor program, in which they have the opportunity to request a mentor during new student orientation. Commuter students who are interested in getting involved are encouraged to contact the Office of Student Activities by calling 732-571-3586 or any of over one hundred recognized clubs that are listed in the Monmouth University Student Handbook.

There are a wide range of extra-curricular events and leadership opportunities that take place every semester, and programs are planned so commuters can participate during the day. Commuters can choose from a number of meal plans operated by Gourmet Dining. Commuter students can access breakfast, lunch, dinner, and late-night dining options at a number of locations on campus. The locations include the Rebecca Stafford Food Court, a Dunkin’ Donuts, Magill Commons Dining Hall, Plangere Center, Bey Hall Express, and a Convenience Store in Hesse
Hall. Declining balance, cash, Visa, and MasterCard are available for use at all dining locations on campus; however, we recommend students consider purchasing a meal plan through the University. The Office of Residential Life administers both resident and commuter student meal-plans and can be reached by phone at 732-571-3465. Commuter students will find parking at any time of the day or night and they are not required to pay a fee for a parking decal. For more information, contact OCCS at 732-263-5651 or refer to the Office's Web site (http://www.monmouth.edu/commuter/).

Health Services is open to all students whether they live on or off campus. All students, aged thirty (30) years or younger, must show proof of two measles, two mumps, and one rubella immunization and if taking nine (9) or more credits must show proof of having completed the Hepatitis B series. All commuter students ages 18 years and younger must show proof of vaccination with the quadrivalent (covering four strains) meningitis vaccine on or after the 18th birthday. All resident students, regardless of age, are required show proof of vaccination with the quadrivalent meningitis vaccine on or after the 18th birthday. There is no fee to be medically evaluated. Students are responsible for any costs that may be incurred for outside referrals, prescriptions, special services, laboratory, and diagnostic procedures. For the 2020-2021 academic year, students will be seen on an appointment only basis. Same day appointments will be available. To schedule an appointment, students need to call Health Services at 732-571-3464. Requests for an appointment can also be made through the private and secure Student Health Portal. Students will be triaged via telephone to determine need for COVID-19 testing, telehealth services and in-person services. Students will need to complete the COVID-19 Symptoms Tracker found in the Student Health Portal prior to an appointment with Health Services. Services include: COVID-19 testing, diagnosis and treatment of common ambulatory illnesses and injuries, immunizations, allergy injections, physicals, GYN services, psychiatric evaluation, and medication titration. Psychiatric services will be delivered on a HIPAA secured telepsychiatry platform.

The Health Center hours during the academic semester are: Monday through Thursday, 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Hours may be subject to change.

Health Services is staffed with four nurse practitioners, a nurse practitioner/director, a part-time general practitioner physician, and a part-time psychiatrist. Monmouth Medical Center, a community teaching hospital, offers complete medical and psychiatric services and is within a mile and a half of the University.

Counseling and Psychological Services (CPS) assists students in their personal growth and development through psychological counseling and psycho-educational programming. Free, confidential psychological counseling is available to all Monmouth University students. Psychological services are provided by licensed counseling professionals or graduate-level trainees, supervised by licensed professionals. Through collaborations with Monmouth Medical Center and other local agencies, 24-hour services are available for mental health crises. The office also collaborates closely with various departments on campus.

Students may call 732-571-7517 to schedule an appointment for personal counseling or to request additional information. CPS is open Monday through Friday from 8:45 am to 5:00 pm. For additional information, students may also e-mail CPS (mcounseling@monmouth.edu) directly. Additional information can also be found on the CPS Web site (http://www.monmouth.edu/counseling/). The office is located on the third floor of the Rebecca Stafford Student Center.

The Global Education Office provides assistance to students and faculty from other countries with their adjustment to life in the United States and Monmouth University. The Assistant Director for International Students and Faculty Services and the International Student Advisor are available to provide immigration counseling, academic and career planning support, and access to extra-curricular activities such as the International Club.

The Office of Student Support and Veteran Services serves two primary functions. One is to work with students that are experiencing some difficulty or challenge outside of the classroom that may prevent them from being a successful student. The second is to serve as a primary point of contact for student veterans, active duty personnel and dependents of military personnel at the University and to coordinate a comprehensive program of support and advocacy services. This position also serves as the University’s School Certifying Official for verification and eligibility of veteran benefits. Office hours are Monday through Friday from 8:45am to 5:00pm. You may reach the office at 732-263-5258 or via email at veteraninfo@monmouth.edu.

Co-Curricular Programs

 Athletics

 Athletics constitute an integral part of a Monmouth University education. The NCAA Division I athletic program offers excellent opportunities for qualified athletes who wish to participate, and a special level of enthusiasm and excitement for the entire University community.

 The athletics program fields men's varsity teams in baseball, basketball, cross-country, football, golf, indoor track and field, lacrosse, soccer, swimming, tennis, and outdoor track and field. Women's varsity teams participate in basketball, bowling, cross-country, field hockey, golf, indoor track and field, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, and outdoor track and field.

 Student Activities

 The Office of Student Activities and Student Center Operations provides a variety of programs and opportunities that are intended to assist in the social, cultural, and intellectual development of our students. The office advises the Student Activities Board in providing a variety of entertainment and educational activities for the campus community. It encourages student participation in clubs and organizations, is involved in the coordination of campus and multicultural activities, provides leadership training for student organizations, coordinates the operation of the Student Center, and supports and provides weekend programming. The office also sponsors an Involvement Fair and provides student group and leader recognition opportunities.

 Student Organizations

 There are more than 125 different clubs and organizations on campus. Active involvement in a club or organization helps a student develop new leadership skills, career skills, and meet new friends. Students can select from clubs related to their majors or take the opportunity to join something related to a special interest or hobby. All groups are student-developed and student-run. Each year the Office of Student Activities and Student Center Operations hosts an Involvement Fair to assist students in getting connected to a club or organization. Students should check the Experience Monmouth app, the bulletin boards, social media sites, e-mail, electronic boards, and the student newspaper (The Outlook) to learn more about club activities throughout the year.

Student Center
An integral part of Monmouth’s overall campus life program, the Student Center serves as a gathering area for all segments of the University community. It is an area where students meet informally and formally to share common interests and develop friendships. The Student Center includes dining facilities, lounges, ATM, computer labs, and meeting rooms, and is the site of many campus and community events. The facility also houses the Student Government Association, the Student Activities Board, and many student organization offices.

The Student Center is the site of many student services offices including, but not limited to, the Division of Student Life, the Center for Student Success, First-Year Advising, Student Activities/Student Center Operations, Judicial Affairs, Central Scheduling, the Office of Off-Campus and Commuter Services, Conference Services and Special Events, Office for Disability Services, Student Support and Veteran Services, Office of Counseling and Psychological Services, and the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life.

Student Activities Board
The Student Activities Board (SAB) is a student organization advised by the Office of Student Activities and Student Center Operations. Concerts, speakers, comedians, bus trips, novelty programs and festivals are among the many events sponsored. The SAB presents numerous opportunities for students to get involved both as spectators and as active board members. Students can join nine committees, which include: Novelty, Awareness, Diversity Programs, Special Events, Comedy, Concerts, Festivals, Travel and Tour, and Major Concerts. Involvement in SAB may relate to a student’s major or may just be for fun.

Cultural Activities
The Department of Music and Theatre Arts, housed in the Lauren K. Woods Theatre, offers a wide ranging schedule of concerts, recitals, and theatrical productions during the academic year, and a professional theatre, the Shadow Lawn Stage, in the summer. The department offers performance opportunities in concert chorus, chamber choir, glee clubs, chamber orchestra, jazz band, and pep band. Applied music study is offered to all students in voice, piano, woodwinds, brass, guitar, strings, and percussion.

The award winning Center of the Arts presents a rich array of performances by nationally and internationally recognized artists in dance, theatre, contemporary, classical, and folk music; as well as children’s theatre, film screenings, visiting writers, gallery exhibitions, live screenings of the Met Opera, the National Theatre of London, the Bolshoi Ballet, and much more! Students receive a FREE ticket for two performing arts events each semester; all other events are free or $5. For more information and a full schedule of events, please visit Monmouth Arts (http://www.monmouth.edu/arts/).

While Monmouth has no religious affiliation, it does recognize the important place that religion has in the lives of many of its students. The Catholic Center, the Muslim Student Association, and Chabad are all active on campus. In addition, churches and synagogues representing the major religious faiths are within convenient reach of the campus and are available for services and personal counseling. A listing of area places of worship is available at the Office of Student and Community Services.

Recreation
The William T. Boylan Gymnasium provides facilities to support intramurals and recreation, including a swimming pool, two full basketball courts, and a bowling center. Outdoor facilities available to students for their recreational use include: tennis courts, an eight-lane track, Field Turf football/lacrosse, and soccer fields.

There is a year-round Intramural Sports Program, which includes games and sports such as basketball, dodgeball, flag football, softball, volleyball, three-point contest, knockout, Baggo, and soccer. The Wellness Program includes personal training and group fitness classes like Zumba, Yoga, Bootcamps, Abs Legs and Butt, and Kickboxing. There are many club sports on campus that include ice hockey, dance, men’s and women’s soccer, men’s and women’s lacrosse, field hockey, wrestling, women’s volleyball, track and field, e-sports, sailing, boxing, softball, baseball, and men’s basketball.

Societies
Greek Letter Organizations
Currently there are 14 fraternities and sororities at Monmouth University.

The student organizations contained within this list are the only fraternities and sororities with official recognition by the University. Any other fraternity or sorority not having University recognition is not one that is supported by the University.

The fraternities include:
• Lambda Theta Phi Latin Fraternity, Inc.,
• Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.,
• Phi Kappa Psi,
• Sigma Pi,
• Sigma Tau Gamma, and
• Tau Delta Phi.

The sororities include:
• Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.,
• Alpha Omicron Pi,
• Alpha Sigma Tau,
• Alpha Xi Delta,
• Chi Upsilon Sigma National Latin Sorority, Inc.
• Delta Phi Epsilon,
• Lambda Theta Alpha Latin Sorority, Inc., and
• Phi Sigma Sigma.

Honor Societies
Academic departments sponsor honor societies to give recognition to outstanding scholarship in a particular area. Student Life does not oversee academic honor societies.

Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership society, recognizes upper-class students who have demonstrated leadership on campus. Phi Eta Sigma is a freshman leadership honor society acknowledging academic excellence and involvement in student activities.
The Gamma Sigma Alpha, National Greek Academic Honor Society, recognizes fraternity and sorority members who have achieved high levels of academic success.

Student Code of Conduct

Monmouth University offers its students the opportunity for maximum intellectual and personal growth by providing a variety of experiences, activities, and services that are designed to complement classroom work and provide opportunities for individual maturation.

The University recognizes and respects the students' personal freedom and assures maximum individual liberty within the limits necessary for the orderly operation of the University. In response, students must observe rules and regulations necessary for the proper functioning of the institution.

Each individual has the right and responsibility to bring to the attention of an administrative or Student Government official any violations of personal freedom or the regulations of the University.

Additional information regarding the Student Code of Conduct is contained in the Student Handbook. The Student Handbook (http://www.monmouth.edu/studenthandbook/) is available online.

Awards

Students are eligible for nonacademic awards that are given annually at the May Commencement.

Outstanding Student Award

The Student Government Association sponsors this award given to the graduating senior who, through creative leadership and ability, has made a contribution of lasting value to the future of Monmouth University. Students who are nominated must be in good standing with the University (i.e., academic, judicial, financial) in order to be considered for this award. The announcement of the winner takes place at the May Commencement.

AN-280  Anthropology and Education  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
The Anthropology of Education has a long and rich history of exploring intersections of learning and culture. This course is an introduction to the issues and approaches central to the study of education within the discipline of anthropology. Over the course of the semester, students will engage with classic and contemporary methods and readings in the field, including cross-cultural approaches to schooling and key issues in educational policy. This course is founded in anthropological approaches to education and how anthropologists address topics related to learning.

AN-282  Life’s a Beach  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): CD
A majority of the world’s population lives along shorelines. In some places, the shore is necessary for survival, a place where people depend on their interactions with the natural environment to provide for their daily needs. Elsewhere, the beach is a location for leisure, a destination for tourists. This class examines life at the shore from the different perspectives of those who utilize the beaches in different ways. Approximately one-third of the class will take place in situ, meaning off campus and on site of some local beach location. Applying anthropological theories and methods to the topic, this course will examine concepts such as identity, political economy, cultural ecology and development, using New Jersey beaches as locus. Also listed as GO-282.

AN-289  Anthropological Field Study  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Anthropology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised field experience in various branches of anthropology, e.g., archaeological excavation, museum work, ethnography, and primate behavior. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

AN-290  Popular Culture and the Middle East  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): GU, HSNW
Examines recent events, traditional cultural practices, and the perceptions of the Middle East through the lens of popular media (film, graphic novels, journalism, etc.). Topics to be covered may include but are not limited to: religion, the Arab Spring (2011), the Iranian Revolution, the Arab-Israeli Conflict, women’s rights/roles, Orientalism and racism, and common governing structures. Also listed as HS-290.

AN-296  Cultures and Societies of Africa  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, WT
Examines the history, cultures, and societies of Africa from the precolonial to the contemporary period. Discusses the cultural, political, and economic changes that have taken place in Africa as a result of Western influence. Also listed as HS-296.

AN-298  Special Topics in Anthropology (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in Anthropology to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AN-299  Independent Study in Anthropology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum. Students must be an Anthropology major and have at least a 2.50 G.P.A. to register for this course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department is required to take this course.

AN-303  Archaeology of the Southeastern United States  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): GU
This course offers an overview of the archaeology of the American Southeast. The course will focus on the region’s prehistoric and contact periods, which is one of the richest in the US. Students will develop an understanding of the area’s primary archaeological cultures and their geographic and temporal extents.

AN-304  Monuments and Commemoration: Loss and Remembrance  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): HSUS
Examines the evolution of American attitudes towards commemoration and remembrance from the colonial period to the present. Focuses on the analysis of landscapes and artifacts, e.g., monuments, grave markers, cemeteries, and historic sites. Topics discussed include: the evolution of American burial grounds from colonial burial grounds to the rural cemeteries of the Victorians and modern memorial parks. Changing grave marker designs and iconography are examined. Distinct ethnic, regional, and national memorial practices are also studied. Public memorials in the form of statuary, commemorative institutions, and historic sites will also be discussed. There will be field trips to select sites. Also listed as HS-304.

AN-305  Caribbean Archaeology  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): GU, RE
Students are introduced to the archaeology and ethnohistory of the Caribbean Islands; the region where the Old World violently encountered the New World in AD 1492. The general approach is historical and chronological. This course is divided into two broad sections covering the prehistoric and historic periods of the region. The encounter between Europe and the region’s native inhabitants proved catastrophic for the later. The region than became central to the world economy through slave labor and the production of luxury for world markets.

AN-306  Food and Culture  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): GU, WT
Augments the anthropology program's offerings in both archaeology and socio-cultural anthropology, and demonstrates the synergy of these approaches in the topical study of food. Through a combination of lecture, discussion, hands-on learning, and readings, students are introduced to the basic modes of human subsistence identified by the anthropological tradition. They also will explore the material and social challenges connected with these different subsistence strategies, and finish up by looking at current food-based problems facing the world today.
AN-307 Forensic Anthropology
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the basic principles of forensic anthropology. Forensic anthropology is an application of biological anthropology (Skeletal understanding) to help solve criminal cases. Topics that will be covered in this course schedule include: methods of determining sex, nutrition, stature and ancestry from skeletal remains. We will also explore the cause of death, time since death and other relevant information. In addition we will examine the changing role of forensic anthropology in a larger global context.

AN-311 Anthropology Internship Seminar
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Application of theory learned in the classroom in practice through actual work experience. Includes both academic and experiential learning. Eight to twelve hours per week in a public history or field work setting. Open only to anthropology majors. This course is repeatable for credit.

AN-315 Field Research in Archaeology
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or AN-107 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Archaeological field methods, analysis of data, and anthropological interpretation; students will do supervised work on local sites. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Also listed as HS-315.

AN-321 Qualitative Research Methods
Prerequisite(s): PY-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
An interdisciplinary overview of qualitative research methods employed in the social sciences and education. Qualitative methods are offered as an alternative way of knowing about individuals and groups. Topics covered include: theory, fieldwork, interviewing, observational studies, time sampling, writing field notes, questionnaires(survey research), archival research, and conducting qualitative research in various settings. Emphasis also placed upon the factors that affect the fieldwork process (e.g., gender, emotions, etc.) Also listed as PY-321.

AN-322 Ethnographic Methods
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
An overview of ethnographic research design and methods employed in anthropology. Students will practice research design and methods, data analysis and write-up techniques. Students will engage questions of ethics through research practice and theoretical discussion.

AN-330 Zooarchaeology: The Archaeology of Animals
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Covers methods of faunal analysis and the application of the study of animal remains to broad topics of cultural study including subsistence, status, and ideology.

AN-342 Children's Play and Culture
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-203
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive examination of children's play. Theoretical and empirical contributions from psychology and anthropology as a developmental and cross-cultural foundation for the following topics: the historical development of the concept of childhood; theories of play; conceptions of play and work; the functions of play; play and child development; gender differences; cross-cultural forms of play; and children's peer cultures. Also listed as PY-342. Psychology majors should register for PY-342.

AN-343 Anthropology and Children
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AN-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GU
An overview of the anthropological study of children. Addresses anthropology's inquiry into children's behavior, activities, artifacts, and their relationships with adults both past and present. Topics covered include: archaeology and children, childbirth, attachment, parenting, play, education, socialization, and child labor and welfare. Geographical areas include: the Middle East, Asia, and Central and South America. Europe and the United States are mentioned marginally.

AN-355 Ancient Technology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Provides an introduction to ancient technology/experimental archaeology. It examines the major theories and practices employed by experimental archaeologists. Students will develop skills in traditional technologies, e.g. flintknapping, pot firing, blacksmithing, and timber frame house construction.

AN-363 The Amazon
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GU, RE
An anthropological seminar focused on the Amazon region, with emphasis on how expert and lay knowledge about the Amazon has been produced and circulated.

AN-371 International Service Seminar
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, PSIP
Students will learn to unite theory and practice by studying theories and policies based on human security, and learning about their applications through service-learning projects. Students will enhance their understanding of human security by volunteering in international community organizations and reflecting on the social, political, and economic factors and policies that affect them. Also listed as SW-371, PS-371, and SO-371.
AN-377 Archaeology of African American Life Credits: 3
Course Type(s): CD, RE
Explores the rapidly growing subfield of historical archaeology which deals with the life and history of African Americans. The history and modern challenges facing this group is conditioned by the historical experience of individuals and communities of African descent with the United States. Unlike many European groups, the historical evidence documenting the experience of African Americans through time is sparse and incomplete. Archaeological investigations offer a primary method for recovering the everyday life experiences of this group. In addition, African American archaeology provides an important intersection for engaging the deep connection between the past and the present in socially meaningful ways. This course will review important case studies, key figures, major issues, and the overall development of African American archaeology.

AN-378 Gender, Sex and Medicine Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, GS, HE.EL, WT
Explores intersections of biological sex with cultural constructs of gender and medicine. Using cross-cultural examples, the course will employ an anthropological approach to explore how health, well-being and even medical belief systems operate in relation to different genders. Together as a class, we will examine how cultural constructs of gender frame ideals and norms regarding health, explore ways that biological sex is used to support gendered constructs, and demonstrate how these constructs eventually frame how healing takes place.

AN-379 Globalization, Health and Healing Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GU, HE.EL, HEPE
Explores globalization through the lens of health and transnational movements. Through lectures, interactive seminar discussions, films, reflective analysis and research projects, students will examine globalization processes through the movement of disease and treatments, patients and healthcare workers.

AN-380 American Cultural Diversity Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, RE
Explores the historical, social, and cultural backgrounds of immigrant groups found within the United States. Through lectures, readings, case studies, and discussions incorporated with service learning as fieldwork, students will be introduced to the complexity and diversity of American society.

AN-382 Applied Anthropology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
This course is anthropology put to use - meaning using anthropological research and methods to solve practical problems. This is an upper-level survey course that pays attention to cultural viewpoints, methods and results. While exploring different areas of applied anthropology through the history of the discipline and contemporary research projects, we will study methods unique to this subfield. Practical information, advice and resources on career preparation and development will be offered. By the end of the course, students should be able to answer the question "How can I use anthropology in my future career?"

AN-383 Old World Prehistory Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive survey of the prehistoric cultures of Europe, Africa, and Asia, focusing on the period between the origins of modern humans to the rise of the first civilizations. Particular attention is paid to the development of art, religious belief systems, agriculture, urbanism, metallurgy, and writing. Early civilizations in Egypt, sub-Saharan Africa, Mesopotamia, Western Europe, and China are examined.

AN-387 Visual Anthropology Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, COSS
Deals with aspects of visuality in culture and anthropology. A significant part of the course will be devoted to visual anthropology. We will learn about the development of visual anthropology as a discipline, the particular problems and challenges involved in practicing this type of ethnography, the evolution of ideas about accountability, representation, reflexivity and positioning in visual ethnographic methods. We will start with exploring the role of image in anthropology by considering the relationship between photography and ethnography, and continue to study ethnographic filmmaking, from Robert Flaherty's "Nanook of the North," (considered to be the first ethnographic documentary), to the development of Cinema Verite, to the emergence of indigenous media. Students will gain a nuanced understanding of the subject through weekly writing exercises, presentations, and in-class discussion. For a final project, students will write a long-form paper that will combine original research and visual analysis.

AN-388 Anthropological Field Study Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Anthropology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised field experience in various branches of anthropology, e.g., archaeological excavation, museum work, ethnography, and primate behavior. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

AN-390 Archaeology Field Study Credits: 3
Course Type(s): EX5
An introduction to the practice of archaeology with a focus on fieldwork and limited laboratory analysis. This is a residential field school, meaning that students will live at or near the site for the majority of the semester. This might include living nearby during the week or for several weeks at a time, as in the case of an international archaeological field project. Students will learn traditional and advanced surveying methods, how to conduct pedestrian surveys, standard archaeological excavation techniques, and how to identify, catalogue, and analyze artifacts. There will be weekly lectures on the archaeology, history, and culture of the chosen archaeological site by project staff and visiting experts.

AN-398 Special Topics in Archaeology (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in anthropology to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AN-399 Independent Study in Anthropology Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum. Students must be an Anthropology major and have at least a 2.50 G.P.A. to register for this course. Prior permission of the directing professor and department is required to take this course.
AN-401 Anthropological Theory
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A survey of the major theories in anthropology from the nineteenth century to the present, focusing on contributions to our understanding of human society by some of the major figures of anthropology.

AN-408 Cultural Psychology
Course Type(s): None
An interdisciplinary course that utilizes theoretical, empirical, and methodological contributions from psychology and anthropology to discuss the position of culture in understanding human behavior and thought. Culture is viewed as a cognitive construct that is learned, lived, shared, and performed. A sample of topics include: the history of cultural and cross-cultural psychology, methodological approaches, aggression, education, development, play, language, social relationships, intelligence, emotion, motivation, and mental health issues. Also listed as PSY-408.

AN-425 Latin American Seminar
Prerequisite(s): AN-103 or permission of the instructor and EN-101 and EN-102
Course Type(s): RE, WT
An in-depth analysis of select groups in Native Latin America, through lectures, readings, case studies, film, and interactive panel discussions.

AN-426 Research Seminar in Anthropology
Prerequisite(s): 90 credits completed or Senior standing
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
The development, research, and writing of a BA paper on any aspect of anthropology, with special emphasis on scrupulous documentation, use of appropriate sources, clear expository writing, and oral presentation of research results. The course will be taught as a mixture of seminar and one-on-one meetings with the instructor. (It will also include a meeting with a librarian or bibliographer from the Monmouth University Library.)

AN-489 Anthropological Field Study
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Anthropology and permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised field experience in various branches of anthropology, e.g., archaeological excavation, museum work, ethnography, and primate behavior. This course may be repeated once for credit.

AN-498 Special Topics in Anthropology (400 Level)
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in anthropology to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AN-499 Independent Study in Anthropology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum.
AR-177 Introduction to Digital Design for Non-Art majors Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Designed for students with little or no experience in computer graphics. Combines basic visual problem solving with hands-on, computer-based digital training. Projects are designed with the non-art/design major in mind and would be appropriate for students majoring in journalism, communications, marketing and music industry.

AR-178 Web Studio Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): IM
An introduction to the visual aesthetics and fundamental skills required to create web graphics and media, digital publication, and web and mobile interface design. Covers the use of current graphics software in addition to training in graphic production and composition needed for the Internet.

AR-181 Digital Photography I Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT, IM
Light and lens are the fundamental elements of photographic and video media. This foundation level course introduces students to the formal characteristics of light and lenses by surveying a variety of image-making practices, from primitive photographic devices to digital photography and video. Through a combination of classroom talks and hands-on-projects, students will encounter principles of black-and-white and color photography as well as elementary video. Learning camera controls in this manner opens up a wide range of expressive possibilities.

AR-183 Black and White Photography I Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Technical proficiency in basic black and white photography, including exposure, developing, printing, and presentation. Photography is presented as a tool to understand the world and as a means of expression and communication. Students will learn how to interpret and discuss the visual language of photography.

AR-191 Drawing I Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Explore fundamentals of drawing in order to accurately describe nonfigurative volumetric objects. Students are expected to develop a solid understanding of basic drawing elements such as line, value, mass, and space and learn to comprehend the understanding of space, shape, proportion, form, volume, light, and rhythm. Drawing I is a basic hands-on course that introduces the student to various traditional drawing techniques and materials for expression. Working with a basic drawing medium, we will explore fundamental rendering techniques. Six hours per week.

AR-192 Drawing II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-191
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A studio course that continues to develop the skills covered in Drawing I. AR-191. Students will be introduced to both traditional and nontraditional concepts and techniques of interpretive and subjective drawing and rendering. Drawing techniques and materials pertaining to the expression of both figurative and nonfigurative subject matter will be explored. The human figure will serve as the primary subject of study with an emphasis placed on the rendering skills. The complex nature of the figure provides students with problems that require serious attention to observational skills in order to correctly render the form. Drawing II utilizes the live, nude model. Six hours per week.

AR-198 Special Topics in Art (100 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite it will be announced in the course schedule.

AR-199 Independent Study in Art Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided research - A studio project or art history topic. Weekly consultation. May be elected for a total of 6 credits Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

AR-216 Sculpture 1 and 3D Printing Credits: 3
Course Type(s): AT
Sculpture has an incredibly varied history of content, form, material, scale and intent. In this course you will become introduced to basic methods of 3D construction and fabrication, including hand modeling, digital modeling, mold-making, casting, carving and 3D printing. We will work from observation as well as conceptual models. We will explore current sculptural trends, funding and visibility/marketing models. We will also practice creating artist statements to support our work. Confidence in materials and form will lead to an ever-increasing level of craftsmanship and ability to communicate your ideas in 3D form.

AR-217 Sculpture I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-116, AR-191, and AR-192 for art majors
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Sculpture for beginners as well as intermediate students, including modeling from life, plaster, simple casting procedures, found object, installation, digital modeling and 3D printing. Students will be introduced to professional practices in sculpture. Six hours per week. Department chair approval is required for non-art majors.

AR-218 Sculpture II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-217
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX3
A direct continuation of AR-217, Sculpture I, processes along with multi-media contemporary practice of interdisciplinary collaboration, artist teams and social practice art. Students will develop professional practices in sculpture. Six hours per week.
AR-221  Painting I
Prerequisite(s): AR-113, AR-114, AR-191, and AR-192 for art majors
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Techniques and craftsmanship to facilitate expression in acrylic or oil painting; still-life and landscape subjects. Art and Art Education students must have prerequisite. Six hours of studio work per week. Department chair approval is required for non-art majors.

AR-222  Painting II
Prerequisite(s): AR-221
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A continuation of AR-221, with emphasis on the further development of painterly ideas and creative thinking. Art and Art Education majors must have prerequisites. Six hours of studio work per week.

AR-231  Eco Art
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
With the idea of the artist and non-artist in mind, this course focuses on building creativity, vision, and the ability to synthesize new ideas from across disciplines to form original ideas and solutions around the human/nature relationship. Through individual and collaborative problem-led investigations, students will utilize research, writing, and discussion to create 2D, 3D, and time-based art that engages a specific ecological topic. Particular focus will be placed on eco-artists' ways of working, eco-art materials, and transdisciplinary research.

AR-241  History of Western Art I
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): ARHIS, AT
Survey of the significant styles and periods in Western art and architecture from Prehistoric to Gothic periods. Weekly lectures and discussions assist students with developing their visual literacy and a critical understanding of the past.

AR-242  History of Western Art II
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ARHIS, AT
Survey of the significant styles and periods in Western art and architecture from the Renaissance to the present. Weekly lecture and discussions assist students with developing their visual literacy and a critical understanding of the past.

AR-253  Digital Photography II
Prerequisite(s): AR-181
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students develop knowledge of image development, construction, retouching, and collage techniques using traditional film, digital images, and drawing as source material. Students will learn a variety of camera skills, including shooting in RAW format. A critical examination of intent is stressed along with output options and color management. Introduces programs such as Aperture and/or Lightroom to further expand digital workflow skills.

AR-265  Hand Built Ceramics
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
An introduction to clay as a creative material for making both functional and sculptural 3-D forms using various hand-building techniques, including coils, slabs, carving, incising, and their combination. Basic glazing and firing methods will be covered. Slide presentations, group and individual critiques will be part of the curriculum.

AR-266  Wheel Thrown Ceramics
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
An introduction to the potter's wheel as a tool for creating both functional and sculptural clay forms. In addition to throwing forms on the wheel, students will gain knowledge about glazing and firing techniques. Slide presentations, group, and individual critiques will be part of the curriculum.

AR-269  Graphic Design Studio I
Prerequisite(s): AR-113 for Art majors only
Co-requisite(s): AR-114
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to graphic design, including conceptual thinking, the making of signs, icons, and symbols, logo and brand identity, letterform design, layout, and design techniques. Students will also be introduced to design history and current issues regarding the profession. For students minoring in Graphic and Interactive Design, there are no prerequisites, however, approval of the department chair is required.

AR-270  Graphic Design Studio II
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177, and AR-269
Co-requisite(s): AR-273
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces more advanced visual communications and typographic problem solving. Projects strategically test the students' understanding of design theory, research, writing, and thinking. Individual projects mimic those in a professional design environment and are developed following the traditional creative process. Projects include branding, corporate identity, information design, digital illustration, app design, and packaging.

AR-273  Digital Illustration
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A continuation of Introduction to Digital Design with primary emphasis on more advanced illustration software. Assignments build on previously learned software and concepts. Projects may include illustrative posters, booklets, interiors, and currency design.

AR-282  Web Design/Interactive I for Non-BFA Candidates
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177 or AR-178
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): IM
An introduction to web design and development. Covers an overview of the creation of websites and the use of web graphics, web programming, and multimedia through web-based software programs. Other software tools including Photoshop and Illustrator are used to develop design concepts and web content. Fundamentals of graphic production, layout design, and web typography are discussed. Not available to BFA Candidates.
AR-283  Black and White Photography II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-183
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Focuses on advanced technical skills as a means of gaining greater personal and aesthetic understanding. Advanced 35mm camera and printing techniques, basic studio lighting, and exploring different photographic formats including medium, large, and toy cameras, as well as experimental techniques of image making and printing.

AR-284  Web Design/Interactive II for Non-BFA Candidates  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-178 or AR-282
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): IM
Integrates previously learned web design and development concepts. Students will create dynamic web content such as animation, audio/video using web-based software and programming languages. Other software tools including Photoshop, Illustrator, and sound editing programs are used to develop design concepts and web content. Not available to BFA candidates.

AR-286  Principles of 3-D Animation for Non-BFA Candidates  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-177 or AR-181 or CO-145 or AR-284
Course Type(s): IM
Students will learn basic techniques of building three-dimensional, digital objects along with the basic theories and principles of animation using the software Maya. Skills needed to construct 3D objects in Maya will be introduced with hands-on experiences on the Macintosh platform. Meets six hours per week. Not available to Fine Art majors.

AR-287  Typography  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177, and AR-269
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the theory, function, history, and impact of typography in graphic design. This course is an analysis of the shape and form of letters. Investigation and comparison of existing typefaces, type specification and layout in relation to graphic design and the printed piece.

AR-288  Cooperative Education: Art or Graphic Design  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
An on-site graphic design cooperative work placement. This course may be repeated for credit.

AR-290  Motion Graphics for Non BFA Majors  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-177 or CO-145
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): IM, RD
An introduction to the art of time-based, graphic storytelling for non-art/design majors. Emphasis will be placed on the creation of engaging digital environments through the thoughtful integration, manipulation, and orchestration of audio, video elements, typography, and animated logos. Meets six hours a week. Not available to BFA candidates.

AR-298  Special Topics in Art (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

AR-299  Independent Study in Art  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research - A studio project or art history topic. Weekly consultation. May be elected for a total of 6 credits. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

AR-306  Creative Book Arts  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-114 and AR-192
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to bookbinding and papermaking. Traditional western-style papermaking and several non-adhesive binding structures will be covered. The students will produce a final bound book of sequential images (pages) in any media relevant to her/his discipline. The print lab will be available but not required. Department Chair for non-Art majors is required.

AR-311  Drawing 3  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-113, AR-114, AR-191 and AR-192
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Seeing the figure, objects, and the environment; exploring all possible avenues of expression resulting from the experience of seeing; drawing experiences in various media. Six hours per week.

AR-313  Lighting Techniques  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-181
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A studio course that explores the photograph in contemporary art. Photography's integral tie to light serves as the backbone of this course as it investigates the alternative and contemporary spaces used by photographic artists. Digital and analog tools and skills blur as students are encouraged to experiment and challenge their ideas of what defines a photograph. Teaches studio lighting as it applies to fine art and commercial photography. Includes technical instruction in the lighting studio as well as on location with both portable lights and natural light. Defined by critiques and continues technical and conceptual advancement.

AR-317  Sculpture III  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-217 and AR-218
Course Type(s): None
A direct continuation of AR-218 students will develop a body of three-dimensional work exploring further skills learned in Sculpture II, expanding on content, form, material, scale and intent. Final artist talk required along with professional presentation of digital and actual art objects. Six hours per week.

AR-321  Painting III  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-221 and AR-222
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The development of the student as a painter, with emphasis on the philosophy of painting. Six hours of studio per week.
AR-323  Documentary Photography and Video  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-181
Course Type(s): None
By investigating documentary-style photography and video this course concentrates on using images to tell stories. Working both independently and in small groups producing documentary photography and video, students explore the role of documentary photography and video in society.

AR-325  Writing Supplement for Art and Design  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
The writing component for co-registered studio classes which integrates a fifteen-page research paper. Emphasis is placed on the quality of writing and research.

AR-326  Writing Supplement for Art and Design  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 or EN-102 or permission of the instructor; A 200, 300, or 400 level studio course is required as a corequisite
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
The writing component for co-registered studio classes which integrates a fifteen-page research paper. Emphasis is placed on the quality of writing and research.

AR-335  BFA Internship/Seminar  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-371 or AR-393 and Junior status
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Internship experience with the development of occupational or professional competence in the career setting. Combines both internship work experience at an approved work location with a structured seminar class. The seminar component of this course will also guide students through the process of resume writing, interviewing techniques, and best business practice. On-site design or animation work internship (fifteen to twenty hours per week for a total of 150 hours) plus four three-hour long seminar sessions with faculty. This course may be repeated once for credit.

AR-341  Art Theory and Writing  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-242, EN-101, and EN-102; or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): ARHIS, WT
Designed to develop a critical understanding of theories of contemporary art and various types of art writing, including, but not limited to, art criticism, art historical writing, and artist statements.

AR-342  History of New and Expanded Media in Art  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ARHIS, IM, WT
A survey of computer-based new media and ephemeral expanded media in art with emphasis on the later twentieth century to the present. Topics could include the use of computing, robotics, biotech research, virtual reality, performance, and social practice in art while critically reflecting on the aesthetic, cultural, social, and political contexts within which these media emerged.

AR-343  Renaissance, Mannerist, and Baroque Art  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-242
Course Type(s): ARHIS
Painting, sculpture, and architecture in Europe from 1400s-1800s. Museum visits required.

AR-345  Early to Late Modern Art  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ARHIS, WT
A critical analysis of various meanings of “Modernism” in art. This course studies academic art to art of the present through U.S., European, and global case studies. Museum visits required.

AR-346  History of Graphic Design  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ARHIS, CD, WT
A survey of graphic design with an emphasis on the twentieth century to the present. The course instructs students in researching areas of interest to broaden their knowledge of issues in the discipline while critically reflecting on the aesthetic, cultural, social, and political contexts within which graphic design emerged.

AR-347  History of Photography  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ARHIS, CD, WT
A topically arranged survey of world photography, this course takes as its central concern the multiple purposes to which photography has been adapted since its “discovery” in the early nineteenth century. Although the relationship between photography and fine art is considered, the many non-art uses of the medium are also discussed in an attempt to better understand the cultural contexts in which photography has been employed.

AR-348  Art of India  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ARHIS, AT, BLEL, GU, RE
The visual art of India: how to look at it and how it might be best understood. The larger cultural context in which this art was produced, drawing upon history, religion, mythology, and literature will be discussed. Essentially, pre-modern Indian art is religious art. After studying the major monuments associated with Buddhism and Hindu art, the themes common to both traditions will be considered. The temple as an artistic expression and as a religious center will be explored. Because of the vastness of India art, this course will not include Mughal and later monuments.

AR-349  Asian Art Survey  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ARHIS, GU, WT
Important Artistic Monuments from India, China and Japan. Since Buddhism is a connecting link for Asian cultures, emphasis is placed on Buddhist art.

AR-350  World Art Nineteenth-Twentieth Century  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ARHIS, RE
A global investigation of the cross-cultural evolution of art in the nineteenth to mid-twentieth century. Non-Western art will be studied from the point of discovery through its influence on modern, Western, visual expression. Emphasis will be placed on the significance of the art work within the context of the social, political, religious, and economic climate of its time.
AR-351 Methods of Teaching Art I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-114, AR-116, AR-192 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The history and philosophy of art education; the construction of art curricula and the exploration of teaching methods; media and tools appropriate for the educational level. Methods I deals with the needs of the elementary school child. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Hours required. Open to Art majors only. Also listed as ED-351.

AR-352 Methods of Teaching Art II  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The history and philosophy of art education; the construction of art curricula and the exploration of teaching methods; media and tools appropriate for the educational level. Methods II deals with the needs of the adolescent. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Hours required. Open to Art majors only. Also listed as ED-352.

AR-353 Digital Photography III  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-253
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A strong foundation in the technical and aesthetic aspects of color photography through projects utilizing digital RAW files and analog negatives with instruction in color printing and studio lighting as it pertains to the nuances of color. Discussions and critical writings focus on the history and theory of color photography. Combines analog and digital techniques and focuses on more advanced file managing and color control both on the monitor and in the print.

AR-368 Gender, Art, and Society  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): ARHIS, GS
A critical survey about the role of gender in the arts through a study of representational subjects, artists, and patronage. This course considers art's role in the construction of gender as a social structure by drawing from fields that include art history, gender studies, critical race studies, and queer theory.

AR-370 Advanced Typography  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-287
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An advanced level course in the study of typography. This course will expand upon topics covered in AR-287 Typography by considering the emotional, expressive, and effective use of typographic elements pertaining to graphic design and visual messaging. Projects will be produced for a variety of applications including: broadsides (print media), original typeface design with Font Lab Studio (digital), and conceptual typography (experimental).

AR-371 Graphic Design Studio III  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-270
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Marks the transition from graphic design fundamentals to more complex visual problem solving. Projects focus on original exploration and design in corporate identity and branding. Course topics include: trademark and copyright, marketing research, brand strategy, and design briefs. Students implement concepts through creation of collateral, packaging, and interactive promotion. Professional preparation of work for commercial use is an integral part of this course.

AR-374 Digital Imaging  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-273
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Advanced concepts and creative techniques in digital imaging using Adobe Photoshop. Projects build on all previously learned software, specifically the Adobe Creative Suite. Assignments include varied aspects of graphic design including file preparation and creation for digital compositing and large format printing. This course also prepares students for work within the professional printing industry.

AR-375 Illustration for Gaming  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-114, AR-172, and AR-192
Course Type(s): None
Introduction and application of illustration as a means toward effective visual communication in the gaming and animation industry. Emphasis on the development of the creative visual concept and its relationship to style, media, technique, and methods of reproduction. Introduction to a variety of traditional and non-traditional techniques.

AR-381 Print: Intaglio/Relief  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-191 and AR-192
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the printmaking techniques of relief printing; linocut, woodcut, and etching; hard and soft ground, and aquatint. Six hours per week. Department chair approval is required for non-art majors.

AR-382 Print: Lithography and Silkscreening  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-191 and AR-192
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the printmaking techniques of relief printing; linocut, woodcut, and etching; hard and soft ground, and aquatint. Six hours per week. Department Chair approval for non-art majors is required.

AR-383 Web Design/Interactive I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-253 or AR-374
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to web design and production. Covers an overview of the creation of websites and the use of web graphics, web programming, and multimedia through web-based software programs. Fundamentals of graphic production, layout design, web typography, and the principles of Interaction Design and UX Design are discussed.
AR-384  Web Design/Interactive II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-383
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An advanced class in web design and development. It extends the principles and techniques introduced in Web Design/Interactive
I. Students will create dynamic web content such as animation, audio/video using web-based software and programming languages. Emerging web technology will be discussed.

AR-385  2D Animation  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will be exposed to the fundamental terminology, concepts, techniques of creating 2D animations to broaden their skills as animators and enhance their overall creative ability. Using pencil and paper in conjunction with computer based techniques, students will gain experience in basic principles of animation including timing, expression of emotion, straight ahead action and pose to pose, key frames and in-betweens. In the assigned projects for this course, students are responsible for controlling and manipulating a subject’s perceived volume, weight, proportion, and movement, thus gaining a more thorough understanding of the animation process.

AR-386  Principles of Animation  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-114
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn the basic theories and principles of animation. An overview of the early history of animation will be given to put current practice into perspective. Students will be introduced to different animation techniques, such as 2D, Stop Motion, and 3D computer animation. They will apply these techniques to complete several short exercises and pick one to complete a final project.

AR-387  3D Modeling, Lighting and Rendering  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn how to create virtual objects, both hard surface and organic models, apply materials and lighting, set up a camera, and render professional quality images. Special attention will be given to modeling for animation and real time rendering. The focus will be on the concepts, aesthetics, and practice of generating 3D computer imagery as a means of artistic expression.

AR-389  Art and Photography Internship  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
An internship in any art and design disciplines with the development of professional competence in the career setting. The placement must enhance a student’s knowledge of his or her chosen field of study.
Students are required to complete 50 hours per credit. Sophomore status and permission of the instructor is required to register for this course.

AR-390  Animation/Motion Graphics I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-172 or AR-181
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): IM, RD
An introduction to the art of time-based, graphic storytelling. Emphasis will be placed on the creation of engaging digital environments through the thoughtful integration, manipulation, and orchestration of audio, video elements, typography, and animated logos.

AR-391  Animation/Motion Graphics 2  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-290 or AR-390
Course Type(s): IM
Explores the commercial and experiential nature of motion graphics.
Projects for this advanced course expand upon established time-based narrative structures for film, video and television. Emphasis will be placed on the synergy of video, writing, storyboarding, editing, and three-dimensional graphic elements.

AR-392  3-D Animation  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-116 or AR-387
Co-requisite(s): AR-386
Course Type(s): None
Building upon the Principles of Animation, students learn to create three dimensional animations, both virtual (3D Computer Animation) and physical (Stop Motion). Character Animation, Procedural animation and Simulation, and animation for Real Time applications will be introduced.
Students will complete assignments for each of these different types of animation, and complete a final project with their choice of one of these techniques.

AR-393  3-D Animation Production  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-387
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Concepts, tools and techniques employed in animated storytelling.
Students will pre-visualize their projects through storyboarding, planning, and assembling shots in sequence. Students will learn how to combine sound with advanced 3D computer animation. Audio/visual synchronization as well as character lip syncing with phonemes will be explored. Students will construct complex 3D animated stories in Maya and complete a fully animated piece.

AR-394  3-D Environments and Effects  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-393, or AR-387 and AR-392
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Concepts, tools, and techniques for creating realistic natural environments and phenomena (such as moving clouds, fire, and flowing water). Students will sculpt complex polygonal geometry into various terrains including landscapes and foliage. Students will learn to create realistic backgrounds incorporating natural light. Creating realistic shadows will be explored as well. Students will learn how to use particle emitters in order to simulate phenomena such as flowing water, flames, and snow.

AR-395  Animation Production  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-386 and AR-390
Course Type(s): None
Students learn how to organize and plan an animation project, add sound and finish their final product. All the steps from concept to final product are covered: Storyboarding, Animatic, Sound, Post-production. While students will make use of computer technology for the practical side of this course, the main focus is on the professional animation process:
workflow, planning, and best practices.

AR-398  Special Topics in Art (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in art to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.
AR-399 Independent Study in Art  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research - a studio project or art history topic. Weekly consultation. May be elected for a total of six credits. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

AR-401 Senior Portfolio  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A seminar class that chronologically analyzes and refines graphic design and computer projects, which have been done throughout the student’s coursework. Meetings with instructor to discuss and critique reworked and new projects that have been specifically assigned.

AR-402 Photography Portfolio  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-353
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Equal parts seminar and studio in its approach, this senior-level course incorporates discussions and readings focused on contemporary photo-based artworks and the theoretical and critical developments in recent photographic art practices. In addition, this course helps prepare students to enter the professional art world and/or graduate school. Students develop a cohesive portfolio of photographic imagery and create a strategy for the presentation of their work.

AR-403 Advanced Digital Imaging and Illustration  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-253 or AR-374
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
For student designers and fine artists with intermediate computer skills who are interested in more advanced concepts and creative techniques in digital illustration, photography, digital collage, printmaking and handmade techniques, digital book publishing, and large format printing. Programs to be explored are Adobe Photoshop and Wacom digital tablets.

AR-404 Responsive Media  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-145 or AR-181
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTP, IM
Students learn how to make interfaces for smart phones and tablets to create interactive audio and video. In addition, students produce creative projects using data mapping, generative art and work collaboratively on a site-specific media project. Also listed as CO-404.

AR-408 Senior Year Experience: Client/Thesis  Credits: 3
Co-requisite(s): AR-383
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
The first part of a two course, senior year capstone experience designed to provide students the opportunity to propose and research a thesis project, create entry-level, professional design work, and to work with clients all while under the direction of a faculty member. For BFA majors Graphic Design majors only.

AR-409 Senior Year Experience: Thesis/Portfolio  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-408
Co-requisite(s): AR-384
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The second part of a two course, senior year capstone experience designed to provide students the opportunity to complete a thesis project, work with clients under the direction of a faculty member, successfully mount their senior exhibition for AR-SHO credit, and to create an entry-level, professional design portfolio. For BFA Graphic Design Majors only.

AR-410 Advanced Project I  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Research, art making, and writing for Honors Project may be conducted for photography, painting, sculpture, printmaking, graphic design, Web design, or motion graphics and is determined by a student's particular discipline and medium of choice. The art to be made is informed by the student's research and is articulated in full through a final eighteen- to twenty-page research paper. The topic of research may include but is not limited to identity, gender roles in culture, feminism, religion, the occult, consumerism, politics, cultural diversity, war, personal experience, Renaissance vs. contemporary art, Greek vs. contemporary sculpture, etc. Alternatively, the student may also conduct a thorough exploration of the characteristics of a particular medium. Art and Design faculty must approve the topic. This is the first part of a two-semester class. To register for this course, students must have Junior standing or higher, permission of the department chair, a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00, a major G.P.A. of 3.50, and the student must be an art or fine arts major.

AR-411 Advanced Project 2  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): AR-410, a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00, a major G.P.A. of 3.50, Junior status, EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor, and the student must be an Art or Fine Arts major and have permission of the department chair
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT

AR-414 Group Project in 3D Animation  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): AR-394 or AR-395
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn how to work on a production team for a 3D project. Students will work in a team environment to brainstorm, communicate effectively, develop project goals, and delegate responsibilities. Students will learn how to meet deadlines both individually and collectively. Student groups are expected to produce a 3D animated piece with an estimated three-minute duration.
BY-102  Applications in Biotechnology
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
Introduction for non-science majors. The focus is on basic principles of biotechnology along with an exploration of associated bioethical issues. The laboratory component serves to familiarize students with scientific practice.

BY-103  Environmental Science
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Examines society's effects on the natural environment and current efforts to address environmental issues in a sustainable manner. Stresses the interdisciplinary nature of environmental issues, and that resolution of environmental problems sustainably involves the application of sound scientific information, but at the same time involves social, political, cultural, and economic values as well.

BY-104  Human Biology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Introductory course for non-science majors. Focus is on basic structure and function of human body systems and diseases of these systems. The laboratory component serves to familiarize students with scientific practice.

BY-105  Introductory Biology and Human Development
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory-level survey of biology with an emphasis on human biology that includes human development, aging, genetics and other topics selected to support the social work program. An introduction to neurobiology will be provided with applications in mental health. Not for credit toward a major in biology. For Social Work majors only.

BY-106  The Brain - Highs and Lows
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
The focus is the study of the human brain from the highs of intelligence and creativity to the lows of depression. The brain will also be examined for its roles in drug use, from the highs of euphoria to the lows of dependence. Topics will include the interplay between genetic and environmental influences that shape the brain and its responses. Not for credit towards a major in Biology.

BY-107  Microbiology in Health and Disease
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Microorganisms pathogenic for man; emphasizing etiology, modes of transmission and control. Laboratory includes proper collection of specimens, aseptic technique, cultivation, identification, and disposal of microbes. Three hours of class, two hours of laboratory per week.

BY-108  Evolution and the History of Life on Earth
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
Examines evolution both as a process and as a phenomenon. Students will examine how evolutionary processes occur in time, both very short and geological time scales, and how both are studied. Students will review the history of life on earth with emphasis on major lineages such as vertebrates, mollusks, insects and plants, as well as basic geological processes and continental drift during these time periods. Bacterial evolution will be examined in the context of the importance of understanding natural selection and evolution and their impacts on society and medicine. Emphasis will be placed on understanding evolution of groups and processes often cited in creationist arguments, to help students be prepared to enter civil discourse as informed citizens. Evidence of evolutionary change from the fossil record and DNA sequences of organisms will be compared and reviewed.
BY-109  Introduction to Biodiversity and Evolution
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory course for biology majors. Focus is on evolution, phylogeny, taxonomy, origin and diversity of life, physiology of plant and animal systems, and ecological principles. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. Limited to students who are majors in Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Computer Science and Software Engineering.

BY-110  Introduction to Cell and Molecular Biology
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
For biology majors and other students needing an introduction to the cellular and molecular levels of biology. Includes an introduction to cell structure and function, biochemistry and metabolism, bioenergetics, genetics and cell division, and molecular biology. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week. Limited to majors in Biology, Chemistry, Clinical Science, Medical Laboratory Science, Mathematics, Computer Science, Software Engineering, Criminal Justice, Health Studies, and Health and Physical Education.

BY-111  Anatomy and Physiology I
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Study of human systems: structure, function and integration, including chemical and cellular base, integumentary, skeletal, muscular and nervous systems. Laboratory covers human anatomy, microscopy of tissues and organs, and physiological study of living organisms. Three hours of lecture, two hours of laboratory per week. Open to Health Studies, Health Promotion, Health and Physical Education and Education, and Nursing majors only. This course is a non-major level Biology course and cannot be used to fulfill the Biology minor. Students pursuing professional graduate health programs should register for BY-211. Students who take BY-111 are not eligible to take BY-211.

BY-112  Anatomy and Physiology II
Prerequisite(s): BY-111 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): NS
Study of human systems: structure, function and integration, including special senses, digestive, endocrine, cardiovascular, lymphatic and immunity, respiratory, urinary and reproductive. Laboratory covers human anatomy, microscopy of tissues and organs, and physiological study of living organisms. Three hours of lecture, two hours of laboratory per week. Open to Health Studies, Health Promotion, Health and Physical Education and Education, and Nursing majors only. This course is a non-major level Biology course and cannot be used to fulfill the Biology minor. Students pursuing professional graduate health program should register for BY-212. Students who have taken BY-112 are not eligible to take BY-212.

BY-113  Introduction to Structure and Function of Living Systems
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Examines the characteristics of living organisms. Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the life sciences they will teach. Content will focus on the structure and function of cells, tissues and organs and life processes. There is an emphasis on understanding heredity, including patterns of inheritance traits and the molecular basis of heredity, and growth and development. This is an activity-centered/lab course to demonstrate scientific inquiry (questioning, developing hypotheses, gathering data, and drawing reasonable conclusions) and how to use resources and research material in science. BY-113 does not count towards the Biology major or minor requirements.

BY-114  Unity and Diversity of Life
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): NS
Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the life sciences they will teach. Examining the interdependence and individuality of organisms in ecosystems, populations and communities and how these organisms change over time due to life cycles, mutations, adaptions and natural selection. Classification of organism will also be covered. This is an activity-centered/lab course to demonstrate scientific inquiry (questioning, developing hypotheses, gathering data, and drawing reasonable conclusions) and how to use resources and research material in science. BY-114 does not count towards the Biology major or minor requirements.

BY-116  The Biology of Nutrition, Aging, and Anti-Aging Nutrition
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Discussions of the theories of aging and the role of nutrition in delaying aging and preventing degenerative disease. Analysis of the scientifically sound, medically reliable evaluation of widely promoted nutritional supplements, including the anti-aging nutrients: vitamins, minerals, amino acids, nucleic acid derivatives, lipids and derivatives, pharmaceuticals and chemicals (BHA, BHT, DMSO, etc.) and other supplements (L-Carnitine, ginseng, etc.)

BY-118  The Mighty Microbes
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory microbiology course designed for non-science majors. Students will investigate microbiology in everyday living. Topics will include the role microbes have in health, disease, the environment, and food and beverage production. Attention will be devoted to microbiology related current issues. Students will learn the impact microbes have in society so that they develop awareness, knowledge of and appreciation of microbiology.
BY-119 Introductory Biology Major Seminar
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Designed for first-year students in any of the majors offered by the Biology Department, this course will introduce students to the academic requirements required for the major, and the related skills to be successful in college and beyond, including University resources, curricular and co-curricular requirements, and opportunities related to the Biology major. Preparation for research and advanced coursework will be emphasized, and students will be introduced to career resources. Transition to studying and integrating into the Monmouth University Department of Biology will be complemented by the assistance of a peer learning assistant for the course. Attendance at a limited number of campus events will be required. This course will be offered as "pass/fail". Limited to students with 30 or fewer credits.

BY-201 Introduction to Biotechnology
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Introduction to recent advances in biotechnology: the use of living organisms to create products, applications or processes that improve the quality of life for humans and other species. Presents historical and modern applications of biotechnology that impact our everyday lives. An overview of current developments and applications of microbial, agricultural, animal, marine and forensic biotechnology, bioremediation, and medical biotechnology will be presented. Regulatory agencies and policies that govern the biotechnology industry will be discussed, and students will also learn to formulate opinions about ethical, legal and social issues associated with biotechnology.

BY-202 Human Biology and Health
Prerequisite(s): BY-113 and BY-114 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the life sciences they will teach. This course will concentrate on basic physiology of the human body looking at the different organ systems. There will be an emphasis on understanding regulation and behavior, such as how the body responds to external stimuli and controls the internal environment. Personal health including nutrition, human disease, microbiology, immunology and substance abuse will be examined. This is an activity-centered/lab course to demonstrate scientific inquiry (questioning, developing hypotheses, gathering data, and drawing reasonable conclusions) and how to use resources and research material in science. BY-202 does not count towards the Biology major or minor requirements.

BY-205 Zoology
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an introductory survey of vertebrate and invertebrate zoology. Topics covered include taxonomy and classification, anatomy and physiology, behavior and ecology, and evolutionary relationships of the major phyla of the animal kingdom with a specific focus on local marine species. The laboratory component of the course focuses on the diversity of the animal kingdom from a structural, functional and ecological perspective. Labs will include exercises that will include examination of live organisms, dissections and examinations of preserved specimens, and field trips.

BY-209 Environment and Human Health
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 and BY-110, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MC, MEBP
Human activities are adversely affecting ecosystems throughout the world. Some of these changes may be deleterious to human health. The purpose of this course is to provide students with an understanding of the relationship between the environment and human health. Specific topics that will be covered are the importance of biodiversity to human health, the relationships between global warming and vector-borne diseases, microbial evolution and resistance of pathogenic organisms, persistent pollutants and toxicity, and the effect of environmental disasters on human health. A focus of this course will be to integrate several areas of biology including microbiology, toxicology, and environmental science.

BY-210 Forensic Genetics and DNA Analysis
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 and CJ-211
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Focus on fundamental principles of DNA and genetic analysis and their applications in forensics. Designed for criminal justice majors who have had an introduction to Mendelian and molecular genetics and to DNA structure, but who need more background in the underlying biology of forensic DNA analysis and interpretation. Sources of DNA will be presented along with methods for DNA extraction, amplification of DNA by polymerase chain reaction, analysis of restriction fragment length polymorphisms and short tandem repeats. Open only to Criminal Justice majors.

BY-211 Physiology with Anatomy I
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, CE-111, and CE-112 all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Lecture and laboratory course Study of Human Systems: Their structure, function and integration. Laboratory covers gross human anatomy and physiology. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. Open only to Biology, Chemistry, Medical Lab Science, Clinical Lab Science, Health, and Psychology majors. Students who have taken BY-211 are not eligible to take BY-111.

BY-212 Physiology with Anatomy II
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, BY-211, CE-111, and CE-112 all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Lecture and laboratory course Study of Human Systems: Their structure, function and integration. Laboratory covers gross human anatomy and physiology. Three hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. Open only to Biology, Chemistry, Medical Lab Science, Clinical Lab Science, Health, and Psychology majors. Students who have taken BY-212 are not eligible to take BY-112.

BY-214 Botany
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Characteristics of the major plant groups, principles of plant taxonomy, considerations of evolutionary and ecological relationships. Two hours of class, two hours of laboratory per week.
BY-216 Introduction to Genetics  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Focuses on one of the core concepts of biology; the flow, exchange, and storage of hereditary information. Topics will include principles of classical and molecular genetics, including transmission, arrangement, and alteration of genetic information; structure, function, and regulation of the genetic material; biological variation resulting from recombination, mutation, and population genetics; applications to human heredity. Two 80-minute lectures and one 3-hour lab per week.

BY-220 Environmental Biology and Policy  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): ME, SUS
Focuses on human use of natural resources and the environment and the problems and impacts that result from those uses. By taking an interdisciplinary perspective, students will gain an understanding of the scientific, political and socioeconomic factors that underlie resolution of these problems.

BY-221 Introduction to Global Sustainability  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP, SUS
Introduces students to the global, environmental, economic and social foundations of sustainability and the policy and scientific challenges involved with accommodating population growth, development, and resources used while assuring that future generations will have the natural and economic resources to support an enhanced quality of life. An emphasis will be placed on understanding of sustainability principles from multiple perspectives and cross-disciplinary application of sustainable practices. Also listed as PS-223.

BY-223 General Microbiology  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP
Morphology, taxonomy, physiology, genetics, and control of microorganisms; history of microbiology. Three hours of class, three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-250 Research in Molecular Cell Physiology  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, MC
Faculty-student collaborative research lab course designed to introduce students to the research process. Students will work in small groups under faculty supervision to conduct research on a project in molecular cell physiology determined by the directing faculty member. Students will be involved in the research process by developing hypotheses, planning and carrying out experiments using modern lab techniques, analyzing data, and evaluating resource information. Research may be extended in detail in BY-450. Limited to sophomore biology majors.

BY-262 Primate Behavior, Evolution, and Ecology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
The study of primatology, which examines the lifeways, biology, and behavior of our closest living relatives. Various topics will be explored including taxonomy and classification, diet, behavior, grouping patterns, locomotion, and land usage patterns of monkeys, apes and prosimians. These topics will be explored within the frameworks of natural selection, sexual selection, and evolution. Also listed as AN-262.

BY-264 Environmental Field Methods  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109, CE-111, CE-111L, CE-112 and CE-112L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
Environmental Field Methods provides students with hands on experience in environmental and marine research by learning a suite of techniques and working under real field conditions. Students become familiar with the use and application of standard environmental and marine science instruments and sampling techniques and devices, as well as data handling, management and analysis techniques. One course meeting per week for three hours. This course will be taught as a fully integrated team-taught course, with two faculty who have environmental and marine research expertise.

BY-290 Open Water Scuba Certification Course  Credits: 2
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP, OUTDR
The Open Water Scuba Certification course entails completion of the Professional Association of Diving Instructors (PADI) Open Water Diver course, the world’s most popular scuba course. Completion of this course leads to PADI scuba certification as an open water diver. Limited to 8 students. Skills course: Outdoor Pursuits (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. Also listed as PE-290.

BY-298 Special Topics in Biology (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in biology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar, or laboratory format. Please note: when Scuba is offered as BY-298 it does not carry a course type of MC. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BY-299 Independent Study in Biology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Principles of independent study and research; critical review of published work on a designated topic in the biological sciences or original research; preparation of a research paper or review article in publishable format or oral presentation of research results. Laboratory or field work arranged as needed. Requires submission and approval of an “Application for Independent Study” (an e-form is available on WEBadvisor) with a faculty mentor. To take this course, students need prior permission of the directing professor and department chair and Sophomore or higher standing in Biology (Total of all independent study credits to be counted towards the degree may not exceed six, unless approved by the Dean).

BY-301 Vertebrate Histology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): MC
Microscopic structure of vertebrate cells, tissues, and organs, emphasizing microscopic anatomy of the human body. Laboratory identification of vertebrate tissues. Two hours of class, three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-303 Biological Oceanography  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 and BY-214 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
Biological Oceanography provides an introduction to the biology of life in the sea. Biological Oceanography emphasizes the fundamental oceanographic processes that control the distribution and abundance of living organisms in the sea. Two hours of lecture and two hours of lab per week.
BY-310  Biochemistry and Lab
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): CE-242 passed with a grade of C- or higher; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): MEBP, WT
A survey of the major principles of biochemistry with attention to the structures and functions of proteins, carbohydrates and fats; the major pathways for metabolism of proteins, carbohydrates and fats; and the biochemical basis of DNA replication and gene expression. Laboratory provides hands-on experience in selected biochemical techniques with an emphasis on protein characterization. Designed to provide practice and critique in effective writing and appropriate writing style and format.

BY-314  Topics in Horticulture
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Principles and practices of plant culture; practical experience through greenhouse projects; the horticulture industry and career possibilities; field trips to places of horticultural interest. Two hours of class, three hours of laboratory per week. Field trips arranged.

BY-317  Tropical Island Ecology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, ME, MEBP, NS
A field course focusing on investigations of plants, animals, and natural ecosystems of the Bahamas with emphasis on marine ecosystems, island ecology, resource management, and sustainable development.

BY-322  Ichthyology
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 and BY-205, passed with a C- or better
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
A survey of all-extant groups of fishes (e.g., bony fishes, cartilaginous fishes, and jawless fishes), including sections on evolution, taxonomy, form and function, biogeography, behavior, and ecology. Laboratory component will include required dissections. There will be several scheduled off campus field trips. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-324  Applied Microbiology
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-223 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Microorganisms of food, water, soil, dairy products, industrial processes, disease, and genetic engineering. Three hours of class, three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-327  Design and Analysis of Biological Experiments
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C or higher or permission of the instructors.
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The purpose of this course is to learn about the statistical design & analysis of biological experiments. After learning mathematical techniques of designing experiments, and statistical analyses customized to them, students will be presented with a broad research question by the instructors. Literature surveys will be a critical part of the course to allow students to find pertinent, relevant, potentially publishable biological questions that address a specific aspect of the larger question posed by the instructors. Students will design their own experiment addressing their question, generate their own data collection plan, collect their data, and then analyze their data using statistical techniques taught in class. This course will involve field/lab work for data collection and computer work in the statistical analysis of the final data. Students will defend their question, design and analysis from both a statistical and biological perspective. At the end of the semester students will complete a formal manuscript in journal format. This course can be used to fulfill the Mathematics or Statistics minor and the Bio/MEBP elective. This course is a research based course and students must have demonstrated a strong interest in and potential for research. Also listed as MA-327.

BY-341  Marine Biology
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 and BY-214, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Biota of the oceans and inshore waters with an emphasis on ecology, functional morphology, and marine and estuarine habitats. Basic oceanography is also included. Marine biology is a laboratory course supported by lectures and field projects. Field trips outside of class time may be required.

BY-342  Coastal Zone Management
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ME, WT
Focus on the impact of increased demand on the coastal environment based on the theme that management of an environment for multiple purposes requires an understanding of the effects of use and exploitation throughout that environmental system and how decisions can be made in an effective, equitable manner.
BY-360 The Business of Biotechnology: From the Bench to the Market
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Limited to junior or senior biology majors or other students with approval by the course faculty. BY-110 or BY-201 completed with a grade of C- or higher. For Business majors: BY-102, BY-110, or BY-201 completed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MC

Tomorrow's biotechnology leaders require a breadth of cross-functional knowledge to face the scientific, regulatory, and financial challenges for developing biotech companies in the 21st century. This course will provide students with a strategic overview of the business of biotechnology, exploring the integration of science, technology, the regulatory framework, financial requirements, and market forces that drive the industry. The course will introduce students to basic aspects of molecular biology related to product development in the biopharmaceutical industry, and the regulatory and financial requirements for drug development, placing emphasis on real-world application and the challenges of bringing new biotechnology drugs to market for the treatment of human disease. Limited to junior or senior biology majors or other students with approval by the course faculty. BY-110 or BY-201 completed with a minimum grade of C- or higher is required. For Business majors BY-102, BY-110, or BY-201, completed with a minimum grade of C- or higher are required.

BY-370 Cell Biology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None

In-depth study of biology at the cellular and subcellular levels. Integrates principles of biochemistry into an understanding of cell structure and physiology.

BY-375L Laboratory in Molecular and Cellular Biology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310, and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP, RD, WT

Designed to introduce biology majors to basic laboratory techniques used in molecular and cellular biology. Students will develop proficiency in modern techniques in molecular and cellular biology including micro pipetting, bacterial culturing and sterile technique, solution preparation, DNA extraction, restriction digestion of DNA, DNA sub cloning, gel electrophoresis of nucleic acids and proteins, nucleic acid blotting and analysis with molecular probes, DNA sequencing, polymerase chain reaction (PCR), immunological techniques for analysis of proteins, mammalian cell culture and transfection, and DNA sequence analysis on the Internet. The use of traditional and Internet information resources for molecular and cellular biology will also be emphasized. The presentation of data in both oral and written form will be emphasized. Partially fulfills the reasoned oral discourse requirement for biology and biology/molecular cell physiology.

BY-388 Cooperative Education: Biological Sciences
Credits: 1-4
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Biology, overall G.P.A. of 2.00 and Junior standing or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX2

Provides an opportunity for students to fulfill the Experiential Education requirement by pursuing a short-term cooperative work experience in biology or for students who, are currently employed in a biological or medical field, to integrate the work with a related academic component. May be repeated for credit. This is a pass/fail course. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

BY-389 Internship in Biological Science
Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): Overall GPA of 2.00; Junior status, at least six credits of biology courses and departmental approval
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1

Complements the practical experience gained by students at internship sites, such as hospitals, clinics, private practices, research laboratories, environmental agencies, museums, botanical gardens, and zoos with a significant set of academic goals. May be repeated once for credit. This is a pass/fail course.

BY-395 Seminar in Marine and Environmental Biology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MEBP, RD

A seminar-style course for juniors in the Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy (MEBP) major.

BY-398 Special Topics in Biology (300 Level)
Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in biology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar, or laboratory format. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BY-399 Independent Study in Biology
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

Principles of independent study and research; critical review of published work on a designated topic in the biological sciences or original research; preparation of a research paper or review article in publishable format or oral presentation of research results. Laboratory or field work arranged as needed. Requires submission and approval of an "Application for Independent Study" an e-form is available on WEBadvisor with a faculty member. Students must have prior permission of the directing professor and department chair; and Junior standing in Biology to take this class. (Total of all independent study credits to be counted towards the degree may not exceed six, unless approved by the Dean.)

BY-404 Animal Behavior
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PY-103 or BY-103 or above, passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

Why and how animals (vertebrates and invertebrates) do the things they do. Emphasizes rules governing the evolution of behavior rather than mere description of how animals behave. Focus includes behavioral ecology, habitat selection, feeding strategies, predator-prey tactics, mating systems and strategies, social behavior (conflict and cooperation) and population dynamics. The course begins with an historical overview and ends with the evolution of human behavior. Also listed as PY-404.

BY-404L Animal Behavior Laboratory
Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): PY-311 and PY-320 passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): BY-404 or PY-404
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

Methods in the study of animal behavior. Projects on instinctive behavior, early experience, learning, dominance relationships, territoriality, behavioral ecology, and sociobiology. One all-day field trip and an independent project will be required.
BY-406  Introduction to Neurosciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-216 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME
The organization of the nervous system in terms of its anatomy, physiology, neurochemical correlates, and evolution; behavioral processes such as attention, sleep, motivation, instinct, learning, and languages.

BY-406L  Neurosciences Laboratory  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): BY-406
Course Type(s): MC
Human and animal neuroanatomy; surgical techniques, including lesion, stimulation, and perfusion; histology; drug and hormone administration; physiological recording techniques. Three hours per week.

BY-410  Molecular Biology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-216 or BY-310 or CE-331 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Provides a detailed examination of the central dogma of molecular biology - DNA replication, transcription, reverse transcription, and translation - in viruses, prokaryotes, and eukaryotes. Standard techniques of biotechnology used to study molecular biology will be emphasized. Additional topics, including eukaryotic chromosome structure and regulation of gene expression, will also be discussed.

BY-412  Vertebrate Physiology and Laboratory  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC
Comparative vertebrate physiology, with emphasis on osmotic regulation, nutrition, circulation, respiration, and muscle physiology. One hour of class, four hours of laboratory per week.

BY-420  Applied Field Biology  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BY-205, BY-214, and BY-220 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1, MEBP
Applied Field Biology is a research-based applied ecology course that combines lectures, hands-on field and laboratory activities, and focused data collection and analysis to allow participating students to understand techniques used by scientists and environmental managers in order to provide information necessary to perform key functions associated with natural resource and ecosystem conservation and management. The course is designed to allow students in the Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy Program (MEBP) to fulfill their Experiential Education requirement. This course is repeatable twice for credit.

BY-423  Genetics  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher and at least Junior status
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP
Lecture of classical and molecular genetics; applications in human heredity; structure and function of genetic material and gene regulation, laboratory exercises using Drosophila, bacteria, and bacterial viruses as experimental material. Three hours of lecture, three hours of laboratory per week.

BY-424  Evolution  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 and BY-216, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MC, ME, MEBP
Synthetic theory of evolution, including sources of genetic variability, Hardy-Weinberg, natural selection, genetic drift, balanced polymorphism, molecular evolution, speciation and the origin of life. Three hours of class per week.

BY-425  Principles of Developmental Biology  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-216 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The study of major morphological changes during development and the analysis of causative factors. Model organisms used in the study of development include: sea urchin, nematode worm, Drosophila, frog, and mouse. Topics include: fertilization, growth, differentiation, morphogenesis, regeneration, and tissue interactions. The genetic control of development will be emphasized.

BY-427  Cancer Biology  Credits: 3
Co-requisite(s): BY-370 or BY-410
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC
Course will provide students with a foundation in the molecular biology of cancer. Topics include the genetic and molecular changes that lead to transformation, oncogenes, tumor suppressors, viruses, angiogenesis, metastasis, tumor immunology, and clinical trials and treatments. Primary literature and review articles, as well as field work, will be used to understand advances in cancer biology and treatment.

BY-430  Neuroscience Beyond Neurons  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-216
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC
A seminar-style class with focus on the different cell types that make up the brain and how they interact and signal with one another. Topics include how glial-neuronal interactions impact brain development, brain metabolism, and numerous pathological conditions. Objectives will be met through lectures and class discussions, readings from primary literature, journals clubs and class debate.

BY-431  Immunology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-110 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MC
Components of the immune system; biological individuality and the recognition of "foreignness"; structure of antibodies; cellular immunity and graft rejection; blood group antigens; the immune system and cancer development; immunogenetics; clinical and experimental applications. Two hours of class, two hours of laboratory per week.

BY-440  Ecology  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): BY-205 or BY-214, and BY-220 all passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102 and Senior standing
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP, WT
Lecture and laboratory course examining the concepts of ecology and evolutionary biology, the interaction of organisms and their environment, population ecology, community ecology, and ecosystems dynamics. 3 hours of lecture and 3 hours of lab/field work per week.
BY-442  Natural Resource Conservation and Management  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-220 and BY-440, both passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ME, MEBP, SUS, WT
The principles of ecology and resource management are used to analyze contemporary environmental problems and highlight legislative, technological, and methodological solutions to environmental problems that move us toward a sustainable society.

BY-450  Research in Molecular Cell Physiology  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, MC
A faculty-student collaborative research lab course. Students will work in small groups under faculty supervision to conduct comprehensive research on a project in molecular cell physiology determined by the directing faculty member. Students will experience all aspects of the research process, from developing hypotheses, planning and carrying out experiments using modern lab techniques, and analyzing data, to preparing research results for publication. May be taken to extend research initiated in BY-250. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Limited to Junior or Senior biology majors.

BY-475  Endocrinology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-310 or twelve credits in Biology
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MC, ME
Introduction to biochemical, molecular, and physiological aspects of the vertebrate endocrine system and mechanisms by which hormones maintain homeostasis in animals, including humans. Topics to be studied include: molecular structures: biochemical properties and interactions of different categories of hormones and their receptors; major endocrine systems that regulate reproduction, growth, development, and metabolism: neuroendocrinology; and pathophysiology of the endocrine system. Hormones and organs that influence processes such as calcium homeostasis, digestion, salt balance, carbohydrate metabolism, and sex differentiation and development will be examined. Endocrine regulation of male and female reproductive organs and reproduction will also be discussed, including the hormonal control of fertilization, implantation, placental function, pregnancy, parturition, lactation, and contraception.

BY-489  Internship in Biological Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 6 credits in Biology, Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Complements the practical experience gained by students at internship sites, such as hospitals, clinics, private practices, research laboratories, environmental agencies, museums, botanical gardens, and zoos with a significant set of academic goals. May be repeated once for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. This is a pass/fail course.

BY-495  Senior Seminar  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): completion of 90 credits; for Biology majors only
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
A seminar course with presentations by guest scientists as well as students. Gauges students' abilities to draw upon a broad background of coursework and experience to organize, present, discuss, and evaluate topics of current interest in biology.

BY-499  Independent Study in Biology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Principles of independent study and research; critical review of published work on a designated topic in the biological sciences or original research; preparation of a research paper or review article in publishable format or oral presentation of research results. Laboratory or field work arranged as needed. Requires submission and approval of an "Application for Independent Study" (an e-form is available on WEBadvisor) with a faculty member. Students are required to have prior permission of the directing professor and department chair and Senior standing in Biology to take this course. (Total of all independent study credits to be counted towards the degree may not exceed six, unless approved by the Dean.)

BY-499T  Independent Study in Biology with Thesis  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Preparation and submission of a thesis in science journal format. The thesis will contain results from the completion of independent study and research and will include appropriate description of the background and methods for the project and discussion of the results and its significance. It is designed specifically for students desiring Biology departmental honors. Students are required to have permission of the course advisor and Senior standing in Biology, Biology with a concentration in Cell and Molecular Physiology, or Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy in order to take this course.

Business Accounting (BA)

BA-200  Survey of Accounting  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introductory class in accounting designed for non-business students, which focuses on accounting as a tool for communicating financial information about business organizations to people outside the business and to internal users to help them plan, control, or make decisions about operations. Not open to Business majors and only can be used toward the Business minors.

BA-251  Principles of Financial Accounting  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the theory and practice of accounting, including the balance sheet, income statement, cash flows, and related decision making.

BA-252  Principles of Managerial Accounting  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BA-251
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Use of accounting concepts, analyses, and financial data to aid in the evaluation of the business enterprise and management in its planning, organizing, and controlling functions.

BA-311  Intermediate Accounting I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BA-251 and BA-252, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Financial accounting measurement, including asset valuation and determination of periodic income.
BA-312 Intermediate Accounting II
Prerequisite(s): BA-311 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Liability recognition and corporation equity measurement.

BA-316 Individual Income Tax
Prerequisite(s): BA-251 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This is the first of two semesters of a study of Federal Income Taxation. It covers taxation of individuals and small businesses. Emphasis will be on tax research and planning for individuals. The purpose is to introduce undergraduate accounting students to a broad range on income tax topics. Because of the complexity and breadth of coverage, many topics will not be covered in great depth.

BA-320 Managerial Cost Analysis
Prerequisite(s): BA-252 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Offers the student a fairly detailed knowledge of cost accounting principles and practices. A working knowledge of cost accounting is an essential element of the accounting student's education due to the importance of cost accounting in every organizational setting. Also, the information presented in the course is essential for successful completion of professional examinations such as the CPA and the CMA.

BA-345 Forensic and Investigative Accounting
Prerequisite(s): BA-251 and BA-252, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Identifying, recording, settling, extracting, sorting, reporting and verifying past financial data or other accounting activities for settling current or prospective legal disputes or using such past financial data for projecting future financial data to settle legal disputes.

BA-370 Accounting Information Systems
Prerequisite(s): BA-311 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Accounting systems analysis and design. Emphasis on database information structures, integrating accounting, and controls.

BA-388 Cooperative Education: Accounting Concentration
Prerequisite(s): BA-252, BM-250, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, sixty or more earned credits, eighteen or more credits of Business Administration courses, and twelve or more credits of Accounting courses taken at Monmouth University
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential education. Experiential education involves fifteen to twenty hours of work per week for three credit hours. Academic aspects include reading assignments and a term paper. Departmental approval is required to take this course. This course may be repeated for credit.

BA-401 Advanced Accounting
Prerequisite(s): BA-312 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Advanced issues in financial accounting, including business combinations, consolidated financial reports, governmental and not-for-profit accounting, and other relevant areas.

BA-413 Auditing Theory
Prerequisite(s): BA-312 passed with a grade of C or higher and BA-370
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Auditing standards and procedures associated with the examination of financial statements; the role and methods of the independent auditor; legal and ethical responsibilities.

BA-417 Business Income Taxation
Prerequisite(s): BA-316 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The second of two income tax courses, which covers the taxation of corporations, partnerships, estates and trusts. Tax and estate planning are emphasized with the study of various techniques, case studies and research projects. Retirement plans and international taxes are also included.

BA-425 International Accounting
Prerequisite(s): BA-311 passed with a grade of C or higher; and EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Basic concepts of accounting principles, auditing environments, managerial objectives, and financial reporting requirements, applicable to multi-national corporations. Emphasis on corporations with headquarters domiciled in the United States, with limited attention to specialized offshore locations.

BA-488 Cooperative Education: Accounting Concentration
Prerequisite(s): BA-252, BM-250 and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, sixty or more earned credits, eighteen or more credits of Business Administration courses; twelve or more credits in Accounting courses taken at Monmouth University
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential education. Experiential education involves fifteen to twenty hours of work per week for three credit hours. Academic aspects include reading assignments and a term paper. This course may be repeated for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

BA-489 Internship in Accounting
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential learning. Experiential part involves fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week for three credit hours; academic aspect includes reading assignments and a term paper. Students are limited to nine credits of internship electives. This course is repeatable twice for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. Students must have Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00 in order to register for this course.
BA-498  Special Topics in Accounting  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in accounting to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BA-499  Independent Study in Accounting  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Business Administration topic not substantially treated in a regular course; work will include scheduled conferences with sponsoring professor and written reports. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Business Economics (BE)

BE-200  Economics for Social Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 3 credits from Math except MA-050 or MA-100
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Students are introduced to core economic concepts in four areas: (i) Introductory concepts include: decision-making under scarcity, the operation of markets and the price mechanism, and government's role in the economy. (ii) Microeconomics covers the economic analysis of consumption, production in the context of competitive and monopolistic markets, operation of labor markets, and poverty and income distribution. (iii) Macroeconomics introduces students to national product and income accounts; business cycles, inflation and unemployment; and monetary and fiscal policies. (iv) Global topics include: comparative advantage, trade and finance. Real-world applications are emphasized in all areas. For Non-Business majors.

BE-201  Microeconomics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-100 or higher level mathematics course
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS,SV
Introduction to the operation of the price mechanism; examination of the individual economic units, laws of supply and demand, market structure, and cost analysis; contemporary problems examined.

BE-202  Macroeconomics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-100 or higher level mathematics course
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS,SV
Determination of the components and level of national income; applications to the problems of inflation, unemployment, and economic stabilization; financial institutions in relation to their role in public policies.

BE-251  Business Statistics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 or IT-150 and MA-117
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Descriptive statistics, tables and charts, probability distributions, confidence intervals and hypothesis tests, linear and multiple regression, and analysis of variance.

BE-289  Internship in Economics  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): EX1
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential learning. Experiential part involves fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week for three credit hours; academic aspect includes reading assignments and a term paper. Students are limited to nine credits of internship electives. This course is repeatable twice for credit. The student must have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00 and have at least Junior standing to take this course. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

BE-301  Labor Economics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-201 and BE-202
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS
Economic and social effects of the modern industrial structure: labor groups, attitudes, problems, tactics, labor legislation, the development of industrial society of American Unionism, and the labor movement throughout the world.

BE-304  Money, Credit, and Financial Institutions  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-202
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Monetary economics and its institutions; the nature and function of money; commercial and central banking; the money markets; financial intermediaries; and international monetary institutions. Also listed as BF-304.

BE-305  Intermediate Macroeconomics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-202
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A study of the measurement of aggregate output and the determination of the level of aggregate income; price level movements and factors underlying rates of economic growth; influence of applicable public policies.

BE-307  Managerial Economics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-118 or MA-125 and BE-201
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Application of contemporary economic theory to managerial decisions and to public policy affecting such decisions.

BE-388  Cooperative Education: Economics Concentration  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BF-301 or Junior standing, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, and completion of thirty credits, fifteen of which are earned at Monmouth University
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential education. Experiential education involves fifteen to twenty hours of work per week for three credit hours. Academic aspects include reading assignments and a term paper. This course may be repeated for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course.
BE-398 Special Topics in Economics (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study or a particular subject or problem in economics, to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BE-401 Development of Economic Thought  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-201 and BE-202
Course Type(s): None
Economic ideas from the beginning of Western civilization to the present, including mercantilist writers Adam Smith, Malthus, Ricardo, Marx, and Keynes.

BE-403 Economic Growth and Development  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-201, BE-202, EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): VT
The principal theories, factors, and problems of economic development. Empirical case studies emphasize the growth patterns in several countries, the impediments to economic growth in the underdeveloped countries, and the need to sustain growth rates in highly developed countries.

BE-440 Bond Markets  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-251 and BF-301
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A comprehensive review and analysis of the U.S. Bond Markets with emphasis on traditional fixed income securities and their derivative products and applications. The course will explore these studies from both a theoretical as well as practical perspective. Also listed as BF-440.

BE-451 Public Finance  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-202 and BA-252
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An analysis of the revenue, expenditure, and debt activities of government and their effects on resource allocation, income distribution, price stabilization, and economic growth. Also listed as BF-451.

BE-455 Business Forecasting  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BE-201, BE-202, BE-251, and MA-118 or MA-125
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Use of statistical models to study historical data and discover their underlying tendencies and patterns. Extrapolation of the current estimates from the first step into the future. Attention given to the traditional exponential smoothing and Box-Jenkins forecasting techniques, as well as the more recent techniques of ARCH-GARCH, which deal with heteroskedastic variance over time. Substantial use of statistics and computer applications. Also listed as BF-455.

BE-480 Business Research: Economics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Active participation in a research project chosen by and currently being pursued by the faculty sponsor. Student activities may include but are not limited to: literature search, data collection, data analysis, preparation of a manuscript, and delivery of a manuscript.

BE-488 Cooperative Education: Economics Concentration  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BF-301 or junior standing, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, and completion of thirty credits, fifteen of which are earned at Monmouth University
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual experience; includes both academic and experiential education. Experiential education involves fifteen to twenty hours of work per week for three credit hours. Academic aspects include reading assignments and a term paper. This course may be repeated for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. Junior standing or BF-301; a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, and completion of thirty credits, fifteen of which are earned at Monmouth University are required to take this course.

BE-489 Internship in Economics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential learning. Experiential part involves fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week for three credit hours; academic aspect includes reading assignments and a term paper. Students are limited to nine credits of internship electives. Departmental approval is required to take this course. This course is repeatable twice for credit. Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00 is required to take this course.

BE-498 Special Topics in Economics (400 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BE-251 and BF-301 both passed with a grade of B or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in economics to be announced prior to registration, conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis.

BE-499 Independent Study in Economics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Business Administration topic not substantially treated in a regular course; work will include scheduled conferences with sponsoring professor and written reports. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Business Finance (BF)

BF-200 Survey of Finance  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Any math course with a level higher than 100
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to business and personal finance, including forms of businesses, financial statements and cash flows, time value of money, elements of risk and return and valuation of stocks and bonds. This course is for non-business majors.

BF-289 Internship in Finance  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential learning. Experiential part involves fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week for three credit hours; academic aspect includes reading assignments and a term paper. Students are limited to nine credits of internship electives. This course is repeatable twice for credit. The student must have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00 and have at least Junior standing to take this course. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in marketing, to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BK-399 Independent Study in Marketing Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Business Administration topic not substantially treated in a regular course; work will include scheduled conferences with sponsoring professor and written reports. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

BK-401 Marketing Research Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Methods, tools, and reasons for marketing research in support of distribution planning and policy formulation by top management; basic planning, questionnaire design, preliminary testing, field interviewing, sampling, data processing and analysis.

BK-402 Retail Marketing Management Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Examines marketing within the consumer retail environment. Focuses on fundamental aspects of retailing including retail customer strategy, merchandising trends, display layouts, pricing, vendor relations, and location.

BK-404 Consumer Behavior Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A marketing strategy approach evaluating consumer attitudes and buying patterns; motivational and cognitive aspects of buying behavior; target market identification; and social class relationships.

BK-407 Digital Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Digital marketing combines established marketing concepts with the creative use of new digital models and digital tools, such as social media marketing, search engine optimization, mobile and email marketing. Successful students will complete the course with a comprehensive knowledge of how to develop an integrated digital marketing strategy from formulation to implementation.

BK-411 Principles of Advertising Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Current practices in advertising, including its purpose and place, preparation and appeal, techniques, layout, and copywriting through visualized layouts and current media.

BK-419 Export/Import Marketing and Logistics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Export/Import Marketing deals with ways to do business with the global market whether that is through importing or exporting a product or service. This course will cover how and why we import/export, government regulations, marketing strategies, documentation, procedures, tariff & non-tariff barriers, financing, method of payments, transportation, logistics, laws, Free Trade Agreements and related topics. Also listed as BI-419.

BK-420 Health Care Management and Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BM-250, and BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introductory overview of the U.S. healthcare system and its overall management and marketing issues, including coverage of its past and present political, organizational, socioeconomic, behavioral, human resource, educational, and utilization dimensions.

BK-421 Marketing of Services Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Examines the applications of the conceptual framework of marketing within the service business context. Focuses on the characteristics of the service environment, as well as important considerations in the services marketing-mix strategies.

BK-422 Principles of Personal Selling Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Theory and practice of personal selling; qualifications and preparation of the salesperson, the psychology of selling, and the various steps that enter into the sale itself.

BK-431 Sports Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Classroom lectures and readings will illuminate the theoretical underpinnings and practical applications of marketing strategies to the collegiate and professional sport, special events, international sport, broadcasting, facility management, and sporting goods industries.
BK-452 Business Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Aspects of marketing raw and semi-manufactured materials; industrial equipment of all kinds and other production goods; focus on product, market, and channel analyses.

BK-453 International Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-401 passed with a grade of C or higher, EN-101, and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Analysis of the policy, managerial, and implementation considerations involved in seeking multinational business opportunities with emphasis on the role of environmental and cultural differences in developing strategies for foreign market penetration.

BK-457 Social Media Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher, and IT-150 or IT-100
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Explores marketing strategies and tactics to gain website traffic, brand exposure, consumer insight, customer engagement, and sales through social media platforms. Social media marketing is a dynamic component of integrated marketing communications, and as such it must be carefully coordinated within the branding and promotional mix as well as across paid, owned and earned media through a comprehensive social media marketing plan.

BK-459 Managerial Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-401 and BK-404 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Application of management principles to the integrated marketing function, both internally within the various units of the marketing division and externally in coordination with the other major divisions of the company.

BK-480 Business Research: Marketing Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Active participation in a research project chosen by and currently being pursued by the faculty sponsor. Student activities may include but are not limited to: literature search, data collection, data analysis, preparation of a manuscript, and delivery of a manuscript.

BK-488 Cooperative Education: Marketing Concentration Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00 and completion of thirty credits, fifteen of which have been earned at Monmouth University
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential education. Experiential education involves fifteen to twenty hours of work per week for three credit hours. Academic aspects include reading assignments and a term paper. This course may be repeated for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

BK-489 Internship in Marketing Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BM-250, BK-250 passed with a grade of C or higher, Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; includes both academic and experiential learning. Experiential part involves fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week for three credit hours; academic aspect includes reading assignments and a term paper. Students are limited to nine internship free elective credits.

BK-498 Special Topics in Marketing (400 Level) Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): BK-250 passed with a minimum grade of C or higher, or as announced in the course schedule
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in marketing to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis.

BK-499 Independent Study in Marketing Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Business Administration topic not substantially treated in a regular course; work will include scheduled conferences with sponsoring professor and written reports. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Business Real Estate (BR)

BR-298 Special Topics in Real Estate Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in real estate to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BR-301 Real Estate Law Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BL-201
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Legal issues as they apply to the acquisition, financing, and sale of real estate.

BR-303 Real Estate Finance Investment and Taxation Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BR-310
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Designed to introduce students to the world of real estate finance, including debt and equity issues, securitization and taxation.

BR-304 Real Estate Lease Analysis Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BR-301
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Examines concerned leasehold transactions, including office, industrial, retail, and general leases, while focusing on the respective roles of all relevant parties to the lease.
BR-310 Real Estate Appraisal
Prerequisite(s): BF-301 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): MA-118
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Principles and processes of real estate valuation. The sales comparison, cost, and income approaches to value will be examined in depth.

BR-389 Internship in Real Estate
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; including both academic and experiential learning. The experiential portion involves fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week for three credit hours, and the academic aspect includes reading assignments and a term paper. Students are limited to nine credits of internship electives. Repeatable twice for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course, along with Junior standing, and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00.

BR-398 Special Topics in Real Estate
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in real estate to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BR-405 Real Estate Development
Prerequisite(s): BR-301 and BF-310, and three credits in Real Estate
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SUS
Designed to introduce students to the world of real estate development, including the regulatory environment, which must be navigated to successfully gain municipal and other governmental approvals for a land use project.

BR-489 Internship in Real Estate
Course Type(s): None
An opportunity to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience; including both academic and experiential learning. The experiential portion involves fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week for three credit hours, and the academic aspect includes reading assignments and a term paper. Students are limited to nine credits of internship electives. Repeatable twice for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. Junior standing, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00, and instructor consent are required to register for this course.

BR-498 Special Topics in Real Estate
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in real estate to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

BR-499 Independent Study in Real Estate
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study on a Business Administration topic not substantially treated in a regular course; work will include scheduled conferences with sponsoring professor and written reports. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Chemistry (CE)

CE-101 Chemistry in Our Lives
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Major concepts and methodologies in chemistry and their relation to specific, important issues in today's society.

CE-109 Introduction to General, Organic, and Biochemistry
Prerequisite(s): Score of 3 or higher on the Mathematics Placement Exam, or MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Structure of matter, the mole concept, chemical bonds and reactions, acids and bases, structure and reactions of organic compounds, chemistry and metabolism of amino acids, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, and nucleic acids. Three hours of class, three hours of lab per week. Students must have had High School Chemistry to take this course.

CE-111 General Chemistry I
Prerequisite(s): Score of 2 or higher on the Mathematics Placement Exam or MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-111L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The first of two lecture courses which, taken together, provide a preparation for subsequent courses in chemistry. Principles and theories of chemical problem solving, stoichiometry and chemical reactions, states of matter, periodic properties of the elements, atomic and molecular structure, introductory quantum mechanics, thermochemistry, and the properties of gases are covered.

CE-111L General Chemistry Laboratory I
Co-requisite(s): CE-111
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work to complement the class work of CE-111 and CE-112; review of mathematical fundamentals; experiments involving observation and interpretation of chemical and physical changes; experimental studies of gas laws, thermodynamics, kinetics, equilibrium, acids and bases, qualitative analysis, and molecular mass determination. Three hours per week.

CE-112 General Chemistry II
Prerequisite(s): CE-111 passed with a grade of C- or higher, CE-111L passed with a grade of C- or higher, and either MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher or a score of 3 or higher on the Mathematics Placement Exam.
Co-requisite(s): CE-112L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The second of two lecture courses which, taken together, provide preparation for subsequent courses in chemistry. Properties of liquids and solutions, chemical kinetics and equilibrium, thermodynamics, electrochemistry and nuclear chemistry.

CE-112L General Chemistry Laboratory II
Co-requisite(s): CE-112
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work to complement the class work of CE-111 and CE-112; review of mathematical fundamentals; experiments involving observation and interpretation of chemical and physical changes; experimental studies of gas laws, thermodynamics, kinetics, equilibrium, acids and bases, qualitative analysis, and molecular mass determination. Three hours per week.
CE-198  Special Topics in Chemistry (100 Level)
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CE-220  Environmental Chemistry
Prerequisite(s): CE-112 and CE-112L, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-220L
Course Type(s): MEBP
Soil, aquatic, and atmospheric chemistry; environmental analytical chemistry; connections to environmental biology. Sources, reactions, mobility, effects, and fates of chemical species in the soil, water and air environments and the effect of human activity on these. Gives the theoretical principles and techniques of both classical and instrumental methods of chemical analysis.

CE-220L  Environmental Chemistry Laboratory
Co-requisite(s): CE-220
Course Type(s): MEBP
Soil, aquatic and atmospheric chemistry; environmental analytical chemistry; connections to environmental biology. Sources, reactions, mobility, effects and fates of chemical species in the soil, water and air environments and the effect of human activity on these. Laboratory experiments and field trips will be used to address the needs for this course. Students will gain hands-on experience in both classical and instrumental methods of chemical analysis.

CE-221  Analytical Chemistry I Quantitative Analysis
Prerequisite(s): CE-112 and CE-112L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-221L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Theoretical principles and techniques of volumetric, gravimetric, and potentiometric methods of analysis; treatment of analytical data, equilibria involving acid-base, redox, complexometric, and precipitation reactions.

CE-221L  Analytical Chemistry I Laboratory Quantitative Analysis
Co-requisite(s): CE-221
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory techniques, procedures, and practice in quantitative analysis of selected substances by volumetric, gravimetric, and potentiometric methods.

CE-225  Bioanalytical Chemistry
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, CE-112, and CE-112L all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-225L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces fundamentals of analytical chemistry and modern methods of instrumental analysis in the context of biochemical concepts. Topics include statistical treatment of data, acid-base chemistry, spectrophotometry, chromatography, electrophoresis, biological mass spectrometry, proteomics/protein identification, immunochemistry, and electrochemical methods.

CE-225L  Bioanalytical Chemistry Laboratory
Prerequisite(s): BY-110, CE-112, and CE-112L all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-225
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
Introduces analytical laboratory techniques in the context of biochemistry and will cover topics that include statistical treatment of data, acid-base chemistry, spectrophotometry, chromatography, electrophoresis, biological mass spectrometry, proteomics/protein identification, immunochemistry, and electrochemical methods. Laboratory experiments and an independent research project will be used to address the needs for this course. Students will gain "hands-on" experience in classical and instrumental methods of biochemical analysis.

CE-241  Organic Chemistry I
Prerequisite(s): CE-112 and CE-112L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-241L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Preparations and reactions of major classes of organic compounds with extensive discussion of reaction mechanisms and stereo-chemistry; interpretation of mass, infrared, and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers.

CE-241L  Organic Chemistry Laboratory I
Co-requisite(s): CE-241
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work demonstrating the basic techniques of organic chemistry; qualitative organic analysis; and use of the gas chromatograph and infrared and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers to solve problems. Six hours per week.

CE-242  Organic Chemistry II
Prerequisite(s): CE-241 and CE-241L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP
Preparations and reactions of major classes of organic compounds with extensive discussion of reaction mechanisms and stereo-chemistry; interpretation of mass, infrared, and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers.

CE-242L  Organic Chemistry Laboratory II
Prerequisite(s): CE-241L; and CE-241 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work demonstrating the basic techniques of organic chemistry; qualitative organic analysis; and use of the gas chromatograph and infrared and nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometers to solve problems. Six hours per week.

CE-298  Special Topics in Chemistry (200 Level)
Prerequisite(s): CE-111, CE-111L, CE-112, CE-112L and others as announced in the course schedule
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar or laboratory format.

Undergraduate Catalog 2021-2022
CE-342L  Physical Chemistry II Laboratory  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Co-requisite(s): CE-342
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): VT
This course is designed to be taken concurrently with CE-342, Physical Chemistry II. The experiments performed complement material studied in CE-342. Topics covered include experimental investigation of gas laws, phase transitions, transport properties of gases (diffusion), electrochemistry (electrolysis, electroplating, and voltammetry) and chemical kinetics (fluorescence quenching). This laboratory also requires the use of modern computer platforms and quantum chemistry software for simulations of chemical kinetics, dynamics and data analysis.

CE-350  Research in Chemistry  Credits: 1-4
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, CE-242L, an overall GPA of 2.00, a minimum of fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval of the department
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Original research work, associated with an external constituent and/or organization, planned and carried out with the assistance of a faculty research advisor. Research conducted by the students will be submitted for outside presentation, publication, or review. The number of course credits will be arranged with the advisor. Forty hours per term.

CE-388  Cooperative Education: Chemistry  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, and CE-242L; an overall G.P.A. of 2.00; fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval of the Department of Chemistry
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Application of chemical concepts and skills learned in lecture and laboratory to work-related experiences. Students and faculty sponsors maintain journals of their cooperative education opportunities with the assistance of the Director of Cooperative Education. Students will work forty hours per credit per semester at their jobs. Students will maintain journals of their cooperative education experiences and write reports demonstrating how their experiences helped them achieve their learning goals. This is a pass/fail course. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

CE-389  Internship in Chemistry  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, CE-242L, an overall GPA of 2.00, fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval by the Department of Chemistry
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Provides an opportunity to apply chemical concepts and skills learned in lecture and laboratory to work-related experiences. Students and faculty sponsors will identify internship opportunities. Students will work forty hours per credit per semester in their internship positions. Students will maintain journals of their internship experiences and write reports demonstrating how their internship experiences helped them achieve the learning objectives identified at the start of the internships. This is a pass/fail course.

CE-398  Special Topics in Chemistry (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-241, CE-241L, CE-242, CE-242L, or as announced in the course schedule
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted in a lecture, seminar, or laboratory format.

CE-398L  Special Topics in Chemistry  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in chemistry to be announced prior to registration. Conducted in a laboratory format.

CE-399  Independent Study in Chemistry (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Original research work planned and carried out with the assistance of a faculty research advisor. The number of credits will be arranged with the advisor. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CE-401  Advanced Inorganic Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-242 and CE-242L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): CE-401L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Modern theories of inorganic chemistry, including advanced considerations of atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, complex ions, solid state chemistry, magnetic properties of ions, periodicity, and contemporary problems.

CE-401L  Advanced Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): CE-401
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Inorganic synthetic techniques, including inert atmosphere, high temperature, and non-aqueous solvents; methods of characterization of inorganic compounds, including use of spectroscopic and other instrumental methods. Three hours per week.

CE-405  Methods of Inorganic Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-401
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Coverage of important experimental methods in inorganic structural determinations. Topics include symmetry and group theory, computational methods, mass spectrometry, diffraction analysis and nuclear magnetic resonance, electron paramagnetic resonance, rotational, Mossbauer, vibrational, electronic absorption, photoelectron spectroscopies. The application of these techniques to the characterization and determination of inorganic substances is the emphasis of the course.

CE-410  Seminar  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CE-311
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
Oral presentation of reports and discussion of current and review topics in chemistry.
CE-452  Advanced Organic Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-242 and CE-242L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Selected topics of modern, theoretical, organic chemistry.

CE-460  Electrochemical Methods  Credits: 3
Co-requisite(s): CE-341
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Theory and applications of electrochemical analysis: electrode processes, thermodynamics and kinetics of electrode reactions, controlled potential and controlled current microelectrode techniques, and bulk electrolysis.

CE-475  Computational Chemistry and Molecular Modeling  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-341 and CE-341L both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Principal methods and techniques used to study organic molecules and biomolecules by computational methods. Interpretation of chemical data with the aid of a computer. Atomic and molecular orbitals, force fields, molecular dynamics, and molecular modeling and drug design.

CE-486  Medicinal Chemistry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CE-241 and CE-242
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A Medicinal Chemistry course in which you will learn about the application of chemistry to the discovery, design and synthesis of new drugs. Medicinal chemistry is an interdisciplinary science. Its successful application to new drug discovery and development involves knowledge of organic chemistry, biology, physiology, microbiology, biochemistry, pharmacology and medicine among others. Topics that will be covered in this course include: structure and function of biological targets (proteins, enzymes, receptors and DNA/RNA); sources of new drugs from nature or synthesis; methods used to identify relevant structural features for biological activity; fate of a drug in the body and interaction with its biological target (pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics); strategies for drug design and case studies.

CE-489  Internship in Chemistry  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CE-221, CE-221L, CE-242, CE-242L, an overall GPA of 2.00, fifteen credits completed at Monmouth University, and approval by the Department of Chemistry
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1

Prerequisite(s): CO-211 or permission of the instructor; Junior standing, and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): COJPR, COJPW, COPRM, WT
The process of developing ideas into feature stories.

CO-365 Screenwriting Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-155 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CORTW, COSS
Writing techniques for film and television, with an emphasis on the process of screenwriting, from concept to completion and revision, as well as marketing scripts written for the screen.

CO-367 Media Analysis Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-155; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTT, WT
Analysis and critical examination of the content of mass media.

CO-368 Applied Ethics in American Prisons Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-271 or CO-271
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SJS
The second in the sequence of the Monmouth University Academic Exchange Program, a collaborative effort between Monmouth University and the New Jersey Department of Corrections. This program, of which this course is a requirement, is offered by Monmouth University to help facilitate a transformative exchange of ideas and perspectives on the topics of ethics and social issues between incarcerated students and non-incarcerated students inside a New Jersey prison. Also listed as SO-368.

CO-372 Podcasting Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-102
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): CORTP
A hands-on study of alternative broadcast mediums and their relation to social media and audience studies. Examples will include Podcasting specifically, with discussion on Internet radio, LPFM, Ham Radio and Pirate radio.
CO-373 Music Promotion
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTT
A critical examination of the inner workings and business strategies that exist within the symbiotic relationship between the radio and music industry. Topics of discussion include: payola, marketing, promotion, indecency/obscenity, political economy theory, gate-keeping theory, subculture theory, and audience-making theories. Students must have Junior or higher standing to take this course.

CO-374 Radio Programming and Promotion
Prerequisite(s): CO-102
Course Type(s): CORTP
Overview of the principles of radio programming and promotions: formats, FCC rules, ratings, on-air experience, theories, and music selection choice will all be stressed. The class will produce programming and promotions to be aired on Monmouth's radio station, WMCX.

CO-375 Television Criticism
Prerequisite(s): CO-155, and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTT, WT
Analysis and critical examination of the content of television programs.

CO-376 Radio Station Management
Prerequisite(s): CO-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTT
Principles of management for radio stations. Discussions and practicum include: programming, promotions, sales, public relations, production, community relations, sports, and news.

CO-377 Radio Operation Practice
Prerequisite(s): CO-102 and permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): None
Seminar offered in summer only.

CO-378 Talk Radio
Prerequisite(s): CO-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: AllTerms
Course Type(s): CORTA
Introduction to the preparation of documentaries, interviews, and phone-in talk shows. Students will produce a weekly show on WMCX.

CO-379 Advanced Radio Production
Prerequisite(s): CO-102 and CO-242, or CO-372 or CO-374
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTP
Advanced audio production techniques utilizing digital technology, with emphasis on the conception and realization of effective messages in radio broadcasting.

CO-380 Organizational Communication
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: AllTerms
Course Type(s): COACP, COCSP, COCST, WT
Students will learn various techniques of understanding how people use communication to organize and coordinate their work. Sample discussion topics are: using social media for hiring decisions, dealing with workplace romances and sexual harassment, and managing conflict and emotions at work. Written assignments are decision-making case studies of real problems in actual organizations.

CO-381 The Power of Story
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): COACM, COCSD, EX5
Story is the most powerful and oldest means of communication. Examines its significance in constructing and preserving culture. We focus on the oral art of storytelling, its history, theory, and practice, using a multicultural approach. Students will write, select, prepare, and perform stories from a variety of cultures and literary sources. Students will use learned performance skills in class and at off-campus locations. Junior standing or permission of the instructor is required to take this course.

CO-383 Gender, Race, and Media
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: AllTerms
Course Type(s): COCSR, COCST, COJPR, COJPT, COPRT, CORTT, GS, NU.EL, RE, WT
Examines multiple understandings of masculinity, femininity, and ethnicity in contemporary society, emphasizing the influential role of the mass media. Students consider the sources of their own attitudes about gender and race and reflect on the personal, social, political, and economic consequences of these expectations.

CO-384 Seminar in Leadership Communication
Prerequisite(s): CO-220 or CO-225 or HU-201
Term Offered: AllTerms
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the study and practice of leadership from a communicating perspective. Particular focus on the relationship between communicating and leading. Examination of leadership concepts and theories in organizational, group, and public contexts. Students will analyze their personal leadership styles and develop leadership communication skills through team projects and classroom exercises.

CO-389 Internship in Communication
Prerequisite(s): CO-216 or CO-217 or CO-218, departmental approval, and Junior standing
Term Offered: AllTerms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised, practical experience in communication (radio, television, public relations, journalism, and human communication); emphasis on the application of discipline specific technologies and theories in a professional environment directly related to one's course of study.

CO-390 Washington Center Internship
Course Type(s): EX5
This internship allows students in all majors to intern at government agencies, public service organizations and business associations located in Washington, DC. Under the supervision of Washington Center supervisors and faculty, students gain substantive entry-level professional experience along with academic credit over the course of one semester. In general, students are required to intern in a government agency or public organization four and a half days per week and attend educational seminars, workshops and participate in professional forums conducted by the Washington Center. In addition, students must complete learning objectives and assignments specified by Monmouth University faculty sponsors. Also listed as PS-390 and SO-390. Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.50 is required to take this course.
CO-393  Washington Center Course  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students participating in a Washington Center Internship are required to enroll in a three credit seminar. A list of available courses is forwarded to all students prior to the beginning of the fall, spring, or summer term. Regular offerings include politics, professional communication, the fine and performing arts, and economics. Also listed as PS-393 and SO-393. Junior standing and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.50 is required to take this course.

CO-398  Special Topics in Communication and Theatre (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in communication to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CO-399  Independent Study in Communication  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research on selected topics in Communication. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required along with demonstrated ability in the proposed area of concentration to take this course.

CO-401  Producing Live Radio  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-102
Course Type(s): CORTA
This is a capstone course. Principles of radio interviewing, storytelling and live music production will be covered, with an emphasis on pre-production, planning and on-air techniques. A central focus of this class is to prepare students for creative work in radio. This class will require on-air performance on WMCX.

CO-402  Audience Studies  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-155
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORT, WT
This course explores audience studies methods for analyzing audiences of popular music genres, television shows, films, and videogames. The class utilizes various theoretical traditions (ideological, semiotic, economic, sociological, psychoanalytic, cultural studies, etc.), with a focus on their utility for interpreting the meanings of the aforementioned media phenomena and its relationship to society and everyday life. These conceptual tools will provide the basis for analyzing media phenomena and its relationship with audiences and fans. Combining theory with practice, the course emphasizes critical thinking and writing about media texts in its varied dimensions and forms.

CO-404  Responsive Media  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-145 or AR-181
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORT, IM
Students learn how to make interfaces for smart phones and tablets to create interactive audio and video. In addition, students will produce creative projects using data mapping, generative art and work collaboratively on a site-specific media project. Also listed as AR-404.

CO-409  Professional Media Writing  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CORTW
Provides an introduction to the diverse field of professional writing and integrates a comprehensive overview of the various skills required of today's freelance media writer. Class sessions will offer students practical and critical tools designed to develop a range of writing styles and techniques, while introducing related applications and career opportunities. Lab assignments and writing projects will integrate the tools explored in class. Students must have at least a Junior standing to take this course.

CO-412  Project Greenlight  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): COJPT, CORTT, COSS, IM
An orientation to career opportunities/advancement based on the successful pitch process necessary to achieve "greenlight" status for proposed media projects. Provides a comprehensive overview of new media formats, stages of media production, and related entertainment media technologies, products and services. Additionally, the course will examine the vital roles of producers and creative executives in these processes. Students will learn how to transform themselves from media consumers to media producers. No previous media-related training or experience is required. Students must have Junior standing to take this course.

CO-413  Advanced Public Relations Writing Layout and Design  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-295 and CO-313
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): COJPR, COJPW, COPRM
Simulates a field public relations agency or department by providing students "real world" or field-applicable skills. An emphasis on media tools and production enables students to work in a fast-paced, deadline-intensive environment. The principles of communicating with media and specialized public audiences are core along with the preparation, production, and presentation of messages for mass consumption.

CO-414  Media Strategy  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-295 and CO-313, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): COJPR, COJPW, COPRM
Application of public relations techniques to various communicative environments, communication problems, and crisis management.

CO-415  Public Relations Trends and Analysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-295
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): COJPT, COPRT
Examines, reviews, and predicts how corporate leaders solve today's public relations challenges. Curriculum focuses on existing field trends and evaluates effective, as well as ineffective, corporate strategies. Students develop an integral understanding of the vital role of public relations in successful profit and non-profit organizations. Students develop an understanding of the issues management process, identify and plan crisis administration programs, and implement public affairs communication. Student assignments include research, composition of case statements, position papers, solutions and evaluative methods involving publicity demands, special events, promotions, image problems, and other challenges.
CO-425 Political Communication Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-100 or CO-220 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): COACP, COCST
The impact of communication on political action. Persuasive strategies and mediated reality that affect political choices. Focus on the interpretation of political rhetoric and the role media plays in campaigns.

CO-427 Crisis and Issues Management Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-295
Course Type(s): COJPT, COPRT
Advanced public relations theory and practices dealing with management of organizational crisis and issues. Exploration of the process of research, analysis, planning, and implementation of crisis management.

Examination of the role of the public relations professional in the development of crisis communication strategies and tactics. Emphasis on control of crisis, rumor, public perception, corporate image, and reputation. Use of case studies, simulations, group exercises, and projects to develop skills in crisis and issues management.

CO-483 Communication Internship Seminar Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised, practical experience in communication (radio, television, public relations, journalism, and human communication); emphasis on the application of discipline-specific technologies and theories in a professional environment directly related to one's course of study. On-campus seminar attendance is required. May be repeated once for credit. Junior standing is required to take this course.

CO-489 Internship in Communication Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in communication (radio, television, public relations, and human relations) or journalism; emphasis on the programming, production, and transmission aspects of mass media. Repeatable for credit. Junior standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to take this course.

CO-491 Seminar in Communication Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-301, Senior standing, at least thirty credits in communication, and EN-102 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Communication as an organized body of knowledge and skills; advanced problems assigned according to the special interests of the student. For Communication majors only.

CO-492 Interactive Storytelling with Data Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CO-211 and CO-221 or CO-222
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): COJPT, COPRT, IM
Designed to introduce students to the world of data journalism and teach them to tell interactive stories using raw data. We will start from asking what is data journalism and how we find stories in the data. Students will learn how to acquire data from the web, normalize the data into databases and finally use software to tell engaging, interactive stories with collected data. Students will also learn how to collect data from traditional sources that aren't necessarily found online. Students are expected to complete a data-driven journalism project as part of the course. Also offered as a graduate course, CO-592.

CO-499 Independent Study in Communication Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research on selected topics in Communication. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course. Demonstrated ability in the proposed area of concentration is required to take this course.

Computer Science (CS)

CS-104 Introduction to Problem Solving and Software Development Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Introduces a broad overview of problem solving, computing topics, and fundamental concepts and methodologies of software development designed to provide students with awareness of the computing field's many aspects. Topics include fundamentals of computer architecture, operating systems, applications, problem-solving. It emphasizes the main phases of the software development lifecycle, such as requirements, design, implementation, testing, project planning. Also, it stresses the difference between the software product and process. Introduces social and ethical issues related to computing and explores the local and global impact of computing on individuals, organizations and society. It also gives students their initial exposure to group project work.

CS-175 Introduction to Computer Science I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-104
Co-requisite(s): CS-175L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introductions to the basic concepts of program development in a modern object-oriented language; problem-solving methods and algorithm development; basic primitive and object data types; language syntax; style and documentation; and coding and testing of programs.

CS-175L Introduction to Computer Science I Lab Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CS-104
Co-requisite(s): CS-175
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introductions to the basic concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

CS-176 Introduction to Computer Science II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and CS-175L, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): CS-176L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Continuation in depth and breadth of problem solving and algorithm development, using the same modern object-oriented language as in CS-175. More advanced object-oriented design. Introduction to polymorphism, inheritance, and interfaces.
CS-176L  Introduction to Computer Science II Lab  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and CS-175L, both passed with a grade of C or higher
Co-requisite(s): CS-176
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to advanced concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

CS-199  Independent Study in Computer Science  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a computer science topic not substantially treated in a regular course; for students with superior ability. One-hour consultation per week. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CS-201  Introduction to Computer Programming for Data Science  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 or IT-102 or IT-150 or CS-104
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course introduces the most important data structures available in R and their practical application. Methodologies to import data from external sources (files, databases, on-line resources), to manipulate and transform data, and to save/export data to data repositories are described. The course also describes how to compute descriptive statistics and how to build chart for effective data visualization tasks. The students will become familiar in using some R data manipulation and visualization libraries.

CS-202  Discrete Mathematics and Applications  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): CS-175 and MA-109
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers the basic concepts, methods, structures, and models from discrete mathematics used throughout computer science. Topics addresses include: logic and mathematical reasoning, functions, sets, summations, asymptotic notation, algorithms and complexity, number theory, cryptography, matrix algebra, induction and recursion, counting techniques, combinatorial objects, discrete structures, discrete probability theory, relations, and graph theory and graph algorithms.

CS-205  Data Structures and Algorithms  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205L
Term Offered: All Terms
Co-requisite(s): CS-205L
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the design, implementation, and use of fundamental data structures (lists, stacks, queues, trees); extensions of these structures and associated algorithms; informal complexity analysis.

CS-205L  Data Structures and Algorithms Lab  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): CS-205L
Term Offered: All Terms
Co-requisite(s): CS-205
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the basic concepts of programming and program development in a modern Software Development Environment with debugger and source code control.

CS-250  Android Application Development  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course will teach students software methodologies for Android App Development. This will include Android Development Studio, Kotlin programming language, and interfaces to external services required to develop simple to moderately complex Android mobile apps. Also listed as SE-250.

CS-286  Computer Architecture I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None

CS-289  Internship in Computer Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): None
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in Computer Science. Repeatable for credit. Sophomore standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to take this course.

CS-298  Special Topics in Computer Science (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): None
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in computer science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CS-299  Independent Study in Computer Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): None
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a computer science topic not substantially treated in a regular course; for students with superior ability. One-hour consultation per week. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CS-305  Advanced Computing  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to fundamental concepts of computer science theory and methods of parallel and distributed programming. The course covers automata theory (including finite-state machines and Turing machines, algorithm complexity (including the distinction between P and NP problems), BNF specification of programming languages, methods of parallel programming, methods of distributed programming, measuring the speedup obtained by parallelization, and methods of addressing NP completeness through approximation. The course will provide experience in the implementation of parallel and distributed programming.

CS-310  Advanced Object-Oriented Programming and Design  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): None
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Object-oriented programming and design, using a language different from that used on CS 176. Use of classes, inheritance, polymorphism, and libraries. Topics will include flexible system design for such requirements as globalization. This is a writing-intensive course.
CS-315 Theory of Computing
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher and either CS-202 or MA-120 or MA-130 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to phrase structure languages and their relation to automata, computability, and program verification.

CS-325 Software Engineering Concepts
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Overview of software engineering concepts, analysis/design techniques, Unified Modeling Language (UML), software documentation, and group development of software.

CS-335 Programming Language Concepts
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Design, evaluation, and implementation of programming languages. Discussion of imperative, applicative, object-oriented and concurrent languages. Four hours per week.

CS-337 Enterprise Mobile Apps Design and Development
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Prescribes methodologies to build enterprise mobile apps on iPad tablets and iPhone smartphones using iOS. The course will cover technologies to use in the design and development of apps on mobile devices and integration of these apps with corporate data sources, sensor devices and cloud computing services. Also listed as SE-337.

CS-350 Research in Computer Science
Prerequisite(s): CS-306 passed with a grade of C or higher, a minimum of fifteen credits at Monmouth University and a minimum GPA of 3.25
Course Type(s): EX5
Original research work, associated with an external constituent and/or organization, planned and carried out with assistance of faculty research advisor. Research conducted by the student will be shared with the external constituency and submitted for outside publication and review. Number of credits arranged with advisor. Limited to Computer Science students with approval of chair, program director, or advisor.

CS-357 Engineering Web-Based Systems
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A practical introduction to the principles, methods, and tools required to create high-quality software applications for the distributed, client-server context of the Web. Emphasis is on architectural designs, and language and data access methods that are common in Web-based systems. Also listed as SE-357.

CS-358 Software Frameworks
Prerequisite(s): SE-357 or CS-357; or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to Design Patterns and modern Software Frameworks, programming languages, data access methods and asynchronous Application Programming Interfaces (APIs). Also listed as SE-358.

CS-360 Introduction to Game Development
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the creation of computer/video games and the different elements of games, including computer graphics, animation, artificial intelligence, algorithms, data structures, networking, software development cycles and human-computer interaction. Also listed as SE-360.

CS-370 Program Development Under Unix
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the use of the UNIX operating system and its utilities for incremental and distributed program development, maintenance, and debugging. The course covers the UNIX shell, utilities, and program development tools that are used for large projects involving multiple developers on multiple machines. Three hours per week.

CS-371 Scripting Languages
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 or equivalent
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to programming using widely-used, dynamically-typed, interpreted programming languages, which are sometimes called "scripting" languages. Covers general-purpose scripting languages, such as Perl and Python that are used to develop a wide range of applications. Scripting languages, such as PHP, that are used primarily in web development, will not be covered in this course.

CS-375 File Management
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Course Type(s): None
Overview of files, records and files, blocking and buffering, secondary storage devices; sequential file organization, external sort/merge algorithms; random access; relative file organization; tree-structured file organization; search trees, indexed sequential file organization; list-structured file organization; multiple-key file organization. Four hours per week.

CS-388 Cooperative Education: Computer Science
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher, Junior standing and thirty or more earned credits with at least fifteen taken at Monmouth University
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX2
Provides an opportunity for students who are engaged in a computer science-related experience. Fifteen to twenty hours of work experience per week. This course may be repeated for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

CS-389 Internship in Computer Science
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in Computer Science. Repeatable for credit. Junior standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to take this course.
CS-398 Special Topics in Computer Science (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 or CS-275 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in computer science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

CS-399 Independent Study in Computer Science Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a computer science topic not substantially treated in a regular course; for students with superior ability. One-hour consultation per week. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

CS-414 Computer Networks Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-286 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introductory-level course on the hierarchy of networking software and hardware. Emphasis on the; description of protocols in the Internet, specifically, client-server Application Layer Protocols such as HTTP, SMTP, DNS, DHCP, Transport Layer Protocols such as UDP/TCP Network Layer Protocols such as IP, ICMP as well as Network Layer Routing and Forwarding techniques, such as RIP and OSPF for IPv4 and Tunneling for IPv6.

CS-418 Compiler Construction Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The principles and practices of incorporating the theory of finite automata and context-free languages, the maintenance and use of semantic information, and the generation and optimization of code to produce a compiler. Four hours per week.

CS-420 Survey of Artificial Intelligence Concepts and Practices Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 and MA-130 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduction of fundamental concepts and practices of artificial intelligence, covering search techniques, constraint satisfaction, knowledge representation, machine learning, planning, and natural language processing. The course will provide experience in the implementation of techniques from these areas. Three hours per week.

CS-432 Database Systems Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Overview of database system concepts; data modeling; ER and UML diagrams; relational database schema definition; database design; query languages; introduction to NoSQL and comparison between relational and non-relational databases; hand-on experience of SQL, Oracle, and NoSQL.

CS-438 Operating Systems Analysis Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-286 and CS-205 both passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Management of memory, processes, files, and devices. OS design principles and performance measures. Multiprogramming, multiprocessing, concurrence, deadlock, virtual machines. Competitive and cooperating processes. Programs will be written in C or in Java. Three hours per week.

CS-450 Cyber Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Cover fundamental theory and practice of cyber security. Review cryptographic tools used to provide security, such as shared key encryption; public key encryption, key exchange, authentication, digital signature, and intrusion detection. Learn implementation of secure mechanisms in object-oriented programming languages. Also listed as SE-450.

CS-451 Applied Computer Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-450 or SE-450
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course will introduce students to multiple aspects of computer security and practice into a series of well-defined security topics such as network security and hacking tools. Also, the student will introduce different topics of digital forensics. Also listed as SE-451.

CS-471 System Administration Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-370 or CS-371 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Fundamental topics in system administration, focused primarily on UNIX administration with added coverage of Microsoft Windows NT descendant systems. The course is a hands-on introduction to installing and maintaining modern, multi-user, production UNIX-like operating systems and the essential services that are hosted on these systems.

CS-488 Cooperative Education: Computer Science Credits: 3

Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5, WT
Designed to focus on the development of literacy through the integration of literature and literate thinking across the curriculum for academic-content learning at the secondary level. It emphasizes the implementation of both teaching and learning strategies to develop independent learners. The course included research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, students with diverse learning needs, and incorporating instructional technology into the classroom. Clinical Practice is required. Limited to Education majors.

ED-330  Teaching English Language Learners in Mainstream Classroom
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-250, EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD, WT
This writing intensive course is offered to address issues and research-based pedagogical strategies of teaching English language learners in today's mainstream classrooms. Teacher candidates will explore a variety of instructional strategies and develop cultural knowledge and its application in teaching English language learners. The course also includes incorporating instructional technology into the classroom, and utilizing data to inform instruction. Education majors only.

ED-320  Applied Linguistics for the Language Educator
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-250 and a minimum GPA of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
With an emphasis on teaching English as a Second Language through content, part one of this two-semester course will introduce the history of ESL teaching and critically explore exemplary curriculum designs and methods of teaching ESL. A wide range of ESL instructional materials, instructional technology, services, and assessment measures will be introduced and practiced, with an emphasis on standard-based content and ESL teaching. Both instructional design and implementation will be the focus for practice, with embedded language acquisition/learning theories and research studies carefully examined. Clinical Hours required. Education majors only.

ED-328  Theories and Practice of ESL Instruction Part II
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-327 or ED-374, EN-442, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A continuation of ED-327 examines public issues pertinent to ESL education, with an emphasis on making connections between theories or research findings and classroom practice. More approaches to ESL instruction will be introduced with an emphasis on various strategies, techniques, and instructional technology for teaching specific language skills in a standard-based content and ESL teaching program. Reflective practice is an integral part. Clinical Hours required.

ED-331  Music for the Child

Prerequisite(s): MA-103 or MA-203, EDL-326, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
ED-360 is designed to provide a profound understanding of the concepts taught in elementary school mathematics. Teacher candidates participate in activities and learn techniques to foster conceptual development in young learners, thus producing confidence and success in the learning of mathematics. The essential elements of instruction, assessment, grouping strategies, and effective questioning are illustrated and honed when planning to address the instructional needs for diverse learners in mathematics. This course contains foundational knowledge which will be used during the clinical practice performance assessment. It will include research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with special needs, using instructional technology and using data to inform instruction. Clinical Practice hours required.

ED-361 Methods of Teaching Science for Elementary School
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDL-326 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Science methods for elementary education students is designed for those without a strong background in science (although those with a strong background will also benefit greatly from this course). The intent of this course is to provide an integrated perspective of teaching science from pre-kindergarten through grade 5. This course will provide active learning of science concepts through various inquiry activities. Following the learning theories that have produced both the Next Generation Science Standards and the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for science, this course will utilize projects, cases, and problems in real world settings using a diversity of instructional methods and strategies to provide each student with the opportunity to learn how to teach inquiry and problem-solving across the sciences. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Practice hours required.

ED-362 Teaching Elementary Social Studies
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDL-326 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Introduces elementary teacher certification candidates to the social studies curriculum and methods. Course content will emphasize national and state standards for social studies education, cross-curriculum integration, particularly world languages and culture, personal and social problem solving, and situated cognition in social studies education learning. The essential elements of planning, instruction using technology, and assessment based on research and data are explored to teach culturally and linguistically diverse learners and students with diverse learning needs in social studies education. Clinical Practice hours required. Not open to Art majors.

ED-365 Secondary Mathematics Methods, Part I
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327, and ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Focus will be on the teaching of secondary mathematics. It is intended to deepen future secondary school teachers’ understanding of the secondary mathematics curriculum and build their competencies at the level of instructional implementation. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Essential elements of effective instruction, including inquiry based learning, implementing tasks that promote reasoning and problem-solving, assessment, facilitating meaningful mathematical discourse, eliciting and using evidence of student thinking, grouping strategies and effective questioning are explored as these are techniques utilized to bring conceptual understanding of mathematics to all learners. The fieldwork component of the course requires clinical practice hours in a secondary public school mathematics classroom and provides candidates with opportunities to translate theory into practice. Clinical Practice hours required.
ED-366 Secondary Mathematics Methods, Part II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327, ED-320, ED-365, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
ED-366 is the second course in a sequence intended to deepen future secondary school teachers' understanding of the secondary mathematics curriculum and build their competencies at the level of instructional implementation. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Essential elements of effective instruction, including inquiry based learning, implementing tasks that promote reasoning and problem-solving, assessment, facilitating meaningful mathematical discourse, eliciting and using evidence of student thinking, grouping strategies and effective questioning are explored as these are techniques utilized to bring conceptual understanding of mathematics to all learners. ED-367 Teaching Language Arts at the Secondary Level Part I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
As a component of the teacher-education program, the intention is to introduce to future secondary English/Language Arts teachers the fundamental concepts of curriculum design and instructional planning. To also introduce a variety of approaches to curriculum design with an emphasis on the two distinct but important goals of language arts education: developing general literacy skills and discovering the inner joy of reading literature and using language as a tool for communication. Topics related to decision-making, classroom management, and instructional planning are treated in depth to help prospective teachers master the base competencies at the level of planning to fulfill the requirement for state and national certification. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for utilizing data to inform instruction.

ED-368 Teaching Language Arts at the Secondary Level Part II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-367 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
A continuation of ED-367: Teaching Language Arts at the Secondary Level Part I. Part II provides in-depth preparation to teach candidates desiring to teach English/Language Arts at the secondary level by extending the essential knowledge, skills, and strategies grounded in research and related to effective classroom instruction. Teacher candidates will have increased opportunities to apply theory and refine practice in the use of print and non-print texts and in the integration of the English Language Arts through clinical practice. The NCTE/ILA and New Jersey Core Content Curriculum Standards will be an integral part of the course. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching students with diverse needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom, and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Practice hours required.

ED-369 Methods of Teaching Science for the Secondary Teacher Part I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): EX5
Science methods for middle- and secondary-education students is designed for those with a background in science. The intent is to provide an integrated perspective of teaching science from grade 5 through grade 12. It also provides active learning of science concepts through various inquiry activities. Following the learning theories that have produced both the Next Generation Science Standards and the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for science, it will utilize projects, cases, and problems in real-world settings, using a diversity of instructional methods and strategies to provide each student with the opportunity to learn how to teach inquiry and problem-solving across the sciences. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction.

ED-370 Methods of Teaching Science for the Secondary Teacher Part II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-369 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Science methods for middle- and secondary-education students is designed for those with a background in science. The intent is to provide an integrated perspective of teaching science from grade 5 through grade 12. Also will provide active learning of science concepts through various inquiry activities. Following the learning theories that have produced both the Next Generation Science Standards and the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for science, it will utilize projects, cases, and problems in real-world settings, using a diversity of instructional methods and strategies to provide each student with the opportunity to learn how to teach inquiry and problem-solving across the sciences. ED-371 Teaching Social Studies at the Secondary Level Part I Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319 or EDL-327 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Introduces the middle- and secondary-level teacher certification candidate to social studies curriculum and methods. Course content will emphasize national and state standards for social studies education curriculum across the traditional social science disciplines. The course will also explore the philosophical and theoretical foundations of social studies education. It provides the candidate with practical strategies necessary for success in teaching culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse learning needs, utilizing instructional technology, and using research and data to assess and inform instruction in the context of social studies.
ED-372 Teaching Social Studies at the Secondary Level Part II Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-371 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Expands and further develops competencies. Instructional methodologies focusing on a constructivist and student-centered approach, using instructional technology, will be explored. Targets strategies for future secondary teachers to teach culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse learning needs and to meet the New Jersey Core Curriculum Content Standards for Social Studies to include: infusing Economics and Geography into the curriculum, developing greater technology coalescence, extending cross-curriculum lesson plans, embracing a pluralistic approach, and expanding multicultural themes. Fosters the development of effective inquiry-based curriculum activities making active use of community-based resources and using research and assessment data to inform instruction in the context of social studies. Clinical practice hours required. Education majors only.

ED-374 Issues and Practices in World Language Education Part II
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): EX5
Issues and practices in world language curriculum and instruction. Fieldwork required. Designed to expand future world language teachers' understanding of the complexities of the content-based instruction in curriculum design and strengthen their competencies with a focus on standard-based language instruction that addresses the national and state standards. A wide range of world language instructional materials, instructional technology, services, and assessment measures will be introduced and practiced. The experiential component of the course provides the students with opportunities for hands-on experiences for deepening understanding and strengthening competencies. For Education majors only. Clinical Practice hours required.

ED-377 Integrated K-12 Teaching Methods Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-319, ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Deepens future K-12 school teachers' understanding of the complexities of the curriculum and builds their competencies at the level of instructional implementation in specific subject areas. Focuses on a broad spectrum of instructional methodologies and techniques that are workable in today's classroom. A constructivist approach to planning and instruction will be emphasized. The experiential component of the course provides the students with opportunities for clinical work in the classroom, strengthening competencies and deepening understanding. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Practice hours required. Education majors only.

ED-378 Methods of Teaching Elementary Physical Education and Health Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-320 either as a prerequisite or corequisite, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): HEPE
Focus on the planning, implementing, and assessing of competency-based physical education and skill-based health in elementary settings. Preservice teachers will learn pedagogical strategies related to teaching culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse (special) needs in addition to using instructional technology, research-based best practices, and assessment data to inform instruction in elementary physical education and health. The course will utilize a lecture-based format and lab-based activities to prepare preservice teachers to develop physical literacy and health literacy for PreK-5 students. During lab-based activities, preservice teachers will plan and implement physical education and health lessons to peers and PreK-5 students. Clinical practice hours are required in accordance with New Jersey state statues. Education majors only.

ED-379 Methods of Teaching Secondary Physical Education and Health Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-320 as either a prerequisite or corequisite, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): HEPE
Focus on the planning, implementing, and assessing of competency-based physical education and skill-based health in secondary settings. Preservice teachers will learn pedagogical strategies related to teaching culturally and linguistically diverse students and students with diverse (special) needs in addition to using instructional technology, research-based best practices, and assessment data to inform instruction in secondary physical education and health. The course will utilize a lecture-based format and lab-based activities to prepare preservice teachers to develop physical literacy and health literacy for 6-12 grade students. During lab-based activities, preservice teachers will plan and implement physical education and health lessons to peers and 6th-12th grade students. Clinical practice hours are required in accordance with New Jersey state statues. Education majors only. Prerequisite: a minimum G.P.A of 3.00. Prerequisite or corequisite: ED-320.

ED-380 Middle Level Learning and Teaching Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-250, ED-320 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5
The candidate will examine aspects of middle-level schooling that are responsive to the nature and needs of adolescents. The candidate will apply knowledge of adolescents' cognitive and affective development to design learning environments and to structure and implement learning experiences that effectively promote academic achievement and personal growth for all middle-grade students. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Clinical Experience hours required.

ED-398 Special Topics in Education (300 Level) Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in education to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.
ED-399 Independent Study in Education
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course allows students to pursue independent research in education in an area not substantially treated in a regular course offering under the supervision of an education faculty member. Written evaluation of the research is required. For students with superior ability. Students must have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.75 to take this course, along with prior permission of the directing professor and department chair.

ED-416 Clinical Practice
Credits: 8
Co-requisite(s): ED-EDTPA
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
This full-time, full-semester clinical practice in a school setting requires clinical interns to observe, plan, instruct, and assess P-12 students collaborating with a cooperating teacher and university faculty. Clinical interns complete an edTPA portfolio and analyze their instruction and the effect on student achievement. In addition, there are on-campus seminars, focus groups and an online component. All aspects of the requirements are linked to the New Jersey Student Learning Standards (NJSLS), the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers (NJPSST), and national Specialty Professional Association (SPA) standards. The course includes research-based pedagogical strategies for teaching linguistically diverse students, those with diverse learning needs, incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instruction. Limited to Education majors. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. Passing the appropriate state required teacher examinations, Senior standing, and approval of the department, are also required.

ED-416S Clinical Practice Seminar
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A one-credit seminar to be taken in conjunction with Clinical Practice. Education majors only. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course.

ED-427 The Teaching of World Languages
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course is designed to prepare the World Language teacher candidate's understanding of the ACTFL performance guidelines and standards together with their application and assessment in the classroom. Various modes of teaching language will be explored including meaningful integration of the ACTFL 5 C's and Integrated Performance Assessments into each lesson. Professional development is explored and students must complete a professional Development Plan that includes joining professional affiliations. Preparation for the edTPA is included in this course with one lesson in the target language to be presented and videotaped in class for self and group assessment. This course will include pedagogical strategies related to teaching linguistically diverse students, students with diverse needs, using instructional technology and using data to inform instruction. These components provide the students with valuable pre-teaching experiences that will strengthen understanding of teaching strategies and capabilities. Also listed as FO-427. Clinical Hours are required.

ED-428 Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Teaching
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): ED-250 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Course Type(s): OL
Students will focus on two aspects of culturally and linguistically responsive and relevant instruction. The first aspect is the focus on equity and diversity and the second aspect concentrates on pedagogy for infusing culturally and linguistically responsive teaching into instruction. Professionals will engage in self-reflection related to racism and other forms of discrimination in order to better understand how identities and ideologies impact everyday school practices and the educational experiences of all students, especially those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds. The course also includes incorporating instructional technology into the classroom and utilizing data to inform instructions.

ED-498 Special Topics in Education (400 Level)
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in education to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

ED-499 Independent Study in Education
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent research in education in an area not substantially treated in a regular course offering under the supervision of an Education faculty member; written evaluation of the research is required. For students with superior ability. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair and a minimum G.P.A. of 2.75 are required to take this course. Application must be filed before registration.

Education Educational Leadership (EDL)

EDL-280 Introduction to Early Childhood Education
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This is an introductory course, which examines the historical, philosophical, and theoretical foundations of early childhood education. The course will cover major aspects of the physical, socio-emotional, and cognitive development of young children from birth to 8 years of age. The course addresses major theories and concepts of child development, early childhood ethics and professionalism, developmentally appropriate practice, diverse early childhood curriculum and programs, inclusion and special needs children, the use of technology, the use of data (formative and summative) to inform instruction, and home-school partnerships. The course covers the tenets of culturally responsive teaching in order to meet the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse children.

EDL-299 Independent Study in Educational Leadership
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Independent research in educational leadership in an area not substantially treated in a regular course offering under the supervision of an Educational Leadership faculty member; written evaluation of the research is required. For students with superior ability. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course. Application must be filed before registration.
EDL-325 Language and Early Literacy Development, Birth Through Kindergarten  Credits: 3  Term Offered: Spring Term  Course Type(s): None  This course, which involves a field experience, focuses on language development and early literacy of regular, special education, and young learners from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, birth to kindergarten. The content includes the study of theories and acquisition of language development and sound awareness, the interrelated nature language development and literacy, the appropriate development and assessment of language and early literacy, using the results of the assessment and other formative and summative data to inform instruction, methods for engaging and motivating all young learners, the appropriate use of technology with young learners, and strategies for involving families and community members. Clinical Practice required. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course.

EDL-326 Literacy Instruction in K-6 Educational Settings I Credits: 3  Prerequisite(s): ED-250  Term Offered: All Terms  Course Type(s): None  Focuses on the literacy development and instruction of regular and special education children, including those from linguistically diverse backgrounds in grades P-6. Ongoing assessment and instructional strategies will be explored in various engaging, literate, educational settings. Education majors only. Clinical Experience required.

EDL-327 Literacy Instruction in K-6 Educational Settings II Credits: 3  Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00  Term Offered: All Terms  Course Type(s): WT  Focuses on the literacy instruction of regular and special education children, including those from linguistically diverse backgrounds in grades P-6, across various content areas. Ongoing assessment and instructional strategies will be explored in various engaging, literate, educational settings. Clinical Practice hours required. Education majors only.

EDL-333 Family Partnerships in Early Childhood Settings Credits: 3  Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00  Term Offered: Fall Term  Course Type(s): WT  The course will cover the history and significance of family and community involvement in early childhood education: An overview of perspectives regarding family diversity, parent-professional partnerships and communication, early intervention and special education services, and the legal and ethical rights of diverse contemporary families of young children. Contextual factors, social, cultural, racial, exceptionality, and environment, known to impact learning, will be addressed with an approach to develop the skills and knowledge needed for teachers to create positive working relationships with families and communities. The use of appropriate data to inform instruction and a funds of knowledge (Moll, 1992) will be addressed. The appropriate use of technology in order to assist families in diverse ways to supplement classroom instruction at home will also be discussed. Limited to Education majors.

EDL-364 Early Childhood Capstone Research Seminar Credits: 3  Course Type(s): None  Term Offered: All Terms  This course will examine basic principles and current research on early childhood curricula. The focus of the course is on designing an integrated, developmentally appropriate curriculum in order to strengthen all aspects of all children's development, including cognitive, language, social, emotional, and physical capabilities. Students are required to conduct action research focusing on their teaching philosophy, practices, and research understandings as reflective practitioners based on their field work. The course will discuss the appropriate teaching methods that meet children's individual, and developmental needs, with an emphasis on culturally responsive teaching in order to address the needs of linguistically and culturally diverse students as well as any students who have special education needs. The use of technology in order to collect formative summative data will also be addressed. Additionally, the results of the data collected to inform instruction will be addressed. The course will also focus on the importance of observation and authentic assessment in curriculum planning. The course will also address the use of creative play to support children's learning and development in early childhood settings, including the use of technology to support play and learning. Education majors only. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. Clinical Practice hours required.

EDL-398 Special Topics in Educational Leadership Credits: 3  Term Offered: Spring Term  Course Type(s): None  An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in education to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

EDL-399 Independent Study in Educational Leadership Credits: 1-3  Term Offered: All Terms  Course Type(s): None  Independent research in educational leadership in an area not substantially treated in a regular course offering under the supervision of an Educational Leadership faculty member; written evaluation of the research is required. For students with superior ability. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course. Application must be filed before registration.

EDL-499 Independent Study in Educational Leadership Credits: 1-3  Course Type(s): None  Independent research in educational leadership in an area not substantially treated in a regular course offering under the supervision of an Educational Leadership faculty member; written evaluation of the research is required. For students with superior ability. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course. Application must be filed before registration.
Education Special Education (EDS)

EDS-330  Foundations of Special Education: Development Across the Lifespan  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Philosophical, historical, and legal foundations of special education. The Council of Exceptional Children (CEC) Code of Ethics and Standards for Practice are studied. Exploration of the similarities and differences among the cognitive, physical, cultural, social, and emotional needs of individuals with disabilities across the lifespan, including adolescent concerns and transition to adulthood. Examination of the educational implications of characteristics of various exceptionalities. Educational implications for learners from diverse cultures and second language learners will also be addressed through discussions on family characteristics and family systems theory. An overview of a continuum of service delivery models will be explored with implications for various learners. Education majors only.

EDS-332  Family/School/Community Partnerships and Resources, P-12  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Focus on the legal and historical perspectives of family involvement in special education. Family systems theory and parent-professional partnerships in decision making are included for all learners, P-12. Identifying appropriate community resources for persons with and without disabilities and their families and strategies for transition and career planning are addressed. Education majors only. A minimum GPA of 3.00 is required to take this course.

EDS-336  Classroom Management  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDS-330 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The study and application of various theories of behavior management for students with and without disabilities. Practical application of theories for classrooms are included. Addressing social competence skills and facilitating positive interpersonal relationships in classrooms are discussed. Clinical Experience hours required. Education majors only.

EDS-337  Special Education Strategies in P-6 Social Studies and Content Instruction  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDS-330, EDS-336, EDS-338 and EDS-350
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Course content includes the development of educational programs and applications of social studies and content area curricula, methods, and materials appropriate for the strengths and needs of all students, including those with disabilities, in inclusive settings in P-6 schools. Course content will emphasize national and state standards for social studies education, cross-curriculum integration, particularly world languages and culture, personal and social problem solving, and situated cognition in social studies education learning. The essential elements of planning, instruction using technology, and assessment based on research and data are explored to teach students, including those with disabilities. Focus on identifying and creating adaptations to support students with difficulty learning in inclusive classrooms. Education majors only.

EDS-338  Assessment Approaches, P-12  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDS-330 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the use of assessment in making decisions about instructional grouping, exceptionality, eligibility, and educational programming. Students in this course will learn about ethical standards for professional practice and standardized and teacher-developed assessment procedures. Practice is provided in using assessment data to make decisions about placement in a curriculum, pupil progress, appropriate measurable long-term goals and short-term instructional objectives, and selection of instructional strategies. The importance of parent participation in decision-making is included. Use of formal and informal assessment strategies are included. Education majors only. "Clinical Experience Hours required."

EDS-342  Instructional Methods and Materials for Middle/Secondary Students with Mild/ Moderate Disabilities  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDS-330, EDS-336, EDS-338, and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Study and application of curriculum, methods, materials, classroom organization, and management for secondary students with mild/moderate disabilities. Clinical hours required. Education majors only.

EDS-350  Individualizing Curricula and Systematic Instruction for Special Education  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDS-330, EDS-332, EDS-338 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The development and application of research-based, effective teaching techniques, necessary adaptations, and supports to meet the learning needs of exceptional students, prescriptive models for intervention, and ways of observing, recording, and responding to behaviors. Clinical Experience hours required. Education majors only.

EDS-352  Curricula, Methods, and Materials for Learners with Difficulties  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EDS-330, EDS-336, EDS-338 and a minimum G.P.A. of 3.00
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The development of educational programs and applications of curricula, methods, and materials appropriate for the strengths and needs of all students with disabilities and/or difficulties in special education and inclusive settings. EN-219 Science Fiction
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or equivalent
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): LIT
This LIT course on the literature of Science Fiction is designed to introduce students to the genre of Science Fiction (SF) from works that were written between the mid-nineteenth century and the late twentieth. As a uniquely modern form of literature, it is important to contextualize the genre historically, politically, and culturally, as it reflects attitudes about science, progress, and the human condition that dominated at the time the works were written and, often, provide clues to cultural orientations that persist to this day. We will examine both SF short stories and novels to more clearly understand how this genre of literature has become one of the most popular forms of social commentary on the past, present, and future of humanity.

Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided research of a selected topic under the direction of a member of the Gender Studies faculty.

GIS-224 Introduction to Geographic Information Systems (GIS) Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): MEBP, SS.SV, TL
Provides both the theoretical and methodological background for proficient use of geographic information systems (GIS). A multidisciplinary integration of theories and applications pertinent to both natural and social science research. Lectures and discussions will introduce the conceptual and methodological platform that is necessary to design, implement, and interpret GIS research. Weekly lab exercises will develop problem-solving skills and emphasize common research techniques in GIS. Students will also learn field techniques of spatial data collection. In sum, demonstrates how both GIS tools and a geographic perspective may be applied to a broad range of social and ecological research problems. Not open to students who have taken GIS-250.

GIS-235 GIS Applications in Homeland Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-224
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the basic theories in geographic information systems (GIS). It provides students with a hands-on practical approach to analyze homeland security related data. Students will develop a skill set to map homeland security data and perform spatial analytical tasks. Also listed as HLS-235.

GIS-298 Special Topics in Geographic Information Systems Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-224
Course Type(s): None
The study and application of GIS to a particular subject.

GIS-299 Independent Study in Geographic Information Systems Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
Conduct a geographic information systems (GIS) research project with a faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

GIS-324 Spatial Data Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-224
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Provides an introduction to the collection of various types of spatial data relevant to many GIS applications and basic database management for organization of the data. Students will be introduced to various data-collection techniques through a combination of lectures, discussions, readings, and hands-on experience in the field.
GIS-325 Spatial Analysis Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-224
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Focus will be the analysis of spatial data, culminating in an applied research project. For this intermediate level course, it is expected that students have successfully completed an introductory course in Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Students will learn the theory and practical application of spatial analysis methods for a variety of disciplines. The methods applied in this course include, but may not be limited to, geoprocessing, overlay analysis, spatial statistics and interpolation, terrain modeling, and map algebra. These methods will be applied to analyze contemporary social and environmental problems.

GIS-335 Advanced Geographic Information Systems and Homeland Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-235 or HLS-235
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will build upon the skills and information learned in GIS-235 Geographical Information Systems and Homeland Security to demonstrate advanced techniques in the analysis of spatial data to help the homeland security enterprise prevent, mitigate, respond to, and recover from intentional, natural, and accidental threats. Also listed as HLS-335.

GIS-336 Marine Applications of Geographic Information Systems Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): EX3, MEBP
Students learn mapping technologies for coastal and marine planning. Techniques are then applied to coastal community for a service learning project in fulfillment of the Experiential Education graduation requirement. Services are provided in partnership with a community, and may include projects such as coastal zone planning or participatory workshops to many community resources.

GIS-337 Fundamentals of Remote Sensing Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
Students learn the fundamentals of remote sensing technologies and of their application to environmental mapping and analysis. This course introduces concepts of light radiation behavior and detection, satellite and airborne imaging systems, image processing and classification, mapping, and map analysis. Students will apply this knowledge through a hands-on term project of their own design.

GIS-400 Research Methods in GIS Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-224
Course Type(s): None
Participants in this seminar will, with the instructor’s guidance, 1) plan all aspects of their own discipline-specific research, 2) acquire all of the necessary data, 3) build and populate a spatial database for their data, 4) create a GIS to import, manipulate, and analyze their data, and 5) present their completed project.

GIS-489 GIS Internship Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in geographic information systems. Repeatable for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

GIS-499 Independent Study in Geographic Information Systems Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GIS-224 and prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Conduct a geographic information systems (GIS) research project with a faculty member.

Geography (GO)

GO-100 People, Places, and Environments: Introduction to Geography Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, TL
Emphasis on the introductory level, is on cultural, physical, and world-regional geography. Topics include cultural and physical dimensions of the earth and the interrelationships of humans and the environment.

GO-101 Principles of Human Geography Credits: 3

Course Type(s): SS.SV
Introduces students to the study of location, distribution, and interrelationships of the physical processes that form the environment, and how human activities influence these processes. Topics include: climate, biogeography, biodiversity, sustainability, as well as topography, map reading, and geographic information systems (GIS).

GO-103 Physical Geography Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
A survey of the Earth sciences from a spatial perspective. We will use maps, diagrams, simulations, and computer mapping software to learn about the systems of the Earth. Students will gain an understanding of physical processes and patterns of the Earth's atmosphere, climate, landforms, and biosphere. Understanding of these systems will be used to examine the ways in which humans influence and adapt to Earth systems. The learning outcomes of this course satisfy a general education requirement for the Natural Sciences. Also listed as SC-103.

GO-125 Maps and Mapping Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS.SV
Introduction to the study of maps and cartography from the perspective of the social sciences. Topics will include: map types, the content and structure of maps, map interpretation, the history of mapping, map propaganda, the use of maps in society, and sources of data. Students will use maps and mapping to represent and interpret past and present economic, political, social, and geographic phenomena.

GO-199 Independent Study in Geography Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.
GO-220H  The City in Film  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): HO
Through the study of popular images of the city in film, reflect on urban problems and issues, as well as perceptions of the city changing over time. Course Type(s): BI.EL, GU, SUS
Introductory examination of the various factors that impact tourism in different parts of the world. Students will consider political, social, economic, cultural, and environmental factors that affect tourists, local populations, and the physical destinations. Also listed as AN-267.

GO-268  Urbanization  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, RE, SUS
Introduction to urbanization on a global scale. Historical and contemporary development of the world’s cities, using geographical approaches to urban analysis. Includes examination of urban forms and the local global, social, cultural, economic, political, and physical processes that shape and are shaped by cities, and the large and rapidly growing cities of the developing world that dominate and control the global economy. Also listed as AN-268.

GO-275  Global Environmental Problems  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GU, RE, SUS
Focus on the complex relationship between human beings and their environments in an effort to build an ecological perspective in a global framework. Discussion of basic issues of ecological science in terms of impact on both the Western and non-Western worlds. Also listed as AN-275.

GO-280  Introduction to Tour Guiding and Tourist Sites  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
Course will focus on the role and responsibilities of Tour Guides and the development of sites for use in tours and tourism. We will use scholarly articles and texts, as well as films and blogs to explore the complexities and possibilities of tour guiding in the 21st century.

GO-282  Life’s a Beach  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): CD
A majority of the world’s population lives along shorelines. In some places, the shore is necessary for survival, a place where people depend on their interactions with the natural environment to provide for their daily needs. Elsewhere, the beach is a location for leisure, a destination for tourists. This class examines life at the shore from the different perspectives of those who utilize the beaches in different ways. Approximately one-third of the class will take place in situ, meaning off campus and on site of some local beach location. Applying anthropological theories and methods to the topic, this course will examine concepts such as identity, political economy, cultural ecology and development, using New Jersey beaches as locus. Also listed as AN-282.

GO-298  Special Topics in Geography (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in geography to be announced prior to registration. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

GO-332  Climate Change Adaptation and Policy  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): MEBP, SUS
Climate Change Adaptation and Policy provides a survey of the global engagements surrounding climate change adaptation and policy that currently affects billions around the globe. The subject matter covered includes understanding how to evaluate the proxies and impacts of climate change, the geography of climate change, and the policies and planning tools that are used in addressing the current and forecasted effects of climate change. The class includes local, regional, national, and international examples within a mixed-methods approach that simultaneously uses a scientific, natural processes understanding that is juxtaposed with policy-based initiatives that deal with the real-life costs and procedures in addressing climate change. Also listed as PS-332.

GO-399  Independent Study in Geography  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

GO-499  Independent Study in Geography  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): GO-101 and prior permission of the directing professor and department chair
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member.
Geology (GL)

GL-100  Diamonds, Drilling and Dinosaurs: Introductory Geology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Provides comprehensive coverage of the geosciences which spans from the formation of our universe to understanding the physical processes that affect the New Jersey coastline. The principles of geology and earth science are used to demonstrate to the student that the geosciences are involved in every aspect of their daily lives and to make them aware of the role they play in society both economically and physically.

GL-199  Independent Study in Geology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Original research work planned and carried out with the assistance of a faculty research advisor. The number of course credits will be arranged with the advisor. Three hours per credit. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Health Studies (HE)

HE-100  Technology and Health Informatics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): TL
Designed to provide an introduction to the computer technology used in health care and its impact on decision-making. Includes an overview of the basic computer skills required to process electronic information, the nature and types of health information available on the World Wide Web, the development of search skills associated with finding information, linking electronic information to health decision-making processes, ethical and social issues involving the use of technology, and identifying major issues in computer and Internet security. Also listed as NU-100.

HE-101  Strategies for Healthy Living  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Factors influencing personal health; function of body cells and systems; lifestyle choices such as nutrition, exercise, alcohol, drug and tobacco use, sexuality, contraception, and sexually transmitted diseases; the U.S. health care system and those of other countries.

HE-150  Medical Terminology  Credits: 3

History (HS)

HS-101  Western Civilization in World Perspective I  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
An introduction to the major historical developments in the history of Western society and its intellectual tradition. Secondarily, it is also an introduction to the uses of history itself. Our survey will consider ancient Greece and Rome, Medieval Europe, the Renaissance, the Reformation, and the rise of nation-states in Europe. To understand the history of the West in a larger context, we will examine it in relation to the history of the Middle East, particularly at points of contact such as the Crusades.

HS-102  Western Civilization in World Perspective II  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
A readings-based introduction to Western history, from the seventeenth century to the present, in the perspective of a major non-Western civilization. Topics include the Enlightenment, the Industrial Revolution, the Great Depression, the World Wars, the Cold War, and Globalization.

HS-105  The Verdict of History  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
Students will explore the history of Western civilization through some of its most controversial and pivotal trials. They will study both the historical context and the particulars of such cases, as the trials of Socrates, Jesus of Nazareth, Joan of Arc, Martin Luther, Galileo, the Amistad rebels, Alfred Dreyfus, Oscar Wilde, John Scopes, Sacco and Vanzetti, Adolf Eichmann, and O.J. Simpson.
HS-107  Love and Marriage in Historical Perspective  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
Love and Marriage in Historical Perspective is a readings-and-discussion-based thematic history course. This course is designed to expose students to the history of love and marriage from classical antiquity to the present in global perspective. Marriage is one of the oldest social institutions in human culture: and, as an institution, it has not always been associated with the concept of love. This course considers the transformation of marriage as both a public, private, political, economic, social, and emotional institution that has been fundamental to the development of human societies. This includes a discussion of the Greco-Roman world, the Middle Ages, the Romantic era and marriage in the global village at the present. Why is traditional marriage on the decline in Western societies? What is traditional marriage? When, why, and how did the idea of love get tangled up with marriage and how successful has the love-marriage connection been over time? Why is marriage in crisis? What does love have to do with it? What are the revolutionary implications of the rise and fall of marriage as a love-match? These are some of the questions we will contemplate in this course as associated with issues related to sex, gender, sexuality, race and class by examining love and marriage in literature, poetry, music, and in philosophical treatises on the subject utilizing the historical method as the primary approach.

HS-108  Human Gods: Science, Technology, and Culture in History  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
This is a readings-and-discussion-based history course on the interplay between science, technology, and culture in human societies from the scientific revolution to the human genome project. In this course, we will explore the relationship between what science writer Richard Rhodes has alluded to in his text The Making of the Atomic Bomb as a "Republic of Science" and human culture, as coupled with discussion of the connection between scientific discovery and technological advance (an in turn how technology impacts human culture) within the context of world history. The focal point of this course is to critically examine how scientists are shaped by the cultures they live in and how scientists and their discoveries impact culture. Specifically, we will contemplate how cultural attitudes about race and gender shape scientific inquiry such as with the emergence of race science in the age of Darwin during the nineteenth century, and the emergence of eugenics in the early twentieth century. The overarching theme of the course is "Human Gods" because we will pay close attention to how scientists in their attempts to manipulate nature in the sense "play god" and how playing god may have devastating consequences for marginalized groups in particular and humanity more generally. The various arenas of science and technology including medicine, military technology, and computer technology are examined to demonstrate how individuals, industries, and governments have harnessed science and technology to control nature (such as with disease control, other nations in warfare, and general human activity via computer technologies).

HS-110  Historical Studies  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
Through a deep study of a single historical topic, students will learn how historians draw and revise conclusions about the past. They will examine the uses and abuses to which history is put, and they will practice advancing historical arguments of their own.

HS-115  Empires in History  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
This course will examine the political, economic, religious, intellectual, and social lives of a select number of world empires. We will analyze how each of these empires came into being, and why they fell apart. Case studies will include western and non-western empires, and range from the preclassical to the modern.

HS-116  War in History  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
A historical survey of the evolution of warfare and the interaction of war and society, putting the western experience of war in a larger world perspective.

HS-148  Revolutions  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
This course will study Western Civilization in World Perspectives II through the lens of revolution, 1715-2015. As the revolutions are many, due to time constraints, the course will necessarily be limited. It will focus on selected revolutions (subject to change) that impacted the development of the modern west. Transcending national borders and resonating across continents, these revolutions sought an end to tyrannical government, relief from the ravages of the industrial world and freedom from foreign domination and influence. In their efforts to create a better society and a better world, these revolutions, at once heroic and horrific, produced change on an epochal scale that, in some instances, is playing out in the contemporary community.

HS-173  Environmental History  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HS.SV
Environmental history is an introduction to major developments in world history through the lens of environmental change and experience. As, additionally, an introduction to history itself this survey considers the interaction between people, states, empires, and the "natural world" from the "dawn of time" through the present. Students will examine the relationship between human society(ies) and the natural world over recorded time. As an interdisciplinary exercise this class will draw on the natural sciences and history to better understand the biological, cultural, imperial, ethical, economic, religious, political, and global ramifications of the relationship between humanity and humanity's natural surroundings.

HS-198  Special Topics in History (100 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms

Globalization and Africa

Globalization has profoundly influenced and transformed Africa in multi-dimensional ways-economically, politically, and socially. While globalization is not a new development, it has had a significant impact on Africa since the late nineteenth century. Africa has been connected to the world market thereby leading to opportunities for economic growth and development. Although African states are still grappling with sustainable economy, they remain strongly attached to the world economic system. Politically, there has been a transition from the monarchical to parliamentary/presidential systems. This course will examine the concept of globalization, how it has impacted Africa, how Africa has responded to the economic, political, and social changes and challenges. We will also discuss the ways Africa can become more relevant in global affairs.

Course Type(s): RD
An introduction to basic principles of clear thinking and effective argument, combined with small group discourse and collaborative problem solving.

Information Technology (IT)

IT-100 Information Technology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Introduction to computer-based information management concepts that provide an integrated approach to personal computer software in a Windows environment. These include, word processing, spreadsheet, database, presentation graphics, and electronic communication applications; information retrieval from the Internet and online library resources; fundamental computer literacy; and the ethical and societal implications of computer technology. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided. Not open to students who have completed CS-102 or IT-102 or IT-150.

IT-102 Information Technology for Scientists
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Introduction to computer-based information management that provides an integrated approach to personal computer software in a Windows environment, which includes word processing, spreadsheet, mathematics, database, presentation graphics, Internet and electronic communication applications. Emphasizes scientific applications, technical report preparation and presentation. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-103 Applied Information Technology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): TL
Applies the principles and tools of information technology toward a deeper understanding of their impact on scientific, social and ethical issues via a central theme for the semester such as (but not limited to) climate change, big data, health-care cost analysis and others. This course will use software such as spreadsheets, databases, modeling, simulation, data analysis, software, electronic-communication applications; information retrieval from the internet and on-line library resources; social media, intranet and extranet systems to help students emerge with thematic materials in a way that deepens their understanding of associated topics.

IT-150 Information Technology for Business
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Introduction to computer-based information business management that provides an integrated approach to personal computer software in a Windows environment. This includes fundamental technology literacy; operating systems, word processing, spreadsheet, database, presentation graphics, and electronic communication applications; computer and network security; troubleshooting; information retrieval from the Internet and on-line library resources; intranet and extranet systems; and the ethical, societal, legal, and economic implications of computer technology. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-200 Advanced Information Technology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 or IT-102; or CS-104 or IT-150
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Advanced concepts and techniques in computer-based information management are provided through an integrated approach to personal computer hardware and software in a Windows environment. These include: hardware and software considerations; societal and ethical considerations; the program development life cycle; creating tables; merging documents and desktop publishing in word processing; creating templates, workbooks with multiple worksheets, and creating a data map in electronic spreadsheets; creating custom reports and an application system using macros in database management; and using embedded visuals in presentation graphics applications. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-250 Internet and Network Technology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-200 or CS-175 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to integrated application software used for authoring and publishing Web sites in a Windows environment. Applications include markup programming and Internet scripting languages used to create Web pages. Network technologies and the fundamental concepts involved in creating a network and in facilitating network operation will also be introduced. Concepts include: protocols, networking media, and architectures. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-298 Special Topics in Information Technology (200 Level)
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 and as announced in the course schedule
Course Type(s): None
Topics of current interest in Information Technology.

IT-299 Independent Study in Information Technology
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member.

IT-300 Windows Applications: Program Design and Implementation
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-250 or permission of the department
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Program development life cycle, core programming concepts, and software design and methodologies used to create Windows applications with Visual Basic. Practical problems are used to illustrate application-building techniques used in a variety of applications, including Windows desktop application and applications targeted for the Internet and intranets. Topics include designing customized user interfaces, building dialog boxes, adding drag-and-drop functionality to applications, and creating customized database management and reporting applications. Hands-on experience with a microcomputer on a networked system is provided.

IT-398 Special Topics in Information Technology (300 Level)
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 and as announced in the course schedule
Course Type(s): None
Topics of current interest in Information Technology.
IT-399  Independent Study in Information Technology  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

IT-450  Information Systems Project Management  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-250 or permission of the department
Co-requisite(s): IT-300
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
The tools and skills of the systems analyst needed in information systems project management are introduced through the case study and experiential approach. Project management software will be used within an integrated-software environment—systems framework; students will complete two information technology projects in Web and database design for external clients.

IT-498  Special Topics in Information Technology (400 Level)  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): IT-100 and as announced in the course schedule
Course Type(s): None
Topics of current interest in Information Technology.

Interdisciplinary Studies (IS)

IS-288  Cooperative Education Interdisciplinary Studies  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): EX2
Application of skills from two or three interdisciplinary study areas in a career-related position under faculty supervision. Students will work at least ten hours per week at an approved site and carry out academic assignments in coordination with their faculty sponsors. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

IS-290  Professional and Organizational Ethics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
Ethical theory and its applications to interdisciplinary social issues. Examination of moral principles, basic to professional practice, organizational behavior, and public policy making.

IS-388  Cooperative Education: Interdisciplinary Studies  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Application of skills from two or three interdisciplinary study areas in a career-related position under faculty supervision. Students will work at least ten hours per week at an approved site and carry out academic assignments in coordination with their faculty sponsors. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

IS-401  Senior Integrative Thesis Proposal  Credits: 2
Prerequisite(s): Completion of ninety credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Independent research guided by a chief advisor and second reader. Research should access the methods and materials of the chosen disciplines, focus on a specific problem or topic, and relate to a stated career ambition. Conventional library research, lab experiment component, survey, creative project, etc., are all acceptable.

IS-402  Senior Integrative Thesis  Credits: 2
Prerequisite(s): IS-401 passed with a grade of B or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Thesis based on research completed in IS-401. A thoroughly developed research project, which must integrate chosen disciplines, focus on a specific problem, and relate to a career objective.

IS-410  Integrative Seminar for Elementary Education  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
This is a capstone seminar for students in the Interdisciplinary Studies for Elementary Educators major, to be taught jointly by a faculty member in one of the subject disciplines and a faculty member in the School of Education. Each semester a theme that can be approached from the perspectives of literature, social sciences, mathematics, and the physical or biological sciences will be chosen for the seminar. Class discussions will include how the material can be approached at different grade levels in elementary school. Sample semester topics include people and the environment, bullying, climate change, poverty, and urbanization. Senior standing in the ISEE major or approval of the instructor is required to take this course.

IS-488  Cooperative Education: Interdisciplinary Studies  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Application of skills from two or three interdisciplinary studies areas in a career-related position under faculty supervision. Students will work at least ten hours per week at an approved site and carry out academic assignments in coordination with their faculty sponsors. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

IS-499  Independent Study in Interdisciplinary Studies  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of ninety credits, a 3.00 or higher GPA in major course work, and prior permission of the directing professor and chair
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided research and in-depth study of a selected topic of an interdisciplinary nature under the direction of a faculty member through Interdisciplinary Studies. Conference(s) with sponsoring professor, extensive reading, and at least one written report are required.

Life Career Services (LC)

LC-300  Career Search  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Course teaches students the basic skills used to successfully secure employment after graduation and familiarizes students with the hiring process used in most organizations. May not be used to satisfy major or distribution requirements.

LC-399  Independent Study in Career Search  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.
Mathematics (MA)

MA-050  Pre-Algebra Mathematics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The language of mathematics, terms and symbols, the real number system, arithmetic operations on real numbers, including exponents and roots, emphasis on fractions and decimals, and evaluation of expressions. Special topics on divisibility, figurate numbers, and introduction to college algebra. Three hours per week, plus mandatory attendance with mathematics lab. This course cannot be used to satisfy graduation requirements.

MA-100  Quantitative Reasoning and Problem Solving  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL2 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Basic mathematical concepts studied through solving problems in collaborative groups; examination of decision-making and problem-solving techniques and various formats for representing quantitative information.

MA-101  College Algebra  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The axioms and properties of the real number system. Manipulating expressions representing quantities; functions and their representations as rules, graphs or tabulations; linear and polynomial functions; zero, factoring techniques, and graphical properties of polynomials; the logarithm and exponential; solving systems of equations; sequences and summations; and combinations and permutations. Calculators required for selected topics. This course cannot be used in satisfaction of the general education mathematics requirement.

MA-103  Foundations of Elementary Mathematics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or 3 credits in Math
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-8, and their history and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary-school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. This course will also be of value for any student who wants a better understanding of these ideas. Focus on understanding and exploring the mathematics behind computation through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. Topics include: number systems, measurement, probability, statistics, and geometry. Not open to freshmen.

MA-105  Mathematical Modeling in the Social Sciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Exploration and aspects of algebra, mathematical modeling, and data analysis, which are important in the social sciences. Topics include: an introduction to data, the use of variables, assorted kinds of graphs to represent data, the concept of function, the problem of fitting functions to data, representing change over time, rates of change, linear functions and linear models, piecewise-linear functions, and an introduction to non-linear functions. Pedagogical methods to be used include: projects using real data, computer explorations, and group work. MA-LVL4 may not take this course.

MA-107  Mathematics in the Arts  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Study of artistic design in architecture, painting, sculpture, and crafts; math of music.

MA-109  Pre-Calculus Mathematics  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
The real number system, algebraic expressions, exponents, radicals, solution of equations, solutions of inequalities, functions, graphing of functions, and trigonometry. Not open to students who have successfully completed MA-125.

MA-115  Pre-Calculus Modeling for the Biological Sciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-115 or MA-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL 3 or MA-LVL4 completed MA-125.
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Provides a development of an understanding of linear, exponential, logarithmic, polynomial and trigonometric functions related to biological phenomena. The development is from an algebraic, graphical and modelling perspective. In addition, the solutions of equations and inequalities related to these functions are studied. Use of related technology is included.

MA-116  Calculus for the Biological Sciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-115 or MA-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to calculus, from a primarily graphical perspective, through applications to biological and ecological phenomena. Topics include: differentiation, integration, and differential equations.
MA-117
Quantitative Analysis for Business I
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 or MA-105 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Linear equations and models, systems of linear equations and applications, matrices and techniques for solving systems of equations, linear programming and applications, quadratic functions and models, and exponential and logarithmic models. A computer laboratory component is incorporated. Designed for students majoring in Business Administration; other students by permission of the Mathematics Department.

MA-118
Quantitative Analysis for Business II
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-117 passed with a grade of C- or higher, or permission of the department
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Functions, limits, continuity, polynomial calculus, including optimization models, anti-derivatives, area and applications to business models; introduction to probability and statistics as applied to business models.

MA-120
Introduction to Mathematical Reasoning
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to reasoning, proof, and exposition in mathematics. Topics include: Boolean logic, set theory, counting techniques, functions, mathematical induction, permutations, and the proofs of various elementary theorems.

MA-125
Calculus with Analytic Geometry I
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-109 or MA-115 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Functions, limits, continuity, and the differential and integral calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, and exponential functions.

MA-126
Calculus with Analytic Geometry II
Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-125 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Functions, limits, continuity, and the differential and integral calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, exponential functions.

MA-130
Applied Discrete Mathematics
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-109 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to reasoning, proof, and exposition in mathematics. Topics include: Boolean logic, set theory, counting techniques, functions, mathematical induction, permutations, and the proofs of various elementary theorems.

MA-151
Statistics with Applications
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 or MA-105 passed with a grade of C- or higher or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Analysis of data, probability, random variables, normal distribution, sampling theory, confidence intervals, and statistical inference. Not open to computer science majors or to students required to complete MA-125, except software engineering majors.

MA-198
Special Topics in Mathematics (100 Level)
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in mathematics to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If there is a prerequisite for this course it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-199
Independent Study in Mathematics
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

MA-203
Foundations of Elementary Mathematics I
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, their history, and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary-school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. This course, along with MA-204, Foundations of Elementary Mathematics II, will also be of value for any student who wants a better understanding of these ideas. Focus on understanding and exploring mathematics through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. MA-203 concentrates on problem solving, whole number arithmetic and theory, discrete math, integers, fractions, decimals, and algebraic concepts. MA-203 does not count toward the mathematics major or minor requirements. Students who take MA-203 are not eligible to take MA-205. Prerequisite: MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P.

MA-204
Foundations of Elementary Mathematics II
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-203 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, their history and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary-school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. This course, along with MA-203, Foundations of Elementary Mathematics I, will also be of value for any student who wants a better understanding of these ideas. Focus on understanding and exploring mathematics through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. Topics in MA-204 include: fractions, ratios and percent, data analysis, counting and probability, geometry of shape, measurement, and measurement geometry (perimeter, area, surface area, volume). MA-204 does not count toward the mathematics major or minor requirements. Students who have taken MA-204 are not eligible to take MA-207.
MA-205  Number Systems  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-050 or MA-LVL2 or MA-LVL3 or MA-LVL4 passed with a grade of P
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, and their history and applications in daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. Concentrates on the various number systems of school mathematics: whole numbers, integers, fractions, decimals. It does this by examining, in other number bases, standard algorithms for addition, subtraction, multiplication and division, as well as alternative algorithms in base ten, including student-generated algorithms. The course will focus on understanding and exploring the mathematics through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. MA-205 does not count towards the mathematics major or minor requirements. Students who have taken MA-205 are not eligible to take MA-203.

MA-206  Algebraic Thinking, Probability and Statistics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-205 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, and their history and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. MA-206 concentrates on the algebraic thinking, probability and statistics. It develops algebraic thinking by extending concepts from Number Systems (MA-205) via problem-solving, proportional relationships, pattern-recognition, generalization and identities. Probability introduces key concepts from discrete mathematics and applies proportional relationships. Statistics involves systematic organization of data. The course will focus on understanding and exploring the mathematics through problem solving, projects, group explorations, use of manipulatives, and some use of technology. MA-206 does not count towards the mathematics major or minor requirements.

MA-207  Elementary Geometry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-205 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Careful examination of mathematical ideas behind the mathematics taught in grades K-6, and their history and applications to daily life. Intended primarily for future elementary school teachers to provide them with a better understanding of the mathematics they will teach. This is an activity-centered course. Content will focus on geometric shapes, motions and change, length, area and volume and their measurement. There is an emphasis on understanding a variety of problem solving strategies, conjectures, reasoning, mathematical representations including manipulatives, and communicating. MA-207 does not count toward the mathematics major or minor requirements. Students who take MA-207 are not eligible to take MA-204.

MA-220  Probability and Statistics I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
To provide an axiomatic, calculus-based approach to probability and introductory statistics. The course is built around the process of performing a statistical analysis; posing the question, collecting the data, describing the data, analyzing and modeling the data, and drawing inferences from the data regarding the original question. Specific topics covered include sampling, descriptive analysis of data, probability, random variables, discrete and continuous distributions, expectation, confidence intervals, one sample hypothesis testing, chi-square analyses, correlation and regression.

MA-221  Linear Algebra  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130; and MA-125 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Systems of equations, matrix algebra, linear transformations, Eigenvectors, linear programming, and computational methods.

MA-225  Calculus with Analytic Geometry III  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Infinite series, partial differentiation, multiple integration, and associated solid analytic geometry.

MA-237  Programming and Technology in Mathematics  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 and MA-126 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): MA-311 or MA-221 or MA-225
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Provides an introduction to the use of technology as it applies to mathematics. A major component of the course will be to build a solid foundation in the skills needed to apply mathematical concepts to programming. In addition, the use of technology in presentations, scholarly searches, and its role and limitations in computer and Internet security will be covered. Students will gain an appreciation of the important ethical and social issues involving the use of technology.

MA-298  Special Topics in Mathematics (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in mathematics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-299  Independent Study in Mathematics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.
MA-301  Careers in Mathematics Seminar  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): MA-220 and MA-221
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An orientation to career opportunities and graduate level programs and degrees available to students with a background in mathematics and statistics.

MA-305  Mathematical Problem Solving  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-205, MA-206, and MA-207 all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
The final mathematics course in the four-course sequence for future elementary school teachers. Designed to strengthen their mathematical content knowledge, problem solving skills, conceptual understanding and ability to communicate about mathematics, through the investigation of mathematically challenging problems. Problems will require creative thinking and utilization of past content knowledge in new situations. Students will work in groups and individually, and write up their solutions. This course does not count towards the mathematics major or minor requirement.

MA-311  Differential Equations  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-126 and MA-221 both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Designed to provide students with the fundamentals of differential equations. The topics include elementary methods of solution, nth order linear equations, systems of linear equations, Laplace transform methods, numerical solutions, and initial and boundary value problems.

MA-314  Number Theory  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 and MA-221 both passed with a grade of C- or higher and EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): RD
Properties of integers, divisibility, prime numbers, congruence, and Diophantine equations.

MA-317  Geometry  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 and either MA-221 or MA-225 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Study of Euclid's axioms, fifth postulate and its substitutes, absolute geometry, projective geometry, constructions, and convexity.

MA-318  Combinatorics and Graph Theory  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130 or CS-202 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and MA-221 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Combinatorics is the study of countable discrete mathematical structures. Graph theory is the study of mathematical structures involving a collection of objects, known as the vertex set, along with a collection of pairs of vertices, known as the edge set. These two inseparable areas of mathematics are ripe with beautiful theory and endless applications. Students will learn the techniques required to answer questions in these fields, as well as appropriate applications.

MA-320  Probability and Statistics II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher, MA-151 or BE-251 or MA-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher, EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
A continuation of MA-220, including sample distributions, exploratory data analysis, estimation methods, regression and correlation, as well as applications to quality control.

MA-321  Statistical Consulting  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Gives students a working knowledge of statistical consulting in the world outside of the classroom by working with real clients. Students will interview clients, translate client needs into statistical language, design statistical experiments, generate data collection plans, assist in data collection, analyze data, interpret their analyses, and present their finding to the client. Throughout the process students will interact with their clients regarding ongoing questions that occur. By the end of the course, students will be able to choose and apply appropriate statistical design and analysis methodologies. They will also be able to interpret, evaluate, and present their conclusions in oral and written form. Topics covered will depend upon client needs and may include designing experiments with power and sample size considerations, multiple and logistic regression, survival analyses, t- and chi-square tests, ANOVA/MANOVA/ANCOVA, and principal component analysis. This course may be repeated once for additional credit to either continue work on a long-term project, or to take part in a new statistical consulting project.

MA-325  History of Mathematics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GU, WT
Surveys historical milestones in the development of mathematics from ancient times to the Nineteenth century, with modern topics as time permits.

MA-327  Design and Analysis of Biological Experiments  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C or higher or permission of the instructors.
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The purpose of this course is to learn about the statistical design & analysis of biological experiments. After learning mathematical techniques of designing experiments, and statistical analyses customized to them, students will be presented with a broad research question by the instructors. Literature surveys will be a critical part of the course to allow students to find pertinent, relevant, potentially publishable biological questions that address a specific aspect of the larger question posed by the instructors. Students will design their own experiment addressing their question, generate their own data collection plan, collect their data, and then analyze their data using statistical techniques taught in class. This course will involve field/lab work for data collection and computer work in the statistical analysis of the final data. Students will defend their question, design and analysis from both a statistical and biological perspective. At the end of the semester students will complete a formal manuscript in journal format. This course can be used to fulfill the Mathematics or Statistics minor and the Bio/MEPB elective. This course is a research based course and students must have demonstrated a strong interest in and potential for research. Also listed as BY-327.
MA-334  Problem Solving Seminar  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130; and MA-126 all passed with a minimum grade of C- or higher, and permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): None
Problem solving techniques and the ability to use them in applications lie at the core of learning and applying mathematics. The course covers important strategies for solving mathematical problems, most of which are only tangentially studied in the usual mathematics curriculum. The strategies are an assortment of both overarching themes and particular techniques of more limited applicability. Each strategy is covered in a theoretical context followed by implementation to specific problems. Polya's classic framework for the problem solving processes will be referenced and used throughout the course. This course is repeatable for credit.

MA-350  Computation and Statistics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher, and either MA-151 or BE-251 or MA-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers topics related to computational statistics, including obtaining large, realistic, real-time datasets, calculation and visualization of basic statistical features, regression, empirical distributions, and time-series features. Also covered will be principal components analysis (PCA), analysis of variance (ANOVA), correlation, prediction, and stochastic volatility estimation (GARCH). Portfolio theory will also be covered.

MA-380  Research in Mathematics  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Mathematical or statistical research work carried out under the mentorship of a faculty research advisor. Research conducted by the students will be submitted for presentation, publication or review. The number of credits will be determined by arrangement with the advisor. Three hours/week per credit. This class is repeatable up to six credits total.

MA-388  Cooperative Education: Mathematics  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-311 and MA-220, both passed with a grade of C- or higher if a Mathematics major; or MA-120 and MA-126, both passed with a grade of C- or higher if other major, a cumulative G.P.A. of 2.00 and Junior or Senior standing
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Affords the student an opportunity to apply mathematical theory to practical work-related experience. Includes both academic and experiential components. Involves ten hours per week of work experience. The academic aspect includes a reflective journal and a written report; repeatable for credit.

MA-389  Internship in Mathematics  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in math; repeatable for credit. Student must have at least Junior status. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

MA-398  Special Topics in Mathematics (300 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in mathematics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-399  Independent Study in Mathematics  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-407  Topology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-221 and MA-225, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Topology is the study of the structure of space and is one of the major theoretical areas in modern mathematics. The course serves as both a rigorous foundation for advanced study in the field and as a survey of important techniques established since its inception. After building the necessary framework of point-set topology, the course will move on to selected topics such as the classification of surfaces, knot theory, and algebraic topology.

MA-410  Modern Algebra  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-221, and either MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 or MA-407 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Beginning with the natural numbers, the integers and rational numbers are developed. Complex numbers and roots of unity are followed by necessary framework of point-set topology, the course will move on to selected topics such as the classification of surfaces, knot theory, and algebraic topology.

MA-411  Group Theory  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-221, and either MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 or MA-407, both passed with a grade of C- or higher
Course Type(s): None
Group Theory is the study of symmetry, and is one of the core branches of abstract algebra. The course will explore the theory and applications of groups. In addition to covering many examples of groups, course topics will include subgroups, group homomorphisms and isomorphisms, permutations, quotient groups, Sylow Theorems, and the structure of finitely generated abelian groups.

MA-413  Complex Analysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-225 and either MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 or MA-407 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Complex numbers and plane, functions, derivatives, line integrals, and Cauchy integral theorem. Cauchy’s formula, series, applications.

MA-415  Real Analysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-225 and either MA-314 or MA-317 or MA-318 or MA-407 passed with a grade of C- or higher and EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Metric spaces, real number system, limits, functions, continuity, differentiation and integration, and counter-examples.
MA-419 Introduction to Mathematical Modeling Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-220, MA-311, MA-221 all passed with a grade of C- or higher, Junior standing, and EN-101 and EN-102, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, WT
Introduction to mathematical modeling, which is a process in which a real-world situation is studied, simplified, and abstracted to the point that mathematical tools can be applied to gain understanding. Introduction to the process, first via a text and mini-projects, then in teams investigating problems from local industries or organizations.

MA-421 Design of Experiments and ANOVA Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher and either MA-151 or BE-251 or MA-220 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Provides a working knowledge of multivariate regression and ANOVA methods balanced with the theory underlying these techniques. Intended for students considering a career in statistics, including but not limited to biostatistics, financial mathematics and theoretical statistics. Topics include: an introduction to experimental design, power and effect size calculations, data screening and transformation to meet assumptions of the analyses, multivariate regression, multinomial logistic regression, multivariate survival analysis, ANOVA/ANCOVA/MANOVA/MANCOVA, and time permitting, an introduction to time series analysis. Extensive use is made of real-world case data from business/finance, health/biology, and education/psychology.

MA-440 Regression and Time Series Analysis Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher and either MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Covers topics related to multiple regression techniques, including testing the assumptions required for each to be valid. This includes applications to yield curve smoothing, pricing, and investment models, and the use of principal component analysis. Also covered are techniques for the analysis and modeling of time series data and forecasting.

MA-460 Multivariate and Categorical Statistics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-116 or MA-118 or MA-126 passed with a grade of C- or higher and MA-151 or MA-220 or BE-251 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This advanced statistics course provides students with skills in advanced multivariate analysis and its applications. Students will learn the material through projects using data from business, finance, and biology. Topics include MANOVA, discriminant analysis, cluster analysis, multidimensional scaling, and factor analysis. Topics may also include conjoint analysis, canonical correlation and structural equation modeling.

MA-488 Cooperative Education: Mathematics Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-220 and MA-311 passed with a grade of C- or higher if a Math major
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Affords the student an opportunity to apply mathematical theory to practical work-related experience. Includes both academic and experiential components. Involves ten hours per week of work experience. The academic aspect includes a reflective journal and a written report; repeatable for credit. Departmental approval is required to take this course. MA-311 and MA-320, both passed with a grade of C- or higher are required, if a mathematics major; or MA-120 and MA-126, passed with a grade of C- or higher, if another major; a cumulative GPA of 2.00 and Junior or Senior standing.

MA-489 Internship in Mathematics Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in math; repeatable for credit. Departmental approval and Junior standing are required to take this course.

MA-498 Special Topics in Mathematics (400 Level) Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): MA-126 and MA-221 both passed with a grade of C- or higher and Junior standing
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in mathematics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MA-499 Independent Study in Mathematics Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent study in a topic not substantially treated in a regular mathematics course; for students with superior ability; weekly consultation required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Medical Laboratory Science (ML)

ML-411 Clinical Internship in Medical Laboratory Science I Credits: 16
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1, WT
First half of an intensive one-year clinical internship and training at an approved, partner medical institution in the requisite skills for a career in medical laboratory science. Practical experience in tests and procedures of hematology, histology, blood bank, clinical microscopy, clinical chemistry, bacteriology, parasitology, mycology, immunology, serology, radioisotopes, and related subjects. Limited to Medical Laboratory Science majors who have completed all other degree requirements.

ML-412 Clinical Internship in Medical Laboratory Science II Credits: 16
Prerequisite(s): ML-411
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Second half of an intensive one-year clinical internship and training at an approved, partner medical institution in the requisite skills for a career in medical laboratory science. Practical experience in tests and procedures of hematology, histology, blood bank, clinical microscopy, clinical chemistry, bacteriology, parasitology, mycology, immunology, serology, radioisotopes, and related subjects. Limited to Medical Laboratory Science majors who have completed all other degree requirements.
Monmouth Medical (MM)

MM-490  Experience in Clinical Medicine  Credits: 9
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Intensive, practical, first-hand experience in clinical medicine at Monmouth Medical Center. A comprehensive introduction to the skills required to practice medicine: excellent communication, critical reading of the literature, epidemiologic methods (disease patterns in populations), and understanding medicine as a human experience. The practicum consists of clinical observations, seminars, community service, discussion groups, and a research paper. This course is under the auspices of the Biology Department. Limited to Monmouth Medical Center Scholars with Junior standing. This is a pass/fail course.

Music (MU)

MU-REC  Senior Recital - Music Major  Credits: None
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Senior Recital - Music Major. This is a pass/fail course.

MU-101  Music Appreciation  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Development of insights into historically significant examples of Western vocal and instrumental music.

MU-140  Applied Music Industry I  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Students will be introduced to the modern music business ecosystem, find out how all facets of the evolving business function, and learn about the skills needed for a variety of diverse careers in the industry.

MU-145  Band I  Credits: 1
Course Type(s): AT
Instrumental experience in concert and stage band combinations to improve one's musicianship; public performances on campus and in the community; two concerts a year. May be taken for as many as eight semesters.

MU-146  Band II  Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
Instrumental experience in concert and stage band combinations to improve one's musicianship; public performances on campus and in the community; two concerts a year. May be taken for as many as eight semesters.

MU-147  Chorus I  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Training in choral music of various styles, in vocal technique, and in aspects of expressive performance; concert participation required. Each semester, new repertoire is advanced, making each course unique in its new content. May be taken for as many as eight semesters.

MU-148  Chorus II  Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
Training in choral music of various styles, in vocal technique, and in aspects of expressive performance; concert participation required. Each semester, new repertoire is advanced, making each course unique in its new content. May be taken for as many as eight semesters.

MU-150  Introduction to Piano  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Group instruction in piano with an emphasis on developing beginning skills in keyboard technique, music reading, harmonization, and performance of repertoire. Designed for students with little or no previous musical experience.

MU-151  Group Piano I  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Group instruction in piano with an emphasis on music reading, music theory, piano technique, harmonization, improvisation, and performance of repertoire. Designed for music majors and students with some previous musical experience.

MU-152  Group Piano II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MU-151
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
Group instruction in piano with an emphasis on more advanced music reading, music theory, piano technique, harmonization, improvisation, and performance of repertoire. Designed for students who would like to continue to develop the skills acquired in MU-151.

MU-156  Chamber Orchestra  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
The Monmouth University Chamber Orchestra is a small orchestral ensemble of strings with woodwinds, brass, and percussion that is designed to meet the needs of the Music and Theatre Department and public performances on campus and in the community. Each semester, new repertoire is advanced, making each course unique in its new content. May be taken for as many as eight semesters.

MU-157  Chamber Choir I  Credits: 1
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
The Monmouth University Chamber Chorus is an ensemble of sixteen to twenty-four auditioned singers who wish to extend their knowledge and skills in choral arts in a challenging musical setting. The repertoire for this ensemble requires a moderate/high degree of individual musicianship and mastery of specific singing techniques and period music interpretation. The group functions as a concert-ready and portable ensemble that responds to requests for particular types of venues, such as: sporting events, concert tours as a vehicle for a wider public performance experience with regard to public relations, meaningful connections with other academic institutions, and university recruitment. Each semester, new repertoire is advanced, making each course unique in its new content. Audition is required and registration is by the instructor. This course is repeatable for credit.
MU-158 Chamber Choir II
Prerequisite(s): MU-157
Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
A continuation of MU-157, the Monmouth University Chamber Chorus is an ensemble of sixteen to twenty-four auditioned singers who wish to extend their knowledge and skills in choral arts in a challenging musical setting. The repertoire for this ensemble requires a moderate/high degree of individual musicianship and a mastery of specific singing techniques and period music interpretation. The group functions as a concert-ready and portable ensemble that responds to requests for particular types of venues, such as: sporting events, lecture/presentations, dedications, special events, and graduation ceremonies. Additionally, the group will undertake periodic concert tours as a vehicle for a wider, public performance experience and with regard to public relations, meaningful connections with other academic institutions, and university recruitment. Each semester, new repertoire is advanced, making each course unique in its new content. Audition is required and registration is by instructor. This course is repeatable for credit.

MU-161 Group Instrument I
Credits: 2
Course Type(s): None
Designed to develop instrumental technique and repertoire; open to students who have some proficiency in strings, woodwinds, brass, or percussion.

MU-162 Group Instrument II
Credits: 2
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Designed to develop instrumental technique and repertoire; open to students who have some proficiency in strings, woodwinds, brass, or percussion.

MU-163 Group Strings
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Designed especially for music education students who are required to have some proficiency in group strings to meet state certification guidelines. Open to beginners only. Non-music majors may enroll by permission of the Department of Music and Theatre Arts.

MU-164 Group Woodwinds
Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
Designed especially for music education students who are required to have some proficiency in group woodwinds to meet state certification guidelines. Open to beginners only. Non-music majors may enroll by permission of the Department of Music and Theatre Arts.

MU-165 Group Brass
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Designed especially for music education students who are required to have some proficiency in group brass to meet state certification guidelines. Open to beginners only. Non-music majors may enroll by permission of the Department of Music and Theatre Arts.

MU-166 Group Percussion
Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
Designed especially for music education students who are required to have some proficiency in group percussion to meet state certification guidelines. Open to beginners only. Non-music majors may enroll by permission of the Department of Music and Theatre Arts.

MU-167 Introduction to Electronic Music
Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
Fundamentals of electronic music acquired through lectures, recordings, and hands-on use of electronic synthesizers.

MU-170 Electronic Music Composition
Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
A course designed for musicians who wish to compose and record music in a soundtrack, avant-garde, or classical genre. Students will be required to use university recording facilities.

MU-171 Group Voice I
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Fundamentals of technique and performance of song literature; voice production and principles of singing, including breath control, resonance, tone quality, diction, and pronunciation. Each semester, new repertoire is advanced, making each course unique in its new content.

MU-172 Group Voice II
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT
Fundamentals of technique and performance of song literature; voice production and principles of singing, including breath control, resonance, tone quality, diction, and pronunciation. Each semester, new repertoire is advanced, making each course unique in its new content.

MU-180 Applied Music: Jazz Piano
Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Weekly, fifty-minute private lessons in jazz piano; may be repeated for additional credits.

MU-181 Applied Music: Bass
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Weekly, fifty-minute private lessons in bass; may be repeated for additional credits.

MU-188 Fundamentals of Guitar
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
General music skills as applied to guitar playing; students develop left- and right-hand technique; introduction to basic repertoire and history of repertoire.

MU-190 Applied Music: Percussion
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Weekly, fifty-minute private lessons in percussion; may be repeated for additional credit.

MU-191 Applied Music: Voice
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Weekly, fifty-minute private lessons in voice; may be repeated for additional credit.

MU-192 Applied Music: Piano
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT
Weekly, fifty-minute private lessons in piano; may be repeated for additional credit.

<td>AT, GU</td>
<td>Provides an introductory survey of music in selected traditions and cultures in global perspective. It explores music both as a phenomenon of sound and a phenomenon of culture. It aims to familiarize students with music sound and music structure of different peoples, to help them appreciate music in its cultural context, to guide them in listening to music on a basic analytical level, and to give them a broad global view of music as a human activity/behavior with social functions and as artistic expression. Special attention is placed on how political, economic, social, and religious factors influence musical aesthetics and notions of identity among performers and audiences-all concerns of Ethnomusicology.</td>

MU-224 Global Popular Music
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): AT, GU
In the age of globalization and the Internet, popular music (music produced for commercial purposes and transmitted through mass media to a large audience) is an increasingly global phenomenon and can provide a unique perspective into the social, political, and economic conditions of various cultures around the world. This course introduces students to some of the popular musics from around the world through the perspective of ethnomusicology, the study of music and culture and the ways that they intersect and influence one another. Emphasis is placed on analyzing musical innovations, trends, and movements in relation to location, culture, counter-culture, and the social/geo-political climate. In doing so, this course draws upon geographical case studies of popular music (for example, Algerian Rai, K-Pop, Bollywood, Indonesian dangdut, or the Afrobeat of Fela Kuti) to view how historical, social, and political factors have influenced their development. These issues will be explored through directed reading and listening assignments, response papers, a mix tape project, and focused class presentations and discussions.

MU-227 Introducing the Beatles!
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): AT, HY
This course addresses the Beatles’ musical career in terms of their wide-ranging cultural and artistic influence. Particular attention will be devoted to examining their songs within the context of their composition and in terms of their place (and placement) on the band’s albums. In addition to investigating their biographical lives, we will discuss the Beatles’ overtly literary and textual intentions, especially their various attempts at irony, parody, and satire. This course's chronological design is arranged in order to capture the band’s artistic trajectory from two-track recording and the relatively primitive Please Please Me album through the sonic heights of Revolver, Sgt. Pepper’s Lonely Hearts Club Band, The White Album, and Abbey Road. The thrust of this course is interpretive in nature, with the Beatles’ songs and albums receiving considerable scrutiny in terms of their composition, production, and attendant musicianship. Developments in recording and instrument technology are germane to our understanding of the Beatles’ evolving aesthetic, as is the bandmates’ development as songwriters who eventually eschew issues associated with romance in order to address larger and more prescient subjects in their music such as loneliness, oppression, nostalgia, ethics, and redemption.

MU-240 Record Label Strategies
Prerequisite(s): MU-140 and MU-301.
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Students will be introduced to a variety of skills needed in the music industry. Each student will be required to complete specific, hands-on projects in preparation for a major internship off campus.

MU-241 Advanced Record Label Strategies
Prerequisite(s): MU-140, MU-240, and MU-301
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Students will be introduced to a variety of skills needed in the music industry. Each student will be required to complete a specific hands-on project as preparation for a major internship off campus. Limited to Music majors.

MU-254 Arts Administration and Concert Promotion
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Explore in-depth arts administration and management for a major Performing Arts Center, including concert promotion, operations and fundraising.

MU-290 Rock and Roll in American Culture
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Impact of rock and roll on American culture and music history; rock genres, including rockability, protest rock, blues-rock, punk, heavy metal, and rock and roll as a global phenomenon.

MU-291 Jazz in America
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): RE, WT
Musical and cultural overview of the jazz tradition in America, with special emphasis on Dixieland, swing, bop, and jazz fusion, and artists such as Louis Armstrong, Count Basie, Duke Ellington, Charlie Parker, and John Coltrane.

MU-292 Roots, Rock, Reggae
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): RE
A survey of Jamaican reggae music from its inception to the present. The music form's political, religious, and cultural connections will also be examined, as will the major works of reggae composers, such as Bob Marley, Jimmy Cliff, and Peter Tosh.

MU-298 Special Topics in Music (200 Level)
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in music to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

MU-299 Independent Study in Music
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a faculty member.

MU-301 The Business of Music
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the inner workings and business strategies of the music industry. In addition to an analysis of the recording arm of the industry, other areas such as concert production, management, media relations, and talent acquisition will also be examined.

MU-321 Music Theory III
Prerequisite(s): MU-221 and MU-222
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Music Theory III is the third semester of a sequential, two-year music theory curriculum. After a brief review of the material covered in Music Theory I (MU-221) and Advanced Theory and Harmony (MU-222), an introduction to the music materials and stylistic practices associated with nineteenth-century music is provided. Procedure will entail examining and working with melodic, rhythmic, harmonic, and structural elements found in the music being studied.
MU-322  Music Theory IV  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MU-221, MU-222, and MU-321
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Music Theory IV is the fourth semester of a sequential, two-year music theory curriculum. After a brief review of the material covered in Music Theory I (MU-221), Advanced Theory and Harmony (MU-222), and Music Theory III (MU-321), an introduction to the music materials, stylistic practices and the unique forms and approaches associated with twentieth-century music is provided. Procedure will entail examining and working with the melodic, rhythmic, harmonic, and structural elements found in the music being studied.

MU-326  Life and Work of Bruce Springsteen  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): AT, HY
The course explores Bruce Springsteen's musical career in terms of his wide-ranging cultural and artistic influence. Particular attention will be devoted to examining his songs within the context of their composition and in terms of their place (and placement) on his albums. In addition to investigating his biographical life, we will discuss his overly literary and political intentions as they evolve across the decades. This course's chronological design is arranged in order to capture Springsteen's artistic trajectory from his Greetings from Asbury Park, NJ and The Wild, The Innocent, and the E Street Shuffle albums through the creative heights of Born to Run, Darkness on the Edge of Town, The River, and Nebraska. The thrust of this course will be interpretive in nature, with Springsteen's songs and albums receiving considerable scrutiny in terms of their composition, production, and attendant musicianship. Particular attention will also be devoted to Springsteen's interactions with the music business, especially involving his management and the development of his career.

Nursing (NU)

NU-100 Technology and Health Informatics Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
Designed to provide an introduction to the computer technology used in health care and its impact on decision-making. Includes an overview of the basic computer skills required to process electronic information, the nature and types of health information available on the World Wide Web, the development of search skills associated with finding information, linking electronic information to health decision-making processes, ethical and social issues involving the use of technology, and identifying major issues in computer and Internet security. Also listed as HE-100.

NU-201 Foundations of Nursing Practice I Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): BY-111, BY-112, CE-109, NU-205, and NU-311 all passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-201L, NU-201P, NU-206, and NU-312.
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an introduction to the practice of nursing. Emphasis is placed on the knowledge and skills needed to provide safe, quality care. The theoretical foundation for basic assessment and nursing skills is presented, and the student is given an opportunity to demonstrate these skills in a clinical/laboratory setting. Students are introduced to the nursing process as a framework for the development of decision-making and clinical judgement skills. For Nursing majors only.

NU-201L Nursing I Lab Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-201 and NU-201P
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Communication skills, the nursing process and medical mathematical calculations are areas of development. Methods for interpretation of medical orders, calculation of safe medications dosing and preparation, and administration of medications will be emphasized. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-201P Nursing I Practicum Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-201
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn the didactic content and apply the associated nursing skills during the clinical experience in the medical setting with live patients. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-202 Nursing II Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-201, NU-205, and NU-312 all passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-202L and NU-202P
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Professional nursing care for individuals and their significant others experiencing acute and/or chronic illness is emphasized. Students continue to develop skills in nursing diagnosis, problem solving, decision-making and critical thinking skills in caring for adult and geriatric patients. The nursing process is applied in caring for adult/geriatric patients and their significant others across health care settings such as the hospital, end of life facilities, and home care. There is a weekly lab and practicum component with this course. A minimum grade of C+ is required in this course to continue to NUOB-203 and NUPD-203.

NU-202L Medical Surgical Nursing I Lab Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-202 and NU-202P
Course Type(s): None
Fundational clinical experiences help students to develop plans and implement strategies for health promotion, risk reduction, health maintenance, rehabilitation, injury prevention and treatment of acute and complex health issues of adult and geriatric patients from diverse backgrounds. Critical thinking and evidence-based practice are introduced for students to formulate differential diagnoses, clinical impressions, nursing diagnoses for treatment and evaluation of care provided to adult and geriatric patients. Clinical opportunities are provided to deliver safe, legal, and ethical care for adult and geriatric patients in a variety of clinical settings. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-202P Nursing II Practicum Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-202
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will build upon their foundational experience with live patients in the hospital setting. Basic nursing skills will be expanded and focus is on the adult geriatric patient in a variety of students’ clinical settings. Involvement with the live patients in the actual medical setting provide students with experiential knowledge and builds their confidence. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-205 Pathophysiology Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-111 and BY-112, both passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Concepts for anatomy, physiology, and chemistry courses provide the foundation for exploring human dysfunction across the lifespan. Emphasis is placed on the relationship of health patterns of major body systems to changes that occur during the illness experience. Major pathophysiologic concepts are explored using a symptom-based approach that focuses on the most common diagnoses encountered in the clinical setting. Theories relation etiology, pathogenesis, and clinical manifestations are used to study common disease processes. Concepts learned in this course are fundamental to nursing practice. A minimum grade of C+ in this course is required to continue to NU-206.
NU-206 Introduction to Pharmacology for Nurses  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-205 and NU-311 both passed with a grade of C+ or higher
Co-requisite(s): NU-201 and NU-312
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an introduction to the principles of pharmacology, including pharmacokinetics, pharmacodynamics, medication interactions and potential adverse reactions. Emphasis is placed on drug classifications and nursing care related to the safe administration of medication to patients. A minimum grade of C+ is required in this course.

NU-307 Medical Surgical Nursing II  Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-308 and NU-202 passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-307P and NU-492.
Course Type(s): None
This course focuses on the care of adult patients with complex medical/surgical health problems. Emphasis is placed on helping patients and their families cope with alterations in body functions. Concepts of pharmacology, health promotion and education, evidence-based practice, and interdisciplinary collaboration will be integrated throughout the course. Clinical experiences provide the student with an opportunity to apply theoretical concepts and implement safe patient care to patients and selected groups in a variety of settings.

NU-307P Medical Surgical Nursing II Practicum  Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-307
Course Type(s): None
This course focuses on the care of adult patients with complex medical/surgical health problems. Emphasis is placed on helping patients and their families cope with alterations in body functions. Concepts of pharmacology, health promotion and education, evidence based practice, and interdisciplinary collaboration will be integrated throughout the course. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-308 Maternal, Pediatric, and Newborn Nursing  Credits: 6
Prerequisite(s): NU-201, NU-206, and NU-312 all passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-202 and NU-308P
Course Type(s): None
This course provides an integrative, family-centered approach to the care of mothers, newborns, and children. Emphasis is placed on normal and high-risk pregnancies, normal growth and development, family dynamics, pediatrics disorders and the promotion of healthy behaviors in patients. Clinical experiences provide the student with an opportunity to apply theoretical concepts and implement safe patient care to mothers, newborns, and children.

NU-308P Maternal, Pediatric, and Newborn Nursing Practicum  Credits: None
Co-requisite(s): NU-308
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Students will learn the didactic content and apply the associated nursing skills during the clinical experience in the medical setting with live patients. This is a pass/fail course.

NU-311 Issues and Trends in Professional Nursing  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101 and EN-102
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
The course introduces the student to the art and science of nursing by exploring the historical role of the nurse as a professional practitioner and member of the interprofessional health care team. Nursing theories are introduced with emphasis on the nursing process as a framework for designing and delivering nursing care. Quality and safety education for nursing (QSEN) competencies, ethical issues, cultural influences are discussed globally. Emerging roles are evaluated in relation to changing healthcare delivery systems. Standards of practice are referenced in the analysis of professional nursing during this and all subsequent nursing courses. The roles of critical thinking and therapeutic communication in the development of safe nursing practice are explored.

NU-312 Individual Health Assessment  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): NU-205 passed with a grade of C+ or higher.
Co-requisite(s): NU-201 and NU-206
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
This course provides a framework for preparing students to perform comprehensive health assessments on patients in a variety of settings. Emphasis is placed on taking a thorough nursing history, performing physiological, psychological, sociological, cultural, and spiritual assessments, as well as identification of stressors and health risks. Laboratory/clinical experiences provide an opportunity to practice assessment skills on adult and older adult live and/or simulated patients. Malpractice insurance is required to take this class. Prerequisite: NU-205 passed with a grade of C+ or higher.

NU-324 Human Sexuality  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GS, NU.EL
An introductory course designed to provide the student with a factual background as well as an in-depth understanding of his or her own and others' sexuality and how it affects health. An examination of urban legends from multiple perspectives.

PR-437  Perspectives on the Human Experiences: Family Violence  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
Designed as an interactive seminar course that engages students in interactive discussions and experiential exercises related to understanding and working with families who have experienced violence, including both survivors and perpetrators. The impact of culture on family violence across intergenerational family members (e.g., children, parents, and grandchildren) and diverse populations and settings are thoroughly reviewed. Students learn a strengths-based empowerment approach and application of resiliency theory to assessment, prevention, intervention planning, and evaluation of individuals, families, and communities impacted by abuse and violence.

PR-438  Nature of the Self: East and West  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
A comparative study of Asian and Western theories about the nature and definition of self using an interdisciplinary approach - philosophy, religion, and history.

PR-439  Interdisciplinary Perspective on Social Business  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
Micro-credit has become one of the most successful social business interventions in addressing poverty in the developing world. As a successful initiative, it is now traveling from the developing world to the developed world. Addresses the historical, philosophical, and theoretical underpinnings of social business, and will explore in an interdisciplinary approach the ethical and social issues related to social business. Social business, itself, is cross-disciplinary, providing a basis for working together, transcending our differences across disciplinary lines, and envisioning creating a world without poverty.

PR-441  Countercultures in American History  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
Explores countercultures in the United States from multiple-disciplinary perspectives including history, literature, and sociology. Elements from philosophy and psychology will also be included. The course will show that the counterculture in the 1960's was just one historical manifestation of American historical movements that are anti-authoritarian and espouse personal and/or societal transformation/regeneration. By examining different groups, the course will show that countercultures have a legacy of change in American society.

PR-442  Modern Images, Irrational Thought  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
Philosophy from the time of Plato has been an evolution of ideas, one set replaced by another, in a dialogue that changes from what has become accepted as normal to an ever changing view derived from rational thought as it relates to the present and the projected future. As in Philosophy, Art has a cyclical evolution; 1) an initial intuitive leap of newness, 2) a refinement and loosely agreed upon normalcy and 3) a stage, for lack of better description, "istic" where nothing new is brought about and contributors either branch out or embellish what they can't penetrate with a new leap. Through the two main disciplines of Art and Philosophy, the course will investigate changes in rationality in the late nineteenth Century and trace their movements and influences into the twenty-first.

PR-443  ESP, Yesterday and Today  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
From the first Paleolithic Shaman to Madam Marie on the Boardwalk in the twenty-first Century, civilizations have been fascinated by visionaries, mediums, psychics, and those who claim to channel entities from alternative realities. Clairvoyance, Telepathy, Astral Projection, and Psychokinesis are all part of the hidden, or sixth sense referred to as Telesthesia. The idea has surfaced and influenced mankind from Egyptian Soothsayers, the Oracle of Delphi, Revelations in the Bible, Nostradamus, Madam Blavatsky, Edgar Cayce, and as recently as Jane Roberts in the late twentieth century and is taking modern form in the concept of The New Age. Through the main disciplines of History and Psychology, this course will investigate the ever-changing social attitudes and beliefs concerning Extra Sensory Perception from the cave dwellers to the modern carnival.
PR-444 Leadership, Public Health, and Higher Education Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
The disciplines represented in this course are Education and Health Studies. Content focuses on problems, including social and ethical issues, encountered by leaders in Higher Education and Public Health. Topics will include leadership theories, practice, and evaluation. Prepares students to identify problems, research solutions, implement plans, and evaluate results that advance the mission of non-profit organizations committed to improving public health and institutions of Higher Education. Emphasis will be placed on issues involved in Higher Education and Public Health.

PR-445 Spike Lee and the Black Aesthetic in Perspective Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
An examination of race, gender, sexuality, and class in the cinematic representations developed by Spike Lee in connection with African-American aesthetic values. Spike Lee has been classified by many as the most important (and certainly most successful) African-American filmmaker in American history. The often controversial productions of Lee have been extensively examined by critics and scholars since his first film "She's Gotta Have It" was released. This class will consider various "Spike Lee Joints" from multiple perspectives including history, communication studies, sociology, and gender studies. We will critically examine Lee's work within the broad historical framework of African-American cultural history and in terms of his engagement with controversial social, political, and economic issues in American society in these films. The Lee films will also be analyzed for the aestheticization of larger historical, cultural, and social aspects of U.S. society. The two main disciplines utilized in the course include history and communication studies.

PR-446 The Confessional Poets: Surviving Madness Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
An exploration of the works of key figures in the confessional style of contemporary American poetry. These poets suffered multiple levels of mental anguish and used confessional poetry to share and heal their suffering, as they attempted to survive their lives.

PR-447 A Graphic World: Sequential Art and World History Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
An interdisciplinary course that will use the perspectives of historical, literary, and artistic analysis to examine important themes such as, but not limited to, nationalism, inequality, industrialization, war, religion, or cultural diffusion, through the medium of the graphic novel.

PR-448 Ecocriticism and Medieval England Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
An ecocritical study of historical documents and literary texts in medieval England.

PR-449 The Helping Professions in Film and Media Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
Provides students an opportunity to look at ethical and social issues from a multidisciplinary perspective. Looks at the helping professions (for example: teachers, counselors, and medical professions), how the codes of ethics for these professions are similar but different, and how these professions have been villainized and romanticized in film.

PR-451 Ethnic and Religious Conflicts and Their Political Implications Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
Examines the relationship between ethnicity, nationalism and violence. Focus will be on the formation and the causes that ignite ethnic conflicts. Discussion of the political tools and strategies to manage them as well as the role of international communities in preventing and resolving these conflicts. To understand the international implications of the ethnic conflict we shall examine examples from around the world but we shall focus mainly on five cases: Yugoslavia, Rwanda, Ireland, Russia, and Palestine.

PR-452 and its Role in Modern Society and its Role in Modern Society Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
Designed to allow students to examine Theatre in intense and very specific ways using and examining the literature and visual arts aspects of theatre. The course content will focus on the Summer season of the Shadow Lawn Stage or an appropriate selection of plays during the academic year. Students will not only discuss in class the plays being performed, but will also have the experience of watching them being designed, constructed, and rehearsed.

PR-453 Censoring Culture: Banned and Burned in the USA Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
An interdisciplinary study of censorship in modern America. Utilizing the combined methodologies of history and literary criticism, broadly construed to include feminist and cultural theory, it will explore specific instances of censorship in art, literature and history in twentieth- and twenty-first-century American culture. It will focus on the "reading" of censored texts, novels, paintings, photographs, newspapers and film as cultural artifacts and probe the nuances and boundaries of freedom of speech and expression in a democratic society.

PR-454 Word and Image Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
Explores the relationship between the two basic modes of representation in our culture - words and pictures. The interaction between the two will be investigated historically and theoretically through a close examination of a variety of media, from books and posters to comics and Web sites. Emphasis is on the power of word-image representations to define social and ethical concerns and also shape our lives, as well as on the beauty of some works of "composite art" created by poets and artists, from William Blake to Art Spiegelman.
PR-456  Right Wing Extremism in Europe  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ISP
Presents a comparative analysis of several far-right organizations in Western Europe as well as the characteristics of the right wing extremism in Eastern Europe. The course will identify the causes that led to the popularity of these groups, sub-culture of the skin-heads and the neo-Nazi and the attitude of the far right groups in Eastern Europe towards the Roma population. We shall also analyze their consequences for the political stability and democracy in the European Union.

PR-457  Issues in Cognitive Science  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ISP
Focuses on a number of key ideas about mental representations (e.g., logic, rules, concepts, and analogies) and contrasts how work in psychology (e.g., building computational models) helps us to evaluate their suitability as models of the human mind and of the nature of intelligence in general. Cognitive Science is an inherently interdisciplinary approach to the study of the mind and intelligence, drawing upon work in philosophy, psychology, artificial intelligence, neuroscience, linguistics and anthropology. The course will touch on many of these areas, but the focus is work in the disciplines of psychology and artificial intelligence. The course will also cover the ethical implications of work in cognitive science.

PR-458  The Meaning of Meaning  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ISP
Focuses on the various perspectives about meaning that have developed in the philosophical literature and their applications to actual language use as uncovered by linguists and anthropologists. Efforts to understand the meaning of meaning have been carried out in a variety of disciplines: philosophy, psychology, literary studies, artificial intelligence, linguistics and anthropology. Although the course will touch on many of these areas, the focus is on the work in the disciplines of philosophy, linguistics, and anthropology. The course will also cover the social and ethical implications of the different approaches to the meaning of meaning.

PR-459  The Science and Politics of Climate Change  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP; SUS
Earth's climate has changed in the past and will change in the future; however, current climate science describes a rate of climate change expected in the next hundred years that is similar to those experienced during mass extinctions in the past. This rate of change implies emergency conditions for most living creatures including man, and a need for urgent action if human caused contributions to climate change are to be stopped or slowed. This course will examine the science and politics of climate change with an emphasis on understanding the physical science behind climate change, the biological impacts of changing climate in a variety of biomes, suggested political and physical remediation and the political consequences of suggested remediation. This course will also examine the actions of certain lobbyists, political parties, and multinational corporations and their impacts on the politics of climate change.

PR-460  How Technology Affects Values  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
The correlation of values to technology; conceptualization of the interrelationships among science, technology, values, and society. Preparing to understand technical innovation, the impact of technical innovations on the quality of life, and the need for critical evaluation of societal matters involving the consequences of technology. The disciplines represented include History and Sociology.

PR-461  The Great Recession and its Effect on Society  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
The Great Recession officially began in December 2007 and ended in June 2009. The severity and extended duration of the second biggest economic downturn in history have inflicted long-lasting damage on individuals, families, and communities. This course will explore the historical sequence of events, similarities with the Great Depression, business and government decisions, and the theoretical underpinnings culminating in the Great Recession. Emphasis is given to the evaluation of the aftermath- the severe adverse effect on society! The course explores economics, decision-making, ethics, political and social issues - knowledge essential to the intellectual development of future leaders.

PR-462  Palestinian-Israeli Relations  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
Palestinian-Israeli relations are critically examined within the historical, political, postcolonial, and ethical contexts of Arab-Jewish and Arab-Israeli relations. The dual-narrative method is used, as are several documentaries and films that represent the perspectives of both Palestinians and Israelis. These are studied to understand how and why filmmakers portray Palestinian-Israeli relations the way they do and how these cinematic works challenge our conceptions of reality. History, political science, ethics, and film studies will be joined to provide an interdisciplinary perspective on the relations between Palestinians and Israelis.

PR-463  Dissent in America  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ISP
An interdisciplinary survey of the core American value of dissent. Students will read and interpret the evolution of dissent in America since colonial times. The focus will be on why dissent occurs and its impact on America. Students will examine this topic through a diverse range of disciplines such as history, political science, and sociology. With lecture providing background and context followed by class discussion, self-reflection and critical comparative analysis will be utilized. Students will be active participants through the use of Bloom’s assessing outcomes.
PR-464 American Popular Culture and Beatles  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
Explores the relationship between American popular culture and the Beatles from the perspectives of the disciplines of History and Communication, with a special emphasis on cultural studies, political economy, issues of authenticity, and reception theory. In this course, students will examine the ways in which American popular culture influenced the life and times of the Beatles and, in turn, the impact the Beatles had upon American popular culture. The course will trace not only the American musical influences on the Beatles, but also the role played by television, films, and the mass media both on the Beatles and the changing cultural landscape in the United States and Britain in the 1950s and 1960s. This course fulfills the Interdisciplinary Perspectives General Education Requirement.

PR-465 Music and Religion  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): AT, ISP
This course explores the relationship between music and religion from a global perspective, examining ideas, values, and practices of music and sound in various religions and spiritual traditions around the world. In addition to learning about the music-cultures (context, instruments, repertoire, etc.) that coincide with various religious traditions, students will be encouraged to consider how worldview and ideology lead to differing perceptions of musical meaning, performance, form, symbolism, and the importance of sound, generally. This survey covers the most prominent world religions (Hinduism, Buddhism, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam) and their denominations, as well as Central Asian Shamanism, Japanese Shinto rituals, and religious traditions of Native Americans. Syncretic religious practices in the Americas, including, African American gospel music, Brazilian Candomblé, Cuban Santeria, Haitian Voodoo, and Jamaican Rastafarianism are also presented to examine global issues such as colonization, transculturation, and the localization of culture and religion. Drawing upon academic articles, indigenous texts, musical recordings, and videos, students can expect to be introduced to a number of theoretical dimensions that arise within studies of music and religion globally. Also listed as RS-465.

PR-467 Eco-Self: The Human-Nature Relationship  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): ISP
This course brings together eco-art, environmental writing and the newer, and often contested, field of eco-psychology to deepen our understanding of the human/nature relationship. Using the tradition of the "field journal", students will become amateur naturalists and use the creative arts, close observation, and critical thinking to better understanding their own relationship with nature, learn more about a place site of their choosing, and investigate larger societies’ relationship with nature.

PR-468 Fictional Politics in Literature, Film, and Television  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
An examination of the role of fictional depictions of politics in the ways that people develop a lens through which they view political power. Authors and media creators use their creative products to make arguments about politics. Through close readings of novels, film, and television shows we will look at the ways that culture depicts American politics and the effects of those depictions. We will use the theories and methods of several disciplines including political science and communication (rhetoric and media criticism).

PR-469 Mind Over Matter  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
Will provide students with an overview of two conflicting explanations of how the mind works to define the universe, the interactions of mind/body in relation to the 21st Century, and consideration of ethical and social issues.

PR-470 War and Peace  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
An exploration of the forces leading toward war and peace in our century. Through literature, history, and sociology, the course looks at the dynamics of the two world wars, the development and use of nuclear weapons and the subsequent arms race, and rapidly evolving, current situations, such as the dissolution of the Soviet Union, tensions in the Middle East, and the role of the United States in the "New World Order." The disciplines represented in the course include Literature, History, and Sociology.

PR-471 The Historical Novel  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ISP
Explores the history of the historical novel from Sir Walter Scott to the present and the impact that historical novels have on the way in which we perceive the past. Students will examine the ways in which the authors of historical novels are influenced by the times in which they are writing and the dynamic relationship between the times of the author and the historical period about which he or she is writing. The course will also trace developments in both history and literature that have contributed to the evolution of the historical novel in the past two centuries.

PR-472 Management Lessons Through the Arts and Literature  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Course Type(s): ISP
Bridges business management with the arts and literature. Students will explore the link between management practices and some of the great works of literature, theatre, poetry, music, art, architecture, photography, film, and television.
PR-473  Twentieth Century Psychoanalysis  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
Psychoanalysis has been one of the most influential and controversial traditions in 20th century and contemporary thought. What began as a method for healing psychic neuroses in suffering patients has developed into a philosophical paradigm for conceptualizing the human condition. Ironically banished from a meaningful place in psychology departments, psychoanalysis has found willing disciples in literature, sociology, philosophy and mostly left-wing politics. Yet, psychoanalysis has been adopted as an interpretative framework by both rightists and leftists, by conservatives and liberals alike. The interdisciplinary nature of psychoanalysis makes it fruitful for a humanities-oriented perspective course. This class concentrates on the intersection of psychoanalysis with literature and philosophy. It seeks to study the cultural and social significance of psychoanalysis through the material impact of literature and philosophy.

PR-481  Applied Rationality  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ISP
The most powerful ability a person can have is the ability to think effectively. As humans, we are subject to an overwhelming variety of cognitive biases and other limitations to our reasoning powers; however, lying in the multidisciplinary nexus of the behavioral sciences and probability theory, there are tools for overcoming these limits. Come and proactively engage with the unseen forces that work upon us and through hands-on-activities, writing, and in-depth readings, become a more effective, indeed more rational, thinker.

PR-483  Cold War Perspectives  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): ISP
An interdisciplinary study of the ethical dilemmas of the Cold War, considering approaches from history, the social sciences, literature, and the arts.

PR-487  The Story of the Book  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
This course explores the history of the book and its timeless presence as one of the world’s greatest and enduring inventions. From the perspectives of the disciplines of English, History, and Library Science, a holistic emphasis is placed on the book, which extends from its materiality and its cultural and historical impact, to concepts of textual originality and authenticity. Students will examine and learn about the earliest examples of portable writing-from scrolls and Roman codices to the early days of Gutenberg and onward to new developments such as the graphic novel and the artist book. This course fulfills the Interdisciplinary Perspectives General Education Requirement.

PR-490  Revolution and Creative Response  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of seventy-five credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): ISP
Revolution and Creative Response will study three revolutions: the Industrial Revolution, the Soviet Revolution, and the South African Revolution - the historical conditions, the critical events, and the central people. It will then analyze how certain artists responded or reacted to these. Combines elements of history and textual analysis (the methods used in the study of literature or film).

PR-498  Special Topics in Perspectives (400 Level)  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of eighty-seven credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in perspectives to be announced prior to registration.

An examination of great philosophical works from several cultural traditions. The course uses original works from Western, Indian, and Chinese civilizations to focus on philosophical approaches to a cluster of "great issues" while putting the philosophers and their works in historical context.

Critical investigation of some of the critical ideas and arguments that have been defended and promoted by thinkers in a variety of cultures. Open only to students in the Honors Program.

Investigation of questions about the concepts of language, meaning, and understanding. Consideration of some of the major contributions on these and related concepts.

Existentialism is about what it means to be an individual who has to create a meaning for his or her own life. Establish the context for existentialism within the history of philosophy as a whole, but also consider the impact that existentialist ideas have generally had in literature, art, and culture.

Explore the nature of ethical problems and theories through philosophy and literature.

An introduction to philosophy using films in conjunction with traditional readings. Study some of the most important questions in the history of philosophy, such as: the nature of reality and its relationship to appearances, the nature of the self, human and artificial intelligence, the possibility of freedom, the nature of ethics, and the theory of meaning.

Comparative study of the philosophical assumptions underlying significant Western conceptions of social order and community.

Students will explore the history of Christianity through some of its most provocative and significant "turning points." They will study both the historical context and the intellectual particulars of theological and philosophical debates over the origins of the universe, the humanity of Jesus Christ, the formation of the biblical canon, the nature of religious reformation, the nature of God, and the role of religion in public life. Also listed as RS-212.

Introduction to the fundamental elements of the orthodox and non-orthodox philosophical and religious systems of India. Highlights plurality of timeless distinct gnostic systems that, having discovered the "Self," search for liberation from the stream of time. Also listed as RS-216.

A study of philosophical theories of love and friendship from the time of classical Greece to the twentieth century.

The beginning of philosophical speculation in Ionia, its golden age in Athens, the Roman interlude, and the flourish and decline of medieval philosophy.

An introduction to some of the most important principles of informal logic. Topics include: concepts, classification, definitions, propositions, argument structure, diagramming arguments, explanation, and fallacies.

Students are introduced to the fundamental differences and similarities of world religions that, throughout history, were and are at war with each other. Highlights a plurality of distinct creeds that, postulating an Absolute Truth, search to regain that Ultimate Reality through various ways of life or moral codes. Also listed as RS-277.

An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in philosophy to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.
PE-142 Pilates
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): FIT
Students will apply the principles of Pilates exercises to improve the strength, flexibility and endurance of the core muscles. Consistent Pilates exercise practice will help to improve posture, balance, and coordination; relieve pain and tension; and enhance athletic performance. Students will learn and practice the proper form and technique for a variety of Pilates exercises. Emphasis will be placed on proper body alignment, mind-body awareness and exercise safety. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Fitness (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.

PE-143 Endurance Running
Course Type(s): FIT
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Working together to develop and achieve individual endurance running goals while cultivating a life-long love of running in a low-stress, social atmosphere. Pre- and post-run discussions focus on select topics about the history, science, and culture of running. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Fitness (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.

PE-144 Tai Chi
Course Type(s): FIT
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Students will improve health, mental focus and overall well-being through the practice of QiGong and T’ai Chi. Often called "meditation in motion," this ancient Chinese form of exercise blends graceful flowing movements with breathing and relaxation techniques. Students will learn proper form and technique for a variety of movements, eventually combining them into a simplified adaptation of the Yang Short form of T’ai Chi. Particular emphasis will be placed on the use of T’ai Chi and QiGong to reduce stress and anxiety. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Fitness (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.

PE-156 Aerobics
Course Type(s): FIT
Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Learn and practice low- and high-impact aerobic activities. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Fitness (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.

PE-161 Self Defense
Course Type(s): PERF
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Designed to give the student an opportunity to experience physical activity through martial arts training at an introductory level. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Individual-Performance Activities (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.

PE-163 Weight Training
Course Type(s): FIT
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Students will develop and practice an individualized, weight-training program using free weights and resistance machines. Proper training techniques, exercise safety and improvement of health and fitness will be emphasized. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Fitness (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. To pass the course, students must earn the specified amount of points required in three evaluation categories: participation, performance assessment, and a teaching episode.

PE-198 Special Topics in Physical Education
Course Type(s): None
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
An intensive study of a particular subject in physical education to be announced prior to registration. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

PE-199 Independent Study in Physical Education
Course Type(s): None
Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Focus on an area in Physical Education under the direction of a Physical Education faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PE-201 First Aid/CPR/AED Certification
Course Type(s): PERF
Credits: 2
Term Offered: All Terms
Safety problems that affect the individual, the community, and the nation: a standard course in first aid, including adult, child, and infant First Aid/CPR/AED. If the student attends all courses, properly performs all required skills and passes all written examinations, the student will earn the American Red Cross Adult/Child/Infant First Aid/CPR/AED Certification. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Individual-Performance Activities (Individual). This is a pass/fail course.

PE-203 Instructional Strategies in Physical Education and Health
Course Type(s): HEPE
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
This course is designed to introduce future professionals to effective teaching strategies and skills within the context of physical education and health. Grounded by national and state teaching standards, this course emphasizes academic language, curricular models, instructional styles, short- and long-term planning and implementation, instructional and managerial skills reflective practices, and professional responsibility. Lecture sessions are focused upon conceptual foundations of teaching physical education and health. Laboratory sessions devoted to "hands-on," practical applications and observational assessment of lecture concepts in a controlled environment with peers and children.

PE-215 Fitness Concepts and Measurements
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
A comprehensive study of fitness components to include scientific principles and practical applications of exercise to promote a healthy lifestyle. Particular emphasis will be placed on the analysis of personal fitness in regards to fitness components, and will lead to the creation and implementation of a personalized exercise program. Delivered in a lecture/practical performance format.
PE-222  International Outdoor Adventure Education  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): FLT, GU, HE.EL, HEPE, OUTDR
This faculty-led study abroad course is designed to introduce students to a variety of outdoor adventure activities in foreign countries while promoting cultural and global understanding. Lecture sessions at Monmouth University in the beginning of the course will highlight content knowledge related to outdoor adventure education, the theories and best practices for developing an outdoor adventure program, and students will explore their individual and collective responsibilities through analytical, practical, or creative responses to issues facing a globally interconnected society. While abroad, students will experience and reflect upon similarities and differences between a host of issuers (i.e., customs, norms, historical influences, language, religion, standard of living, food, art, music, dance, etc.) within the United States and the destination country. Students will describe how they see themselves within the context of that diversity and explore opportunities to interact in a global world. Student must pay additional travel expenses. This course also counts as a Physical Activity Skills Course. Skills Course: Outdoor Pursuits (Individual).

PE-290  Open Water Scuba Certification Course  Credits: 2
Course Type(s): MEBP, OUTDR
The Open Water Scuba Certification course entails completion of the Professional Association of Diving Instructors (PADI) Open Water Diver course, the world's most popular scuba course. Completion of this course leads to PADI scuba certification as an open water diver. This course is a physical activity skills course. Skills course: Outdoor Pursuits (Individual). This is a pass/fail course. Limited to 8 students. Also listed as BY-290.

PE-310  Sport and Exercise Psychology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101, EN-102, and PY-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE, WT
Explores the psychological determinants and consequences of physical activity, with an emphasis on psychological factors relevant to enhancing sport performance. Students will also analyze key theories in exercise psychology in order to understand exercise's influence on psychological health outcomes.

PE-320  Exercise Physiology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-111 or BY-211 and BY-112 or BY-212 and 3 credits from subject MA except MA-050, MA-100 and MA-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL
A scientific foundation for understanding the physiological response and adaptation to exercise training. A comprehensive study of basic theories and practical applications of exercise physiology principles to physical education and sports performance. Focus on metabolic, cardiovascular-respiratory, neuromuscular-skeletal and endocrine systems as they relate to acute and chronic responses to exercise. Environmental concerns, cardiovascular disease risk factors and the immune response to exercise.

PE-330  Biomechanics and Kinesiology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-105 or higher and BY-111 or BY-211 and BY-112 or BY-212
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL
Introduction to the major principles of biomechanics, providing students with foundational knowledge that allows for the systematic analysis of human movement. Emphasis is placed on analyzing key forces and movement in the context of sport and exercise.

PE-340  Motor Development and Learning  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-111, BY-112 and 3 credits in Math except MA-050, MA-100, MA-101 or MA-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL
Introduces students to the fundamental concepts of motor learning and development changes in human movement that occur over the lifespan. Basic research findings and applications of general human growth principles are discussed in relation to the development and acquisition of motor skills. Emphasis will also be placed on theoretical foundations for understanding motor learning principles that can be applied to the teaching and learning of physical activities.

PE-350  School-Based Physical Activity  Credits: 4
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): EX3, HE.EL, HEPE
This experiential education service learning course is designed to introduce students to best practices for promoting physical activity in school-based programs in accordance with theoretical frameworks and empirical evidence associated with movement competencies, physical activity engagement, and prosocial skills for children. Lecture sessions will highlight pedagogical content knowledge related to the facilitation of standards-based, developmentally-appropriate developmentally-appropriate physical activity opportunities for children. Service learning sessions will provide opportunities for students to apply content via planning and facilitating physical activity in a school-based program.

PE-351  Prevention and Care of Athletic Injuries  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
Basic information and skills for the care and prevention of athletic injuries.

PE-360  Principles of Coaching  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, HEPE
A comprehensive introduction to the principles, knowledge, and skills that support effective coaching decisions and actions. This course combines national standards, sport science theory and research findings, with practical knowledge and best practices of expert coaches related to the five essential categories of coaching education and professional practice. An emphasis will be placed on the principles of coaching, behavior, teaching, physical training, and management. Ten hours of volunteer/observation are required in a local youth sport environment which can be completed across weekdays and weekends.

PE-389  Internship in Health and Physical Education  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised, pre-professional field experience in health and physical education. The student will secure an internship site related to his/her interests and career goals. Potential internship sites include health and fitness clubs, community wellness agencies, coaching opportunities, hospitals, corporations, and private services. The student will work 50 hours per credit per term at his/her internship site. Students are required to obtain a faculty sponsor, develop learning objectives at the start of their internship, keep a journal of their internship activities throughout their placement, and write a final paper reflecting upon their internship experience. Also listed as HE-389. This is a pass/fail course. Junior standing (and others by permission of a faculty advisor), placement opportunity and approval by the Health and Physical Education Department are required to take this course. Limited to Physical Education majors only. Satisfies the Experiential Education General Education requirement.
PE-398  Special Topics in Physical Education  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in physical education to be announced prior to registration. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

PE-399  Independent Study in Physical Education  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physical Education faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PE-410  Exercise Testing and Prescription  Credits: 4
Prerequisite(s): HE-101, PE-320 and PE-330
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HEPE
Provides the foundation of knowledge and skills necessary for assessing the health and physical fitness profile and developing effective exercise programs for healthy individuals and those with controlled chronic diseases.

PE-411  Adapted Physical Education and Health  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): CD, HE.EL, HEPE
This course introduces students to best practices for teaching individuals with disabilities skills related to health and physical education. Provides basic information on disabling conditions and on how to provide adapted physical education and health programs based upon an individual’s assessed needs. It will also introduce students to best teaching practices for providing access to physical education and health curriculum for students with disabilities in inclusive settings. A clinical experience is an integral part of the course providing in school settings to gain practical experience in screening and assessment; identification, selection, and prescription of appropriate exercise programs and in teaching health to students with disabilities. Travel to and from the clinical site is the responsibility of the students.

PE-489  Internship in Health and Physical Education  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Summer Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised, pre-professional field experience in health and physical education. The student will secure an internship site related to his/her interests and career goals. Potential internship sites include health and fitness clubs, community wellness agencies, coaching opportunities, hospitals, corporations, and private services. The student will work 50 hours per credit per term at his/her internship site. Students are required to obtain a faculty sponsor, develop learning objectives at the start of their internship, keep a journal of their internship activities throughout their placement, and write a final paper reflecting upon their internship experience. Limited to Physical Education majors only. Satisfies the Experiential Education General Education Requirement. This is a pass/fail course.

PE-499  Independent Study in Physical Education  Credits: 1-3
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physical Education faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Physics (PH)

PH-101  Physics in Our Lives  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Presents major concepts and methodologies in physics and their importance in today's society. Introduction to principles of physics and their applications to today's technology using lectures and demonstration.

PH-103  The Physics of Sound and Music  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Presents the topics of sound and music from a physics point of view. Covered topics are harmonic motion, waves (both traveling and standing), the human voice and ear, the production of music and musical scales and the physics of several representative instruments.

PH-105  Physics for the Life Sciences I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): MA-101 or MA-109 or MA-115 or higher Math courses passed with grade of C- or higher.
Co-requisite(s): PH-105L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An introduction to classical physics intended primarily for students majoring in the life sciences. Topics include: mechanics, dynamics, heat, electricity, magnetism, and optics.

PH-105L  Physics for the Life Sciences Laboratory I  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): PH-105
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work to complement PH-105. Experiments in the fields of statics, dynamics, energy, momentum, heat, sound, electricity, magnetism, optics, and spectroscopy. Three hours per week.

PH-106  Physics for the Life Sciences II  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PH-105 and PH-105L both passed with grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): PH-106L
Course Type(s): NS
An introduction to classical physics intended primarily for students majoring in the life sciences. Topics include, mechanics, dynamics, heat, electricity, magnetism, and optics.

PH-106L  Physics for the Life Sciences Laboratory II  Credits: 1
Co-requisite(s): PH-106
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory work to complement PH-106. Experiments in the fields of sound, electricity, magnetism, optics, and spectroscopy. Three hours per week.

PH-150  Principles of Astronomy  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The historical development of astronomy and the modern concepts of the universe, including demonstrations and viewing sessions with optical telescopes.

PH-199  Independent Study in Physics  Credits: 1
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a selected topic in physics not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the Physics faculty. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.
PH-211 General Physics with Calculus I
Prerequisite(s): MA-125
Co-requisite(s): PH-211L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): NS
The first of a two-semester sequence of courses that, taken together, provide a thorough introduction to classical physics using calculus. Topics covered include: one- and two-dimensional motion, Newton’s laws and their applications, energy, momentum and impulse, rotational motion, gravitation, and thermodynamics.

PH-211L General Physics with Calculus Laboratory I
Co-requisite(s): PH-211
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory experiments to complement the topics covered in PH-211. Includes experiments in statics, dynamics, and thermodynamics.

PH-212 General Physics with Calculus II
Prerequisite(s): MA-126, PH-211, and PH-211L all passed with a grade of C- or higher
Co-requisite(s): PH-212L
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
The second of a two-semester sequence of courses that, taken together, provide a thorough introduction to classical physics using calculus. Topics covered include: sound and wave mechanics, electostatics, circuits, magnetic forces and fields, Faraday’s Law, reflection and refraction, and optics.

PH-212L General Physics with Calculus Laboratory II
Co-requisite(s): PH-212
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Laboratory experiments to complement the topics covered in PH-212. Includes experiments in sound, electricity, magnetism, circuits, and optics.

PH-270 Physical Oceanography
Prerequisite(s): BY-109, CE-111, CE-111L, CE-112, and CE-112L
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP
Physical Oceanography provides a survey of physical, chemical and geological processes that define and affect the coastal ocean including ocean basins, beach formation and dynamic ocean processes (currents, waves, wind, weather). Environmental considerations include the role of the ocean in the association with global climate change issues, problems associated with coastal development, exploitation of marine resources, and ocean and coastal pollution.

PH-298 Special Topics in Physics (200 Level)
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in physics to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

PH-299 Independent Study in Physics
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a selected topic in physics not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the Physics faculty. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PH-301 Modern Physics
Prerequisite(s): PH-302 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Topics from physics of the twentieth century, including special relativity, the origins of quantum theory, quantum mechanics, atomic structure, nuclear physics, and elementary particles.

PH-302 Theoretical Physics
Prerequisite(s): PH-212 passed with a grade of C- or higher
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Presents physics topics aimed at the advanced undergraduate level. The subjects range over classical mechanics, electromagnetism, and statistical mechanics, with explicit links made to topics from PH-301. The course is calculus-based, and seeks to round out the physics education of physics minors.

PH-399 Independent Study in Physics
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physics faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PH-499 Independent Study in Physics (400 Level)
Course Type(s): None
Reading and research on a selected topic under the direction of a Physics faculty member. Three hours per week per credit. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Political Science (PS)

PS-101 Introduction to Political Science: Power and Globalization
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS.SV
Readings and assignments give students a foundation in two subfields of Political Science - Comparative Politics and International Relations. Prepares students for elective courses focused on specific global issues (International Organizations, International Political Economy, Ethics and International Relations, International Security Issues, and Revolutions and Nationalism) as well as on cross-national comparative politics of Europe, Asia, the Middle East and Latin America.

PS-102 International Relations
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GU, PSIP
The major theoretical concepts and issues of international relations, emphasizing theories, actors, structures, ideologies, and environment of international politics.

PS-103 American National Government
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS.SV
A survey of United States government, emphasizing the Constitution, functions of political parties, pressure groups, the relationships of citizens to the government, the development of administrative control, and problems unique to each of the three branches of government.
PS-104 Introduction to Policy Debate  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): PSPA
This course is designed to introduce students to the activity of policy debate competition. Students will develop research and organizational skills, learn how to deliver and refute arguments, and will participate in classroom debate scrimmages in preparation for weekend long off campus debate tournaments against students from other universities.

PS-105 Introduction to Public Policy  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): PO, PSPA, SS.SV
Analysis of policy-making processes in American society, including health care, the environment, education, crime, and employment; application of competing perspective and value orientation to policy areas; impact on specific groups within American society and the global community.

PS-107 Introduction to Social Justice  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SS.SV
Provides a conceptual and practical basis to understand, interpret, and solve social problems in fair, equitable, and just ways. Also listed as SO-107.

PS-108 Model United Nations  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): PSIP, RD
International relations is a subfield of political science that examines the nature of power and its distribution around the world. Scholars interested in international relations have developed a variety of simulations to seek greater understanding of state behavior. This course will simulate the policies and procedures of the dominant organs of the United Nations in order to gain a greater understanding of international issues like climate change, terrorism, humanitarian aid, international trade and commerce, and war and peace.

PS-109 Civic Engagement and Leadership  Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Civic responsibility, engagement, and leadership are encouraged through active student involvement in a community or campus organization. Students will perform twelve hours of public service over the course of the semester working for an organization that addresses a particular issue of public concern. Also listed as SO-109.

PS-198 Special Topics in Political Science (100 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in political science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

PS-199 Reading and Research in Political Science  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a topic in political science not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the political science faculty. Extensive reading and at least one written report are required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PS-202 State and Local Government  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or PS-103; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): PSAM, WT
A comparative study of state, local, and suburban politics in the United States with special emphasis on New Jersey and the New Jersey-New York metropolitan area.

PS-212 Workshop in NJ's County Pre-Trial Prosecution System: Legal and Political Aspects  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): PSAL, PSAM
Legal and political analysis of New Jersey's pretrial prosecution process. The roles, pressures, attitudes, and strategies of the county prosecution system personnel will be subjects for field research seminar study.

PS-221 Early Political Thought  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or PS-103; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): WT
Consideration of the major political theories of the Western world and their relevance to contemporary politics. Semester I: Plato to Marx. Semester II: later nineteenth-and twentieth-century political thinkers, with special emphasis on the behavioral school.

PS-222 Modern Political Thought  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or PS-103; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): WT
Consideration of the major political theories of the Western world and their relevance to contemporary politics. Semester I: Plato to Marx. Semester II: later nineteenth- and twentieth-century political thinkers, with special emphasis on the behavioral school.

PS-223 Introduction to Global Sustainability  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): MEBP, SUS
Introduces students to the global, environmental, economic and social foundations of sustainability and the policy and scientific challenges involved with accommodating population growth, development, and resources used while assuring that future generations will have the natural and economic resources to support an enhanced quality of life. An emphasis will be placed on understanding of sustainability principles from multiple perspectives and cross-disciplinary application of sustainable practices. Also listed as BY-221.

PS-250 Fundamentals of Social Science Research  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
An introduction to the different ways in which social scientists study the social world. Designed to develop students' understanding of the major purposes of social research as well as the major types of quantitative and qualitative research designs. Students will learn the research process itself, from conceptualization and measurement to operationalization, sampling, ethics, and the analysis and presentation of their proposed study. As part of the research process, students will use spreadsheet, presentation, and word processing software to build datasets, analyze data, and design and present research. Also listed as SO-250. Sociology majors should register for SO-250. This course is for Political Science majors only or other majors with instructor consent.
PS-274 Global Inequalities Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI, EL, GLS, GU, RE, SJS, SUS
A sociological and political look at global inequalities. Explores diverse themes and aspects of a global society, including the forces that are causing and perpetuating global inequalities. It also looks at the social, political, economic, and cultural consequences of those inequalities. Also listed as SO-274.

PS-275 Politics and Policy of Latin America Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): PSCG, PSPA, RE
Introduces students to the critical political issues and challenges in Latin America, a geographic region that includes Mexico, Central America, the Caribbean and South America. Hemisphere integration continues to accelerate, and political developments south of the border increasingly impact the United States. Immigration, trade, drugs, and the environment require hemisphere collaboration among a diverse set of peoples and governments. Surveys contemporary politics and economics, as well as the basic regional history in a way that invites comparison and the development of regional (Southern Cone, Andean Region, Central America, Caribbean) and hemispheric perspectives on the challenges linked to hemispheric integration.

PS-277 Gender and Politics Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS, PSAM
The study of gender and how it relates to politics. Includes an analysis of the women's movement through historical literature by and about women. Also includes feminist and gender theories, the mass behavior of women, elite women, and public policy as it relates to women's issues.

PS-278 International Political Economy Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GLS, PSIP, RE
The role that international institutions, transnational actors, and foreign governments play in the production, distribution, and consumption of resources will be investigated. Since much of international political economy has to do with various thinkers and schools of thought, an appropriate emphasis will be given to some of the important works in the field. For example, we will be analyzing the contributions of Liberal, Marxist, and Statist thinkers and the various perspectives that have been used to analyze the way policies are made, agreements are reached, and resources distributed. Following the establishment of this theoretical framework, we will focus on the growth of regional integration, the role of hegemony in maintaining the stability of international systems, strategies of economic development, and the role of multinational and transnational companies in both the industrial and developing world. In essence, this course is concerned with looking at the relationship between power and wealth and the balance between the state and the market. Also listed as SO-278.

PS-288 Cooperative Education: Political Science Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or PS-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX2
Through actual work experience, connects classroom learning and real-world practice. Under the guidance of a faculty advisor, students select a cooperative placement. Students will spend ten to fifteen hours per week at their placement. Departmental approval is required to take this course. Repeatable for credit.

PS-289 Political Science Internship Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or PS-103 and the completion of sixty credits
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
An internship in a political office. The student will keep a daily log and develop a research topic on the basis of the log and experience. By working an eight-hour day from Monday through Friday, the intern will develop firsthand knowledge of a state or local office and will secure an experience rating for future positions after graduation. Departmental approval is required to take this course.

PS-290 Media Law Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): PSAL
How the mass media is constrained and protected by the law and court interpretation. Overview will focus on libel, copyright, obscenity, free press, and other legal/illegal aspects. Also listed as CO-290.

PS-298 Special Topics in Political Science (200 Level) Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in political science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

PS-299 Reading and Research in Political Science Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Guided study of a topic in political science not substantially treated in a regular course, under the direction of a member of the political science faculty. Extensive reading and at least one written report are required. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

PS-301 Political Parties and Elections Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101 or PS-103
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): PSAM
Historical and functional analysis of United States political parties; the workings of party machinery and practical politics, including national, state, and local party activities, election procedures, third party movements, interest groups, and public opinion.

PS-302 Data Analysis for the Social Sciences Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-250 or SO-250
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None

Science (SC)

SC-100  Discovery and Thinking in Natural Sciences  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
The development of major concepts in the biological, chemical, and physical sciences; their importance today.

SC-103  Physical Geography  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
A survey of the Earth sciences from a spatial perspective. We will use maps, diagrams, simulations, and computer mapping software to learn about the systems of the Earth. Students will gain an understanding of physical processes and patterns of the Earth's atmosphere, climate, landforms, and biosphere. Understanding of these systems will be used to examine the ways in which humans influence and adapt to Earth systems. The learning outcomes of this course satisfy a general education requirement for the Natural Sciences. Also listed as GO-103.

SC-110  Nutrition Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An overview of the science of human nutrition, including the basics of protein, carbohydrate, lipid, vitamin, mineral, water, and alcohol metabolism. An analysis of the relationship of diet to various health issues and current controversies in nutrition will be covered. Students will learn the elements of nutritional analysis by evaluating their personal diets. Emphasis will be on the manner in which nutrition knowledge is acquired, including a nutrition study conducted by the students.

SC-120  The Science of Food and Cooking  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
This course covers concepts from chemistry, biology and physics that underpin the principles of food science and the transformations that occur during food preparation and cooking. Students will develop a scientific understanding of food preparation, cooking techniques, and recipes. Cooking demonstrations and experiments will be used to illustrate the scientific concept involved. Note: This course involves the preparation and (optional) consumption of food. If you have specific food allergies or needs, contact the instructor to discuss any necessary arrangements.

SC-130  Climate Science for 21st Century Citizens  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SUS, NS
Earth's climate has changed in the past and will change in the future. Climate science and hypotheses about climate change and man's effects on climate figure prominently in the news and popular culture. However, forces and feedbacks impacting climate are poorly understood by the general public. This lack of understanding originates partially because climate science is complicated and interdisciplinary, and partially because addressing climate change requires significant changes in the global energy economy, turning it into a political issue with skewed and un-scientific public discourse. This course aims to cover parts of climate science that are well established, differentiate them clearly from parts of climate science where genuine uncertainty exists and use these contrasts to illustrate the scientific methods, culture of science and science practices of the 21st Century.

SC-140  Forensic Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
An introductory course in which scientific principles will be applied to the methods used to investigate and solve crimes. The course will focus on the principles and methods utilized in the traditional sciences of biology, chemistry, and physics. The scientific techniques used to collect and analyze evidence will be covered.

SC-150  Drug Discovery  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Concepts of biology, chemistry and pharmacology are used to examine aspects of drug discovery from early recorded history to modern treatments for disease. Additionally, students will understand the impacts of key drug discoveries on society/public health. Note: No prior biology/chemistry knowledge is assumed.

SC-160  Sustainable Energy  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Energy consumption is a key aspect of society that has been profoundly impacted by abundant low-cost energy. What does the future of energy look like in terms of abundance and cost? This course examines energy sources, energy needs, and the transition from geologically stored energy sources (fossil fuels) to ecologically available energy sources and conservation. It also explores the potential environmental consequences of such transition in the immediate future and long-term.
Social Work (SW)

SW-105  Introduction to Social Work  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Social work and its professional practices, its goals, guiding philosophy, and basic assumptions; the uses of the professional relationship; roles of the professional social worker and collaborative input in the helping process. Prerequisite(s): SW-105 or SW-205
Co-requisite(s): BY-105
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A study of significant life tasks in the physical, social, and emotional development of the individual.

SW-224  Human Behavior and Social Environment II  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GS
This is the second course in a two-semester course sequence where students learn to use theory and empirical data to analyze human behavior as it develops in a variety of sociopolitical environments. It introduces students to a broad range of theories and perspectives relating to biological, psychological, cognitive, and social development, and race, class, ethnicity, gender, and sexual orientation variables.

SW-260  Alcohol and Drugs  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SW-105 or PY-103 or SW-205
Course Type(s): None
Addresses the special population in social work, specifically the substance abusing population. Through lecture, small group exercises, and films, the course will educate the students as to what are substance abuse and addiction, what treatment options are available, how to determine the appropriate treatment, as well as different forms of therapy and relapse-prevention work.

SW-261  Diagnosing Mental Health Issues  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SW-105 or PY-103 or SW-205
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
A detailed explanation of the DSM IV and its practical use in the social work profession. Cultural applications, as well as international implications and the accurate assessment terminology, will be discussed.

SW-263  Family Counseling  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SW-105 or PY-103 or SW-205
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to the assessment and treatment of various family systems. A continuation of the ecological perspective of systems theory and social work practice illustrated in Human Behavior and the Social Environment and Social Work Practice Techniques I. Ethnic, culture, and gender issues are included as they apply to families. Family violence, substance abuse, adolescence conflict, and marital discord are among the topics discussed.

SW-264  Addictions  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SW-105 or PY-103
Course Type(s): None
Addresses the addictions component of social work. Working with the clients and families to address the unbalance and dysfunction in their lives through assessment, treatment planning, and individual, group, and family therapy. Covering eating disorders, gambling, nicotine, sexual addiction, and workaholism.

SW-265  Creative Therapies  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SW-105 or PY-103 or SW-205
Course Type(s): None
With creative and interactive approaches, the students will recognize and appreciate their personal experiences to better assess the needs of their clients, as well as enhance conventional therapeutic methods. Also introduces alternate approaches to talk therapy to work with specialized client groups, such as young, traumatized, or non-verbal clients.

SC-170  Oceanography  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): NS
Oceanography provides a survey of physical, biological, chemical, and geological resources and the processes that define and affect ocean basins, coasts, beaches, estuaries, offshore waters and marine species. Environmental considerations include the role of oceans in global climate change issues, coastal development, exploitation of marine resources, and marine pollution. Students in the Marine and Environmental Biology and Policy (MEBP) program should take PH-270, Physical Oceanography, for elective credit.

SC-198  Special Topics in Science  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): NS
Study of a particular subject or problem in science to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or seminar basis. Courses would meet General Education requirements in the natural sciences. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SC-233  Climate Science: Understanding our Changing Climate  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): BY-109 or permission of the instructor
Course Type(s): NS, SUS
Climate Change is arguably the most important problem of the 21st century. Climate Science Understanding Our Changing Climate provides students with a quantitatively rigorous treatment of basic climate science as well as a scientific exploration of impacts caused by human-mediated climate change. This course aims to cover climate science from an explicitly interdisciplinary perspective, because climate science depends on chemistry, physics, biology, mathematics, computer modeling and geology for complete understanding of the climate system and because workable climate solutions are almost always interdisciplinary in nature. Climate modeling and assessment of future climate conditions and risks will be stressed.

SC-265  Creative Therapies  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
With creative and interactive approaches, the students will recognize and appreciate their personal experiences to better assess the needs of their clients, as well as enhance conventional therapeutic methods. Also introduces alternate approaches to talk therapy to work with specialized client groups, such as young, traumatized, or non-verbal clients.
SW-266 Spirituality and Social Work Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SW-105 or PY-103 or SW-205
Course Type(s): None
Explores spirituality as it broadly relates to the profession of social work. Holistic concepts under the definition of spirituality will be explored. The many ways spirituality can be used in social work practice settings will be discussed. Methods of spiritual practice and approaches to healing will be covered. Spirituality will be differentiated from formal religion.

SW-276 Administration of Gerontological Services Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The examination of the theory and practice of the administration of programs designed to meet the needs of older adults, with an emphasis on structure of organizations, impact of public policies and funding patterns on agencies, styles of administration, development and presentation of a budget, management of public information, and relationships with other gerontological agencies.

- Seminar focusing on topics of particular interest to Social Work students planning to enter practice or graduate school.
SW-461  Culturally Diverse Child Welfare Practices  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, RE
Provides an understanding of the context from which the practice of child welfare originates, examining the impact of policy upon the direct care of children at risk. Contemporary issues that face children at risk such as sexual abuse, neglect, physical abuse, poverty, and maternal substance abuse are covered, as well as recommended services and treatment that address these concerns. Public child welfare in New Jersey will be of central focus, including the impact and changes of the system’s reform plan. In addition, issues of cultural diversity and cultural difference in child welfare practices and child rearing behaviors will be reviewed, with a focus on how the child welfare system could better infuse diversity of experience in policy and practice.

Civic responsibility, engagement, and leadership are encouraged through active student involvement in a community or campus organization. Students will perform twelve hours of public service over the course of the semester working for an organization that addresses a particular issue of public concern. Also listed as PS-109.

SO-198  Special Topics in Sociology (100 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in sociology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SO-201  Global Social Problems  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GLS, RE
Leading areas of tension, crisis, and debate in the contemporary world with emphasis on global population trends, global poverty and hunger, and inequality among nations in the world’s economic system and their social policy implications.

SO-203  Career Course in Sociology  Credits: 1
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to various career opportunities with an undergraduate degree in sociology. It will cover some of the skills necessary for successfully seeking employment and gaining acceptance into graduate school. It will provide sociology and related majors with the opportunity to reflect on professions that use the skills gained through a B.A. program in sociology and to consider their future interests and direction. Students will experience opportunities to prepare for career situations and develop materials to present their abilities to potential employers. This is a one-credit hour course meeting once a week.

SO-207  Principles of Community Organizing  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): SJS
Prerequisite(s): SO-101 or SO-107 or PS-107
Explores the basic principles of community organizing through the lens of sociological theory. Students are introduced to the history of community organizing in the United States, and to the major community organizing traditions that have been used in social justice and social movement work past and present. The course includes focus on central skills of organizing, including but not limited to issue identification, recruitment, actions, and research, as well as movement-building, popular education and training as related to core sociological concepts. Across the term, the course pays particular attention to the ways that race, class, gender, sexuality, indigeneity and other forms of difference shape privilege and power.

SO-225  Introduction to Gender Studies  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): Completion of three credits
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, GS, SI, SJS, SS.SV
Examines gender inequalities and the pervasiveness of gender as a way of structuring/organizing social life. Emphasizes how gender as a social structure intersects with other social structures such as race, class, and sexuality to legitimize power and privilege and/or constrain diverse groups of people. Critiques conventional theories of gender and sociology and covers a broad spectrum of topics using feminist and sociological perspectives. Also pays attention to the connection between social structure and human agency - how people’s experiences are both shaped by social forces and shaped through human action. Also listed as GS-225.

SO-231  Urban Sociology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Course Type(s): RE
Theoretical analysis of the modern, urban community, including the history of the city and analysis of urban institutions and behavior patterns; problems relating to metropolitan and suburban areas, community planning, and urban renewal. Also listed as GO-231.
SO-234  Sports and Society  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): COSPT, GS, HE.EL, HEPE, SIN
The increasingly important role of sports as an institution in modern society. Sports in relation to racism, sexism, education, values, and stratification systems.

SO-241  Criminology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CJ-101 or SO-101 or SO-102; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Explanations of the causes of property and violent offenses. Discussion of white collar, professional and organized crime, and the problem of criminal statistics. Also listed as CJ-241.

SO-243  Juvenile Delinquency  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Course Type(s): SJS
History of the concept of delinquency; extent and nature of delinquent behavior; explanations of delinquent behavior; police and court responses to juveniles; and a review of rehabilitative and treatment modalities.

SO-244  Deviance  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101 or SO-102 or CJ-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
How society creates and responds to deviant behavior, ranging from violations of courtesy to homicide. Analysis of the system of social control, including the police, education, psychiatry, and the state.

SO-245  Theories of Society I  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): EN-101, EN-102, and SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
The wide range of theoretical paradigms that characterized the discipline of sociology from the emergent period of industrialization to the rise of modernity are investigated. More specifically, the major foundations of classical sociology theory as it emerged in the mid-nineteenth century, moving beyond the narrowly constructed cannon of Marx, Weber and Durkheim, toward a more accurate and inclusive look at our intellectual roots as manifested in the works of Gilman, Simmel, DuBois and Mead are explored. Throughout the course, we critically engage in a kind of "sociology of knowledge" as we situate these central ideas and schools of thought in the social, political and economic contexts of the larger society, as well as their specific social history of the discipline. Finally, we engage the course with a preview of the ways in which the wide range of theoretical paradigms that characterized the nascent years of the discipline of sociology set the stage for the development of the modernist and postmodernist traditions, including, but not limited to critical theory; structural functionalism; symbolic interactionism; and feminist and critical race theories.

SO-250  Fundamentals of Social Science Research  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): TL
An introduction to the different ways in which social scientists study the social world. Designed to develop students' understanding of the major purposes of social research as well as the major types of quantitative and qualitative research designs. Students will learn the research process itself, from conceptualization and measurement to operationalization, sampling, ethics, and the analysis and presentation of their proposed study. As part of the research process, students will use spreadsheet, presentation, and word processing software to build datasets, analyze data, and design and present research. Also listed as PS-250. Political Science majors should register for PS-250. This course is for Sociology majors only, or other majors with instructor permission.

SO-252  Race and Ethnicity  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): CD, GS, RE, SI, SJS
Introduces students to the sociological study of race and ethnicity in the United States as interrelated social systems of power that grant a range of material and non-material advantages to different groups of people based on socially constructed definitions of race and ethnicity, particularly as race and ethnicity intersect with a variety of other social structures such as gender and class. Focuses on the historical legacy and current practices of institutionalized racism that have and continue to shape social relations in the U.S. Also listed as GS-252.

SO-261  Sociology of Family  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): GS, SIN, SJS
Analysis of the institution of marriage and family in contemporary America with cross-cultural, sub-cultural, and historical references, including mate selection, family roles and relationships, parenthood, and childhood.

SO-271  Ethics, Justice and American Prisons  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): SJS
Explores the rise of mass incarceration in the United States, with a critical look at the ethical, socio-cultural, political and economic factors that shape the American prison system today. The course is also the gateway course to The Monmouth University Academic Exchange Program, also referred to as MU-AEP; a collaborative effort between Monmouth University and the New Jersey Department of Corrections. This program, of which this course is a requirement, is offered by Monmouth University to help to facilitate a transformative exchange of ideas and perspectives between incarcerated students and non-incarcerated students and non-incarcerated students inside the New Jersey state prison. Also listed as CO-271.

SO-272  Economic Inequality  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, SI, SJS
Status, power, authority, and social mobility are the key concepts that sociologists use to study the role of social classes in contemporary American society. The course covers notable studies of the American class system. It provides a close look at the power relations and lifestyles of various classes and considers the pervasive influence of class identity on social institutions.

SO-274  Sports and Society
SO-274  Global Inequalities  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101 or PS-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): BI.EL, GLS, GU, RE, SJS, SUS
A sociological and political look at global inequalities. Explores diverse themes and aspects of a global society, including the forces that are causing and perpetuating global inequalities. It also looks at social, political, economic, and cultural consequences of those inequalities. Also listed as PS-274.

SO-278  International Political Economy  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): GLS, PSIP
The role that international institutions, transnational actors, and foreign governments play in the production, distribution, and consumption of resources will be investigated. Since much of international political economy has to do with various thinkers and schools of thought, an appropriate emphasis will be given to some of the important works in the field. For example, we will be analyzing the contributions of Liberal, Marxist, and Statist thinkers and the various perspectives that have been used to analyze the way policies are made, agreements are reached, and resources distributed. Following the establishment of this theoretical framework, we will focus on the growth of regional integration, the role of hegemony in maintaining the stability of international systems, strategies of economic development, and the role of multinational and transnational companies in both the industrial and developing world. In essence, this course is concerned with looking at the relationship between power and wealth and the balance between the state and the market. Also listed as PS-278.

SO-280  Peer Tutoring  Credits: 1
Course Type(s): None
Peer tutoring experience. Students will prepare course-related information for presentation to students in courses at the 100- or 200-levels. Peer tutors will meet weekly with a faculty supervisor and assigned students. Permission of the instructor required.

SO-298  Special Topics in Sociology (200 Level)  Credits: 1-3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in sociology to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SO-299  Independent Study in Sociology  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Guided readings on a topic not otherwise covered in the curriculum. Student must have at least a 2.50 cumulative G.P.A. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SO-302  Data Analysis for Social Sciences  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-250 or SO-250
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduces students to techniques used to evaluate social science data; addresses strategies for analyzing qualitative data and presents social science applications of quantitative techniques such as cross tabulation, t-test, and regression. Students will learn to apply procedures to test hypotheses. Also listed as PS 302.

SO-307  Practicum in Applied Social Research  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-250 or SO-250
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SJS
An advanced introduction to the principles and methods of conducting social science research for the express purpose of solving social problems. Informed by sociological theories in the tradition of public sociology, students will explore a wide range of applied research strategies, including: community-based research (CBR); participatory action research (PAR); policy research; evaluation research; and power analyses for community organizing. The course also addresses key ethical, political and logistical challenges that shape the work of applied social scientists in the field.

SO-309  Sociology Internship Seminar  Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Provides an opportunity for students to apply classroom theory in practice through actual work experience. Includes both academic and experiential learning. The experiential part involves a minimum of 120 hours of work experience during the semester for three credit hours. The academic aspect includes maintaining a journal log and writing a final report. Also listed as PS-309.

SO-316  Policy Research  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
The principles of social research, with emphasis on an understanding of the policy-making or planning process; development of applied research skills, combining policy-making, implementation, and scientific or empirical research.

SO-320  Small Group Communication  Credits: 3
Course Type(s): EX3
Students explore academic perspectives on the process of group communication, leadership, conflict, decision-making, and problem solving, then reflect on and apply these perspectives outside the classroom in the context of a service learning project. Also listed as CO-320.

SO-325  Survey Research Consulting  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-250 or SO-250 or SW-409 or PY-220 or CJ-315 or HLS-315 or HE-290 or NU-355 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX5
Provides students with real-world experience in the application of social science methodology, specifically survey research. The course is designed to strengthen social science research methods skills as well as competencies in professional communication and collaboration. Students, as a class, will work on a small-scale project (e.g. needs assessment, program evaluation, marketing study, etc.) for a “client” - a non-profit organization, government agency, small business, or academic institute - who has agreed to collaborate as a service learning opportunity. The client is not paying for this service and understands the limitations of working with consultants-in-training. However, the course will strive to adhere to the highest standards in both survey research practice and the client-consultant relationship. Also listed as PS-325.

SO-331  Political Sociology  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Course Type(s): None
Analysis of the interplay among political and social behavior, bureaucracies, voluntary associations, and government. The social basis of democracy, emphasis on conflict and consensus models of power.
SO-332 Gender and Sexual Identities  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): CD, GS, SI, SJS
Draws on sociological and feminist theories of identity to question the definitions, constructions, deconstructions, ambivalences, and socially constructed nature of gender and sexual identities. In questioning such identities, this course aims at helping students understand the connections between gender and sexuality, and how those two social forces shape people's individual identities and the identities of others. Examines how structures of race, class, gender, and sexuality, and social institutions such as family and work shape gender and sexual identities. It pays particular attention to how ones' social location within power structures shapes personal identities. Also listed as SW-332.

SO-360 Political Economy in the Developing World  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): PSIP, SJS
This course introduces undergraduate students to the core concepts, theories and debates of political economy in the context of developing world countries. The primary unit of analysis will be the national case study (i.e., Brazil or Indonesia) rather than the international system or international institutions (for example, World Bank, IMF or global financial markets.) The aim is to provide the intellectual tool set to evaluate questions and challenges of political and economic development and modernization across a range of national case studies from Latin America, the Caribbean, Africa, the Middle East and Asia. Also listed as PS-360.

SO-364 Law and Society  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-101 or PS-101 or PS-103
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): SIN, SJL
The evolution of law, social forces influencing law, social impact of law, and law as an instrument of social control and social change. Also listed as PS-364.

SO-368 Applied Ethics in American Prisons  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-271 or CO-271
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SJS
The second in the sequence of the Monmouth University Academic Exchange Program, a collaborative effort between Monmouth University and the New Jersey Department of Corrections. This program, of which this course is a requirement, is offered by Monmouth University to help to facilitate a transformative exchange of ideas and perspectives on the topics of ethics and social issues between incarcerated students and non-incarcerated students inside a New Jersey prison. Also listed as CO-368.

SO-369 Feminist Theories  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SO-225 or GS-225
Course Type(s): GS
Advanced exploration of the major currents of feminist social theory as they have emerged from feminist movement histories in the U.S. and globally. Students will critically examine competing feminist explanations for the history and persistence of gender inequality, as well as deconstruct sex, gender, sexuality from a range of feminist perspectives. The course will also invite students to consider what it means to be "feminist" and how these meanings are connected to the relations and tensions between gender, sexuality, race/ethnicity, class, ability, and nation. In particular, students will compare and contrast key concepts and theoretical assumptions of major feminist theories with a commitment to intersectional analyses. Students will also apply feminist theory to better understand social relationships, organizations, and politics, and self-reflect on how course content applies to their lives as people situation within multiple social contexts and identities. Also listed as GS-369.

SO-371 International Service Seminar  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): PS-101
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, PSIP
Students will learn to unite theory and practice by studying theories and policies based on human security, and learning about their applications through service-learning projects. Students will enhance their understanding of human security by volunteering in international community organizations and reflecting on the social, political, and economic factors and policies that affect them. Also listed as SW-371, AN-371, and PS-371.

SO-375 Social Movements and Social Change  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 9 credits in Sociology
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Overview of major contemporary and classical theories of social change within an international and historical context; the social impact of change; effects of social variables on change processes; and assessment of predictive models of change.

SO-379 Work and Society  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): 3 credits in Sociology
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): SIN
An examination of the individual experience of work: socialization, occupational choice, career development, worker (dis)satisfaction, and unemployment; the organization of work: bureaucracy, professionalism, racism and sexism, theories of motivation, and the reward structure.

<td>EX5, SIN</td>
<td>Encourages students to study education as a social institution using a sociological lens, and to become involved with the education of youth in the local area. The course is divided into three parts. The first part introduces students to the study of education as a social institution, particularly examining how social inequalities such as race, class, gender, and sexuality shape educational experiences of youth today. Students will also examine the cultural, social, economic, and political structures that shape education as a social institution. The second part of the course involves preparing students to tutor youth in surrounding towns. The preparation will be accomplished through theoretical discussions of what it means to be a good tutor, and through practical training to be administered in collaboration with local tutoring organizations. Through the auspices of local organizations, the third part of the course involves Monmouth students tutoring students from local schools in basic subjects such as math, language arts, and social studies. Students must be available to tutor three to four days a week for a total of ten hours per week. This course is open to students who have completed twenty-nine credits or more.</td>

- Term Offered: Spring Term
- Course Type(s): None
- Introduction to the methods and tools for software development. Topics include the personal software process, requirements engineering, software design, testing methods, project management, and other management techniques.

SE-199 Independent Study in Software Engineering
- Credits: 3
- Term Offered: Summer Term
- Course Type(s): None
- Independent Study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering under the guidance of a software engineering faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SE-205 Requirements Engineering and Specifications
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): CS-104 and CS-175
- Term Offered: All Terms
- Course Type(s): None
- Elicitation, analysis, specification, validation, and management of user requirements; conflict resolution; process, notations, methods and tools, requirements standards, operational concepts documents (OCD) and system requirements specifications (SRS).

SE-207 Software Design and Architecture
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): CS-104 and CS-176; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
- Term Offered: Spring Term
- Course Type(s): WT
- Design process notations, methods, paradigms, and tools. System architecture tradeoff analysis; component and subcomponent specification. Generic (domain) design; architectural styles, frameworks, and patterns. Test and integration plan documents. Architecture standards; design tools.

SE-250 Android Application Development
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
- Term Offered: All Terms
- Course Type(s): None
- This course will teach students software methodologies for Android App Development. This will include Android Development Studio, Kotlin programming language, and interfaces to external services required to develop simple to moderately complex Android mobile apps. Also listed as CS-250.

SE-289 Internship in Software Engineering
- Credits: 3
- Term Offered: Summer Term
- Course Type(s): EX1
- Supervised practical experience in Software Engineering. Repeatable for credit. Junior standing, departmental approval, and placement are required to take this course.

SE-299 Independent Study in Software Engineering
- Credits: 3
- Term Offered: All Terms
- Course Type(s): None
- Independent Study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering under the guidance of a software engineering faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SE-306 Formal Methods in Software Engineering
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130
- Term Offered: All Terms
- Course Type(s): None
- Covers a variety of formal methods and applies them to software-specification development. Assumes a firm grounding in mathematical logic, knowledge of proof techniques, and skill in the translation of problems expressed in English into predicate logic.

SE-312 Software Verification, Validation, and Maintenance
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): CS-104 and CS-175
- Term Offered: All Terms
- Course Type(s): None
- Covers inspections of requirements, design and code, as well as testing, the handling of change requests, software evolution, code comprehension, and change management.

SE-337 Enterprise Mobile Apps Design and Development
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher and CS-337
- Term Offered: Fall Term
- Course Type(s): None
- Presents methodologies to build enterprise mobile apps on iPad tablets and iPhone smartphones using iOS. The course will cover technologies to use in the design and development of apps on mobile devices and integration of these apps with corporate data sources, sensor devices and cloud computing services. Also listed as CS-337.

SE-351 Microprocessor Laboratory
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): MA-120 or MA-130
- Term Offered: Fall Term
- Course Type(s): None
- Introduces the student to microprocessor-based, hardware-interface design. Provides practice in developing software that drives the interfaces between a microprocessor and the outside world. Topics include: logic circuit analysis and synthesis, digital hardware components, microprocessor system architecture, and assembly and C/C++ language programming of input/output device drivers.

SE-352 Embedded and Real-Time Software
- Credits: 3
- Prerequisite(s): SE-351
- Term Offered: Spring Term
- Course Type(s): None
- Familiarizes students with the fundamental issues related to embedded and real-time software systems and gives them an opportunity to become familiar with a commercially available system for developing and testing embedded and real-time software. Topics include: definition of embedded systems, process concurrency, interprocess communications, synchronization, and process scheduling.
SE-353 Comparative Languages Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176
Course Type(s): None
Begins with a history of the development of programming languages that provides the background necessary to understand programming-language design and evaluation. This is followed by an introduction to the basic programming language constructs and then critically comparing their implementation in some of the most common languages. Included is a discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of modern programming languages for a variety of applications. Some of the languages discussed are LISP, C, Small Talk, C++, Java, Ada, PL/1, and Prolog.

SE-357 Engineering Web-Based Systems Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 and CS-176L
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
A practical introduction to the principles, methods, and tools required to create high-quality software applications for the distributed, client-server context of the Web. Emphasis is on architectural designs, and language and data access methods that are common in Web-based systems. Also listed as CS-357.

SE-358 Software Frameworks Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SE-357 or CS-357, or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to Design Patterns and modern Software Frameworks, programming languages, data access methods and asynchronous Application Programming Interfaces (APIs). Also listed as CS-358.

SE-360 Introduction to Game Development Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
An introduction to the creation of computer/video games and the different elements of games, including computer graphics, animation, artificial intelligence, algorithms, data structures, networking, software development cycles and human-computer interaction. Also listed as CS-360.

SE-370 Program Development Under Unix Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176 passed with a grade of C or higher
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Introduction to the use of the UNIX operating system and its utilities for incremental and distributed program development, maintenance, and debugging. The course covers the UNIX shell, utilities, and program development tools that are used for large projects involving multiple developers on multiple machines. Three hours per week.

SE-398 Special Topics in Software Engineering Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
A 300-level intensive study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SE-399 Independent Study in Software Engineering Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent Study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering under the guidance of a software engineering faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

SE-402 Human Computer Interaction Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): IM
Covers basic human psychology, computer technology, and the interface between them. The key topics of HCI are examined, grounded in the context of usability and the design lifecycle.

SE-403 Software Process Improvement Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Students will be introduced to the various aspects related to software processes. It will focus on the definition and modeling of a software process, as well as on methods for process assessment and improvement. The concepts will be illustrated through process-improvement case studies, followed by hands-on experience with the improvement of the personal software-development process.

SE-418 Software Project Management Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-176; and EN-101 and EN-102 or permission of the instructor
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): WT
Project management and its application to software-development projects. Emphasis will be on planning, organizing, monitoring, and controlling. Students will learn how to develop work breakdown structures, estimate task durations, assign resources, specify network precedence, and determine a project’s critical path. Methods for scheduling in the face of resource constraints will be included, as well as function point counting, algorithmic models for estimating total project cost, and software tools for project planning and monitoring.

SE-450 Cyber Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
Cover fundamental theory and practice of cyber security. Review cryptographic tools used to provide security, such as shared key encryption; public key encryption, key exchange, authentication, digital signature, and intrusion detection. Learn implementation of secure mechanisms in object-oriented programming languages. Also listed as CS-450.

SE-451 Applied Computer Security Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-450 or SE-450
Course Type(s): None
This course will introduce students to multiple aspects of computer security and practice into a series of well-defined security topics such as network security and hacking tools. Also, the student will introduce different topics of digital forensics. Also listed as CS-451.
influences on language development will also be explored. The language evolves from infancy to adulthood will be discussed. Cultural cognitive basis for language. Theories of language development and how including the components of language, as well as the physical, social, and cognitive basis for language. Theories of language development and how language evolves from infancy to adulthood will be discussed. Cultural influences on language development will also be explored.

SE-485A  Software Practicum
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): CS-205, SE-205, SE-207, and SE-312
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): EX5, RD
Team work on substantial software projects submitted by corporate sponsors. Interim progress reports required, with a final formal defense and presentation to corporate staff, faculty, and other students in the course. At the end of SE-485A, students must submit their software engineering portfolio for review by the Software Engineering faculty.

SE-485B  Software Practicum
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SE-485A
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX5, RD
Team work on substantial software projects submitted by corporate sponsors. Interim progress reports required, with a final formal defense and presentation to corporate staff, faculty, and other students in the course. At the end of SE-485B, students must submit their software engineering portfolio for review by the Software Engineering faculty.

SE-498  Special Topics in Software Engineering
Credits: 3
Term Offered: Fall Term
Course Type(s): None
A 400-level intensive study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. Three or four hours per week. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SE-499  Independent Study in Software Engineering
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Independent Study of a particular subject or problem in software engineering under the guidance of a software engineering faculty member. Prior permission of the directing professor and department chair is required to take this course.

Speech Language Pathology (SLP)

SLP-201  Introduction to Communication Sciences and Disorders
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL
Provides an overview to the fields of speech-language pathology, audiology, and education of the hearing impaired. Will provide information regarding the nature, etiology, symptom, and remediation of organic and neurogenic disorders of speech, language, and hearing. Additionally, this course will provide an overview of various speech, language, and hearing disorders: the factors related to the causes and severity of these disorders and roles of professionals associated with the diagnosis and severity of these disorders and roles of professionals associated with the diagnosis and treatment, specifically speech-language pathologists and audiologists.

SLP-202  Introduction to Language Development
Credits: 3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): HE.EL, OL
Provides an overview of the development of language over the course of the lifespan. An introduction to the normal acquisition of language including the components of language, as well as the physical, social, and cognitive basis for language. Theories of language development and how language evolves from infancy to adulthood will be discussed. Cultural influences on language development will also be explored.

SLP-298  Special Topics in Speech-Language Pathology
Credits: 3
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in Speech, Language and Pathology to be announced prior to registration. The course may be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. A minimum G.P.A. of 3.00 is required to take this course. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

SLP-301  Introduction to Phonetics
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-201
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): OL
Provides students with the skills needed to produce, transcribe and describe in articulatory terms, the individual sounds used in speech. Will provide an introduction to sound patterns, phonetic transcriptions using the International Phonetic Alphabet, acoustic aspects of phonetics and the application of these skills to clinical practice. Dialects and derivations of the English language will be explored.

SLP-302  Anatomy and Physiology of Speech and Hearing
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-201
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): OL
Provides an understanding of the anatomical structures, as well as the physiological and functional mechanisms essential for speech production. Specifically, the anatomy and physiology of respiration, phonation, articulation, resonance, and hearing will be covered in depth.

SLP-303  Neurological Bases of Speech and Language
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-201
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): OL
Students will learn the neuroanatomical and neuropsychological underpinnings of speech, language and hearing and will study how the nervous system controls communication. Additionally, the course will examine the cranial nerves and the circuits underlying sensory perception, motor action, and cognition as they relate to speech production and hearing.

SLP-389  Internship in Speech, Language and Pathology
Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in Speech, Language and Pathology; repeatable for credit. Departmental approval and Junior standing is required to take this course.

SLP-401  Speech and Hearing Science
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-301 and SLP-302
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): OL
Studies the nature of sound, sound transmission, and units of measurement necessary to understand the physiologic, acoustic, and perceptual parameters of speech. Acoustics, speech production, and speech perception will be emphasized.

SLP-402  Introduction to Audiology
Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): SLP-302
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): OL
An introduction to the field of audiology. Designed to acquaint students with topics regarding the anatomy and physiology of normal and abnormal hearing, basic concepts in pure-tone air and bone conduction audiometry, speech audiometry, interpretation of audiograms, immittance procedures, and basic management of the hearing loss of the hearing-impaired client. This course is repeatable once for credit.

TH-361  Play Direction  Credits: 3
Prerequisite(s): TH-230
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
Play analysis, casting procedures, composition, movement, stage business, backstage organization, rehearsal routine, and theatre management from the standpoint of the creative director.

TH-389  Internship in Theatre  Credits: 1-3
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): EX1
Supervised practical experience in theatre; repeatable for credit. Departmental approval and Junior standing are required to take this course.

TH-390  Applied Theatre  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): TH-190, TH-191, and TH-290 or TH-291
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Students will work hands-on with an appropriate faculty member on an advanced project in theatre, musical theatre, or music production. An alternative possibility would be to do a pre-internship assignment with a local theatre.

TH-391  Applied Theatre  Credits: 1
Prerequisite(s): TH-190, TH-191, and either TH-290, TH-291, or TH-390
Term Offered: All Terms
Course Type(s): None
Students will work hands-on with an appropriate faculty member on an advanced project in theatre, musical theatre, or music production. An alternative possibility would be to do a pre-internship assignment with a local theatre.

TH-398  Special Topics in Theatre (300 Level)  Credits: 3
Term Offered: Spring Term
Course Type(s): None
An intensive study of a particular subject or problem in theatre to be announced prior to registration. May be conducted on either a lecture-discussion or a seminar basis. If a prerequisite is required it will be announced in the course schedule.

TH-399  Independent Study in Theatre  Credits: 3
