

ACCELERATED PROGRAMS

In several programs a student may complete requirements for a baccalaureate degree within three calendar years. Students who are considering such an accelerated program should consult with advisors to plan their course sequences carefully.